SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the still ponds belonging, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same; and no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any flat or marsh, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the Worst CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, writes as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

How Many Policies Mature?

There has been an astonishing amount of ignorance shown of late in regard to the number of policies which really mature. Some writers have boldly asserted that only six per cent. of the number issued were ever paid as claims. The whole thing seems to have come from some loose statements that got into print, and one and another have used them and rearranged them to their own notions, until, like the story of the three black crows, it has grown to a wonderful extent. No one seems to have given the subject the slightest investigation; but very many have been quite willing to talk about it, and use it as an argument against the life insurance business. We are perfectly well aware that a great many life policies are forfeited and surrendered. We know that in some companies the man who surrenders a policy receives the full value of the policy, and that this value, with the insurance he has had, has given him the full worth of his money. We know, also, that other companies do not give anything near the value that ought to be given for the surrender of a policy. The insurer, it is true, has had his insurance, but when he surrenders, his policy is not treated fairly. We regret this and believe it to be a great evil, and we hope to see it corrected. We make this point: that if a man wishes to withdraw from a life company, and receives from it all that is justly due him, after he has been assessed for his share of expenses and losses, there has been no injustice done, any more than if his policy had become a claim. In the early years of life insurance a great many policies were issued upon term plans, to run only from one to seven years. These policies matured at the expiration of the term. The insurers have had what they bargained for—their insurance. So in some companies many policies were issued upon the half-note plan, the party really paying only one-half schedule rates and paying no more than the insurance was worth, and when the policy was forfeited, he had the worth of his money, just as much as he would have had in the termination of a fire insurance policy. If a party pays money for any purpose, and gets the value of it, whether it be in a fire insurance company, or to a life insurance company, or to a grocer, there has been no wrong. It is only fair that the life companies be judged upon their merits, and that the question of the number of policies which are surrendered, be treated as the question of the number of insurers who receive the worth of their money.

Let those interested look at actual results, by taking 1,000 policies issued thirty-two years ago, in what is now a leading company, and see what has become of them. These policies have been subjected to all the hard times and good times of the whole life insurance period in this country. What has become of them? The premiums were never paid on 76, for they were not acceptable. There were 184 term policies which ran out. There were 176 paid as death-claims, and 50 were surrendered for consideration; 148 are now in force, and 366 lapsed. This gives 634 contracts disposed of with perfect justice, or sixty-five per cent., against thirty-five per cent. of lapses. Is not this a perfectly fair answer to those who claim so much unjust treatment to those who have to surrender policies? But the answer is not complete without considering the 366 lapses. It happens that they were half-note policies, and it is quite probable that only a fair price was paid for the insurance which was had. We have to conclude that all of the 1,000 contract were faithfully fulfilled by the company.

We know that policies have frequently been surrendered for less than their value; that some companies have failed outright; but we know that in other cases the full value of the insurer's money has been given him. We want every man who pays money to a life insurance company to get the value of it, and we are glad that people are learning wisdom and feel compelled to look carefully to the kind of insurance and kind of contract they are making when the insurance is taken.—N. Y. Independent.

—George Francis Train talks at the rate of 250 words a minute and occasionally pauses for breath. These pauses seem to annoy him, and it is his habit to fill them by putting the question before the house and calling for the yeas and nays. His auditors always like to make a noise, and an affirmative response follows as a matter of course, and then the lecturer, having regained his breath, proceeds with his remarks. An audience at Rochester on June 6 was betrayed by these tactics into a very unfortunate expression of opinion. He had been complaining that Christianity consigned to perdition such men as Shakespeare, Byron, Franklin, and Washington, who were not within the pale of church membership. "If I ever know a hereafter," he exclaimed, "I want to be where I can feel the wondrous influence of these great men, and I want to be able to grasp their extended hands, even if I have to go to hell to do it." "And, by the way," he added, gasping for breath, and apprehending the approach of a pause, "all those in favor of going to hell with me say 'aye.'" From all quarters of the house came mechanically the thundering response "aye!" Then they straightened themselves in their chairs, and reflected calmly on the pleasure trip to which they had prematurely committed themselves.

Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JUNE 14, 1877.

Correspondence.

CONCORD, N. H., June 12.

It puts one in mind of winter to go through the State House yard at the present time, for those magnificent elms which have so adorned and beautified that place in former times, are now destitute of leaves, the effects of the ravages of the canker worm.

Monday afternoon about a fourth of the members of the Legislature were present. No business of special importance was transacted. Notices of a number of bills were given, among them being acts providing for the erection of a new State Prison, and for the establishment of railroad corporations by general law, to amend section 2, of chapter 4, of the pamphlet laws of 1876 in relation to Savings Banks, and providing for a topographic and hydrographic survey of the State. The resolution, that the use of the Representatives Hall be granted for holding Agricultural meetings on Thursday evening of each week, when not required for Legislative purposes, was carried with more zest than any other measure that has been proposed thus far this session.

The following are the chairmen of the different standing committees:

National Affairs, David Cross of Manchester.

Elections, Horace S. Cummings of Exeter.

Judiciary, Aaron F. Stevens of Nashua.

Railroads, Charles J. Amidon of Hinsdale.

Banks, Oliver Pillsbury of Concord.

State Prison, Alexander V. Hitchcock of Newport.

Insurance, Edward J. Durant of Lebanon.

Agriculture, Thomas J. Sanborn of Compton.

Manufactures, Charles H. Sawyer of Dover.

Education, James W. Patterson of Hanover.

Agricultural College, Albert L. Eastman of Hampstead.

Finance, Nehamiah G. Ordway of Warner.

Towns and Parishes, John H. Albin of Henniker.

Division of Towns, Greenleaf Clarke of Atkinson.

Asylum for the Insane, John W. Sturtevant of Keene.

Roads, Bridges, and Canals, Alexander Warden of Monroe.

Mileage, James B. Summer of Dalton.

Fisheries, William H. Shepard of Derry.

Retrenchment and Reform, William R. Newell of Manchester.

Military Affairs—William E. Stevens of Concord.

Incorporations—David H. Goodell of Antrim.

Reform School—Henry H. House of Manchester.

Normal School—George F. Mosher of Dover.

Bills on their Second Reading, George F. Sawtelle of Lyme.

Claims, Stillman Humphrey of Concord.

Unfinished Business, James A. Wood of Acworth.

Engrossed Bills—J. C. A. Hill of Concord.

State Library—Albert S. Batchellor of Littleton.

State House and State House Yard, Andrew S. Smith of Concord.

Constitutional Amendments, Jonathan E. Sargent of Concord.

The bills of which notice notice was given yesterday were introduced and referred to proper committees to-day.

A resolution was passed of having a joint committee appointed of three from the Senate and ten from the House to invite President Hayes to visit the Capitol while in New England this Summer.

At the republican legislative caucuses held this evening the following nominations were made: For Secretary of State, A. B. Thompson of Concord; for State Treasurer, Solon A. Carter of Keene; for Commissary-General, William H. Sise of Portsmouth. For State Printer, John B. Clarke of the Manchester Mirror was nominated over F. B. Cogswell of the Concord Monitor, after a spirited contest, on the second ballot, by one majority: the vote stood, O. C. Moore, 4; P. B. Cogswell, 98; John B. Clarke, 103. The three first candidates named were nominated by acclamation.

YOURS, A. B.

EPPING, June 11.

Friday was a gala-day in our village, the occasion being the reception of Governor Prescott. On the arrival of the afternoon train from Concord the Governor and Mrs. Prescott, with friends, were taken in escort by the citizens en masse, and conducted to a mammoth tent near the Town House, where a beautiful collation awaited them. The procession was led by seventy young men, finely mounted, under the charge of Marshals Plumer, Ordway, and Corning; followed by the Candia Brass Band and a Battery Company of the same town. The carriage occupied by His Excellency was followed by one hundred and fifty others, containing citizens of this and adjoining towns. It is estimated there were two thousand persons present. The order of exercises at the tent was: prayer by Rev. Mr. Jones of the M. E. Church; pleasant remarks of congratulation from several prominent gentlemen present; and a poem. About eight o'clock, the Governor's party with ladies marched into the Town Hall, remaining a short time, while the Band gave some excellent selections. After they retired, dancing occupied the hours till midnight. The decorations were elaborate, with a profusion of flowers. The Governor's table, especially, was richly and artistically arranged. In the Hall, upon a central arch, was the word "Welcome;" and on either side "Plumer, 1812," and "Prescott, 1877." From either direction of the room was a continuation of arches, heavily trimmed with spruce, with hanging baskets of ferns and flowers. The effect, after it was lighted, was very fine. Many of the residences along the route were also decorated, in a style one does not see excelled in our larger cities. It was truly a citizens' affair, and did the town great credit. The enthusiasm and the admirable manner in which it was arranged and carried out made it one of those occasions which always bring a host of pleasant recollections, with, perhaps, a pardonable degree of pride, to all concerned. CARROL.

RYE, June 12.

Shepard's Jubilee Concert at the Town Hall, Wednesday evening last, was not a pecuniary success, on account perhaps of the inclement weather. That the troupe might give under more favorable auspices a fair entertainment seems reasonable, but in order to make a repetition a success, it would be well to have the price of admission stated plainly in the bills, and not mislead patrons by making them pay ten cents more at the door than they were led to expect they would have to by posters; and the address on the "Past History of the African Race" would give much better satisfaction if not principally relating to the experience of the orator, up in one of the back towns of this State not more than ten years ago.

The Portsmouth Weekly says that it is "the persistent sale of liquors by a prominent member of the Society" which is the reported trouble, which makes it difficult for the Congregationalists to get a minister. Perhaps it is; the writer of this don't know; but perhaps it won't be stating an untruth to observe, that as long as there are "prominent members" of a society to buy, there will be some others equally prominent, ready to sell,—whether it be liquor, tobacco or sugar; and that such things take place not only in Rye, but in a good many other places.

Col. Eastman, at Odiorne's Point, has had built a road from the highway to his elegant cottage, and fenced it in a substantial manner. The fence is built of posts and boards, and has more feet of timber in it than can be found on any other portion of the highway in the town of Rye. It is unnecessary to inform anybody who has ever been in Rye, that the fences are principally stone walls; and the wonder is, where all the rocks came from with which they are built. A person coming into town,—a stranger from Connecticut, who has been here for a year or more,—says it made both eyes ache at first to see so many stone walls; and it may be that they are not done aching yet,—for the stones are none the less, and not likely to be at present.

The canker worms are making sad havoc on the apple trees near the shore, and also in some localities farther back, when the trees are not enclosed at the trunk by a "tin protector" filled with oil. The crops of all kinds, with the exception of apples, are looking flourishing at present; and it is to be hoped that the persistent warfare on the potato bugs during the past two weeks will result in a good crop of potatoes, and a marked decrease in the crop of bugs.

Three deaths have occurred in town within the past two weeks—an unusual occurrence for this place—the ages of the deceased being respectively twenty-eight, thirty-one and thirty-six years. NAT.

News and Notes.

A terrible domestic tragedy occurred in Garrett City, Ind., on Sunday night. One George Nevins, a well-to-do citizen, returning home under the influence of liquor, commenced to quarrel with his wife, whom he accused of being too intimate with one Charles Thomas, a clerk in a hotel. It is said that Mrs. Nevins in her fright made a confession that such was the truth, whereupon her husband knocked her down and inflicted wounds with a knife from the effects of which she died Monday. After committing this deed he went to the hotel and fired one or two pistol shots at Charles Thomas, one of which took effect, and the wound is considered dangerous. Nevins is under arrest.

Business at the Revere and Tremont Houses, Boston, continues excellent, and Messrs. Chapin, Gurney & Co. have reason to feel gratified at the ever-increasing success and popularity of their establishments, so deservedly celebrated throughout the United States, since their opening, full thirty years ago.

A Los Angeles, Cal., despatch says that a volcanic eruption occurred in the mountains opposite Flaming Wells station, on the Southern Pacific Railroad, about sixty miles from Yuma, at 9 o'clock on the morning of the 11th. It was preceded by a violent vibration of the earth; about half an hour after, a dense volume of smoke and huge broken bowlders were observed to issue from the mountains. It continued in active state all day, but became nearly passive at nightfall.

Judge Lee, United States Attorney, is investigating the Chisholm tragedy in Mississippi, and has had an interview at Meridian with Mrs. Chisholm and J. M. Wells.

A despatch from Denison, Texas, says R. M. Grubbs, republican, was elected Mayor, Monday, by a plurality of 163 and a majority of 80 over both democratic competitors. The Assessor, Collector, Marshal, Treasurer, and all but one of the Councilmen elected are Northern men.

The Manchesters defeated the Maple Leaf base ball club a second time, on the 11th; this puts the Manchester club on the lead for the International championship. The Bostons were beaten by the Hartfords on the same day 7 to 0; the Chicagoes beat the Louisvilles, 3 to 1; and the Live Oaks whitewashed the Harvards, making six runs themselves.

Rev. Mr. Park, of Manchester, was chosen Chaplain of the House on Wednesday, on the eighth ballot.

The new city directory of Keene contains 2224 names.

Nathaniel Shorey of Rochester has recently lost twelve sheep by dogs.

Of seven liquor saloons searched by the Manchester police, Monday night, liquors were found in only one.

The Manchester Board of Aldermen, at a special meeting on the evening of the 11th, refused to concur with the Common Council in appropriating $150,000 for extending Manchester's railroad facilities.

The physicians in attendance on Mrs. Charles H. Payson of Northfield, whose head was split open with an axe by her drunken husband, think it quite probable the injured woman may recover, which will save the neck of the would-be murderer.

LAP-TABLET.

It has become an almost universal custom for Ladies to write on their laps, using the nearest book or other flat object as a rest for the paper. The new "LAP-TABLET," is an article especially adapted to the purpose. It will be appreciated not only by the Ladies but by the Student and Tourist, in the boudoir or library, on voyage, at summer resorts, by the sea, on the lawn or in the woods, and by Amateur Artists as a sketch-board.

DR. QUAIN'S

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; as I seem to find another dollar hard. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no purpose. At times it was so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and only got partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst case of Neuralgia that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the influence of Rev. D. M. Mathes my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to your for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think them is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of these Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO. Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

THE CELEBRATION TO-DAY,

Unless all signs fails, will do no discredit to the occasion it is intended to memorialize; the city will take something very like a half holiday in the afternoon, as there will be no sessions of the public schools, and the places of business generally will be closed. The programme as already published will be carried out; and there will be no postponement on account of the weather, unless the weather should be of the most execrable kind.

It is a little singular that the idea of celebrating the centennial of the national flag did not occur to any one until it was broached in this city, when Col. T. E. O. Marvin, a member of the Veteran Artillery Association, proposed that the Association should take some public cognizance of the day,—at least, this was the first public mention made of the matter. Boston will this evening have a commemorative meeting in the Old South used-to-be church, when and where will be displayed the flag that floated over Fort McHenry during its bombardment,—the identical flag which inspired Francis M. Key, when a prisoner on board one of the assailing ships of war, to write "The Star-spangled Banner;" but with this exception the flag's centennial will pass without public notice, save in this city. And every citizen who has a spark of national pride, and sympathizes with the patriotic sentiments expressed in Key's noble hymn, should to-day render every aid toward making the celebration the decided success it promises to be.

The hour for the formation of the line on Market (square has been changed from half-past two to two o'clock. Invited guests will be received at the city hall at half-past one o'clock.

The route of the procession will be as follows: Through Islington street to Cabot, through Cabot to Middle, countermarch on Middle near Cass, from Middle through Richards Avenue to Langdon Park, Returning through South, Pleasant, Washington, State, Mulbury, and Daniel streets to Market Square, when the parade will be dismissed.

The dance to be given around the new flagstaff under the direction of Mr. Samuel Lamprey, will be the exquisite "Swedish May Pole Dance," in which some of the best young dancers in the city are to take part. It will be a beautiful novelty, and should not be missed by any one.

Mr. Barnard will keep the water in the South Mill-pond all day, for which he merits the thanks of all who may come in sight of the pond to-day.

JOTTINGS.

The members of the Portsmouth delegation in the Legislature are appointed to the following committees: Richard H. Waldron, Claims; George E. Hanson, Asylum for the Insane; Frank W. Hackett, Judiciary and State Library; Wm. A. Hodgdon, Manufactures; Wm H. Sise, Military Affairs; Titus S. Tredicks, Thomas E. Call, Banks; Andrew Sherburne, Agricultural College; Mercer Goodrich, Normal School; Samuel Langdon, Towns. and Parishes. John Amazeen of Newcastle is on Fisheries, and E. A. Peterson of Greenland on Agricultural College.

A boat for the transportation of passengers across the South Mill-pond will be run from the foot of Edward street to Langdon Park this afternoon, by Mr. James Goodwin.

There will be preaching at Gravelly Ridege this evening, (14th,) at 7 3-4 o'clock, by Elder E. Owen.

Don't forget the Promenade Concord to-night at Mechanics' Hall. Grand March at 9 o'clock.

In the arrangement of the committees of the State Legislature, Portsmouth, with ten Representatives, was not honored with a single chairmanship. Concord has five chairmanships.

Pensioners whose pensions are payable at the agency in this city will save themselves some trouble and probably much delay by applying at once for the payments now due, as after June 30th they will be unable to draw their pensions until the transfer of the agency to the consolidated office at Concord is completed,—and after that transfer it is more than likely that there will be far greater delay than heretofore in making the payments, as the number of pensioners to draw from the Concord agency will be very large, and the required examinations will consume a great deal of time.

Hon. Thomas B. Reed, member of Congress from the First District of Maine, is in town.

The managers of the Kearsarge Mills had proposed to shut down for some weeks from about the first of July, to put in some new and more powerful machinery, but an accident occurred to the engine, Wednesday morning, necessitating a shut-down sooner than was desired. The "rocker" of the engine broke, which badly demoralized the whole machine, as by the time it stopped the huge piston was bent into the shape of the letter S, and the engines and its foundations were badly shaken. The direct loss, though large, is not so serious a matter as the interruption of work, for there was a large amount of work on hand to be finished up before the shut-down took place. The managers hope to be able to repair the damages in a week or so, in which case the mill will be given several weeks' running before the new machinery is put in.

"The Little Corporal," Mr. George A'Lord, who was a corporal in Co. G, 125th N. Y. Vols., throughout the war, and is vouched for by Capt. Lemon, who commanded the company, the Colonel and Chaplain of the regiment, and others, as having been a brave soldier, and honorably discharged for disability consequent an arduous and faithful service, is in town and will call on all our patriotic citizens. He is engaged in selling a nicely printed copy of the Constitution of the United States, which he offers at the low price of ten cents. Give him a helping hand.

Joseph R. Clark, of Derry, has been appointed sealer of weights and measures for Rockingham county, in place of George F. Adams, declined.

A Brief Story of Some Amateur Theatricals.

At the time, not very long ago, when amateur theatricals first came in vogue, a party of young friends, who were accustomed to meet together for mutual enjoyment, were at a loss what to do in the way of getting up some specie of recreation for the Christmas holidays, and it was finally concluded to enact a play, the old English drama of "Town and Country" being chosen for the purpose. The best of readers there were among them, from much practice in an art in which few, comparatively, excel, but to undertake to perform a whole play, with appropriate costume and scenery, as they purposed doing, was something they never before contemplated. The home of two of the members, a brother and sister, was in one of the large and tastefully constructed mansions that survive in the New England cities as relics of the English architecture of the eighteenth century, in which was a spacious upper room, out of all reason in size for a sleeping apartment, which, by the aid of carpenters' work, and that of an ornamental painter who had served in his time as a scenic artist, was soon converted into quite a tasteful temple of the muses. When the several parts had been studied and duly rehearsed, and everybody was ready for the Christmas Eve entertainment to which they had invited a host of their friends, the gentleman who was to sustain the role of Reuben Glenroy was taken ill, and not one was there who could fill his place. After much perplexity, a young gentleman friend of one of the members was found, who had come from New York to visit relatives, and being familiar with amateur theatricals at home, his services were procured to fill the vacant position. "Of one thing I must caution you," said the friend who had been able to secure his aid, "and that is, not to fall in love with the young lady who is to enact the heroine, Rosalie Somers, to your hero, as any young man would be very apt to do before he was aware of it." Dresses were procured of the appropriate kind, and when Christmas Eve came, a stranger who had witnessed the performance would have imagined the corps dramatique none other than members of the theatrical profession, such as he was accustomed to see upon the stage in the larger cities. While all did well, very well, the hero and heroine of the drama were pronounced most to have excelled, and more than one susceptible young gentleman among the auditors thought they would like to take the part in private life of Reuben Glenroy to the Rosalie Somers they had seen upon the stage, for never before had she seemed so winning in their eyes.

When Christmas was past, and the stranger visitor had returned to New York to share in the ever popular New Year's festival, the club went on "the even tenor of their way," enjoying the recreations prepared for the winter months before them, planning others for the future, looking forward to rural rambles in the springtime, and in the summer days jaunts to pleasant gathering places of the season, to mountain tops, and by "the sad sea waves."

The seasons came and went, during which occasional entertainments occurred in the "temple of the muses," as well as in the spacious parlors of other dwellings, until Christmas eve was again approaching, when, at the request of their friends, the club made arrangements to produce the same drama that had afforded so much enjoyment to all the year before at the ever happy time. It so chanced that the young gentleman came again from New York to visit his relatives, and did not decline when asked to repeat the character in which he had before acquitted himself so well. When the performance was over, and all were on the way to their several dwellings, a young lady who could do very cleverly whatever her fancy conceived, managed by dropping his arm at the right time, to leave the hero to accompany home the heroine of the play; and as the night was cold, on reaching the door, the latter could do no less than invite her escort in to warm himself before starting again for the home of his friends. After getting in a very comfortable condition at the parlor register, instead of taking his leave he was struck with sudden admiration of a choice oil painting that hung upon the walls, and then no less so by a winter scene of like merit; some elegantly illustrated books next detained him, (being a man of taste,) and about which he discoursed until his attention was drawn to an album of seamosses, whose rich colors and tasteful arrangement he much admired; and then, as if about to depart, but without wishing to do so, and lingering still, he took the hand of his companion, and said in a voice that needed something of steadiness, "After enacting first the part of a lover to you as Miss Rosalie Somers on the mimic stage; then, through all the year, within the deepest recesses of my own heart, and to-night, again, 'before many witnesses,' I would now ask if the great happiness may be mine of being accepted as such in reality, and that you will become my dearest of companions, the sharer of my fortunes in the drama of life; I could not love you more;" and then, as he pressed still closer the hand, and looked upon the half-averted face of the fair girl at his side, he added, "Twice have I heard from your lips the words 'Rosalie will never wound the heart of him who loves her.' May I be so happy as to hear those sweet words again, giving me the hope that my love has not been all astray?" Silence reigned for a few brief moments, no sound being heard amid the stillness of midnight save the beating of two fond hearts that yearned for each other; and there came to his ear in a soft, low tone, that was the sweetest music one of the pair could have heard, "Rosalie will never wound the heart of him who loves her."

What followed need not be said, being a private matter between the very happy pair, neither the reader or the narrator have anything to do with it; it may, however, be stated, as he will not deny should he chance to read this sketch, that one of the twain had some trouble in getting into the dwelling of his friends after reaching the door, as the master of the household, on awaking from a long nap over his evening paper, supposing that all were in at 2 1-2 A. M., turned the key in the lock, slid the bolts, and put up the chain.

Another result of the Christmas eve performance the club so obligingly prepared for the entertainment of their friends, was, as it may please those who take an interest in such things to learn, that Captain Glenroy found courage to solicit a like favor from the young lady with whom he had been so intimately associated in the drama, that Reuben had won from the fair Rosalie; and being alike successful, the summer days succeeding found two "happy pairs" journeying together on their bridal tour.

Such are the dangers of indulging in amateur theatricals. Let "young men and maidens" beware lest they share a similar fate.

Disease is an Antagonist

That should be attacked the instant he shows himself. Don't wait. At him before his nails are grown, and wipe him out. The great alterative and invigorant of the age. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will speedily infuse such healthful tone into your organization that it will be enabled to successfully resist future attacks. The Bitters prevent and remedy chills and fever and bilious remittents, and eradicate dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, rhumatic ailments, urinary and uterine difficulties. It is particularly beneficial when the system has been drained of its vitality or is inherently deficient in strength. The nerves gather from it both vigor and tranquility. But while it imparts strength and gives a wholesome stimulus to the animal economy, it does not unduly excite it like the cheap exhilarants sometimes resorted to under the erroneous impression that they can invigorate.

Avoid Danger.

Don't put an enemy in your mouth to steal your teeth. Avoid deleterious dentifrices. Rely on Sozodont. Nothing can be purer or more certain to prevent the teeth from becoming diseased. After each brushing they glitter like pearls, and the gums grow rosy red.

Having at various times used Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup, personally and in my family, with the very best results following, I do not hesitate to recommend it as an excellent remedy for coughs and colds and diseases of the throat and lungs. I find, also, on inquiry, that it is very generally used in Claremont, where the Doctor has been a practicing physician for the past ten years.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SEAVEY, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St. Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and gives a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation o health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of m at at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer the same to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each such neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or if at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over any part of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same, and no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

DANIEL W. JONES, M. D.,
ROBERT SHILLABER,
DANIEL DANIELSON,
Health Officers.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST FOR THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing all irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual y than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS, CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success., and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

The Great Earthquake.

A correspondent of the Panama Star and Herald, writing from Lima, Peru (May 20), says: While the interior towns have escaped destruction, the visitation along the coast has been much more severe than in Aug. 1868, when the tidal wave overwhelmed Mollendo and Arica. At about 8:30 on the night of the 9th a severe earthquake shock, lasting from four to five minutes, moved the entire southern coast, even reaching down as far as Antofagasta; so severe was the movement that in many places it was impossible to stand upright without support. The first shock was succeeded by several others of less intensity, and then the sea, receding from the shore, seemed to concentrate its strength for the fearful and repeated attacks it made upon the land. Leaving Callao, and proceeding southward, the first port visited was Pisco, where the damage done was not great.

At Arica the people were busily engaged in preparing temporary fortifications to repel a threatened assault of the rebel ram Huascar at the very moment when the roar of the earthquake was heard. The sea was suddenly perceived to recede from the beach, and a wave from ten to fifteen feet in height rolled in upon the shore, carrying before it all that it met. Eight times was repeated this assault of the ocean. The earthquake had leveled to the ground the Custom-house in great part, the railway station, the Submarine Cable office, the hotel, British consulate, steamship agency, and many private dwellings. Owing to the early hour of the evening and the excitement attendant on the proposed attack of the Huascar, every one was out and stirring and the only loss of life reported is that of three little children, who were overtaken by the water. The progress of the wave was only stopped at the foot of the hill on which the church stands, which point is further inland than that reached August, 1868. Four miles of the embankment of the railway melted away like sand before the assault of the water; locomotives, cars, and rails were hurled about by the sea like so many playthings and left in a tumbled mass of rubbish. The United States steamer Wateree, stranded by the bore of 1868, was lifted up bodily and floated two miles north of her old position. The next morning the scene was pitiful. The shocks still continued; the sea was yet dreadfully agitated; the only two vessels in the bay, anchored far out, escaped injury, but all the launches and boats had been destroyed.

The movement was experienced at Iquique at the same moment and with the same superhuman force. Its duration was exactly four minutes and twenty seconds, proceeding from the southeast, directly from the location of the Ilaga volcano. The houses, built of wood and cane, tumbled down at the first onset of the enemy. Lamps were broken, and the burning oil, spreading over the debris, immediately started a general conflagration. Three companies of firemen—German, Italian, and Peruvian—were instantly at their posts, although it was still difficult to maintain an upright position, shock following shock with dreadful regularity. In order to procure water the two best fire engines were stationed on the beach, and the work began. Just then the cry arose "The sea! the sea!" and the angry waves rushed in, the engines were carried out by the reflux, and the fire continued unopposed. Three elements of destruction busy at one moment! The affrighted people gave up all attempts at resistance and left the city to its fate, flying to the neighboring eminences. The fire destroyed a large portion of the town, the earthquake leveled nearly all the rest, and the water covers the ruins which it took in its reflux. Four entire squares of buildings were swamped and taken by the waves; all the wharves were destroyed; the Custom-house is gone; the nitrate stores have disappeared; the water condensers along shore are ruined—a most irreparable loss for Iquique, as no potable water is found there. Nearly 400,000 quintals of nitrate then in the stores at Iquique and the adjacent ports of Molle and Pisagua, were destroyed. Small loss of life took place, probably ten persons in all.

Away up on the pampas, 11 miles from Iquique, the splendid nitrate establishment, La Neuva Carolina, was completely destroyed. The town of Tarapaca, twenty-three leagues inland, and the villages of Pica, Matilla, and Canchones more or less ruined. The loss of life is reported as not being great. The sufferings of the people of Iquique were intense; the absence of water and the destruction of the principal stores added to their hardships; tents were improvised along the sides of the hills near the town, and the neighborhood soon resembled a vast encampment. It is estimated that the damage done in Iquique will amount to nearly 4,000,000 soles.

The shock of earthquake was especially severe at Chanavaya. In some spots the earth opened in crevices of fifteen meters (49 1-2 feet) in depth, and the whole surface of the ground was changed. At least 200 people were killed, bodies were floating around in the bay, and a pestilence is feared. A small steamer, the Ballestas, was instantly dispatched to Iquique for assistance, but the condition of that place was such that but little could be afforded. At Huanillos, another guano-loading station, the damage inflicted was fearful. All the houses were destroyed, the guano cuts have fallen in, and at Pabellon, [illegible] must be suspended for at least two months, as that will be requisite to effect the necessary repairs.

Mexillones was visited by a tidal wave sixty-five feet in height; two-thirds of the town completely obliterated; guano-shoots, wharves, launches, boats, water distilleries, railway station, locomotives, cars, and furniture, all swallowed up by the insatiable enemy, the sea. At Tocopilla little or nothing remains of the town. A mine called "La Pena Blanca," four miles to the southward, sunk in, smothering 200 workmen, of whom forty were Cornish miners. Cobija, the principal town on the Bolivian coast, has lost three-fourths of the houses. The wave, thirty-five feet high, swept along the main business street and left it as level as the desert. Wharves and launches were all carried out to sea. The church spire was knocked over, and even consecrated ground was entered—the cemetery suffering somewhat from the watery foe. All these towns are in the greatest distress. Chili has escaped without injury. The northern ports of Peru were damaged but little, although the sea was running remarkably high.

On the evening of the 14th, Lima and Callao were visited by a very severe shock of earthquake lasting twetny-two seconds, and causing general alarm, but little damage. Fears were entertained that it might have been a second edhion of the southern disaster, but telegrams from Mollendo announced that no repetition of the catastrophe had taken place.

Concord Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 13.

Now that the different Standing Committees have been appointed, the House for the past two days has made some progress on the legislative business; yet some of the new members can hardly recognize that anything has been done thus far, realizing, in their estimation, that large bodies move slowly.

On Tuesday Frank W. Hackett of Portsmouth offered a resolution requesting the family of the late Hon. Daniel M. Christie of Dover to furnish his portrait to be placed in Representatives' Hall. In advocating his resolution Mr. Hackett made his maiden speech, as well as the first one of the session. On all sides he is receiving the warmest and most gratifying praise for his eloquent effort.

The nomination of John B. Clarke of Manchester for State Printer was the cause of considerable excitement. Two ballots were necessary to accomplish it. It was the hardest contested political nomination that has been seen in Concord for a long time. Both sides were ably generaled and all tactics were carried out without any political animosity.

The different county delegations met today and perfected an organization. Rockingham county delegation chose Wm. A. Hodgdon of Portsmouth as Chairman, and Mercer Goodrich of Portsmouth as Clerk. A committee of five, consisting of Wm. H. Sise of Portsmouth, Greenleaf Clarke of Atkinson, Horace L. Cummings of Exeter, E. A. Peterson of Greenland, and James M. Davis of Plaistow, were appointed to devise some means whereby the county expenses for the current year can be diminished. Considerable feeling was expressed about the matter of buildings at the County farm.

The representatives are acting upon the suggestions expressed in the message of Governor Prescott, and are examining the State Prison themselves. From opinions that have been expressed there is no doubt but that the bill for the erection of a new State Prison will pass.

It seems to be universally conceded that there will be considerable discussion between the friends of the Boston, Concord & Montreal and Portland & Ogdensburg railroads, about the matter of allowing the P. & O. R. R. to build the section they desire, but wise and knowing persons say the measure will pass. The members of the "third house" are here in full force, and are as active as the friends of different measures could desire.

Quite a number of Portsmouth faces were seen about the streets yesterday, among them Postmaster Pierce, Collector Howard and Sheriff Kent. To-day the tall form of Ex-Judge Lory Odell appeared in the doorway, and he was invited by the Speaker to take one of the front seats. A. B.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.

A religious controversy between some of the prominent Protestant and Catholic pastors is imminent,—already in progress, in fact. First, Priest, Boyle went out of his way in a lecture, to arraign Secretary Thompson, pointing out a grammatical inaccuracy in the preface of that gentleman's book on the "Papacy and the Civil Power" as conclusive proof of his lack of character and ability, and of his wicked motives generally. Next, the pastor of St. Matthew's Church, to manifest his zeal, made an attack upon Parson Newman, of the Metropolitan Methodist Church, this city, accusing him of giving utterance to a half dozen lies, more or less, in a recent lecture, and charging him with being a fool. The Doctor replies in a caustic way, and our church members and others are ranging themselves according to preference, and a prolonged bitter dispute is expected, that will arouse all the latent bigotry and fanaticism existing among the adherents of both sides. This feeling of hostility will be aggravated on the part of the Catholics by the establishment in this city of a new paper, the American Watchman, whose purpose is stated in the prospectus just issued, to be, "the advancement of Protestant Christianity and the defence of civil and religious liberty against the encroachments of Roman Catholicism." As the several pastors are representative men, and the writers engaged for the new publication are known to be ripe scholars, capable of engaging the attention of the country, the agitation precipitated may become National.

The Sherman relatives serving the country in its civil service are being remorselessly hunted up by those likely to be hurt by the late order, limiting families to not more than one in his Department. The list published is already formidable, with lots of back counties in remote State yet to be heard from; and it is intimated that the late transfer of a nephew from a good position here to another equally lucrative, where his incumbency would attract less attention because of its distance from the National Capital, was arranged with a special view to the order subsequently issued. Up to last accounts only one bureau has been searched for victims, and the astonishing number found more than justifies all the charges of nepotism made in these letters.

Butler is honing his scalping knife for a final and fatal assault, it is supposed, on MacVaigh, who cried quits; or it may be that the look of sardonic exultation observed as he draws his thumb deliberately across the edge to test fis fitness for the work in hand, is inspired by the fancied writhings of Hawley or some other obnoxious member of the Louisiana Commission, as he (the General) carves them into mince-meat.

The removal of Marshal Pitkin, of Louisiana to make place for a soldier of fortune in the person of Jack Wharton, is generally regarded here as grossly inconsistent with the civil service reform professions that have been made, and particularly so with the assurance that no removals would be made except for cause. No single removal so far made has caused so much unfavorable comment here, even among warm Administration supporters, as the one in question. KNOX.

The War.

The Turks have succeeded in relieving Nicsics.

Mukhtar Pacha is evidently in a critical position at Erzeroum. Unless the Russians are drawn off by some strategy it seems impossible that the Turkish forces there can avoid surrendering en masse. The fortress and town of Van are similarly situated. The great difficulty is that communications are cut off. The Russians are guarding every pass and road. Intelligence is not to be obtained of what is being done in Van, Erzeroum, Arzetoum and Batoum. Several efforts have been made to restore the telegraph, but have failed.

News and Notes.

A suit against Samuel J. Tilden for unpaid income tax from 1861 to 1871, aggregating with interest $150,000, was entered by United States District Attorney Woodford in the District Court for the District of New York on Wednesday.

Letters from Australia state that Fairbanks & Co., the American scale manufacturers, have received the highest prize at the recent international exhibition at Sydney, and that the Committee of Award recommended a special medal of honor for the excellence of their exhibit.

Gov. Chamberlain, late of South Carolina, has arrived in New York, and is ready to enter upon the practice of his profession. The younger bar of this city has not in many years received an abler re-enforcement. It is a noticeable fact that one of the young lawyers in Gov. Chamberlain's new office is the son of George H. Pendleton. The law makes just as strange bedfellows as politics.—Tribune.

New Hampshire Items.

A tramp entered the house of D. B. Dennison, at Great Falls, Wednesday evening, when the family were absent, and demanded of a servant girl the money and valuables in the house, on pain of being murdered. She begged for her life. The tramp stood in the hall, and allowed her to go up stairs under pretence of getting money, when she procured Mr. Dennison's revolver, and ordered from the top stairs the tramp to leave or she would shoot. He made threats of her life. Before he reached her she fired and he fell. Two other tramps coming to his assistance and taking him away, he remarked, "John, I am hit." The police searched in vain for the tramps all night. The girl fed the one who attacked her, just before night. She is only about twenty years old.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will speedily infuse such healthful tone into your organization that it will be enabled to successfully resist future attacks. The Bitters prevent and remedy chills and fever and bilious remittents, and eradicate dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, rhumatic ailments, urinary and uterine difficulties. It is particularly beneficial when the system has been drained of its vitality or is inherently deficient in strength. The nerves gather from it both vigor and tranquility. But while it imparts strength and gives a wholesome stimulus to the animal economy, it does not unduly excite it like the cheap exhilarants sometimes resorted to under the erroneous impression that they can invigorate.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 5 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. have suffered all this pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I run free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardships in the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEYARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for twelve years with the worst form of neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines, with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who ask them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO. Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

THE FLAG'S CENTENNIAL

Was celebrated in this city more elaborately than anywhere else in the Union. At sunrise a flag of the original pattern, with thirteen stars, was hoisted on the staff at Langdon Park, and all the bells of the city rang out a joyous peal, reminding the small boy of the delights of Fourth of July (perhaps) to come. At noon the bells rang out again, and a National salute hundered out from the guns at the Navy Yard; and shortly after many of the stores in the city were closed (and all should have been), in honor of the occasion.

The day was very warm and oppressive, and long before two o'clock the picnic wagons were engaged in conveying full loads from Market square to the Park, where an immense crowd had congregated before the arrival of the Veterans and their escort, and the guests of the day. Shortly before three o'clock the Veteran Artillery Association, Capt. George W. Towle, escorted by the Light Artillery, Capt. Wm. O. Sides, the Portsmouth Cornet Band furnishing music, and accompanied by the Boys' High School company, and the speakers of the day, officers of the navy and invited guests in carriages, started from Market square and marched over the previously advertised route to the Park.

On arriving, a salute of thirteen guns was fired by the Light Artillery. This was followed by "The Star-spangled Banner," given with fine effect by a large choir, the band accompanying. Hon. Charles Levi Woodbury then gave a historical address, which was of course most interesting and appropriate, for that gentleman couldn't make a blunder or a tame speech if he were to try. He was followed by Ex-Gov. Fred. Smyth, in another felicitous speech. The High School pupils then sang "The Red, White and Blue," with band accompaniment, the audience joining in the chorus. This ended the exercises at the Park in honor of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as the flag of the American Union on the 14th of June, 1777.

At the Maypole, after an introductory address by Hon. Frank W. Miller, Rev. James DeNormandie read the poem composed for the occasion by Albert Laighton. A number of the former pupils of Mr. Thomas P. Moses than sang a verse of one of his favorite songs, "The month of June," which was received with such applause that another verse was given. Mr. Woodbury and Gov. Smyth then addressed the assemblage, their remarks being as appropriate to the Maypole festivities as their previous ones had been to the celebration of the flag's centennial.

The exercises closed with a Swedish Maypole dance, performed by nineteen young couples (representing the thirty-eight States of the Union), under direction of Mr. Samuel Lamprey.

The line of march was then resumed, the Light Artillery escorting the Veteran Association to the Rockingham House, and then marching to their Armory, where they dismissed.

The Maypole at the Park was dressed with streamers and evergreen, beside the "old thirteen" ensign, and there was a very general display of flags throughout the city, nearly everybody who owns a flag seeming to have had it out. At Liberty Bridge the tall flag-staff bore the Tilden and Hendricks flag of the last Presidential campaign. The few vessels in the harbor had their flags set, and the U. S. S. Enterprise, at the Navy Yard, was gaily dressed in bunting.

The lessee of the South Mill very courteously kept the water in the pond all day, and a boat on the pond did a good thing all the afternoon in transferring passengers from the foot of Edward street to the Park, and back.

At sundown the bells were again rung; and at an early hour in the evening the Veteran Association, with their invited guests, sat down to their memorial dinner at the Rockingham House.

Among the guests of the Association was Capt. N. J. Ham, who was a member of the once famous "Gilman Blues,"—the crack company of this region for many years, in auld lang syne,—at the time the late Col. Pierce was its captain, and who was one of the men to whom thirty-eight rounds of ball cartridge were served out one night in 1812, on the Parade, preparatory to the march to Rye to repel the incursion of several boats' crews from some British men-of-war off the coast. The Blues on that occasion got half-way to Rye before Capt Pierce was notified by a messenger that the marauders had retreated to their boats, when he marched his men back to the Plains, when they were treated to a hot supper instead of a dose of cold lead, which was better for their comfort if not so good for their glory.

Ex-Gov. Smyth, Hon. C. L. Woodbury, Mayor Broughton, Ex-Mayors Miller and Goodrich, Commander Yates, Rev. E. M. Grant, Messrs. T. Salter Tredick, Henry M. Clark and others, were also guests of the Association.

As the dinner was gotten up at the Rockingham, it would be supererogatory to compliment it. After the viands had been duly attended to, toasts were in order, and were given as follows:

Our Country—response by Hon. Charles Levi Woodbury.

The Flag—Rev. Eugene M. Grant.

The President. [Ex-Gov. Goodwin, who was to have responded to this toast, was unable to be present.] Response by the band—"Hail to the chief."

The Continental Congress—Stephen W. Clarke, Esq.

The Army—response by the band.

Our Navy—Commander Yates, U. S. N.

The Militia—Capt. Wm. O. Sides.

The Ladies—Lieut. Charles W. Gardner.

New Hampshire in the Revolution—Ex-Gov. Smyth.

The Revolutionary Press—Hon. Frank W. Miller.

The Heroes of '76—response by the band.

Our Foreign Relations—Hon. Chas. L. Woodbury.

Remrks were made by Capt. John Clark, a veteran soldier, and others; and shortly after ten o'clock all bands joined in singing "Home, Sweet Home," and then went there.

The whole celebration passed off with credit to those who were active in getting it up. No such extensive "time" as we had on the occasion of the Return of the Sons was looked for, or desirable; the time for making arrangements was limited, and general contribution of funds was not asked. But it was peculiarly fitting that the flag's centennial should be publicly noticed, and by the organization which took the matter in hand,—the Veteran Artillery Association, many of whose members were prominent in military affairs thirty or forty years ago, and not a few of whom have served—and every one with honor—in the ranks of the Nation's defenders, more than one of them bearing the scars of honorable wounds. And so far as we are at present aware, Portsmouth—"sleepy old Portsmouth"—was the only city in which there was any general notice taken of the day and occasion.

JOTTINGS.

Steamer Three Brothers, built at Kittery Point, was successfully launched on Wednesday. Her machinery will be put in here.

The steamer Appledore commenced her regular trips to the shoals Thursday forenoon. She carried out several boarders.

The body of Mr. William S. Roberts, of this city, who was drowned near Boiling rock, in the upper Piscataqua, on the 8th day of May, was picked up early Thursday morning floating near Fernald's boat-landing, (the same landing from which he sailed on the day of the accident) by a young man from Eliot. On the body was found his gold watch and chain and $14.40 in money. The hour hand of the watch was broken off and the crystal gone.

Ship Anna Decatur, 1210 tons register, built at this port in 1866 and now lying in New York harbor, has been sold for German account, at $23,000.

Secretary Thompson will soon be cruising along shore as far north as Portsmouth, on the Tallapoosa, commanded by Lieut. McRitchie. Judging from the criticisms in the Roman Catholic papers on his book he has been sailing in against the Holy See.—Ex.

We have received Peterson's Magazine for July. It contains a beautiful steel engraving, "Cherry Ripe;" a large colored fashion plate, with five figures; besides some twenty other engravings, a number of continued stories, and other matter usually found in periodicals. A new volume begins with this number, affording an excellent opportunity to subscribe. Price, two dollars a year, with great deductions to clubs, and premiums to persons getting up clubs. Specimens sent, gratis, to those wishing to get up clubs. Address Chas. J. Peterson, 306 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

Who is Hon. Augustus A. Woolson of Lisbon, Speaker of the House? We never heard of him particularly until he was brought forward as a candidate for the Speakership; and he has never heard of Portsmouth at all, judging from his arrangement of the House committees.

Hon. Marcellus Eldredge, of this city, is chairman of the Senate committee on military affairs; he is also second in committee on elections, and third in committee on roads, bridges and canals.

The heartiest endorsements of the Great London Circus and Menagerie meet the eye in the papers of places where the show has been exhibiting. To judge from our exchanges—city and country—no show ever gave better satisfaction in New England than this one. The Concord Patriot of the 11th says: "Howe's London Circus arrived here from Boston at four o'clock this morning, and at half-past nine made a parade of the principal streets. This was one of the finest parades ever given in Concord. The chariots were gorgeous and the animals in splendid condition, far surpassing any connected with a circus that ever showed in this city. The reputation that this circus has established preceded its advent in this city; the papers wherever it has appeared speak very highly of it, and all lovers of this kind of amusement can find no better opportunity of satisfying themselves."

NEIGHBORING TOWNS.

NORTH HAMPTON, June, 14.

The Annual Conference of Congregational and Presbyterian churches met in this town on the 12th, continuing until Wednesday afternoon, June 13th. The meeting was held in the Cong. church, of which Rev. T. V. Haines is pastor. Rev. A. B. Peabody, scribe of the Conference, led the opening prayer meeting at 10 A. M., Tuesday; public services followed, Rev. James W. Hubbell preaching a most eloquent discourse on a text in Matthew 26:53, "Twelve legion of angels and more," the reserve power of Christ being particularly enlarged upon. A business meeting followed, at which Phineas Morrill of Stratham was chosen chairman of the Conference, and A. B. Peabody scribe, for the ensuing year; it was also voted to receive women as delegates. The Conference then adjourned for dinner, and on reassembling short reports of the state of the churches were read. The question, "What is the duty of the church toward Christians who delay in becoming church members?" was discussed by Rev. Messrs. Street, Peabody, Rand, Chapman and Wright. At seven o'clock, P. M., a praise meeting was held, conducted by Rev. Mr. Hadley of Newington; after which there was a discussion on the question, "How can the churches of Rockingham county be revived."

On Wednesday, at half-past eight o'clock A. M., there was a short prayer meeting, followed by a praise meeting. At ten o'clock the question, "What are the duties of teachers in our Sabbath schools?" was discussed by Rev. Mr. Haley of Seabrook and Hampton Falls, followed by Rev. Messrs. White, Rand, Hubbell and Street. At eleven o'clock there was a discussion on the question, "Have the Tabernacle meetings in Boston proved the need of a change in our methods of preaching the gospel?" in which Rev. David Bremner of Plaistow and Rev. Joseph Bartlett of South Newmarket took the principal parts; Mr. Moody's use of the Bible, his confidence in what he spoke, his earnestness in seeking immediate results and his independence of manuscript, were especially held up as worthy of consideration. A resolution on the death of Mrs. Betsey Whitehouse of Pembroke was passed. Rev. Wm. A. Rand of South Seabrook brought forward a resolution calling for more efficient legislation concerning the manufacture and sale of cider; and on the re-assembling of the Conference at two o'clock this cider resolution occasioned a spirited discussion. A vote of thanks was passed for the hospitable entertainment of the delegates; after which there was a public service, Rev. Jesse Page of Atkinson opening, and Rev. Mr. Robie of Greenland preaching the sermon; this was followed by communion service, after which the Conference adjourned to meet in Portsmouth in June, 1878.

On Wednesday forenoon, while the Conference occupied the church, the Rockingham County Branch of the Women's Board of Missions held a meeting in the vestry, at which Mrs. H. C. Knight of Portsmouth made an earnest and most interesting address.

ENO.

YORK, ME., June 12.

Capt. E. H. Savage, Chief of Boston Police, who is spending a few days at the Riverside Cottage in York, informs your correspondent that for three weeks he and his force have been on track of an East Boston scoundrel who has been enticing young girls from Tremont and other central streets into by-places and in some instances accomplishing diabolical villainies. Saturday afternoon the chief received a telegram from his Deputy, that Capt. Ford, of the force, had arrested the scoundrel, who is an East Boston rough and a fighter. He is fully identified and will no doubt get punished to the full extent of the law,—which law in cases of this kind seems too mild. When Chief Savage read the telegram, his countenance brightened, and he exclaimed "Good! If you had brought me five hundred dollars I should not have been more pleased!"

A clergyman not a hundred miles from York says that he would sooner see either of his darling children die, than to administer a drop of alcoholic stimulant to save its life. Now is that man sane, a fool, a fanatic, a liar, or does he want to see his child die? Which?

On Sunday, Mr. Charles L. Grant, (of the firm of Stewart & Grant,) lost a valuable horse. Also on the Wednesday previous Mr. Geo. T. Bragdon lost a horse, valued at two hundred dollars, by colic.

Yours truly, P.

Telegraph Monopoly.

The directors of the Direct United States Cable Company announce that they have decided to wind up the present company and form another with the same name. The object of the winding up is to enable a working agreement with the Anglo-American Cable Company to be made effective, —in other words, to re-establish and perpetuate the monopoly, on the part of the Anglo-American, which the Direct Cable was chartered expressly to break up, and to consummate a bargain which the incorporators of the Direct Cable Company solemnly promised never to make. The principal heads of the agreement are: The agreement to remain in force fifty years from May 1, 1877, with power to either company to determine it at the end of twenty-five years. The actual receipts, after the deduction of certain charges, are to go to the joint account, of which seventy-five per cent. is to belong to the Anglo-American Company and twenty-five per cent. to the Direct Company. In the case of interruption to either line for more than one year these proportions are to be modified. In case of total interruption for more than thirty consecutive months, the agreement is to be determinable by notice. Allowance at the rate of £10,000 a year is to be made by the Direct Company, out of their receipts to the Anglo-American company, during such time as the Anglo-American company shall keep two or more cables in working order.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 3 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvement thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic."

HE WILL COME;

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, JR., D. D.

This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 16mo. 216 pp.; $1.25 in Cloth; $2.50 in Morocco. The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,307,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

OFFICERS, SOLDIERS and SAILORS of the late war or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All OFFICERS, SOLDIERS and SAILORS wounded or ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & CO.

Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & CO. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.

Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. ADDRESS

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 36, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEE. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any state meat, heads, offal or any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city, but shall cause all offal to be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice being given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds within this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the Worst Cases. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual by than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG—My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

MY TREASURES.

[The following is the poem written by ALBERT LAIGHTON for the Maypole celebration of Thursday, and read on that occasion by Rev. Mr. DeNormandie.]

I.

No titled lands are mine,
And yet, by right divine,
A heritage I claim in all that lies
Beneath the skies.
Whose gold can buy the loveliness of morn
The glory of the day,
The sunset's splendor, or the beauty born
Of night's enchanting hour?
Or take away
The soul's immortal dower?

II.

These are my happy fields, to childhood dear;
Mine the ancestral trees that stand
Lofty and grand
Through all the changing year;
Here are my woodlands dim
Where the arbutus blossoms, meek and pale,
The earliest flower to bring
Its tribute to the Spring.
Here my Arcadia fair, my Arno's vale;
Here low and sweet,
Or wildly when the tempests beat,
The ocean chants for me its solemn hymn;
Here at my feet,
The clear, blue waters of my glorious river
Flow on unchecked forever;
While far away
Beyond the winding bay,
Distinct against the western skies,
My cloud-kissed mountains rise.

III.

I seek no alien sky,
Here all my treasures lie
Far from the ceaseless tread of hurrying feet,
The turbulence that fills
The city's crowded street.
Sweeter to me the sea's mysterious rote,
The murmur of the wind-swept pine;
The melody divine,
That warbles in the wild-bird's silver throat,
The freedom of my native woods and hills!

IV.

O wealth that knows no loss,
O gold that hath no dross;
Why should I ask for more?
Why swell my countless store?
Enough for me to dwell,
'Mid scenes I love so well;
And whether life for me be long or brief
Here may I sink away,
Into the sweet eternal rest,
As peacefully as on some autumn day,
When winds are hushed, the ripened leaf
Falls on Earth's tender breast.

An Extraordinary Shipwreck.

It is a curious thing to find a wreck due not to the ship striking a rock, but to a rock striking the ship, yet this is what seems to have happened in the case of the iron screw steamer Knight Templar, which, on February 23, off the Gulf of Tunis, seems to have been struck by a rock from a submarine volcano, while in 1000 fathoms of water, at a distance of ten miles from the nearest known group of rocks. The shock was accompanied by a rumbling noise and by the seething of the sea into a white foam all round the ship, and though the ship was not stopped in her course, she soon began to fill, and had to be steered to the Island of Galita, where the captain ran her on shore in a shallow place, which he accomplished within four hours of the submarine shock. When examined by divers, and subsequently in dock in Malta, it appeared that at a distance of about fifteen feet from the stem of the vessel some nine or ten feet had been torn out of her by something which crossed her course at right angles, and the ship had also been struck in a similar way on the after part from the same direction, and a good part of her keel twisted. Mr. William Coppin, ex-surveyor to the Board of Trade, who gives us this account at length, is evidently quite satisfied that a rock driven through the sea by a submarine volcano had struck and wrecked the ship. It is hard for the sailors that at the very time when man is contriving such frightful torpedoes for their destruction the earth herself should begin exploding natural torpedoes upon them, without even the warning of a declaration of war.—London Spectator.

A Handy Earthquake.

The earthquake theory promises to be as great a convenience to navigators as to novelists of the California school. The officers of the Pacific Mail steamship City of San Francisco contend that at the time of the earthquake that destroyed Iquique on the Peruvian coast there was an upheaval of the submarine reef on which the vessel struck. The naval officers at Acapulco entertain the same theory, and the entries on the log-book of the United States steamship Lackawanna in the same harbor are cited in proof of the assertion that there were a great many big tidal waves with troughs behind them about the time the steamship was wrecked. This view is confirmed indirectly by an account which an English paper publishes of the wreck of the steamship Knight Templar under similar conditions in the Gulf of Tunis. The ship did not strike the rock; nay, the rock struck the ship; and it must have been a rock from a submarine volcano, for the vessel was at a distance of ten miles from the nearest known group of rocks, and in many hundred fathoms of water. The shock was accompanied by a rumbling noise and by a seething of the sea into white foam all round the ship, and though the ship was not stopped in her course, she soon began to fill, and had to be steered to the island of Galita, where the captain ran her on shore in a shallow place. Of course, if a steamer in the Gulf of Tunis tripped her heels over a submarine volcano, another steamer off the Pacific coast may be expected to stumble over an earthquake, and to be sucked under by tidal waves. It is true that the steamship Washington struck this rock which wrecked the City of San Francisco.

soundings around it in 1862; but the theory explains everything, is handy for navigators, and edifies the marines.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.

Another ring scandal is afloat, it being alleged that at the very threshold of the investigation ordered into Indian affairs evidences of a ring have been struck that promise to pan out a big scandal equal to post traderships at least. The issue of supplies, based on a false count of the Indians to be supplied, was one way of operating, according to this morning's report; and the scrip issued to the Indians is claimed to have been so manipulated by collusion between outsiders and officials here, that it ultimately fell into the rapacious hands of the ring by which it was made to cover valuable tracts of land until they were stripped of timber, when it was lifted and made to cover other tracts, the process being repeated many times. It is understood that a great panic prevails among some of the employees of the Indian Bureau, the fear of dismissal not being the only one oppressing the guilty parties.

Secretary Sherman is reported to have expressed himself as favorable to the remonetization of silver to the extent of making it a legal tender in all currency contracts, only to be issued in exchange for United States notes and fractional currency, thus insuring the retirement of a dollar of the latter for every dollar of silver put in circulation and making it subject to only such fluctuations as the currency is liable to. He claims that the adoption of the plan would be a fair compromise between the extremes of opinion between the East and West, and that it would inevitably tend towards resumption by the retirement of soft money and its substitution by silver. It is said here that the Western republicans are favorable to the authoritative adoption of the Secretary's views by their respective State conventions, while the democratic leaders of that section will inscribe upon their banners as watchwords of the Fall campaign the remonetization of silver on an equal footing with gold, and a further issue of greenbacks; in other words, inflation by means of the latter and also of the restored silver standard. The Secretary is in receipt of congratulatory dispatches from every part of the country and money centres in Europe upon his success in his negotiation of the new four per cent loan; and in response to inquiries as to whether popular subscription is to be limited to the twenty-five millions already subscribed for by the syndicate, he gives assurances that none who come will be turned away empty, and that even $50 subscriptions will be thankfully received.

Secretary Evart's determination to hold Spain strictly responsible for every infraction of her obligations toward us, is generally commended here at the Capital; and the desire manifested to avoid war with Mexico does not appear to exist towards Spain, at least not to the same degree. When the Government vessel sent to obtain the affidavit of the Captain of the schooner Rizpah shall have returned, decided measures will be adopted to enforce our rights in the premises, if found to have been trifled with.

There seems no doubt that Lerdo contemplates an early move against Diaz, but it is positively denied that any but Mexican citizens will be allowed to participate in the movement, and the reported filibustering expedition as being fitted out at New Orleans against Cuba is as positively contradicted. Concord Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 15.

On Wednesday evening the republicans met in caucus in Rumford Hall for discussing the bill introduced by Judge Jonathan E. Sargent of Concord entitled "An act to fix the time when the constitutional amendments, adopted in March last, shall take effect; and also providing for compiling the statutes of the State." The different portions of the bill were discussed for an hour and a half, the chief participants being N. G. Ordway of Warner, David Cross of Manchester, Levi W. Barton of Newport, Gen. A. F. Stevens of Nashua, and Judge Sargent, who explained his bill at length and the majority of the speakers heartily coincided with his views. It is the intention of the republicans to further discuss the bill in caucus so that when it comes up in the House for consideration there will be a unanimity of action concerning it.

Last evening the farmers and their friends gathered together in the Representatives' Hall and had a regular old-fashioned farmers' meeting, the subject being "The Revival of Agriculture," the speakers being Gen. Natt Head, Ex-Senator Patterson, Mr. Humphrey, President of the Board of Agriculture, Hon. James O. Adams, Secretary of Board of Agriculture, Capt. Sanborn, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, and Col. Weare of Seabrook. It was a very enjoyable meeting, the speech of Ex-Senator Patterson being received with marked approbation. At the meeting on the 21st, a lecture will be given by Col. John C. Moore, on Ayrshire Cattle. In anticipation of the event that Judge Sargent's bill will be passed, two or three plans for redistricting the State into the twenty-four districts have been drawn, and one gives considerable satisfaction.

Yesterday a message was received from Gov. Prescott, containing the annual reports of the State Treasurer, State Prison, Insane Asylum, Normal School, and Insurance Commissioner. These reports with the four daily papers furnished reading matter enough to occupy the attention of the members while the leaders were carrying on the business. In recognizing Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth one day this week, the speaker said Mr. Portsmouth of Hackett.

This morning the House met at 9 instead of 10 and for the first time the Chaplain was present and prayer was offered. The members from the rural districts desiring to put one day out of the six upon their farm work, prevailed upon the House to adjourn after a half hour session, in which some bills were read and referred, and notices of a number of others were given. The War.

A desperate fight took place Wednesday night at Rustchuk, between the Turks and a large body of Russians from Giurgevo, on the opposite bank of the Danube. The Russians in considerable force crossed the river under cover of the darkness for the purpose of capturing a Turkish battery. The Russians were well to work before they were discovered, but the Turks opened fire before they had time to board the gunboat, and a deadly struggle ensued. The Russians, after sustaining a heavy loss, were finally compelled to withdraw. During the engagement the Russian and Turkish batteries on either side of the river became engaged, and the canonade continued throughout the night without intermission.

A dispatch from Erzeroum states that a great battle all along the Turkish line between Kars and Erzeroum is imminent. The fate of the Turkish arms in Asia Minor hangs upon the events of the next ten days.

The Advent camp-meeting at Seabrock will commence in Beckman's Grove, near the depot in that town, on Saturday, June 30th, and, including July 4th, continue over two Sundays. Ample provision has been made for boarding and lodging on the grounds. Fare on the Eastern Railroad and branches has been reduced one-half, with the addition of ten cents, from June 25th to July 12th. Sunday trains will run at the same rates.

A large dwelling-house owned and occupied by Charles Sanborn of Sandown was burned to the ground Thursday night about 9 o'clock. It caught in the attic, probably from the chimney. Everything valuable was saved. The building was fully insured.

The Postmaster-General has appointed David G. Chandler postmaster, in place of Gilman C. Noyes, resigned, at Columbia.

The house and barn belonging to Spaulding Parkhurst, situated at Amherst, was totally destroyed by fire Thursday. Cause unknown. Loss $1500; no insurance.

On Monday a carriage load of passengers rode up Mt. Washington from the Alpine House, Gorham, which is considerably earlier than guests have ventured on this trip, at least since the Messrs. Milliken have been the proprietors of mountain houses.

The Dover Democrat tells the following as having occurred in that city on the 10th inst: "A little boy named Felker, perhaps eight or ten years old, fell head foremost over a bank wall to the ground and rocks and roots some ten or fifteen feet below and broke his neck, or rather dislocated it, which most people would say was just about certain death. But this fellow was not really hurt at all. He fell upon his head, and the blow turned that head at exactly right angles from its proper position, so that when he was picked up he was facing straight out over one shoulder, and could not move his head a particle either way. The neck bone had been thrown from its socket joint. A physician was called and carefully put that head right about half-face, and the little fellow was as well as ever. It was a peculiar case, the like of which we never heard of before." In a later issue the Democrat announces to those inclined to scoff at this story, that it is true and will be corroborated by a leading physician of Dover.

News and Notes.

The covered bridge over the Connecticut river, between Northampton and Hadley, Mass., was blown over by a hurricane, which was accompanied by a severe thunder-shower, at half-past one o'clock Thursday afternoon. The uncompleted bridge of the Massachusetts Central Railroad was also demolished. There were six teams on the bridge when it went over, and Mrs. Sullivan of Old Hadley was instantly killed. Sheriff Enos Cook of Hadley was cut badly on the head, and died that evening; Wm. Smith of Amherst had a shoulder dislocated, and many others were badly hurt. Two horses were taken from the ruins alive. The bridge was 1214 feet long, and the newest portion of it has been built about fifteen years. Numerous tobacco sheds were also blown down by the gale.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bridgeport (Conn.) Water Company, Thursday evening, P. T. Barnum was elected President, and changes were made in the Executive Committee whereby a greater liberality of the management is ensured. A large supply of new mains are already ordered, and a largely increased supply is promised within thirty days. This first practical result of the popular demand for a more abundant supply grew out of the burning of Glover, Sandford & Son's hat factory, whereby eleven lives were lost and $250,000 worth of property destroyed.

United States Marshal Powell of Texas writes from Austin as follows: "There is a reign of highwaymen in Texas, and stage and passenger robberies are of daily occurrence. One man alone robbed four stages in one day. He was captured two days afterwards with money and letters on him, and will be tried and convicted at once." The particulars of several other robberies were given.

Rear Admiral A. Murray, in command of the North Pacific Station, in a dispatch to the Navy Department, dated Mazatlan, May 24, reports the particulars of the loss of the City of San Francisco on the 16th of May, heretofore published, and says owing to the good management of Capt. Waddell, of that vessel, and the perfect discipline of the ship, no lives were lost out of a total of 251 persons, many of them women, children, and infants. Admiral Murray says it gives him pleasure to make this statement, as Capt. Waddell was formerly a lieutenant in the Navy. He also speaks in the highest terms of the humane, self-sacrificing and gallant conduct of the captain, officers and crew of the little Mexican gunboat Mexico, in transporting the wrecked passengers and crew to Acapulco, and says it merits some recognition from our government. In conclusion, he says the passengers all concur in the testimony that Capt. Waddell did everything that skill and courage could do for them and for his ship, which he was the last to leave. Indeed, the officers, crew and passengers seemed to have conducted themselves bravely and heroically.

An extraordinary wretch in New York carried his own child off to a police station and left it there with a story that he had seen it abandoned in the City Hall Park by its mother. He gets two years in the State Prison for his perjury.

Col. Forbes has filed his bond as Postmaster at Richmond, Va. He has appointed as his Assistant Postmaster M. A. Q. Holliday, a democratic State Senator from Henrico county.

The preliminary examination of the four men charged with attempting to wreck a train on the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad in Missouri, for plunder, a few nights ago, was concluded Wednesday. All the prisoners were committed to Springfield jail, to await the action of the Grand Jury. Bail was refused. They will no doubt be indicted for murder in the first degree and have a speedy trial.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the Public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2[illegible] years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure diseases of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. R. M. Mathis my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately send to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

NOT A FAIR DEAL.

A friend suggests that we seem to be disgusted at the arrangement of the committees in the House of Representatives at Concord, in which Portsmouth is so carefully snubbed,—or, rather, so completely ignored. Well, we are disgusted with it. Exeter, with four representatives, Keene, with seven, and Nashua, with eleven, each have one chairmanship; Dover, with eleven representatives, has two chairmanships; Manchester, with twenty-seven representatives, has three chairmanships; Concord, with fifteen representatives, has six chairmanships; Portsmouth, with ten representatives, has—no chairmanship at all! Thus Concord, with fifteen representatives, has as many chairmanships as Manchester, Nashua, Dover and Portsmouth, all put together, though the four cities last named have fifty-nine representatives in the House. As there are twenty-nine committees of twelve members each, one of two members, and two of three members each, it was not easy to make them up in such a way as to leave the Portsmouth delegation off entirely; so we find Hacket tenth on judiciary and second on State Library, Tredick sixth and Call eleventh on banks, Hodgdon second on manufactures, Sherburne twelfth on Agricultural College, Langdon fifth on towns and parishes, Hanson seventh on Insane Asylum, Sise fourth on military affairs, Goodrich third on Normal School, and Waldron second on claims. Not one of these members is a fool; the Portsmouth delegation as a whole is far above mediocrity, and without making any invidious distinction we may say that several of our representatives are far better qualified to preside over important committees than the men who have been appointed to that duty.

SOUND THE HORN.

Messrs. Editors:—I am glad to see that you still keep playing on that tuneful instrument, the fog-horn, and I (and every other nautical man who has the interests of the port and the seamen visiting it at heart) hope the papers of the town and the Congressman of the District will keep harping on it until it is put in place and operation. As another illustration of the need of it, let me speak of the experience of the schooner T. J. Trafton, Capt. Hoyt, of this port. This vessel was caught at sea in the great gale and snow storm of December 29th last, in which so many vessels were wrecked and so many lives lost, she being then on a passage from some port in Maine to New York city. When she took the gale she was to windward of this port, and in as favorable a position to run in as could be wished; yet Capt. Hoyt, who is thoroughly acquainted with the port, instead of running in preferred to take his chances of keeping off shore by carrying sail, (though everything indicated that a terrible storm was coming,) rather than run for the narrow entrance of the harbor in a snow-storm, knowing as he did that he could get no aid in making the harbor from any fog or storm signal. So he carried on until his mainsail, mainboom, and foregaff were carried away, and then, having fortunately been driven into comparatively smooth water somewhere under the lee of Cape Cod, he let go his anchors and managed to ride out the gale, getting into Vineyard Haven when it was over, and towing thence to New Bedford for repairs. A fog-horn at the harbor's mouth would have enabled him to run in with confidence and in safety, and the peril to his vessel and the lives of his crew would have been avoided. HAND LEAD.

JOTTINGS.

Rev. John Moore will give the second lecture in his course on "Science and the Bible" in the Congregational chapel this evening; subject, "Antiquity of Man."

Services at the North church, to-morrow, only in the morning. The pastor, Rev. James W. Hubbell, will preach the sixth of his discourses in the series. Subject, "Faith." During the warm weather the afternoon service will be omitted. The Sabbath school will meet at 2:30, P. M., the pastor teaching a Bible class of young men. Chapel service at 7:30 in the evening.

Mission services for the Summer months, every Sunday at 10:30 A. M., at the Almshouse, 12:30 at the city jail. At 8:45 every Monday evening, in the chapel at the Home, No. 16 Deer street; friends are especially invited to this service. Hours at Home, every day from eight to ten o'clock A. M., and twelve to two o'clock P. M. Bow Mission adjourned to September.

Mr. John E. Roberts, a member of the Reform Club, will speak at Mechanics' Hall to-morrow (Sunday) evening at 8 o'clock. Subject, "Individual Tact in the Propagation of the Temperance Work." A praise service will precede the lecture. Collection to defray expenses.

In our reports of the Veterans' dinner at the Rockingham, published in the CHRONICLE of Friday morning, the response to the toast "The Heroes of '76" was credited to the band. This was an error. Hon. Marcellus Bufford, who had been billed for a response to that toast, was unavoidably absent, so Lieut. Nathaniel D. Miller was called on at a minute's warning; and he made one of the very best speeches of the evening, too, being evidently entirely "at home" with his subject.

Mr. Charles E. Walker has purchased the house corner of Union and Cabot streets, for $2000.

Somebody or other, supposed to have been a gang of boys, recently raided on the cellar of Mr. Eben M. Lang, on Union street, gaining entrance by a window. The thieves stole an earthern pot of doughnuts and several jars of jelly, a pie, and a basket in which to carry off the plunder. One of them evidently put his hand into a jar of preserved barberries, in his explorations for more provisions to appropriate, as the marks where he wiped his dirty paw on the outside of the jar and on the shelf where it sat were plainly visible.

Of the Great London Circus the Boston Post says: "The management promises nothing that is not fulfilled to the letter, and, as a consequence, those who go there with the expectation of finding a few mangy animals, and that the energy of the establishment has been mainly expended on the dead walls of the city, are most agreeably surprised. Nothing has been slurred over, and the more frequently the entertainment is seen the more satisfying is it found to be. The sagacity and tractability displayed by the horse Ellington is wonderful. He dances, prances, and goes through a variety of performances with almost the accuracy and judgment of a human being. The grotesque Mardi Gras Carnival with which the show begins is very pleasing to the young, in particular, and throughout the entire proceedings a succession of delights is assured them."

Government officials who are disabled soldiers, will doubtless read with satisfaction, that the President informed Commander Tanner of the G. A. R. "that no such soldier should be disturbed in his office throughout the country." Now, we presume, Major Vaughan will be ordered to Concord, to assume the duties of pension agent—as the incumbent in that city, whence the rolls for the State of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont are to be transferred on the first of July, we think, was not a soldier, while the Major's disability shows itself on the face, above all others.—Journal.

Trains will be run on the Portsmouth & Dover railroad on Thursday, June, 21 at reduced rates to accommodate those wishing to attend the great London Circus that is to visit us on the above date. Tickets from Dover to Portsmouth and return, only 90 cents, which entitles one to admission to the show.

We have just heard of a somewhat amusing incident which occurred in this city on the evening of Decoration Day, when a widow lady called at the police station and requested the arrest or at least the summonsing to Court of another woman, because the latter had that day decorated, with wreaths and flowers, the grave of the aggrieved lady's husband. The police suggested that as the decorating was nicely done and no property was harmed, a criminal action would not lie, but that possibly a civil suit for trespass would pan out favorably, whereupon the irate widow left for home.

One of the latest amusements which the boys have taken up, and also one of the biggest nuisances, is the throwing of stones with a sling. It is dangerous to walk through some parts of the South End from the richochetting of stones flying in every direction.

He Didn't Say It.

We clip the following item from an exchange.

The senior naval officer on the Examining Board at the Naval Academy at Annapolis is reported to have said recently, that he had "never known a graduate of the Naval Academy who could sail a ship or navigate one."

We do not believe the officer referred to ever said anything of the kind. We are not of the enthusiastic admirers of the Naval Academy, and it needs no argument to show that a young man graduating at the end of four or six years of study and jollification at that institution must be greatly inferior in practical seamanship to a young man of the same length of experience in heading a watch on board a merchant ship. But so far as the mere navigating a ship is concerned, no better place could be found to learn it than the Naval Academy; and many of the fledglings who leave there with no more idea of practical seamanship than they have of true democracy, develope into efficient officers, able to handle a ship under sail in good style. Had the remark attributed to the examiner been that he had "never known a graduate of the Naval Academy who could sail a ship" at the time of his graduation, we might have believed it; but the statement that none of them can navigate a ship is absurd.

Political.

All these assaults upon the people of Kemper County, as a band of lawless men with no regard for human laws or human life, are but base slanders, worthy only of the vile wretches who utter them.—Kemper (Miss.) Herald, (dem.)

In the town of Deerfield, Mass., they keep, in a glass case, guarded with all possible care, what is considered one of the most suggestive relics of the brutality of the American Indians of two centuries ago. It is the door of Mr. Sheldon's house. The Indians, who descended upon the village, hacked a hole in the door with their tomahawks, and, putting a rifle through it, shot a woman. Two hundred years later a mob of Mississippi democrats, at De Kalb, break down a door, and through the opening shoot a woman and a boy. Thus the white savage goes his aboriginal brother one better. And it may be added that the Indians fled for their lives, but the Mississippi murderers sit around at home, and the Governor of the State says all is quiet.—Hartford Courant.

John Colby, a son of Charles Colby of Plainfield, on Tuesday night put some corrosive sublimate into a mug of cider, intending suicide, he says, but put the mug aside without tasting. His two sisters drank it for pure cider the next day. The recovery of one is doubtful.

Disease is an Antagonist

That should be attacked the instant he shows himself. Don't wait. At him before his nails are grown, and wipe him out. The great alterative and invigorant of the age. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will speedily infuse such healthful tone into your organization that it will be enabled to successfully resist future attacks. The Bitters prevent and remedy chills and fever and bilious remittents, and eradicate dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, rheumatic ailments, urinary and uterine difficulties. It is particularly beneficial when the system has been drained of its vitality or is inherently deficient in strength. The nerves gather from it both vigor and tranquility. But while it imparts strength and gives a wholesome stimulus to the animal economy, it does not unduly excite it like the cheap exhilarants sometimes resorted to under the erroneous impression that they can invigorate.

Having at various times used Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup, personally and in my family, with the very best results following, I do not hesitate to recommend it as an excellent remedy for coughs and colds and disease of the throat and lungs. I find, also, on inquiry, that it is very generally used in Claremont, where the Doctor has been a practicing physician for the past ten years.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

"The Sure Witness."

"The nineteenth century is the age of novels," remarks a literary historian,—he might have added with equal truth, "and novel impositions." Studied politeness has been passed off on us for nature refinement, the forms of devotion for its essence, and speculation for science, until we look askance at every new person or thing, and to an assertion of merit, invariably exclaim, "Prove it!" In brief, Satan has made himself so omnipresent, that we look for his cloven foot everywhere—even in a bottle of medicine. Imagine a lady, having a complexion so sallow that you would deny her claims to the Caucasian type if her features did not conform to it, purchasing her first bottle of the Golden Medical Discovery. The one dollar is paid in the very identical manner in which Mr. Taylor might be expected to purchase a lottery ticket after his experience with "No. 104,163," with this difference, his doubt would be the result of personal experience, while hers would be founded on what a certain practitioner (who has been a whole year trying to correct her refractory liver) has said concerning it. At home, she examines the bottle half suspiciously, tastes of its contents carefully, takes the prescribed dose more carefully, and then proceeds to watch the result with as much anxiety as a practitioner would count the pulse-beats of a dying man. She takes another dose, and another, and shows the bottle to her friends, telling them she "feels better." Her skin loses its bilious tint, her eyes regain their lustre, her accustomed energy returns, and the fact that she purchases another bottle is a sure witness that she has found the Golden Medical Discovery to be a reliable remedy for the disease indicated. The lady wisely resolves that in future her estimate of any medicine will be based upon a personal knowledge of its effects, and not upon what some practitioner (who always makes long bills rhyme with pills) may say of it. Dr. Pierce is in receipt of letters from hundreds of the largest wholesale and retail druggists in the United States, stating that at the present time there is a greater demand for the Golden Medical Discovery and Purgative Pellets than ever before. In affections of the liver and blood they are unsurpassed.

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic."

HE WILL COME;

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, Jr., D. D.

This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation o health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their own ers or occupants to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEE. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infections, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgating of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind in the street, or in any place or store over alley, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said pond, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

DANIEL W. JONES, M. D.,
ROBERT SHILLABER,
DANIEL DANIELSON,
Health Officers.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual y than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Lerwick, Shetland.

On the hill-side rising from the north shore lie the clustering houses of the town of Lerwick. Like the towns of the Orkney Islands, it is a curious jumbling together of low, gable-roofed, small-windowed houses. The general air of the place savors of the Low Countries towns. The short skirted women, with white frilled caps, heavy clothes, and often wooden shoes, almost astonish one when they speak English instead of Dutch. Over the winding, crooked street with the great paving-stones the veritable Shetland ponies clatter along, and the carts lumbering behind them make a dull rumbling. It is on market days that Lerwick dons her holiday dress. The little quays, privately owned, and jutting out into the waters of the bay, are alive with men, women, and children. It is the custom on such days for people of the neighboring islands to enter their boats, and, with their cargo of peat, set sail for the town. Often there will be great numbers of these well-laden boats entering the harbor, and swarming around the piers like bees about a hive. The women leap from the boats, and slinging the baskets of peat over their shoulders, start off for the nearest shop, that they may barter for this and the other. The men, left behind, clothed in rough tarpaulins and odd homespun clothes, lazily fasten their boats, and pass the news with their friends. But not only do visitors come from seaward. From the central part of the island—from the regions of solitude and peat-bogs—numberless troops come winding over the hill behind the town, down the slope, to the market-place. It is a quaint sight to watch them. The little ponies, shaggy of mane, and with long, handsome tails, are heavily burdened. They have no bridle, only a string about their neck; on their backs are pack-saddles, often so covered with bags of peat, or perhaps grass, that the pony is scarcely to be seen at all. If by chance, after all the goods are crowded upon the docile animal's back, one small portion of the rump appears, the good woman, his master, leaps lightly on, and away goes pony, bag, and woman to the town beyond. When this collection of ponies, men, women, and children is seen together, the sight is very picturesque. All look so odd, are so animated, that one long remembers it. After the day's trading is over, away go the boat-loads, singing and laughing, the women pulling the stronger oar. Over the hill the long file of ponies and riders wend their way homeward.—Harper's for July.

Examination of the Fishway.

C. G. Atkins, of Bucksport, Superintendent of the U. S. Breeding Works at that place, and the designer of the fishway at the dam at Treat's Fall; E. M. Stillwell, State Commissioner of Fisheries, with L. H. Eaton, the constructing engineer of the works, visited the fishway again Saturday evening, the tide being at its lowest stage, in order that Mr. Atkins might go through and examine the entire work, to effect which the water had to be shut out. When this was done two salmon of large size were found, evidently surprised at not finding the gates open. A gentleman living near the works jumped into the fishway and lifted one of the salmon out, weighing some 18 or 20 pounds; but it was thought best to restore him to his native element, that he might pursue his way to the head water. Mr. Atkins and Mr. Stillwell expressed themselves satisfied with the efficaciousnes of the structure, having had, with others, ocular demonstration that fish passed through, and the citizens of Bangor and those interested in maintaining the supply of fish in our river, may feel assured that the bar to this interest, created by building the dam at Treat's Falls, has been well overcome by the admirable designs of Mr. Atkins. The fishway is the largest and most thoroughly constructed of any in the New England States, and, taken altogether, is superior to any in the United States. It will probably be the type of the most important fishways hereafter to be constructed in the country.—Bangor Whig, May 28.

A Thrifty Householder.

A man who went from Newburyport to live in Tennessee, writes thus of one of his native neighbors:

He was a man of considerable means. He had a tannery, money in a bank, and more at interest. When he went away from home, his habit was to mark the amount of bacon which his family were to use while he was away. On one occasion he was taken sick away from home, and would not write to his wife about it, as it would cost postage. The family were in distress, as they did not dare to overcut the mark on the bacon. His wife by inquiring found where he was, and borrowed a wagon and servant of me, to send for him. He was very angry about it, and was about to punish his wife, till he found they were borrowed, and there was no charge. He subsequently presented me with a quart of persimmons, that had been nicely frosted and all the pucker taken out of them. He also required his family to wait till a neighbor's family had done their washing, and then get their soapsuds to save soap in the washing for his family.

MONDAY, JUNE 18, 1877.

The Administration Endorsed.

The Boston Globe of Friday contained the following despatch from Washington, dated June 14th:

A despatch was received in official quarters to-day from Concord, N. H., stating that at a republican caucus of the New Hampshire Legislature it was decided to take the public printing from the newspaper hitherto enjoying that privilege, which was a Blaine organ, and give it to a newspaper published at Manchester, which has been a constant supporter of the Administration. This action of the Legislature of New Hampshire is regarded as an evidence of the rapid infiltration of the policy of the Administration into the minds of the people.

We do not believe the Administration really needs bolstering up by any such feeble means as that; if it does, down it must go, sure as Fate. The statement that the State printing was given to the Manchester Mirror as a rebuke to the Concord Monitor, is inconceivably absurd; and if it were true it would not show an overwhelming "endorsement of the Administration" by the New Hampshire republicans, for Mr. Clarke had but one majority in the caucus, and that only after a number of ballots had been taken. The truth of the matter is that politics had nothing whatever to do with the award; the Concord papers and people always want everything (and get almost everything) in the shape of State patronage, just as the News-Letter and people of Exeter want (and get) almost everything in the shape of Rockingham county patronage, equally regardless of outsiders and the public interests; the rest of the State is jealous of Concord; and it was owing to skillful generalship of the anti-Concord forces that the State printing was given to the Manchester Mirror instead of to the Concord Monitor.

The Monitor's course in opposing the "conciliatory policy" as being an absolute surrender to the pro-slavery and anti-Union democracy, seems to give the Administration's supporters much pain; but their talk of establishing an opposition republican paper in Concord is all bosh, for the Monitor is too firmly established and too ably conducted to be easily run off the track, and the editor's independence in maintaining his views can but win him respect, even from those who think his views not the correct ones. And flings at the Monitor as a "Blaine organ," from papers which for years have been trying to so trim their sails as to catch both the democratic and republican breezes, will not hurt it any in the estimation of the square-dealing republicans of New Hampshire.

Concord Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 16.

Yesterday at 3:35 P. M. saw nearly all of the carpet bags and umbrellas go out of the city and what few remain are compelled to do so from force of circumstances, being mostly inhabitants of northern counties and impossible for them to go to their homes and return again. The members are making the most of their passes while they have them. Yesterday quite a party of them, to vary the monotony of their homeward journey took a trip across Lake Winnipesaukee. Next week for a trip quite a party propose to go to the Fabyan House. Those members who have been put upon the committee on Roads, Bridges, and Canals are making up their minds for a rich time in junketing about the State free of expense.

The readers of the Patriot turn with curious eyes every morning to the space devoted to "observations of men and facts," and there is sure to be some observation upon Col. Sise's white vest. I think that the reporter for that paper either has never seen a white vest before or else he is hinting to the Colonel to give him one.

Yesterday morning while Clerk Danforth was reading a bill he read secretary fourth instead of section fourth.

Thursday afternoon Mr. Alexander V. Hitchcock of Newport rose to explain an article about himself that had appeared in the papers throughout the State, but especially in the People. The article which appeared in the People was sent from Newport and was as follows: "Alexander V. Hitchcock, one of the representatives from this town in the legislature, was, on Saturday last, arraigned before Justice Town on a charge of embezzlement, for wrongfully appropriating and converting to his own use, property entrusted to his charge as agent by an administratrix of a deceased person's estate. He waived examination and was bound over in the sum of $500 to answer to the charge at the next September term of the Supreme Court for this county. We observe the significant, perhaps prophetic fact, that since then the Speaker has appointed Mr. Hitchcock chairman of the Committee on State Prison." Mr. Hitchcock after admitting the arrest went on to relate the facts of the case, showing that he owed nothing to the estate, and expressed his willingness to resign the chairmanship of his committee if in the opinion of the House and Speaker the public good demanded it. Following him Mr. Barton of Newport, by unanimous consent, corroborated his statements and went on to show that this arrest was made out of personal malice and spite and especially instigated by those parties who desire the overthrow of a man who for four years has stood by his pledge. Mr. Barton's remarks were loudly applauded, and it is safe to say Mr. Hitchcock stands higher in the estimation of the members of the House than before the attack was made.

The only clergyman member of the House finds his duties so arduous and overpowering that he has been obliged to have a foot-rest put in under his desk to relieve weariness.

Col. Banks of Nashua is the eldest member, being 77 years old to-day; Dr. Sullivan of Manchester is the youngest; Mr. Weed of Sandwich is the oldest member in service.

Seats and gas lamps have been erected on the balcony of the Phenix Hotel for the purpose of having weekly band concerts by the Concord Band, the first one of which was given Thursday night. A large and appreciative audience enjoyed its dulcet strains.

Senator Wadleigh, Col. Blair and Major Briggs, representatives from the second and third Congressional districts have been in the city this week. Charles H. Powers, President of the Board of Railroad Commissioners was here for two days. A. B.

Our Currency, Present and Past.

It has been a habit of not a few ever since our present national currency came into existence, to term it "greenbacks," "rag-money," and latterly, especially during the late Presidential campaign, to have a great deal to say about "the rag-baby;" yet the first one of them was never seen who would have disdained to pick up in the street or receive as a gift even a five cent note, before such things gave place to the metal coin representing that sum. The elder of these sneerers at "greenbacks" seem to have forgotten the time, after the old United States Bank, (before it became a State of Pennsylvania institution and went to the dogs,) ceased to regulate the currency—which it had done so well—and money was at all sorts of discount from twenty-five per cent. to half of one per cent.; and when, besides the Western "red-dog money," as it was called, fraudulent institutions came into existence, the issues of which, after a little time, became perfectly worthless. Most of these plans for robbing the masses were got up by a class of Wall street financiers not a whit better than counterfeiters, and who, like them, should have been sent to hard labor in a State prison. Their mode of operation was to issue bank notes, dated at some distant point, redeem them in New York at half or one per cent. discount, and when they had a good round amount in circulation, cease any longer to redeem them, when, as a matter of course, they became valueless.

One of these frauds was known as the Wolfborough Bank, in which, as a brick structure was erected for the purpose, and an iron safe visible in the banking-room, many worthy people of the place were induced to invest money in it as stockholders. Its notes being redeemed promptly in New York, coupled with the fact that the greatest trust was placed in Eastern money generally, this bank was in good credit until a run was made upon it, when the munificent sum of sixteen dollars in silver was found, wherewith to redeem some hundreds of thousands of its circulation. Ten to twenty years went by, and then a stranger made his appearance at Wolfborough in pursuit of stock in the defunct bank, for which he paid ten cents on the dollar. The holders were very glad to get it, yet thought it a very foolish way of spending money on the part of the purchaser. The next move of the financiers, as it afterwards appeared, was to have new plates engraved and a plentiful stock of notes printed therefrom. About the same time a member of the New Hampshire Legislature, who had got an inkling of the matter, arose in his seat, and without a preliminary word, offered a resolution that the charter of the Wolfborough Bank be repealed, which, as the institution had been dead and buried so long, was regarded as the best joke of the season, and amid shouts of laughter, it was passed by acclamation. It was no joke to the knaves who had the revived fraud in hand, but a very good one for the public at large over a wide circuit, as they were saved from a fresh batch of the same worthless issues by which they or others had been before defrauded of at least a quarter of a million.

Another of these frauds was known as the Georgia Lumber Company, and while its notes were dated at Portland, Maine, their place of issue and redemption was New York city. When they had got pretty freely mixed up with the currency of the time, the broker in Wall street who had redeemed them at one per cent. stopped doing so, and the holders were glad to sell them at almost any price; and then when most of them, probably, had been bought in by the agents of the concern, they were again redeemed for a time until widely in circulation, when the redemption again ceased, rendering them unsaleable for ever afterwards. Numerous other plans for robbery had their day, and were in time forgotten, but these are quite sufficient to show that notwithstanding the grumblings against the present currency, which none refuse, but on the contrary are glad to receive, there have been times when it would have been hailed with gladness. It may excite surprise that such spurious representatives of value should be received by the public; the explanation of which is that the currency was in such a disarranged condition, and business being as dull as it could well be, people were glad to get anything that would pass in trade as money, while well aware it was not safe to keep it from Saturday night until Monday morning. It was intended mainly for circulation in the great cities, where proprietors of many kinds of business, giving employment to large numbers of men, were glad to get it at some rate of accommodation from those who issued it, and paying it out to their employes, it at once found its way into the hands of grocers, bakers, etc., who gave it in charge of their customers, thus spreading it far and wide. The War.

The Turkish commander at Vilayet, on the Danube, has given orders to execute all Roumanian soldiers taken prisoners in battle.

A despatch from Erzeroum, in Asia Minor, reports the capture by the Russians of Toprak-Kaleh, after a hard battle. [This town is between Kars and Erzeroum.] The Russian accounts of the fighting around Kars (which according to Turkish reports was desperate and very disastrous to the Russians) makes it out to have been but unimportant skirmishing.

—The Boston Custom House officers superintending the discharge of the cargo of the bark Benjamin Dikerman, recently arrived from the West Indies, discovered a trap-door concealed under a desk in the captain's cabin leading to a false hold, in which was stowed away $4,000 worth of bay oil and bay rum, supposed to be a private venture of the captain.

—Business life is very much like base ball. In the long run "safe hits" are better than "stealing bases."

LAP-TABLET.

It has become an almost universal custom for Ladies to write on their laps, using the nearest book or other flat object as a rest for the paper. The new "LAP-TABLET," is an article especially adapted to the purpose. It will be appreciated not only by the Ladies but by the Student and Tourist, in the boudoir or library, on voyage, at summer resorts, by the sea, on the lawn or in the woods, and by Amateur Artists as a sketch-board.

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2[illegible] years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May, John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package. JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills.—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most of the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical men, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. They told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure any thing. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO. Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

A WORTHLESS SOUL.

Every few months the papers all over the country enter into a match to see which can rake up for its town the meanest man in all creation—and they do manage to rake up some awfully mean men, if one-quarter of their yarns are to be believed. A Boston paper recently came up with a story about a big dry-goods firm, asserting that one of their shop-girls having fainted in the street in front of the store, she was taken home in a hack very ostentatiously sent for by a member of the firm, and had five dollars taken from her week's wages of six dollars, on the following Saturday night, to pay the hack hire. A Connecticut editor saw that effort, and raised the Boston editor right out of his boots with a story of a man who, having sold a cow to a widow, before delivering the animal unscrewed the brass balls from her horns, thereby adding six cents to his profits on the sale.

But there is a vast deal meaner and more contemptible man in North Hampton than either of the other champion meannesses; what his name is we do not know,—wish we did, in which case he would get the benefit of an advertisement in this paper, one insertion, gratis. On Memorial Day a gentleman residing in Boston came down to North Hampton, bringing flowers and little flags to decorate the grave of his son, who was killed at the second battle of Bull Run and is buried at North Hampton. Next morning, as he passed his son's grave in the cars, on his way to Boston, he saw that something (which no doubt calls itself a man) had been there, torn the flags into strips and destroyed the wreaths and bouquets, and scattered the pieces all around. Yet we suppose there are people who believe that the soul of the contemptible sneak who could conceive and carry out such an act as that, is worth saving. We are happy to say that we don't. Artemus Ward was "a non-resistanter as a general thing, but could lick any man who called him obtoose;" similarly, our religious faith has a strong leaning toward Universalism, as a general thing, but whenever we hear of such an act as this North Hampton sneak committed we immediately become converted to a hearty and enduring belief in eternal punishment of the very hottest kind. But we fear the arch enemy (whom we despise and contemn, considering him no good,) would regard the soul of such a cur as too utterly worthless even to burn up, and therefore refuse it a refuge in the only place fitted for such a contemptible thing. If we were sure of this we would immediately relapse into Universalism again, for we might just as well not have any hell if such fellows don't go to it.

PISCATAQUA SAVINGS BANK.

The following bill in relation to the establishment of another savings bank in this city, has been introduced in the Legislature:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

SECTION 1. That Ichabod Goodwin, William H. Y. Hackett, Edward P. Kimball, William L. Dwight, John H. Broughton, Robert C. Pierce, John W. F. Hobbs, Ephraim C. Spinney, Emmons B. Philbrick, Augustus Lord, J. Albert Walker, J. H. Hutchinson, and Alfred F. Howard, be and they hereby are constituted a body politic and corporate by the name of the Piscataqua Savings Bank, to be located at Portsmouth, and they, with such other persons as shall be duly elected and admitted members of said corporation, at regular meetings thereof, according to such by-laws as may hereafter be established, shall be and maintain a body corporate and politic by said name, and are and shall be invested with all the powers, rights, and privileges, and subject to all the duties and liabilities, which by the laws of this State are or may become incident to corporations of a like nature.

Sec. 2. Said corporation may receive from any person or persons, corporations, or associations, any deposit or deposits of money, and may use, manage, and improve the same, for the benefit of the depositors, in such manner as shall be convenient or necessary for the security and profitable investment thereof. And all deposits may be withdrawn, and the net income or profits of the deposits divided at such reasonable times, and in such manner and proportions, and subject to such equitable rules and regulations, as said corporation shall from time to time prescribe, not incompatible with the laws of this State.

Sec. 3. Said corporation may take and hold such real estate as may be proper and convenient in transacting its business, and also such real estate as may be in good faith received by them, by way of security or payment for loans made by them, or for any debts, demands, or liabilities which may be owing or accrue to said corporation.

Sec. 4. Whenever any deposit shall be made by any minor, the trustees of said corporation may, at their discretion, pay to such depositor as may be due him or her, and the check or receipt or acquittance of such minor shall be as valid as if the same were executed by the guardian of said minor, or the said minor was of full age, provided such deposit so to be withdrawn was made personally by such minor.

Sec. 5. Said corporation shall not issue any bill or promissory note to circulate as currency, nor shall the members or officers of said corporation receive any profit or emolument from said savings bank; provided, however, that a reasonable compensation may, from time to time, be made to the treasurer, secretary, and other servants of said corporation, for services actually rendered.

Sec. 6. Said corporation may from time to time make such by-laws, rules, and regulations, for the government and management of its business, as shall not be incompatible with the laws of the State.

Sec. 7. William H. Y. Hackett, Ichabod Goodwin, and Edward P. Kimball, or any two of them, may call the first meeting of this corporation, at such time and place and in such manner as they may think proper.

Sec. 8. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

I. O. O. F.

A. F. Craig, Most Worthy Grand Master, Rev. L. F. McKenney, R. W. Grand Warden, and Joseph Kidder, R. W. Grand Representative, will visit Piscataqua Lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., this (Monday) evening. A good time is expected, and all members of the Order are invited to be present.

JOTTINGS.

Mr. William H. Flynn, of South Berwick, one of the contractors of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad, has bought out the establishment of Mr. Nathan Jones on Fleet street. Mr. Flynn is a very popular man among his acquaintances in this city.

Messrs. C. A. Shannon & Son have removed their harness shop from Daniel street to the Stavers' building on Vaughan street, lately occupied by J. Mahoney as a billiard hall.

Hon. J. G. Blane is to be in town to-day and to-morrow to attend the closing exercises at Miss Morgan's Seminary.

If the members of the Board of Health would take a walk around the wharves and see (and smell) the condition of some of the docks at low tide they might find something to interest them.

The Boston Globe, under the head of "Portsmouth, N. H.," says: "A Portsmouth school committee man headed his warrant, 'The stait of New Hampshur,' and has charged the 'districk' with one 'brum to sweap the flore, a water-pale and sum chock for the black-bord.'"

The Boston Post of Saturday says: "Arrangements at Portsmouth have already been made for celebrating the evening of the Fourth of July according to the old fashion. There will be an extensive parade of 'Antiques and Horribles,' sack racing, greased pole, bag feats, tub racing and numerous other amusements, in all of which purses will be offered. A military dress parade and review is expected."

The Boston Journal says of the big circus and menagerie which will show here on Thursday: "This show has been very successful in Boston, for the simple reason that it is all it professes to be, and people leave the tent with a feeling of satisfaction, having witnessed a thoroughly good performance. The animals on exhibition are as numerous, and as fine specimens of their species as can be found in any traveling menagerie, while the circus performance is far in advance of the average. In fact, it is probably the best show of the kind which has visited Boston in many years. The employes of the great show are courteous and polite, and the proprietors having kept faith with the public in all respects, will leave behind in Boston the most favorable impressions, ensuring a warm welcome if they should return on some future day."

Rev. James DeNormandie has gone to Antioch College, Yellow Springs, Ohio, from which he graduated, to deliver an address by invitation of the faculty.

"Justitia" writes to the Times a letter severely commenting on the hurried manner in which the dead body of the marine recently found in the river was disposed of, and suggests that serious blame rests with some person or persons for not causing due enquiry into the circumstances attending his death.

News and Notes.

A large number of citizens of Southwestern Virginia have sent a petition that troops be sent there in force enough to enable the officials to capture a gang of illicit distillers.

Hon. Mrs. Norton, Richard Brinsley Sheridan's grand-daughter, who was married at the age of seventy, a few months ago, to Sir Wm. Stirling Maxwell, Bart., who was then sixty years old, died last week.

William Rector, of Washington, D. C., a married man with four children, had a growl with his wife Friday evening, she rebuking him for wasting his time playing with some kittens. Remarking "I will end this," Rector drew a revolver and blew his brains out.

Cherries, grapes, currants, and strawberries are as fashionable as flowers for trimming bonnets. This gives a new means of recognition. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

On Thursday, by the sudden breaking away of a dam near Norwich, N. J., a fishing party of ten persons went through a sluice-way; three women and one man were drowned, and two other men fatally injured by being drawn into the machinery of a mill lying below the sluice-way.

Friday was quite a day for hanging. Three colored men were hanged at New Orleans, for the murder of other colored persons; a white man was hanged at Dayton, Ohio, for the murder of a white man; and Stephen Brinkly was hanged at Atlanta, Ga., for the murder of his wife four years ago. None of these were engaged in the butchery of Judge Chisolm and his daughter and little son, nor in the Hamburg butchery conducted by Gen. Massacre C. Butler's white liners.

The Mount Vernon (Ill.) National Bank shipped by Adams Express a package containing $8000 to the Third National Bank of St. Louis, on Wednesday. The Mount Vernon Bank has received a telegram from St. Louis saying the package contained only pieces of brown wrapping paper when it reached that place.

A man in Pawlet, Vt., used kerosene oil to destroy the potato bugs in his patch, and succeeded in killing fourteen cows which broke in at night and ate the well anointed vines.

A San Francisco despatch of the 15th inst. says: "The China, from Panama, brings news that the wrecked steamer City of San Francisco was not broken up by the action of the sea, and a schooner load of merchandise was saved and brought to Acapulco. All that part of the ship forward of the mainmast is above water. The smokestacks are still standing. Capt. Nolan of the China has left on the Constitution for the scene, having been commissioned to protect the interests of the company. Nothing was taken directly from the sunken ship. The merchandise saved was found floating or picked up on the beach."

Col. John M. Weare of Seabrook has given to the State the original return of the selectmen of Seabrook in 1776, of the names of the male inhabitants of twenty-one years of age and upwards who signed to defend themselves against the hostile acts of the British government.

While picking onions from a crate in a grocery store in Manchester, Mr. Michael Gilbert was bitten on one of the fingers of his left hand by a centipede that had come from Bermuda in the crate with the onions. Mr. Gilbert at once went to a physician, who applied and administered proper remedies, and by this prompt action a fatal result was probably prevented. The bite of a centipede is very poisonous and has been known to cause death in six hours, but that is not always the case. This insect is only found in the tropical climates. The one above referred to was an unusually large one, being six inches in length, with twenty-two pairs of legs and twenty-one joints in the body. The circumference of its body measured about an inch and a pair of antlers guarded its head.

From Rev. Edward Smiley, Pastor of the Universalist Church, Claremont, N. H.

Having at various times used Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup, personally and in my family, with the very best results following, I do not hesitate to recommend it as an excellent remedy for coughs and colds and diseases of the throat and lungs. I find, also, on inquiry, that it is very generally used in Claremont, where the Doctor has been a practicing physician for the past ten years.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St. Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

Board of Trustees.

FRANK W. MILLER, Chairman.
HENRY M. CLARK, Treasurer.
T. SALTER TRUDICK, Secretary.
ALFRED M. HOYT.
JOS. HILLER FOSTER.
MOSES H. GOODRICH,
JOHN H. BROUGHTON, Mayor, Ex. Of.

The PAMPHLET which was printed last year, containing a report of all the proceedings at the Dedication of the Park, the Addresses of Rev. Mr. DeNormandie, Hon. C. L. Woodbury and others, with a full list of the 600 Trees set, and the names of the persons or Associations who set or paid for them—may be had at 25 cents per copy, at the Bookstore of J. H. FOSTER, or at the Portsmouth Weekly Counting Room. Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Daily Chronicle.

An Awful Warning.

The insanity of Dr. J. C. Ayer of Lowell affords a terrible warning to advertisers. Here was a man engaged in the manufacture of a pill, not differing much from a hundred other pills which may be obtained at any drug store. In an unguarded moment he made up his mind that he would advertise. The result might have been foreseen. He accumulated money so rapidly that he did not know what to do with it. When he had rolled together fifteen million dollars and had vainly striven to find some outlet for his ever increasing profits, his mind gave way under the absorbing cares of his vast business, and he is now a patient at an asylum for the insane. How easily this calamity might have been averted. If he had stuck to the conservative methods of many of our merchants and refrained from advertising, he might have been passing quietly through bankruptcy now instead of being loaded down with his uncounted millions.

The Last of Table Rock.

On the 24th ultimo the last of what was so long known as Table Rock, at Niagara, broke off and fell into the river. The mass weighed nearly sixty tons, and up to 1876 over four thousand names of visitors had been carved upon it. The part which fell on the 24th composed only half of the original rock, the rest having fallen in. On Saturday, January 1, 1829, a surface of the rock supposed to be the size of half an acre, forming the bed of Maiden Walk, broke loose, and was precipitated into the immense chasm below. The crash was heard for a distance of five miles, and the effects in the immediate neighborhood resembled the shock of an earthquake. The water running under the bank is supposed to have caused the fall on the 24th, and the shock when the rock struck the water was distinctly felt three miles from the fall. Several of the trees which stood on the rock are now seen standing in the river as erect as when in their original places on the rock. Where the rock shelved off from the bank, at a distance of twenty feet from the top, can be seen the root of a tree estimated to be two feet in diameter.

"A Fascinating Work on an Engrancing Topic.
HE WILL COME;
BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, JR., D. D.
This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 16mo., 316 pp., $1.25 in Cloth; $2.50 in Morocco. CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH, call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation o health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth, and all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to remove any state or part of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any shlers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley, or into any wharf, unless such wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that the contents thereof shall or shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

DANIEL W. JONES, M. D.,
ROBERT SHILLABER,
DANIEL DANIELSON,

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.
WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG: My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

INFANTS, INVALIDS,
NURSING MOTHERS,
GROWING CHILDREN AND AGED PERSONS
Will find Life, Vigor and Health by using
PEPSINATED NUTRIMENT,
With the VEGETABLE PHOSPHATES,
which is superior to all other foods, for it consists of PURE NUTRIMENT, Containing only the pure nutritive portion of various grains, extracted by a chemical process (all inert principles being carefully rejected) combined with the Vegetable Phosphates obtained from the germinal portion of grain, so as to form a most perfect brain, bone, and muscle-producing food, combined with Pepsin, forming a complete remedy for the worst cases of Cholera Infantum, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all affections arising from a disordered stomach.

For Infants, Invalids, Growing Children and Nursing Mothers. Nursing Mothers should take it as a regular diet, in order to furnish nutriment and vitalizing material to the growing infant.

The only Infants' Food prepared on strictly scientific principles. To be used in Cholera Infantum, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and all Intestinal troubles. For Infants, Invalids, Aged Persons, Nursing Mothers and Weakly Children.

This preparation is endorsed by the Medical Faculty, it having been in constant use by them for a number of years with the best of success, it being the only food acting with certainty in those cases that require Pepsin and the Phosphates for complete success.

DYSPEPSIA, HEARTBURN, ACID STOMACH, HEADACHE, BILIOUS STOMACH, DIARRHŒA,

and any derangement of the Organs of Digestion are immediately relieved and speedily cured by

PEPSINATED CHARCOAL.

It is particularly adapted to Chronic Cases, and is prescribed and endorsed by our first physicians as the only preparation ever presented for the troubles for which it is recommended.

A Stormy Scene.

There was a stormy session of the French Chamber of Deputies on Saturday. Every Deputy was at his post; the time for opening the Chamber was two o'clock, but long before that time every available seat was occupied. A despatch says: After some informal business M. Fourton, Minister of the Interior, read the message of the President, which was received with marked derision by the Left. After it had been read, M. Paul Bethmont developed the interpellation offered by M. Gambetta on the 17th of May. With his speech commenced such scenes of violence as have never been known since the days of the first revolution. There were heard imprecations and insults which M. Grevy, the President, declared had never been paralleled in the annals of French legislative history. During the whole of M. Bethmont's speech there was a successsion of the most furious imprecations on the part of the Right, and every attempt of the President to keep order was met by shouts and threats of defiance. After M. Bethmont, M. De Fourton ascended the tribune to speak on behalf of the Government. He was bold, able, vindictive and defiant, and was continually met by the Left with indignant protestations. He was as repeatedly and furiously applauded by the Right while the Left vainly endeavored to suppress their indignation. In a portion of his speech he made a chance allusion to M. Thiers as "the liberator of the territory," when there occurred a most extraordinary and exciting scene, the whole Left as by inspiration rising to their feet and giving cheer after cheer. Many of the members rushed to the venerable statesman to mark their sense of the justice of this tribute. After M. De Fourton had concluded, M. Gambetta ascended the tribune. The Deputies and galleries were at this time under the influence of profound emotion. His first sentences were met with a storm of disapprobation and insult from the Right. In vain the President rang his bell and tried to preserve order. Every appeal he made was met by scorn and insult; such was the violence of Paul De Cassagnac that the President demanded a vote of censure against him. It was at once passed. This had no effect in allaying the storm; almost every word that the orator uttered was met with imprecations from the Right, the Left responding by vociferous applause. At every successful hit made by the orator a number of members would rush into the area in front of the tribune and menace the orator with threats and uplifted arms. At this the Left would also rush to the area, and at times a collision would seem inevitable and the orator likely to become one of its first victims. For five minutes the Chamber became a perfect pandemonium, the President losing all control of its angry elements. During this time Gambetta with folded arms stood unmoved in the tribune. During the remainder of his speech there was scarcely a pretence of order. Interruptions, denunciations and oaths were hurled at him from the Right, and were met by the wildest applause from the Left, and amid all this disorder and violence M. Gambetta continued his speech unmoved. Never was the great orator more terrible in invective or in scathing irony. His steutorian voice was heard above all the din and clamor of his enemies, and he compelled them to listen to him. On concluding his speech and descending from the tribune he was overwhelmed with congratulations by the Left. The Duc de Cazes ascended the tribune at seven o'clock to reply to Gambetta, but the Left, irritated beyond endurance at the treatment of the latter, refused to listen to him, and after vain efforts he gave way and the Chamber adjourned till Monday.

—An officer in the navy, on board of one of our vessels in China, tells us this neat thing in the way of blessing: A man on the United States steamer Monocacy, whose term of service had just expired, proceeded to take leave of his late officers. Approaching the commander, he invoked the choicest blessings on his head, in a brogue that left no doubt as to his native sod. And so he went from one to another with a "God bless ye!" or "May heaven reward ye!" until he came opposite the Lieutenant Commander, who had frequently been obliged to suppress Pat's love for the "ardent" by stopping his leave. With a reluctant touch of his cap and down cast eye, he mumbled out, "And may God bless you, too, Misther C—, to a sartin extint!"—Harper's Magazine for July.

—The Hartford Times has discovered a polite Chinaman. As a street car was making its way along, lady after lady entered and seat after seat was resigned by gentlemen, until a Chinaman was the only representative of his sex who was not hanging on to the straps. Soon the car stopped again, and the Oriental, who had been all along expressing by his looks a profound contempt for the chivalry of the Americans, yielded his seat to a simpering school-girl. The Celestial clung to the strap with a tightened grip until he reached his destination, when, reaching the sidewalk and meeting an acquaintance, he exploded, "Too muchee she."

—Thirty years ago a Sheboygan school-teacher struck a boy on the head with a ruler. One day last week the boy, now a man of forty, met that teacher and pounded him. The wheel of time never stops.

The War.

Intelligence has been received from Sclavonic sources that there was a sanguinary engagement, lasting all day Saturday, between 10,000 Turks and 3000 Montenegrins at Rasuoglavika. The Turks were defeated and pursued to Spuz, leaving 2000 dead on the field. Per contra, the Turks claim to have defeated the Montenegrins. A Vienna despatch reports Nicsics revictualled, but only after terrible slaughter of the Turks.

A despatch from Vienna says that it is reported that a body of Cossacks have entered and captured Asaban and massacred 800 women and children. Danube telegrams from Turkish sources state that the Russians are showing themselves in great force along the river near Turkukai, and that the passage of the river was expected to take place immediately.

An officer high in the confidence of the Russian Government says the relations between England and Russia are of a most critical kind, short of actual war. The two countries stand on the very verge of hostilities, and the slightest indiscretion might at any time precipitate a conflict. The Czar complains of England throwing her moral influence in favor of Turkey, and thus encouraging the Porte to take action which would not be ventured upon but for the reliance placed on the ultimate aid of England.

Judge Sargents' Bill.

As the legislation required to make effective the vote of the people on the Constitutional Amendments is likely to be the most important work of the present session of the legislature, we give the full text of the bill introduced for that purpose by Hon. Jonathan E. Sargent:

An Act to fix the time when the constitutional Amendments, adopted in March last, shall take effect; and also providing for compiling the statutes of the State.]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

SECTION 1. That the amendments of the constitution of this State, which were proposed by the constitutional convention of said State at its session in December, 1876, and which were submitted to and legally adopted by the qualified voters of said state at the annual election in March, 1877, shall take effect at the times following, to wit:

1. The amendment relating to the trial of causes, in which the value in controversy does not exceed one hundred dollars and the title to real estate is not concerned, without the intervention of a jury, which is covered by the second question thus submitted to said voters; and the several amendments abolishing the religious test as a qualification for office, all which are covered by the seventh question thus submitted to said voters; and the amendment prohibiting the general court from authorizing towns or cities to loan or give their money or credit to corporations, as covered by the eighth question thus submitted; and the amendments authorizing the general court to provide that appeals from a justice of the may be tried without the intervention of a jury, and authorizing said general court to increase the jurisdiction of justices of the peace to one hundred dollars, as covered by the tenth and eleventh questions thus submitted; and the amendment prohibiting money raised by taxation from being applied to the support of schools or institutions of any religious sect or denomination, as covered by the thirteenth question thus submitted,—shall all take effect on the first day of August next.

2. The several amendments relating to the change of time for holding the State election for the choice of members of the legislature, the executive officers of the State, county treasurers, registers of deeds, registers of probate, solicitors, and sheriffs, from March to November, and that the election of said officers shall be biennial, or only once in two years, as covered by the third, sixth, and ninth questions thus submitted, shall take effect on the first day of October, A. D. 1878.

3. All the remaining amendments of said Constitution, relating to biennial sessions of the legislature, to the tenure of office, to the basis of representation in the house of representatives, and increasing the numbers of the senate and the senatorial districts, as covered by the third, fourth, and fifth questions thus submitted, and all other amendments legally adopted, shall take effect on the first Wednesday of June, A. D. 1879.

SEC. 2. The governor, with advice of council, shall, as soon as may be, appoint and commission three persons learned in the law, whose duty shall it be to compile force, and including those of the present session, and arrange the same according to the form and order of the General Statutes, as far as may be, and prepare the same for publication before the next session of the legislature, in June, 1878, and make report to said legislature; and that they be authorized to make such changes and alterations in the existing laws as shall be rendered necessary by the adoption of said constitutional amendments, and also such as may be rendered necessary by any change that may be made in the time of holding the election for the choice of town officers, or in the tenure of office of such officers. With the above exceptions, and such others, if any, as the legislature may prescribe, the work of said commissioners shall be confined to a compilation of existing laws.

SEC. 3 This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15.

It would be quite impossible to mention all the financial rumors of the past few days. It cannot be doubted, however, that the President's reported conversion in favor of the absolute restoration of silver to the place it occupied prior to 1873 has caused some apprehensions of an unfavorable influence upon the new loan; the opinion of Assistant Secretary French that it will be paid in gold, brought a response from London saying that it was having a very reassuring effect. It is the general feeling that Secretary Sherman's success in negotiating the new loan insures a lower rate of interest in private monetary transactions. The Republican this morning contained a statement intimating that at a conference between the President and Sherman upon the silver matters yesterday, the difference was such as to make a Cabinet vacancy a foregone conclusion. It did not however vouch for its correctness, but if the general opinion as to their respective positions is correct, it would seem to preclude any hope of compromise.

About $8,000 of the $10,000 needed for the Howgate Polar expedition has been subscribed, with a prospect that it will all be secured shortly; and it is understood that it will start about the first of August under command of Capt. Tyson of the Polaris. It is proposed to take fifty or more hardy and resolute men with fuel, provisions, a comfortable house all fitted and ready to be put up, and everything else that past experience suggests as essential, and establish a colony somewhere in Lady Franklin Bay, about 400 miles from the Pole. This is to be visited annually by a vessel carrying recruits and a new supply of everything deemed necessary to the comfort and success of the colonists. Game is said to be abundant in the vicinity of the proposed colony and further northward, and constant expeditions are to be sent out to travel by sledge and boat in the direction of the Pole. It estimated by Howgate that within three years a solution of the problem will have been reached.

Chief Justice Waite has just returned from the Ellenton trials at Charleston and from others in North Carolina. He is represented as being very much dissatisfied with the sentiment existing in some parts of the South as manifested by the failure to punish the participants in the political murders of last fall's campaign, so notorious as to be familiar with the readers of current events everywhere. It is stated also, that he was socially ignored in South Carolina, but that his reception was very cordial in North Carolina.

The State Department is in receipt of dispatches from St. Petersburg, giving the substance of the recent imperial ukase. It is as follows: Neutral States may continue commercial intercourse with Russia by observing international and Russian laws, and every facility will be afforded consistent with military operations. The merchandise of enemies is protected by a neutral flag, save such as is contraband of war, and that of a neutral, similarly restricted, protected by an enemy's flag, is exempt from seizure.

Had Messrs. Tilden, Hendricks, Robinson and the other speakers at the late New York democratic demonstration been addressing men more prejudiced than the crowd that listened to them against thieves and thieving, ballot-box stuffing and stuffers, mob violence and almost every other crime against the genius of republican institutions of which the Tammany Hall gang stands convicted through a long series of years, they would from very shame have omitted their remarks relative to the duty of American citizens to preserve the purity of public morals and the ballot box; and had their audience been more intelligent, their allusions in condemnation of the Electoral Commission—an essentially democratic offspring—had never been made. It is the general verdict among politicians here, that Tilden by his unexpected acceptance of the invitation to attend and speak, fairly turned the tables on Tammany. Like a veritable marplot he utilized a movement of his enemies to shelve him by bringing Hendricks forward for the nomination in 1880, to file his own claims and bespeak a renewal of the support of 1876. But wily schemer as he is, he has lived to little purpose if he supposes that political matters are to remain in statu quo for four years, and that at the expiration of that time the controversy of last fall is to be picked up where the Electoral Commission decided and dropped it, just to gratify the consuming ambition and the pitiable spite of one small man. But as viewed from this right, the part played by Gov. Robinson in the ceremonies of Monday night by which he formally renounced all ownership in himself and acknowledged the validity of Tammany's mortgage upon New York's Governor was the most humiliating; and the assertion publicly made by the disreputable local politicians on that evening of their undisputed title in the chief executive of the Empire State was as impudent as it was characteristic. News and Notes.

The lines of the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Company are being rapidly extended, 186 new offices, accommodating over 700,000 people with cheap telegraphic facilities, having been established since May 1st. The exorbitant charges in force before this line was established have been reduced to a low figure, in many cases being now but one-sixth the old rates.

S. B. A. Harper, late editor of the New York Tablet, was on Sunday married to Mrs. L. St. John Eckel, daughter of Maria Monk, authoress of a book which appeared in 1836, entitled "Awful Disclosures of Maria Monk," which has attracted considerable attention. Mrs. Eckel is authoress of the book entitled "Maria Monk's Daughter."

Augustus Clossen, ten years old, was crossing a vacant lot in Providence on Sunday, when he was accosted by three other boys about his own age, one of whom drew a pistol and shot Clossen in the head. The wounded boy will recover, but the assailants are at liberty and he never saw them until they attempted to murder him. Dime novels.

Three men were drowned at St. Johnsbury, Vt., on Sunday; while on the river in a boat, and all under the influence of liquor, their boat rolled over with them.

A Cattaraugus, N. Y., girl has sued her father for $500 for breach of contract. She says that while he was a widower he offered her $500 to get him a wife. She got him a wife, and now he refuses to pay. He denies the contract, and says he did his own courting.

William D. Higgenbotham, of Providence, R. I., a married man fifty-one years of age, was found dead in an outhouse in the rear of his wife's residence on Sunday, having poisoned himself with strychrine and laudanum. He had been turned out of the house a week or more before by his wife, for maintaining improper relations with her daughter by a former husband.

Frederick Hendricks, a wealthy farmer of Oldtown, Ill., in a fit of drunken rage shot his wife and then himself, Sunday. Both died.

A body of Lerdo's adherents, defeated by partisans of Diaz, recently crossed the border into Texas from Mexico. The latter also crossed and attacked the fugitives at night, on United States soil. Some forty or more of the Mexicans are under arrest, most of them being of the Lerdo army, the Diaz men having escaped the United States troops and recrossed the border.

Dr. Oscar Worthley, of Lancaster, in this State, has been arrested for illegally causing an abortion, Louise Paquet being the victim, the operation being performed in Boston. Dr. Sabine (alias "Dr. Dix") and his wife, and Dr. Brechin, all of Boston, are held on another charge of abortion, Eliza Brown, the daughter of a wealthy merchant of Western Massachusetts, being the victim of the last crime.

Reports of Indian murders at Mount Idaho, Washington Territory, have been received at Walla Walla, and all the available government troops at that point have been dispatched to the scene of conflict.

R. A. Thompson, one of the proprietors of the Memphis Avalanche, has been appointed Postmaster at Memphis, Tenn. The Avalanche was formerly a red-hot democratic paper, but couldn't swallow Tilden, and since the election has supported President Hayes and the conciliatory policy.

Burglars blew open the doors of the Uxbridge Savings Bank in Uxbridge, Mass., on Friday night, with gunpowder, but the explosion alarmed the people of the town, and the burglars fled without obtaining any booty.

Don M. Dickinson, Chairman of the Michigan Democratic Central Committee, took poison in mistake for sherry last Friday. His condition is precarious. Queer mistake for a democrat to make.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $4.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain, for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was sick four years ago I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather, a short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the right hand. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had and gave it up as a hopeless case. I did never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was too poor to go as far as to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO. Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

"ONLY A MARINE!"

PORTSMOUTH, June 16.

Messrs. Editors:—The comrades of John McCarthy (private marine, whose body was discovered in the river a few days ago) tender you their sincere thanks for the timely mention of the above. You may think it strange that the publication of the recovery should be an act (performed by you) sufficient to call forth our deep appreciation; but the whole proceedings have been wrapped in such deep mystery, as it were, since the night of the recovery, that, had it not been for the press of Portsmouth we might probably have been ignorant of the whereabouts of our much lamented comrade. The refusal of allowing a coroner's inquest to be held upon the body in order that it might be ascertained whether the man was foully dealt with or otherwise, and the very unceremonious means resorted to in interring the body, (not even the slightest invocation of God asked for in his behalf) seems to us and all others of any Christian feeling whatever to be an act that should be rigidly censured. We admit that it was the body of a marine: but have they not rights to be respected as well as all others that compose the Commonwealth? Again we thank you for your kindness, and sincerely hope you will place the foregoing in such a light that it may be viewed by others.

A COMRADE.

OBITUARY.

In the usual place will be found a notice of the death of Mr. Oliver Hanscom, whose worth merits something more than a mere passing notice. Mr. Hanscom was all his life (up to within a few years) an active and industrious citizen, and always a good one; of sterling honesty and irreproachable in morals, kind hearted, slow to believe ill of others and slower still to spread ill reports, he won and retained the respect and affection of those with whom he was brought in contact, to a degree which few men can boast. He at various times filled positions of honor and trust; he was at one time President of the Mechanics' Association, and for several years City Marshal of this city; and for ten years occupied the position of master coopor on the Navy Yard. He was an Odd Fellow, and one of the oldest members of Piscataqua Lodge, No. 6. His last public service was representing his ward in the Common Council, for two years; and during his last year's service there his associates on the Board noticed with regret the rapid failure of the old gentleman's physical and mental powers, though his courtesy and evident anxiety to do whatever was right remained as noticeable as ever. Since that time he has been seen but little in public, and for many months past not at all; his mind gradually faded into vacuity, and his removal from the little world in which he once took so active a part was absolute, so that the going of the worn-out body to its final rest now serves to recall to his old friends pleasant memories of a loved associate, rather than to awaken poignant sorrow. With large charity for others' failings, and needing little for his own; ever striving faithfully to do the duties of any position in which he found himself placed, he leaves behind a memory, so far as we are aware, without a stain.

THE LATE BENJAMIN CARR.

By special request we copy the following letter from Rev. Dr. Eames, rector of the Episcopal church in Concord, to the Providence Journal, relative to the death of the late Benjamin Carr, formerly of this city:

CONCORD, June 9.

A very sad and sudden death occurred in our parish this morning. Mr. Benjamin Carr, a photographer, went to his place of business this morning in his usual health, and in little more than an hour after was carried back to his home, a mass of bruised and broken limbs, having fallen from a third story window, out of which he was leaning to place some chemicals. He lost his balance and fell heavily to the ground, fearfully shattering himself. Providentially he was not conscious during the hour he lingered, for his sufferings must have been beyond mortal endurace. His only child, the wife of Rev. F. S. Harraden, rector of Trinity Church, Tilton, left here yesterday, and her first news from home was the telegraphic announcement of the injury her father had sustained. She came instantly, but death had come and put an end to a life so dear to her. Mr. Carr was a respected citizen and member of our parish, of exceedingly quiet and gentle manners. Fond of his home, he mingled little in outside matters, attended diligently to his business, was a loving husband and tender father. Over the sorrow that has come to the wife and daughter, always so tenderly cared for, we must draw a veil.

J. A. E.

[Mr. Carr, whose wife was a native of this city, was buried here June 12th with Odd Fellows' ceremonies, Rev. C. A. Holbrook, rector of St. John's church, preaching the funeral sermon.]

JOTTINGS.

On the last day of the exhibition in Boston of the London Circus and Menagerie, the Globe concluded its notice of the entertainment as follows: "The Boston public have recognized its superlative excellences, and were the combined menagerie and circus to remain in Boston for weeks longer, the managers could be sure of crowded audiences every evening. It is to be hoped that the great canvas show may again pitch its tents here during the season. Nothing better has been seen here. The promises of the management have been more than kept, and Mr. Howe's circus and menagerie may be commended to all the people of the towns where it is 'billed' as a most admirable show."

NEIGHBORING TOWNS.

SEABROOK, June 18.

The store of John Locke, on Walton road, was feloniously entered on Saturday night about midnight, and the contents of a box and shot-bag, amounting to between fifty and sixty dollars in silver, carried away. The thieves effected an entrance by breaking a pane of glass and then removing a screw which fastened the window. A young man who was passing at the time of the robbery saw a man in the store, who afterward went to Mr. Locke's barn and tried the padlock, but supposing it was Mr. Locke, he passed on. Suspicion rests on certain fellows who were around the place that evening.

On the same night a door was stolen from a building lately bought by Mr. Abel Souther of South Seabrook, and moved to his premises, and which he was fitting up for a dwelling house. The rogues and criminals have not all left Seabrook, yet.

It is claimed that silver should be remonetized, and that the bonds should be redeemed in silver coin, because the Government has no right to throw away the legal advantage it possesses of paying its debts in a cheaper currency than gold. It is claimed also by the same economists that silver, when remonetized, will not be cheaper than gold, but will at once advance in value up to the gold standard. Plain people who endeavor to reconcile these two positions as parts of a coherent argument become confused.

Rev. John S. C. Abbott died at his residence in Fair Haven, Conn., Sunday morning, aged 71.

The State Treasurer, in his report, says that a State tax of $400,000, which will be but one-fifth of one per cent. of the valuation, will be sufficient to provide for the expenses of the coming year, as the savings bank, railroad and insurance taxes will nearly supply the needed funds.

The New Hampshire Historical Society has chosen the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Charles H. Bell; Vice Presidents, B. F. Prescott, J. E. Sargent; Corresponding Secretary, Rev. Nathaniel Bouton, D. D.; Recording Secretary, Amos Hadley; Publication Committee, William L. Foster, John J. Bell, Albert R. Hatch; Standing Committee, Joseph B. Walker, E. S. Towle, Enoch Gerrish; Auditing Committee, Woodbridge Odlin, Joseph C. A. Hill; Library Committee, J. B. Walker, John H. Bell, John A. Harris; Treasurer, Samuel S. Kimball; Librarian, Samuel C. Eastman.

[Written for the Chronicle].

Reminiscences of the "Red-Dog" Currency Frauds.

While it was anything but agreeable to be robbed by the fraudulent currency referred to in a late communication in the CHRONICLE, some rather amusing memories survive in connection with them. At the time when the Wolfborough Bank, by which so many were defrauded, was in existence, among the passengers one day in the stage from Dover to Wolfeborough was a fashionably-dressed gentleman, evidently by his conversation, from New York, and a theological student who was on his way to visit a young lady whose acquaintance he had made some time before at the place where the institution he attended was located. Such a talkative individual as the New York gent. might not easily have been found, until they were half way to their destination, when, on the student asking if any one present was acquainted at Wolfeborough with a person whose name he gave, his loquacity ceased, and he was missing when the rest of the passengers resumed their seats in the stage at the place where they stopped a short time for refreshment. Whither he had disappeared none could conjecture, and a discussion of the matter afforded much merriment the rest of the way. The next morning, when the student went forth from the house of his young lady friend, about the first person he met was his talkative fellow-passenger of the day before, who seemed as glad to see him as Damon would have been some centuries before to have met his friend Pythias. The explanation of the matter was that the New York individual was on his way to obtain redemption of some thousands of the notes of the Wolfborough Bank, and imagining that the student was on a similar errand from his mentioning in his enquiry a name similar to that of the cashier of the bank, while the rest of the passengers were at dinner he procured a conveyance, and reached Wolfeborough ahead of the stage, as well as in time to accomplish his purpose before the bank closed for the day.

When ten years had passed since the final stoppage of the famed Georgia Lumber Company, a member of the press, who had retained as an undesirable memorial of it a three dollar note, (on which he had bestowed various anathemas when it chanced to meet his eye,) entered a New York store, where the lady proprietor asked him if he had any knowledge of a bank such as that on the face of a two dollar note that she laid before him,—a woman standing by from whom she had received it. A very few words enlightened the dealer in fancy goods as to the thrice-repeated fraud, and sent the would-be purchaser, whether innocent or guilty of an intent to wrong, on her way. After enjoying his dinner that day, he of the press, converting himself into an avenging Nemesis in consequence of that three dollar note, went to work on four communications exposing the renewed scheme of villainy, all of which appeared next morning in the papers of New York and Brooklyn; thus blighting the expectations of the Wall street knaves who had hoped to reap another harvest by the new notes they had procured to be engraved of the ever-to-be-remembered Georgia Lumber Company.

Had no other benefit accrued from the national bank currency, the prevention it has been to such plans for plunder as the above, would be sufficient to make it valued by all.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will speedily infuse such healthful tone into your organization that it will be enabled to successfully resist future attacks. The bitters prevent and remedy chills and fever and bilious remittents, and eradicate dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, rhumatic ailments, urinary and uterine difficulties. It is particularly beneficial when the system has been drained of its vitality or is inherently deficient in strength. The nerves gather from it both vigor and tranquility. But while it imparts strength and gives a wholesome stimulus to the animal economy, it does not unduly excite it like the cheap exhilarants sometimes resorted to under the erroneous impression that they can invigorate.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SEAVEY, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St. Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

The Story of a Mummy.

For seventeen years the most curious object in the Museum of the Tennessee Historical Society has been the Egyptian mummy. It has a very singular history. In 1860 Colonel Jeremiah George Harris was a purser on a United States man-of-war in the Egyptian waters. He went on shore, and was at once ushered into the august presence of the Khedive and his numerous household. He was walking out one day with a member of the Khedive's staff, when the latter was set upon by ruffians. Col. Harris, who is a man of great strength, interposed, and the roughs were soon vanquished.

"What can I do," asked the Egyptian officer, "to show adequate approbation of the services you have rendered me?"

"Give me a mummy," laughingly suggested Col. Harris.

"A mummy?" repeated the officer, holding his breath and pondering. "Did you not know, sir, that our laws prohibit the removal of mummies, under penalty of death? But, never mind; your request shall be fulfilled. Just before your vessel leaves the harbor a boat will come alongside. It will contain that for which you have asked."

Col. Harris had dismissed the subject from his mind, but just before the hour for the departure of the ship three natives were seen pulling toward the vessel. The boat contained a bundle directed to Col. Harris. This bundle was not opened until the arrival of the ship at Boston, when it was discovered that there were six mummies instead of one. They were unwrapped, and the best one forwarded to the Tennessee Historical Society, of which Col. Harris was then and is still a member. When Professor Huxley was here he examined the mummy with a great deal of interest, and said that he believed it to be the best preserved specimen either in America or in Europe. —Nashville American.

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.

HE WILL COME;

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, JR., D. D.

This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 16mo., 216 pp.; $1.25 in Cloth; $2.50 in Morocco. CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following extracts of Chapter 30, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water or houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their own tenants or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And each owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any state meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any fish be buried nor permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance or any other nuisance shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises upon such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.
WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

The Gifts to Rome.

"Where the Money Goes" is the title of the Catholic Review's account of the money sent to the Pope on the occasion of his jubilee. The dollars are not a personal gift to the Pope, but the patrimony of the church. "The church does not live on air; bishops, priests and religions do not live on air. The churches they tend are not built on air; the charities under their charge, the institutions and those who fill them, are not airy creations. The Catholic missions are not conducted by angels from heaven, but by men and women. The schools and churches that they found have to be supported." The new order of things in Italy has dispossessed the church of its property. "dispersed most of the monks and nuns, destroyed their work, their charities, appropriated their revenues, sold their libraries, their effects, their statues and paintings, their objects of art, allowing in some cases a certain return value at a fixed sum. If we recollect rightly, either one or two-thirds the amount yielded from this kind of revenue flows into the royal coffers for the king's personal use." These monks and nuns have to be supported by the Pope and the charity of the faithful; the church and school expenses and the charities, must be carried through. "The Catholics of the United States have contributed a goodly sum; yet, before these troubles arose, the Pope's own donation to our American college in Rome was $85,000 at one offer." Also, the bishops and priests of Germany and Switzerland "are not forgotten by the old man of the Vatican.'" And, finally, says the Review, "the noble response made by the Catholic people to the mute appeal for aid is a standing rebuke to extortionate and tyrannical governments. Their revenues go to minister to 'royal' pleasures, to set a premium often on vices, to multiply destructive armaments, which threaten the world's peace and cramp labor and peaceful pursuits; but the revenues of the church are devoted primarily and wholly to the service of God, and the cause of all humanity."

When Men are at Their Best.

Dr. Beard states that from an analysis of the lives of a thousand representative men in all the great branches of the human family he made the discovery that the golden decade was between forty and fifty; the brazen between twenty and thirty; the iron between fifty and sixty. The superiority of youth and middle life over old age in original work appears all the greater when we consider the fact that all the positions of honor and prestige—professorships and public stations—are in the hands of the old. Reputation, like money and position, is mainly confined to the old. Men are not widely known until long after they have done the work that gave their fame. Portraits of great men are delusions; statues are false! They are taken when men have become famous, which, on the average, is at least twenty-five years after they did the work which gave them fame. Original work requires enthusiasm. If all the original work done by men under forty-five was annihilated, they would be reduced to barbarism. Men are at their best at that time when enthusiasm and experience are almost evenly balanced. The period on the average, is from thirty-eight to forty. After this the law is that experience increases, but enthusiasm decreases. Of course there are exceptions.

—Just now the average "sweet girl graduate" is in a tremor of trepidation and greatly excited over coming events.

—A young girl from the country, being on a visit to a Quaker, was prevailed on to accompany him to the meeting. It happened to be a silent one, none of the brethren being moved to utter a syllable. When the Quaker left the meeting-house, with his young friend, he asked: "How didst thou like the meeting?" To which she pettishly replied: "Like it! Why, I can see no sense in it—to go and sit for whole hours together without a word. It is enough to kill Satan himself!" "Yes, my dear," rejoined the Quaker, "that is just what we want."

—An unfortunate widower, preparing, not long since, for a ride with a young lady, and desired to blind the eyes of his housekeeper respecting his errand, very politely informed his little son that he could go too. "No, I guess not," answered the small man in roundabouts. "Why, yes, wash your face and come along," persisted the father. "Shan't do it," replied the urchin. "Why did'nt you go? questioned the lady in charge, after the father had left; "he wished it, I think." "Didn't either," retorted the boy; "he said in the bedroom he'd give me ten cents if I'd stay at home."

—The New York World says that the other day a lady was deploring the death of an acquaintance with one of the latter's most intimate friends. During the course of their conversation the son of the deceased gentleman entered the room, and conversation became general. On his departure, however, free and personal comment was passed upon him. Said lady No. 2, "That boy has got his mother's eyes." "Yes," subscribed No. 1, reflectively, "and I noticed that he had got his father's umbrella." This remarkable description has stuck to him ever since, and he is known as "the boy with his mother's eyes and his father's umbrella."

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 20, 1877.

The War.

Details of the fight between the Turks and Montenegrins near the village of Piana, on the road to Nicsic, previously claimed as a victory for the Turks, show a decided victory for the mountaineers. It seems that the advance of the Turks from Podgaritza, Albania, had been carefully watched by Montenegrin spies, and every precaution had been taken in selecting a point at which to receive the invading party. The Turks moved forward to Spuz, reaching that place on Friday night. On Saturday morning at daylight, the advance into Montenegro began. The Turkish force numbered 10,000, under Ali Saib. There are two roads leading in the direction of Nicsic toward the north; the road to the left is far less direct and in much worse condition than the one on the right; therefore, as the Montenegrin commander, Bozza Petrovich, had foreseen, Ali Saib chose the road to the right. The Montenegrins were believed by the Turks to be at Rassotgi. The Montenegrins had taken up a station at Piana, a very small village on the route of the Turkish advance, and, 3000 strong, awaited the invaders. The situation was one of their own choosing, and was adapted to their manner of warfare. With the utmost confidence the hardy mountaineers awaited the attack. About eleven o'clock fourteen Turkish battalions attacked the Montenegrins, being repulsed by the latter, who were entrenched behind some earthworks. A third advance of the Turks was made with eight battalions, led by Ali Saib. He was nearly beside himself with rage because of the repulses. Flushed with their victories, the Montenegrins saw their enemies come up. They refrained from firing until within 200 yards, then poured a deadly volley into their enemies' front, as a body of Montenegrin horsemen dashed out from either side and fell upon their flanks. At first the flanks wavered, but rapidly changing front, they killed many of the attacking party. The centre came up without halting until it received a second volley; then, through some mistaken order, or because of disincliination to advance, the Turks halted. This was fatal to them, for, quicker than it takes to tell it, the Montenegrins sprang as one man over the parapet of their intrenchments and with yells attacked with the bayonet. A few bayonet wounds settled the fray. The Turks broke, but were partially rallied by Ali Saib and fell back about two miles in tolerable shape to an open piece of country. The Montenegrins re-formed and began the pursuit, making a few prisoners, but they killed about all they overtook. The Turks were pursued to Spuz, leaving over 2000 dead on the road, besides their wounded and prisoners. The Prince of Montenegro was profoundly affected at the losses and the victory. A correspondent at the Montenegrin headquarters states that Nicsic has been provisioned by the Turks; but the importance of that place has ceased, as its capture can now be effected at any time. Artillery is now commanding it.

Turkish reports say the Montenegrins have been driven from the Duga Pass, are being hard pressed in all quarters by 70,000 Turks, and that their position is extremely critical.

Despatches from Asia Minor confirm the Russian successes before Kars, where the Turks were driven from important positions after two days of heavy fighting. A despatch from Erzeroom says the Turkish army at Delebata has been defeated and Mehemet Pasha killed. The Turks have won successes near Sookgoum-Kaleh.

Reconciliation.

If there is any one thing over which more "gush" has been expended during the past three or four years, by a portion of the northern press, than the "reconciliation" of the southern democracy, we do not know what it is; and the southern democratic press, also, has had much to say about that same desirable article. Now that democratic rule is supreme throughout the South, the white democracy of Abbeville, South Carolina, are so devoted to reconciliation that they propose to place it on an enduring basis by running every white republican out of the country. That excellent community recently held a meeting to secure peace, and the speaker advised the appointment of a committee to secure the desired end as soon as possible. The Abbeville Press states the reasons for the course in this clear and forcible manner:

"As long as a white man is allowed to stir up strife there will be contention and dissatisfaction. Whenever they 'retire their pretensions' we will have peace. Will they do so peaceably, or do they intend to force violence? Violence is sure to follow whenever they malign the whites and attempt to alienate the negroes from us. Whenever a head of this sort shows itself it will be only service to one's country to cut it off. Since the death of Jo. Crews, in Laurens, there has been no trouble in that county, and there would be none here either if it were not for a few fomenters of strife; and if they do not desist hereafter they will be dealt severely with."

This is unanswerable logic. Jo. Crews was killed some twelve months since because his republican ideas bred continual disturbance in Laurens, and the democrats were obliged to kill him in order to make him keep his mouth shut. Ever since that day there has been peace, like the silence of the catacombs, in that county. If Jo. Crews is not satisfied with the peace measures of Laurens he doesn't deserve to have even a tombstone.

The Louisiana democrats, too, go in strong for reconciliation. This is what the Nachitoches Vindicator, "a truthful democratic newspaper," says about the late republican Senator for that district:

"Blunt must go, and that quickly. We have forgetfulness if not forgiveness for the tools of his former ambition, but for him there can be nothing but distrust and bitterness. If he remains, we wash our hands, as a community, of what is quite likely to occur in his particular case. Weber, of Feliciana, and Frank, of Webster, should be examples sufficient to convince the Burches, the Twitchells and the Blunts that there is no resting place in this State for men who have done all that villainy could suggest to destroy the rights and liberties of Louisiana's people, and plundered them and their children of homes and bread."

The democratic press of New Orleans and the North, and Gov. Nicholls of Louisiana, have denied that Weber's murder was political, and that Frank was killed for no other reason than that he was a republican; yet the Vindicator holds up their fate as a warning of what will come to all prominent republicans who do not fly for their lives.

"Reconciliation" is nice.

News and Notes.

Miss Nellie Williams, aged 22, was burned to death Sunday morning in Belleville, N. J. While she was pouring kerosene oil on the kitchen fire the can exploded and her clothing ignited. She died two hours afterward.

The Ordnance Bureau of the Navy Department has adopted the slotted screw, or French system, in converting 100-pound Parrott guns into breech-loaders.

Public Printer Defrees, in a circular, informs the printers throughout the country that "there are now more sober, industrious and capable workmen of this character in Washington than can at any time be employed. It would be unjust and cruel to discharge any of these workmen merely to put others from a distance in their places, and it will not be done. It must also be distinctly understood that this establishment cannot be made either a religious, political or charitable asylum."

New Hampshire Items.

The Turf Association of Nashua have decided to gold their first series of races at the Nashua Riding Park, commencing July 3d and continuing four days. They offer $3200 in premiums, the classes ranging from three minutes to 2:28. The prospects at the present time are that there will be a long list of entries, and that the meeting will be a success.

The house and outbuildings belonging to Mrs. E. L. Hardy, situated in Brookline, were burned on the 16th instant. Loss $1800; insured $950 in the Fitchburg Mutual. Supposed incendiary.

On Monday morning Mr. Samuel H. Hanson, an old and respected citizen of Dover, was found dead in his barn, where he went at an early hour. He had long been somewhat troubled with disease of the heart, which probably hastened him away at last. He was nearly 70 years of age.

The Glen House opened Saturday, a party of seventy-five coming from Portland, Gov. Connor of Maine, and other distinguished gentlemen being among the guests. The road to the summit of Mount Washington opened on the 11th, earlier than ever before. Snow is still in patches on the mountains, and the thermometer at noon was forty on the summit.

At the meeting of the State Temperance Camp Meeting Association held at Concord, Monday, it was decided to hold meetings at Weirs Landing, Lake Winnepiseogee, on September 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th. The first day is to be given to the Sons of Temperance, Good Templars and other kindred organizations; the second day to the Women's Christian Union; the third day to reformed men and Temple of Honor; and the fourth day to the church, for religious services. John B. Gough will speak on the third day, and addresses will be made by Hon. H. W. Blair, M. C.; Gen. Natt Head, President of the Senate; Col. W. E. Stevens, editor of the Concord Monitor; Hon. Lewis W. Clark of Manchester, Samuel B. Page of Haverhill, and others. Efforts will be made to have an address by Henry Ward Beecher on the fourth day.

Political.

Our Milton Sayler is a bold navigator of the political seas. He has received a gilt-edge invitation to the white-gloved conspiracy of the Manhattan Club in honor of Tom Hendricks, at which the democratic chickens of a New York breed are to be hatched for 1880. Milton declined. He believes with Senator Beck that the year of democracy like the star of empire, should take its way Westward.—Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.)

Gov. Stone, of Mississippi, calls the Chisholm murder "an unfortunate affair." Does not the Governor employ rather severe language? Is he not afraid of irritating the law-abiding citizens of the State, and stirring up their natural indignation to acts of violence? Things have settled down with remarkable quiet there. The Vicksburg Herald says that there will be no opposition to the democratic ticket in Yazoo county, this fall. The republican vote in Yazoo in 1874 was 2499. In 1876 it was two!—Such has been the reduction effected by the mild and wholesome rule of the reconstructed democracy. It is a pity that Gov. Stone should excite the community by such words as are attributed to him at the head of this paragraph. It is, however, to be remembered in his favor that he confines himself to words. He does nothing to show that he regards the affair as even unfortunate. One might suppose that he looked upon it as a legitimate exercise of the authority of public opinion.—Providence Journal.

A Medicine of Many Uses.

A medicine which remedies dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, debility, intermittent and remittent fevers, urinary and uterine troubles, depurates the blood, counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and gout, and relieves nervousness, may be truly said to have many uses. Such an article is Hostetter's Bitters, one of the most reliable alteratives of a disorderly to a well-ordered state of the system ever prepared or sold. It has been over a quarter of a century before the public, is endorsed by many eminent professors of the healing art, and its merits have received repeated recognitions in the columns of leading American and foreign journals. It is highly esteemed in every part of this country, and is extensively used in South America, Mexico, the British possessions and the West Indies. If its decrease in public favor in the past is to be regarded as a reliable criterion of its gain in popularity in coming years, it has indeed a splendid future before it.

Among the most remarkable productions of this age and country is Hall's Hair Renewer. Its success is unparalleled. It is sought after by rich and poor, high and low, young and old. Inhabitants of foreign lands—the people of Australia, of Europe, and of South America find means to get at it at whatever cost. It is because it works like magic. It restores the hair to its youthful color and beauty, and robs old age of one of its disagreeable accompaniments. If you are getting bald, try it. Try it if you are getting gray, or if you have any disease of the scalp. Try it if you wish a good hair dressing. It will not disappoint you.—Muncie (Ind.) News.

Diamonds and Pearls.

Eyes bright as diamonds should be supplemented by teeth white as pearls, and this latter element of beauty can be secured by using Sozodont. If brushed in night and morning, this fragrant vegetable preparation is guaranteed to preserve the soundness of the teeth, and prevent their turning yellow.

LAP-TABLET.

It has become an almost universal custom for Ladies to write on their laps, using the nearest book or other flat object as a rest for the paper. The new "LAP-TABLET," is an article especially adapted to the purpose. It will be appreciated not only by the Ladies but by the Student and Tourist, in the boudoir or library, on voyage, at summer resorts, by the sea, on the lawn or in the woods, and by Amateur Artists as a sketch-board.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At last he was taken so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mills, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and oblige. Send one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. F. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO. Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

BARRATORS CAUGHT.

On Sunday evening a small sloop yacht of about five tons measurement entered this harbor, and as soon as practicable came up to the city and moored at the wharf near the Spring Market. She is a nice-looking little vessel, painted white outside, with the word "Osto" in capital letters on her stern. She was manned by two men, and nothing particular was thought about her.

On Tuesday the police authorities received a letter from Mr. John Steward, of Pittston, Me., enclosing a letter sent to him from this city, and a copy of a handbill offering a reward for the recovery of his sloop-yacht (named the "Abeona," and hailing from Boston,) and the detention of her crew, Fred Taylor and Melvin Corbett, who had stolen her. Assistant Marshal Gray at once visited the "Osto," verified her identity with the "Abeona" by certain marks mentioned in the hand-bill, and arrested Taylor and Corbett, who were locked up to await the arrival from Pittston of Mr. Steward. The thieves, it seems, have been sailing the "Abeona" since some time in January, but recently concluded to run away with her; so having erased the vessel's name from the stern, and the first and final letters of the word "Boston," thus making her name read "Osto," they boldly came in here, wrote to the owner that they had lost the vessel on Glover's Rock, and proceeded to negotiate for a purchaser. The following is the letter sent to Mr. Steward, verbalim et literatim et punctuatim:

Portsmouth Juno 1877

Dear old frend

i serpose you wold like to no whare me and fred is and what we ar about and what becom of the old boat We went to Portland ol rite and had got back as far as glovers rock We wore under clause reefs and wold have been home the next day but a dam squal struck us and i tryed to ceep her from coming to in the trouth of the see and carried away our redder hed and she mad a bee line for glovers rock and the Davel cold not stop her When she struck she went to peaces in less then 2 minets We com near goin to Daveds Jones her mast went over the bow and i went after it i did not see fred for a long time i thought he was gorn but i see him at last i worked with my hands until i got to whare he was he was about gorn we hung together till about 8 oclock the next day when a schooner Picked us up we wore about gorn i can tell you i did not no much for 3 days the schooners Name is James E. Dunbar we ar bound to Charleston C S she came in hear to get a New mainsail she will go to New york to finisf out loding She has got a general cargo now well i have told you about all i Want you to rite me we will probably stop to homes hole rite me thar and tell me about Lillie has she gone home or not let me no if she is thar tell her to rite to me tell her to sell all thar is thire and try to get home if she can i wold send her som money if i cold but i have jest sined to men left here so we go in thar room if Lillie is thar kiss her for me i no her hates me now but i cant help it sho this to freds Mother

The two men are both young, tall, sailor-looking fellows, one being dark complexioned and the other fair. They gave their names as Charles Frederick Taylor and James Melvin Cobbett, and while acknowledging that they failed to return the yacht at the end of the period for which they hired her, deny that they had any intention of stealing her. If they can make the courts believe that story they will be all right.

The owner of the "Abeona" arrived here on the afternoon train, Tuesday, and took charge of her; and officers got here at nine o'clock in the evening, and took the prisoners back with them on the return train.

"GIT OUT, SMALL BOY!"

Messrs Editors: Is our City Marshal deaf, or is the small boy and his fire-cracker to be endured for three weeks before the orthodox time of torment arrives? If so, let them retire to some vacant lot, where they will not be a terror to every one driving into or out of Portsmouth for purposes of business or pleasure. VOTER.

[Communicated.]

THE MARINE QUESTION.

Messrs. Editors: The Times of Saturday and the CHRONICLE of Monday each contained communications severely censuring the authorities of this city for their conduct concerning the disposition of the body of a marine recently found in the river, the articles seeming to be particularly aimed at myself. The writer of those communications (for both are evidently from one pen, and that not the pen of a private marine,) is especially aggrieved that the Commandant of the Navy Yard was not notified of the finding of the body, and that no coroner's inquest was held. As to his first complaint I will only say that as soon as I was informed of the finding of the body I sent a messenger to the yard to inform Major Field, commanding the marines there, of the fact, and that he immediately sent over two officers who made all arrangements for the burial; and after that I considered all my duties in the case performed. After the body was buried the doctor of the yard came over and inquired into the matter, was told what had been done, and said the Commandant of the yard was the proper person to notify. Now I, in common with all our citizens, have only respect for Commodore Guest, and could have notified him as easily as Major Field; but the latter was the marine's immediate commander, and as he has taken so much interest in the men of his command when they have been over here alive and drunk, I considered him the proper officer to notify when one was found dead. As a civilian I do not profess to be acquainted with, and certainly am not bound by, naval regulations or etiquette; but if it was of primary importance that the Commandant should have received the notice, why was it not given him by the subordinate officials on the yard (who are under naval rules and familiar with naval etiquette) after they had received it? As to not ordering a coroner's inquest, I could see no reason for involving the city in an expense of $75 or more, as I had no knowledge of any indications whatever of foul dealings, or that any suspicion existed concerning the same; nor has anything come to my knowledge since, notwithstanding the indignant letters of "Justitia" and "A Comrade," to convince me that an inquest was necessary or desirable.

JOHN H. BROUGHTON, Mayor.

JOTTINGS.

Among the pleasant attractions at the Universalist strawberry festival this evening, will be the presentation of "Never Say Die" and "Thirty Thousand Dollars," in both of which several young ladies and gentlemen are to take part. The proceeds are in part to help swell the fund for the removal of the organ of the church from the gallery to the rear of the altar.

Rev. Mr. Moore will deliver the third lecture in his series, (subject "Science against Darwinism") this (Wednesday) evening in the Congregational chapel on Middle street.

A lady who has investigated the matter tells us that the linen suits for ladies advertised by L. Blumauer are all he claims them to be—for style, quality and cheapness surpassing anything offered in Portsmouth for a long time.

Two families, each with loads of household furniture, passed through this city Tuesday forenoon in teams, on the way to York Beach, to occupy cottages there. They had traveled sixty miles.

The remonstrances of the National Board of Fire Underwriters against the use of fire-works will not avail to destroy the happiness of the Portsmouth small boy this year, if we may judge from the quantities of fire-crackers displayed in the store windows already.

The Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph Company's office at the Rockingham House will be open all night in the future, a convenience the public will appreciate.

The Bostons beat the St. Louis base ball club on Tuesday, 13 to 0, the Bostons making 9 runs in the 7th innings. The St. Louis club had previously beaten the Bostons twice.

Steamer Major, Capt. Bird, commenced her regular trips to Star Island, Isles of Shoals, on Tuesday.

The committee on Fantastics for the Fourth of July had a meeting Monday evening and decided to award $50 in cash prizes, as follows: Best hit (local or otherwise,) $10; best four-wheel team, $10; second best, $5; best two-wheel team, $5; second best, $3; horse-back rider, $5; second best, $3; person on foot, $4; second best, $3. Kittery, Rye, Newcastle, Greenland, Newington and other towns are invited to help swell the ranks of the Antiques and Horribles.

NEIGHBORING TOWNS.

RYE, June 18th.

Fashionable weddings are not common in Rye, but they do say that there is to be one next Thursday at the Episcopal chapel near the Farragut House, which is to be in all respects "au fait."

The "Farragut" and "Sea View" have opened their doors, have some company, and are prepared for more. The Western Union telegraph line from Greenland depot to the above named houses, was put in complete order during the past week. The coaches from "Rye Beach station" (which is situated in the town of North Hampton, "six or eight miles away"—Greenland is about four,) will commence running July 1st.

The new road from Abram Perkins' to the beach is finished and open for travel—and for purchasers of cottage lots who desire to locate for the summer in a fine locality, and help pay for the road by contributing their share towards paying the town's taxes.

E. B. Philbrick has completed his contract for building the road near the Farragut House, and it is now safe to drive over, which it hardly has been in years past.

A Praise Meeting under the auspices of the Rye Musical Union, to take place either in the Town Hall or one of the churches, is in contemplation, and will probably come off at an early day.

Farmers will commence haying this week.

The feed on the highways never was better than it is this Summer. It is a pity that it should go to waste. Some of it don't. Some folks turn their horses and cows into the road, and forget to drive them to their pasture. Others have conscientious or other kind of scruples about doing this thing. There's a law, for one thing, against such proceedings; and besides, they have a little consideration for their neighbors, who don't like to have such animals about their doors, but still hate to make any fuss about it. It's a pity to let so much feed "go to grass," so perhaps it would be a capital idea to have a law passed requiring every house owner to put up a fence round his house, and then be sure and keep the gate closed and the bars leading into the fields put up,—and everybody in town, having cows, oxen or horses could turn them into the highway to get their living, and not have any more anxiety about them than they would about their dogs or hens running loose.

Rev. Mr. Bodwell, from Western Massachusetts, has preached very acceptably to the Congregational society for the past two Sundays, and he may receive a call.

Choirs should be very careful and have only one tune to a hymn. When the different parts have each different tunes it is apt to make discord, and when such a thing occurs, while the congregation are standing up looking at them, it makes it decidedly awkward to have to come to a dead halt and have somebody decide which of the tunes it is proposed to sing. Such an episode occurred not many weeks since in a church not a thousand miles from Rye, and the blunder was of course the chief topic of conversation for the remainder of that day.

The proprietors of the boarding houses who have made contracts to take company at low rates (and all applicants this season, without exception, are very particular to know the lowest possible terms,) are feeling blue over the decided advance in the price of beef. NAT.

TSERNAGORA.

The Portsmouth CHRONICLE copies the article on "Tsernagora," from Monday's Advertiser, and kindly remarks that it "is of peculiar interest just now, when the conflict of ages between the Turks and Montenegrins is raging so fiercely, and it gives the most graphic description of the country and people of Montenegro we have ever seen." This compliment would have been perhaps too pointed, if the CHRONICLE had not taken care to describe the Advertiser vaguely as "an exchange."—Portland Advertiser.

Don't be huffy about a little thing like that, brother; it was only out of pure kindness of heart that we credited the item to "an exchange." We didn't want to steal it, as our giving credit proves; but we didn't know but what you stole it, and then if we credited it to you the other fellow would come down on us both. We'll never try to do a good action again.

—Bathing suits this year are of diver's kinds.

—New ornaments for hats take singular shapes. Some resemble a hinge; others bars studded with nails; still other a section of lattice or trellis-work in gilt or silver.

—A teacher, after reading to her scholars a story of a generous child, asked them what generosity was. One little boy raised his hand and said, "I know; it's giving to others what you don't want yourself."

MARRIED.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

Board of Trustees.

FRANK W. MILLER, Chairman.
HENRY M. CLARK, Treasurer.
T. SALTER TREDICK, Secretary.
ALFRED M. HOYT.
JOS. HILLER FOSTER,
MOSES H. GOODRICH,
JOHN H. BROUGHTON, Mayor, Ex. Off.

The PAMPHLET which was printed last year, containing a report of all the proceedings at the Dedication of the Park, the Addresses of Rev. Mr. DeNormandie, Hon. C. L. Woodbury and others, with a full list of the 600 Trees set, and the names of the persons or Associations who set or paid for them—may be had at 25 cents per copy, at the Bookstore of J. H. FOSTER, or at the Portsmouth Weekly Counting Room. Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Daily Chronicle.

It Wasn't Blue Glass.

A chronic sufferer from rheumatism, in Hartford, at last resorted to the expedient of placing glass under each leg of his bedstead, so as to insulate the bed, electrically. His rheumatism at once disappeared, and he claimed to have got well. But he kept the glass (thick little preserve plates, we believe) under the legs of the bedstead. A month or two later his wife, who never had any faith in the performance and thought it was "all his imagination," quietly removed the glass one day, without letting her husband know it—with a view to joke him about it, at some future time; but the next day he complained, for the first time for six weeks or more, of a partial return of his old complaint—and by the day after that it was "all on again." A restoration of the glass insulators again stopped the rheumatism. This wasn't imagination, surely—for the sufferer didn't know the glass had been removed.

A Terrible Monster.

The Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise relates the following: "The other day the residents of the eastern portion of the city were surprised, and not a little terrified at first, by the appearance in the heavens, and apparently hovering over them, of a fiery flying serpent of immense dimensions. Its head appeared a fluid flame, while its eyes rolled as if in search of victims. Its motions through the air, as it billowed here and there, were like the contortions of a huge snake. This monster was subsequently ascertained to be a Chinese kite. Its head was red paper, with eyes half red and half white, which rolled as the wind found its way through the apertures, representing the sockets. This head kite was followed by eighteen others, about eighteen inches apart, made of tinted paper, oblong in shape, through the centre of which passed slender rattans, the tips extending some distance on each side and trimmed with fire red-paper tassels. Similar tassels along the tail and pendant from the head gave the whole a flying and fiery appearance truly startling."

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions, I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation o health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEE. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any state meat, heads, offal, or any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, but shall bury the same, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive matter therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, any slaughter house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.
It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.
It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.
It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.
For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:
For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.
WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.
DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Will find Life, Vigor and Health by using
PEPSINATED NUTRIMENT,
With the VEGETABLE PHOSPHATES,
which is superior to all other foods, for it consists of PURE NUTRIMENT. Containing only the pure nutritive portion of various grains, extracted by a chemical process (all inert principles being carefully rejected) combined with the Vegetable Phosphates obtained from the germinal portion of grain, so as to form a most perfect brain, bone, and muscle-producing food, combined with Pepsin, forming a complete remedy for the worst cases of Cholera Infantum, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all affections arising from a disordered stomach.
For Infants, Invalids, Growing Children and Nursing Mothers. Nursing Mothers should take it as a regular diet, in order to furnish nutriment and vitalizing material to the growing infant.
The only Infants' Food prepared on strictly scientific principles. To be used in Cholera Infantum, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and all intestinal troubles. For Infants, Invalids, Aged Persons, Nursing Mothers and Weakly Children.
This preparation is endorsed by the Medical Faculty, it having been in constant use by them for a number of years with the best of success, it being the only food acting with certainty in those cases that require Pepsin and the Phosphates for complete success.
DYSPEPSIA, HEARTBURN, ACID STOMACH, HEADACHE, BILIOUS STOMACH, DIARRHŒA, and any derangement of the Organs of Digestion are immediately relieved and speedily cured by
PEPSINATED CHARCOAL.
It is particularly adapted to Chronic Cases, and is prescribed and endorsed by our first physicians as the only preparation ever presented for the troubles for which it is recommended.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council, Tuesday, the following appointments were made: John C. Pillsbury of Concord, Warden of the State Prison; John G. Kimball of Nashua, Amos J. Blake of Fitzwilliam and Leander W. Cogswell of Henniker, Bank Commisssoners; Wm. W. Johnson of New Ipswich, Special Railroad Commissioner for the Peterboro' & Shirley Railroad; John K. Stokes, Concord, Janitor of the State House; Erastus V. Cobleigh, Lancaster, Sealer of Weights and Measures for Coos county; Hon. Daniel Marcy, Portsmouth, Trustee of the Reform School. The resignation of Judge Sawyer was received and accepted.

A young man in Rochester went to an apothecary, told a pitiful tale and wanted some rhubarb. After it was put up he wanted a little whiskey. The apothecary would not sell it, but gave him some. The next day he returned and wanted some more rhubarb put up in whiskey, which was done. Then the sneak went and informed, and the apothecary was arrested for selling liquor. Now that young man can't appear in public unless he is greeted with the cry of rhubarb. He was driven from a hall by the taunts, and going to a circus the clown commenced his jokes on him, and he retired. The apothecary has some cigars labeled, "rhubarb cigars, good for colic."

The third trotting meeting of the "Eastern Circuit" opened at the Dover trotting park on Tuesday. The first race, for 2:50 horses, purse $800, was won by Voltaire, which horse took the 3d, 4th and 5th heats; best time, 2:28. The second race, in the 2:22 class, purse $800, was won by Comee in the 4th, 5th and 6th heats; best time 2:26.

The house, barn and outbuildings, owned and occupied by Dudley Ladd, situated in the west part of Deerfield, were burned by an incendiary on Sunday morning. Loss $1500; insured $800.

News and Notes.

Gen. Benjamin F. Butler delivered his famous lecture on Tuesday night at the New York Academy of Music, entitled the "Irish Soldiers in America." The Academy was crowded. Charles A. Dana presided, and introduced Gen. Butler as the "renowned soldier, statesman and patriot."

James C. O'Connell, a prominent tobacco dealer, shot and killed Levi Ball on account of a debt, at Lodres, Ky. Also opposite Ripley, Ohio, C. Boyd shot and killed Dr. Lytle for the alleged seduction of his sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Gorton D. Oxx of Newport, R. I., have just been "blessed" with their 20th child.

Bergh has procured the conviction of Thomas Dickinson, engineer of the Hebrew Orphan Asylum, in New York, for throwing a live dog into a blazing furnace, and fined $100, or imprisonment not to exceed 100 days.

Mr. James Gordon Bennett's friends, says the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, are writing to him to "come home and stop this nonsense of affecting exile." One of them, a noted man of fashion, wrote him the other day he must not flatter himself that it was dangerous for him to come back, or that people were still talking about him. "Ex-Mayor Hall," he said, "bowed you out long ago."

A remarkable fact, but nevertheless true, that the dinner given by the Manhattan Club, in New York, was gotten up by Hon. Samuel J. Tilden for Samuel J.'s benefit, and yet Thomas Hendricks reaped the reward. How strangely our plans are upset.
—Cincinnati Enquirer (Dem.)

—The American giantess, Mrs. Ruth Beaton, alias Fanny Wallace, who has traveled with circuses all over the country, has just died at her residence in Vernon county, Wis. She was fifty-four years old, seven feet four inches in height, and weighed 585 pounds. Her coffin was seven feet eight inches in length, three feet six inches in depth, four feet wide at the center, twenty-four inches at the head, and twenty-three inches at the foot, and it required eight men with block and tackle to lower the remains into the grave. She is described as having been "a kind, good neighbor, a loving mother, and was beloved by all who knew her. Knowing that she must inevitably shuffle off the mortal coil, all the necessary preparations were made, and she died surrounded by her family and many friends, happy, contented, with an unshaken belief in her adopted religion, which was that of an 'Advent.'"

—The Chicago Tribune is still protesting against General Grant's supposed clothes. The Tribune finds that the law gives army officers retired from the service the right to wear the uniform pertaining to the highest rank they ever held in the volunteer army, and hence deduces that, the law being silent about officers who are retired from the regular army, and perhaps never held any position as volunteers, they can't wear their old uniforms. By the same token, the law being silent about it, it is a question if Grant can legally wear any clothes at all. He wore citizens' dress when he was President, and we can't find on the statute books any law authorizing a retired President to wear the clothes of a President, or any other clothes whatever.

New York Letter.

NEW YORK, June 18.

The Association of Art Students, whose rooms are at 108 Fifth avenue, is based upon the co-operative plan. It is sustained by monthly dues from students and its aims are to extend to its members, mutual aid, encouragement, and unlimited facilities for study in the various branches of art. Ambitious students found themselves restricted in their facilities for advancement at the old academy, and so conceived the idea of establishing the Art Students' League, which has within two years grown into a vigorous, progressive and permanent institution, affording its members better advantages for study than can be obtained elsewhere, except in Europe.

The advocates of temperance seem for once to have a legal advantage over the traffickers in intoxicating liquors. The temperance champions, Thursday, caused the excise board to be arrested for violation of law in granting licenses to retail liquor dealers. It has been discovered that the law passed in 1857, which prohibits license for retailing liquors, is the only law now in force. What is called the Tweed excise law, which granted retail liquor licenses, was passed in 1866, but the legislature of 1870 repealed it, which leaves the whole question subject to the retail prohibition law of 1857. The temperance advocates are active and alert and there is much excitement among the small liquor dealers. A test case will be tried in a few days.

The ladies of Staten Island have organized what is termed "The ladies' out-of-door sport club." Among the active members are some of the most prominent and aristocratic ladies of Staten Island. Their sports consist of archery, croquet and other lawn sports. They have already had several interesting meetings.

The New Horticultural Society closed the exhibition of roses and strawberries at Gilmore's Garden last night. The display of roses was superb, and the strawberries were immense; one lot of ten berries weighed one pound. This display brought out the aristocracy; so we had roses and bon ton, strawberries and creme de la creme.

Att'y General Fairchild has rejected and returned the proposition made by Tweed for his relief. It seems that the Tweed issue has been used by the State politicians to carry selfish and party measures; and that the prisoner has been but a political shuttlecock and scapegoat ever since his "last residence in Ludlow." Mr. Townsend, Tweed's counsel, will probably make public the whole statement; yet there is little hope of obtaining a release for his client. Tweed is dejected and expresses himself as discouraged relative to ever gaining his freedom.

It is a fact that Tilden is so broken down that he has but little mental vigor left, and in place of leading his party in 1880 the probabilities are that he will be unknown in politics, and that then he will be in the great unknown which awaits all.

Ex-Secretary Belknap has been in New York at the St. James Hotel for a month or more, but what he is doing does not appear. Mrs. Belknap is in Keokuk, Iowa.

Gen. Butler will lecture at the Academy of Music this evening in aid of a Catholic church. It seems that Butler is "wool gathering" in New York, in place of raising sheep in Colorado.

Thursday, the 14th inst., was the birthday of the American Flag, and in honor of the day, the Stars and Stripes floated in the city almost as conspicuously as on a fourth of July.

The exodus of ministers to Europe this summer seems in numbers largely increased over last year. A large number of popular city pastors are already off for their summer vacation.

Another Indian War.

The reports of an Indian outbreak and massacre in Idaho and Oregon are confirmed. A party of Nezperces Indians under White Bird attacked the settlers on Comas prairie, killed four or five men and their families, and several teamsters. The other Indians in the neighborhood joined the marauders, and the slaughter of whites continued until about thirty or more were killed. Two companies of troops from Lewiston, Idaho, with 150 citizens and some friendly Indians, attacked the hostiles at the head of White Bird canon. The troops dismounted, and left a few of the soldiers and twenty friendly Indians to hold the horses. The Indians opened fire upon the troops, and fighting was continued for some time. The friendly Indians became alarmed. The soldiers guarding the horses could see that the Indians were getting the best of the fight, and that the soldiers were retreating. The Captain of the party of citizens and Sergeant Lytle and one private are known to have been killed. The whole of the horse guard, both Indians and whites, broke and ran. A soldier who reached the garrison at 8 o'clock on the morning of the 18th, from the fight, reported that the troops were on foot and surrounded by Indians in the canyon, and in a hand-to-hand fight Col. Perry and about half of the command are said to have been killed. The remainder were surrounded and fighting against odds when the informant left. There is a general uprising of the savages and the whole country is wild with alarm. The Indians are massacring men, women and children on the Comas prairie, and the settlers fleeing in all directions for safety. Gen. Howard is at Lewiston, but is powerless, owing to inadequate military forces. Troops have been ordered from a number of posts in the department, and will soon be on the way to the scene of the disturbances. Gen. McDowell, commanding the Division of the Pacific, has been telegraphed to for the speedy assistance demanded.

County Reports.

The annual reports of the County Commissioners, Supt. of County Farm, Sheriff, County Treasurer, etc., for the year ending May 12, 1877, is issued from the press of Wingate & Dunton, of Exeter, and distributed to the people. The total payments by order of the County Commissioners were $55,009.73, the items being as follows:

County Farm	$26,320 54
New Asylum for Insane (construction)	5,194 31
House of Correction "	444 42
Paupers off the Farm	9,741 09
Exeter Jail	1,700 97
Portsmouth Jail	4,348 71
Registry of Deeds and New Index	1,599 65
Probate Expenses	357 95
Expenses of Court and Court Houses	2,829 75
Officers and Justices' Fees	1,370 52
Coroner's Inquests	51 60
Miscellaneous	1,048 22
Total	$55,007 73

From the report of the Superintendent we learn that the number of commitmeuts to the House of Correction at Brentwood for the last year was two hundred and fifty-nine (259) males 240, females nineteen, for the following causes: Common drunkard ten, drunk ninety-one, drunk and intoxicated 5, stealing 7, desertion 9, disorderly conduct 2, assault 9, threatening 1, obscene and abusive language 2, public vagrant, beggar and tramp 19, vagabond and tramp 4, vagrant 1, public beggar and tramp 5, begging 3, brawl and tumult 13, public vagrant 1, tramp 2, vagabond beggar and tramp 25, maliciously destroying property 1, unlawful exposure of goods for sale 3, insulting and impeding 1, breaking glass 1, vagrant and tramp 60, breaking and entering 3. Of these 187 paid fines and costs in money or labor, 65 deserted, of whom 13 were recommitted, 185 served time, one died, 2 discharged by order of court. Amount of fines and costs received in cash and paid treasurer $279.30 besides a large amount worked out by valuable labor, both in doors and out. As a number of prisoners are committed on two or more charges, and several deserters of the previous year are necessarily counted again, the total number of committals show in excess of the number of prisoners received.

The payments on account of County Farm were $26,320.54; interest on valuation of real estate, $3,906; depreciation of personal property, $2,932.26; total, $33,158.80 Taking from this the sums paid the County Treasurer by the Superintendent, and the labor of men and teams on the new Asylum, together amounting to $3,099.70, and the total expenses of the County Farm for the year stands at $30,059.19. The average number of prisoners and paupers was 232; weekly cost per head, $2.49. There were three births and 25 deaths at the Farm during the year.

From the Sheriff's report it appears that 9 prisoners were confined in Portsmouth jail when he took charge of it, August 16, 1876, and up to May 15th, 1877, 49 others were admitted. The highest number in the jail at one time was 22; lowest number, 10; average, 15; at present in jail, 10. In Exeter jail there were 7 prisoners on August 19, 1876; admitted since, 26; highest number, 13; lowest number, 9; average, 6; now in jail, 4.

The County Treasurer reports the debt increased during the past year, by $10,037.84; total debt May 12, $119,056.56.

Concord Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 19.

The House assembled yesterday at 4 P. M. with a smaller number than has been seen at any one time this session. There were three petitions and six bills introduced which were referred to the proper committees.

The report through the Governor by the Secretary of State of the special committee on Normal School appointed at the last session was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Warren F. Daniell was qualified and took his seat for the first time this session.

The different committees have organized and are now rapidly considering the different bills that have been sent to them. The committee on judiciary have a vast amount of work assigned to them.

The Portland & Ogdensburg and Boston, Concord & Montreal railroads have settled their own difficulties among themselves, and thus the session will be shortened one week. I have been informed that the B. C. & M. has agreed that the portion of the road which the P. & O. had built from the Connecticut river to Scott's Mills and upon which the B. C. & M. had laid an injunction, should be legalized for one year, without going to the legislature for it, and that the P. & O. trains should run over the B. C. & M. road without any hindrance. It seems to be the plan among the different railroads to settle their own differences and if possible to unite their forces and kill the general railroad bill which will make its appearance from the railroad committee ere long.

A great deal of dissatisfaction has been expressed with the fish laws as they now exist upon the statute-book. A bill has been introduced, which, if passed, would give the monopoly of some of the fish ponds in the northern part of the State to the sportsmen of New York. One of the farmers proposes ere long to introduce a bill to give a bounty for killing crows, thinking this bird is an enemy to all other birds that are useful in destroying pestiferous insects.

Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth gave notice this afternoon of a bill to incorporate a Board of Instruction in Portsmouth.

The Publishers of the People Hand Book when trying to obtain the statistics of the members, received the following letter from one of the Town Clerks:

C. C. PEARSON & CO.—Dear Sirs: You ask me the occupation of our Representative. He is not a farmer, though he owns a large farm; he is not a hotel-keeper, but he has a hotel; he is not a lumberman, though he has yarded out five hundred cords of wood this winter; he is not a horse-jockey, though he has some good horses; he is not a civil engineer, but has laid a good many miles of railroad track; he is not lazy enough to be called a gentleman by profession, and I can't tell what to call his occupation. You may call it what you are a mind to. Yours, etc.

———, Town Clerk.

There are 22 members who are each on two committees, and 52 who are not on any.

The Cheshire county delegation had their pictures taken in front of the State House this afternoon.

Mr. Ordway of Warner introduced a bill regulating the sale of cider, whereby a man cannot purchase any unless 10 gallons are procured at one time. Referred to a special committee of ten, one from each county.

Yours, A. B.

FARMERS!

BEFORE BUYING A

MOWING MACHINE

GO AND SEE THE NEW

HAYMAKER!

This peculiar Machine is very simple and unlike any other ever made. The draft is very light, and in operation it is noiseless, as it cannot be heard fifty rods away. The operator has the most perfect control of the machine while at work. The knife will run at any angle and in any position, and is adapted to all kinds of the roughest work. There is no pitman to become obstructed among stumps and stones; the wheels are high and wide apart. There are but two Cog Wheels in the machine and they are about the size of a dinner plate. There is no gearing in the driving Wheels, and the only gear in the whole machine is enclosed by one small disk—or Rim perfectly protecting it from dirt—all quick running gearing heretofore used in other Mowers is entirely dispensed with, and but one small guiding shaft is used upon the machine; in fact one of the great features of this Machine is discarding the old fashioned style of quick running, complicated and cumbersome gearing. This novel gear is warranted to out-wear two sets of any other style of gearing. By means of a lever conveniently arranged near the driver, the points of the fingers may be turned up or down instantly while cutting. It will run very slowly or stop and start without backing, in the thickest grass. There are always eleven (11) cogs in contact instead of two or three as in other machines, thus distributing the wear over a much larger surface, reducing the pressure and friction upon each. There is only one rotating bearing besides the axle on the Machine, there are no boxes or bearings to wear out, or bolts for securing them to get lost. There are practically but two pieces between the axle and knife. There are a few of the principal points in the Haymaker, and one in want of a Machine should examine this before buying. We also keep repairs for all kinds of mowers, knives, sections, rivets, etc.

In connection with the above, we offer the

which has two more teeth than any other rake and is warranted to save its cost in raking one hundred acres over other Rakes having a less number of teeth. It is self-operating, can be dumped by either foot, hand or horse power. The teeth hang independently upon a rocking shaft hung directly between the wheels in the position usually occupied in other Rakes, by the axle, thus the teeth run flat upon the ground in a direct line with the trend of the wheels, under the hay or grain, picking it up and carrying it along instead of dragging it on the ground, as is done by all other Rakes.

Both of the above implements are now on exhibition at our store, also a large assortment of Haying Tools, consisting of Scythes, Snaths, Forks, Rakes, &c. Also a full assortment of Wheel Stock: Hubs, Spokes, Bent Rims, &c. All of which will be sold at the lowest price at

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well ax. Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 25 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $4.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have no fear I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving my testimony, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not hit his head to his mouth for twenty or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not walk. I have known him

HE ISN'T DEAF.

In answer to the enquiry of "Voter" in Wednesday's CHRONICLE, "Is our City Marshal deaf, or is the small boy and his fire-cracker to be endured for three weeks before the orthodox time of torment arrives!" the Marshal replies that he is not deaf, and that he does not need to have noises reported to him, as he can hear them as well as anybody; and further, that if "Voter" or any other person who is annoyed at the firing of crackers will report to him the name of the boy or man who fires them, (instead of complaining in the papers that the noise is made and then virtually shielding the offenders,—for that is what a failure to complain of them amounts to,) it will be of more assistance to the police in the execution of their duty than two whole columns of the most vigorous growling.

The Marshal certainly seems to have hold of the common-sense end of the question. There is no city ordinance against the discharge of fire-arms or fire-works in the streets, chapter 252 of the General Statutes covering the whole matter, Sections Five and Sixteen reading as follows:

SECTION 5. No person shall, within the compact part of any town, fire or discharge any cannon, gun, pistol or other fire-arms, or beat any drum, except by command of a military officer having authority therefor, or fire or discharge any rockets, squibs, crackers, or any preparation of gunpowder, except by permission of a majority of the police officers or selectmen in writing, or make any bonfire, or improperly use or expose any friction matches, or knowingly raise or repeat any false cry of fire.

SECTION 16. Any person convicted of any offence in this chapter mentioned shall be fined from one to twenty dollars, or imprisoned from five days to six months.

The above provisions, if enforced, would effectually stop the annoyance "Voter" complains of; but they are not enforced in any town or city in the State, cannot possibly be enforced by the unaided efforts of even the most efficient police, and more than that were never intended to be enforced. If it was really desired to stop the discharge of fire-works in any place, say in this city, it could be easily done by passing an ordinance prohibiting their sale; that would do it, and nothing else will, for as long as crackers, torpedoes, dummy pistols for exploding percussion caps, etc., are exposed for sale in half the shop-windows in town, just so long the small boy will bang them off under horses' feet and ladies' dresses and alongside old gentlemen's ears, to the disgust of the aggrieved parties, who will continue to growl at the police but will not complain of or give evidence against their annoyers.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

The committee of arrangements for celebrating July Fourth announce the following sport: At 8 o'clock the Antiques and Horribles will form on Richards Avenue, and march a half hour later around the city to Market square. This is expected to be one of the largest and most comical turnouts ever seen in this city, and to still further add to its interest the committee have decided on making the following awards:

For the best hit (either local or otherwise,) $10; best four-wheel team, $10; second best, $5; best two-wheel team, $5; second best, $3; horse-back rider, $5; second best, $3; person on foot, $4; second best, $3.

These prizes are to be awarded by disinterested parties after the close of the march. All the neighboring towns are cordially invited to swell the ranks and contest for the prizes.

At 2:30 o'clock the sports will begin on Market square, for which $25 in prizes will be awarded: Potato Feat $5; Running Match $3; Sack Race $5; Jumping Match $2; Three-legged Race $5; Greased Pole Climbing $5. Prizes to be awarded at the conclusion of each feat. Parties desiring to compete are requested to confer at the earliest moment with any member of the following committee: John S. Treat, Wilbur I. Trafton, Charles E. Hatch, John S. Perry, Plumer D. Norton, Oliver M. Knight, Charles A. Canney, Edward D. Coffin.

This committee are to hold another meeting on Friday evening to make further arrangements. A subscription paper has been left at Rundlett's drug store for the convenience of those desiring to help along the celebration. Mr. William G. Kidder has been chosen Treasurer.

THE YOUNG LADIES' SCHOOL.

The closing exercises at Miss Morgan's school took place on Monday and Tuesday, and were largely attended by the parents and friends of the scholars from abroad as well as by our own citizens. Not having been able to be present ourselves, we cannot give a detailed list of the performances; but we hear from all quarters loud praises of the excellence of the recitations in the several departments and of the vocal and instrumental music, in which the pupils reflected equal credit on their own diligent application and the skilful instruction of their several teachers. The French play which closed the Monday exercises was beautifully rendered; and "those who know" say that the accent of the young ladies is perfect. On Tuesday afternoon Mr. James T. Fields gave to a delighted audience his charming lecture on "Fiction," to praise which would indeed be superfluous. At the close he "dropped into verse, in a friendly manner," and in a few felicitous lines, in which he interwove the various names of the young lady pupils, expressed his interest in and admiration of the school and occasion. We hope to obtain and present these to our readers. The reception, Tuesday evening, was a very pleasant affair and highly enjoyed by all present, among whom we noticed Judge Fowler and Hon. Geo. E. Todd of Concord; Hon. H. N. Jose of Portland, Gen. McNeil and many gentlemen and ladies from Lowell, Salem, and other places. Senator Blaine, who was expected, was prevented by other engagements from arriving in season.

THE CIRCUS.

Comes to-day, and gives two performances, one in the afternoon and one in the evening, besides the out-of-doors "Saturnalia of splendor" on the streets. That the show will be fully attended and that entire satisfaction will be given the audience, we do not doubt. No similar show ever received such notices as this one from the press, within our memory, the papers universally declaring that all is performed and shown that the advertisements announce will be. We have already given numerous quotations from leading papers, and shall give but one or two more, and those brief ones. The Providence Journal, a staid, dignified paper that never "slops over," says: "Everybody seemed pleased, as well they might be; for it is seldom that a circus travels through the land that presents so great attractions, and so very satisfactorily redeems its promises." The Boston Globe says the show "performs everything contained in the programme," and the Herald says "it is the best appointed and best conducted circus that has visited Boston for years." We could fill a column with two-line extracts from unqualified commendations given this show by our exchanges; and if the entertainment given here is but half as good as it is credited with having given in every other place it has appeared in this season, all who attend will be satisfied. The advertisement can easily be found on the fourth page.

Trains from Dover to Portsmouth will be run for 90 cents, which will include fare both ways and admission to the above show.

A "WHAT-IS-IT?

On Wednesday Mr. E. A. Tilton brought into our sanctum a pet straddlebug, adopted by him the day before. It is a queer looking insect, about the size and nearly the shape of a large wasp, its head and front pair of legs being a brilliant yellow, two other pairs of legs and the body being so dark a brown as to be almost black. It has a pair of transparent wings, handsome but apparently quite useless, as the creature cannot fly; but what makes it looks oddly is a sort of slender, cylindrical tail nearly four inches long. What this exaggerated continuation is for we are not entomologist enough to tell; it is not a stinger, and the only use the insect made of it in our presence was to be capsized by it when it got foul of anything. Mr. Tilton does not know what kind of an insect it is, any more than do we; it is not a dragon-fly, nor anything like one. If the Kittery man who found fault with the way we rigged Mr. Dixon's yacht "Phantom" could only see this wonderful bug, he would be sorry he growled at us for putting her bowsprit "fourteen feet over her stern."

TELL IT ALL.

Messrs. Editors:—We were very glad to see the Times come out Wednesday night and rap a shortcoming of our Mayor, and as Mr. Guppy is so ready to retrospect a little on republican ground, we hope he will not decline to do so in democratic fields. Serve all alike; show up the Rockingham House supper, and also the buying of the Steam Fire Engine No. 4,—for justice hurts no honest man and these are stories the people would like to hear about.

TAX PAYER.

THE MARINE WAR.

Messrs Editors: I have noticed with some interest the sharp attacks of a writer in the Times and your paper, on Mayor Broughton, for not having ordered an inquest on the body of the marine lately found dead in the river, and also the Mayor's spicy reply to his assailant. I judge from the anonymous communications that the writer is more enraged at some fancied breach of naval etiquette by the Mayor, than he is by any assumed want of humane interest in the dead man; and he certainly gets as good as he sends when the Mayor informs him that he cares not a snap for naval rules or customs. As to the suspicious circumstances attending the marine's death, I for one never heard of them until they were discovered by the anonymous writer; I heard that the man was last seen alive going over Portsmouth bridge, and very drunk; that his dead body was found eleven days later, given in charge of the marine officers, and under their direction at once buried.

But even had there been "suspicious circumstances" connected with this case, the experience of the Portsmouth police in a former case in which a marine was concerned (and with the working up of which I had something to do) was not such as to tend to make the force over anxious to have anything to do with this one. A marine was found in Kittery, having been terribly and it was at first supposed fatally beaten; a humane comrade told a cock-and-a-bull story about finding him with his head caved in near the pump on Noble's Island, and carrying him on his back across the bridge; and the "North End roughs" of Portsmouth were unsparingly denounced (in the CHRONICLE and elsewhere,) as brutal murderers. The police took hold of the case, and at considerable trouble and expense soon accumulated abundant proof that the real assassin was the humane comrade, and that the assault was committed in Kittery; this evidence was laid before the officers at the Navy Yard and the law officers of York county, but no other notice was taken of it than to snub the officers by mildly suggesting that they were meddling with what was none of their business. I feel safe in saying that from that time forward none of that police force took much interest in cases where marines complained of wrong, if there were any such. That I have stated the facts correctly Messrs. Israel Marden and Ozro J. Hobbs, the then Marshal and Assistant Marshal, will testify.

MEMORY.

JOTTINGS.

An advertisement of interest to farmers about to commence haying will be found in another column.

On Tuesday the schooner Jennie brought in twelve hundred nice mackerel, taken at the Shoals.

In the July number of Harper's Magazine, Bret Harte leads off, with a pictured poem "On a Naughty Little Boy, Sleeping." In the "Snow Banners of the California Alps" Mr. John Muir gives us some capital pictorial illustrations as well as a chapter of very interesting information well suited to hot weather. Mr. Trowbridge has a narrative (or rather a dramatic) poem, "The Wreck of the Fishing-boat," with illustrations. In the paper on "The Mohawk Valley During the Revolution," Harold Frederick has an interesting chapter, with singularly fine wood-cut illustrations. There is also an attractive paper on Westminster Abbey, by Lyman Abbott, with twenty-six illustrations, and a great variety of other good things. Moses Brothers and Joseph H. Foster have "Harper" for sale.

The largest and fairest strawberries we have seen this year are from the Robie farm in Greenland, sold by Mr. S. S. Frye. Three tiers just fill a box.

The fishermen report the mackerel sharks are unusually numerous this year, and a source of great annoyance to the seiners, often causing not only the loss of a good catch of fish but the destruction of the nets. One of these objectionable attendants on the mackerel schools was taken by the schooner Weehawken on Wednesday, and weighed one hundred and seventy-five pounds.

Strawberries are cheap enough now—only fifteen cents a box for nice ones, on Wednesday. We don't see how they can afford to grow at that price.

Governor Goodwin is the name of the new ship owned by Messrs. M. F. Pickering & Co., now nearly ready for launching from the shipyard of Campbell & Brooks at East Boston, and built under the supervision of Captain Edgar Paine, the Marine Inspector of American Lloyd's Register. She is 1000 tons, carpenters' measurement, has a full figure of Governor Goodwin of New Hampshire for a head, and is of a good model for carrying and sailing. Captain Lester will command her. He is also interested in her as an owner, and has superintended her construction throughout. A day has not yet been selected for her launch.—Globe.

There is to be a circus in town to-day any to-night. A lot of pilferers generally keep along with a circus, in hope of plunder. Would it not be wise to leave the street gas-lights burning all night.

LANGDON PARK
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St. Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.
☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.
The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

Daily Chronicle.

—There are but three classes of men—the retrograde, the stationary, and the progressive.

—The man who about house-cleaning time sold you a first-class furniture polish will in a day or two have the same article for sale at the seaside as an infallible remedy for the removal of freckles.

A Medicine of Many Uses.

A medicine which remedies dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, debility, intermittent and remittent fevers, urinary and uterine troubles, depurates the blood, counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and gout, and relieves nervousness, may be truly said to have many uses. Such an article is Hostetter's Bitters, one of the most reliable alteratives of a disorderly or a well-ordered state of the system ever prepared or sold. It has been over a quarter of a century before the public, is endorsed by many eminent professors of the healing art, and its merits have received repeated recognitions in the columns of leading American and foreign journals. It is highly esteemed in every part of this country, and is extensively used in South America, Mexico, the British possessions and the West Indies. If its increase in public favor in the past is to be regarded as a reliable criterion of its gain in popularity in coming years, it has indeed a splendid future before it.

Diamonds and Pearls.

Eyes bright as diamonds should be supplemented by teeth white as pearls, and this latter element of beauty can be secured by using Sozodont. If brushed in night and morning, this fragrant vegetable preparation is guaranteed to preserve the soundness of the teeth, and prevent their turning yellow.

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.

HE WILL COME;

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, JR., D. D.

This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts to the near disposition. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 16mo., 216 pp., $1.25 in Cloth; $2.50 in Morocco. CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 16, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth, and all vaults and privies of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of manure of the stalls shall be permitted to keep any stale meat, heads, offal or refuse of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any seller of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing adverse said to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

ROBERT BRIBBEN,
DANIEL DANIELSON,
Health Officers.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Origin of the Postage Stamp.

The postage stamp was born in London on the 10th of January, 1840, and England employed it alone for ten years. It was a curious incident that gave rise to the idea of postage stamps. A traveller was crossing, about forty years ago, a district in the north of England. He arrived at the door of an inn where a postman had stopped to deliver a letter. A young girl came out to receive it; she turned it over and over in her hand and asked the price of postage. This was a large sum, and evidently the girl was poor, for the postman demanded a shilling. She sighed sadly, and said the letter was from her brother, but that she had no money; and so she returned it to the postman. The traveller was a man who rambled about the earth for instruction and observation. Having a good heart, he offered to pay the postage of the letter, and in spite of the resistance of the young girl he paid the shilling. This resistance made him reflect. Scarcely had the postman turned his back when the young innkeeper's daughter confessed that it was a trick between her and her brother. Some signs marked on the envelope had told her all she wanted to know, but the letter contained no writing.

"We are both so poor," she added, "that we invented this mode of corresponding without paying for our letters." The traveller, continuing his road, asked himself if a system giving place to such frauds was not a vicious one.

The sun had not set before Mr. Rowland Hill (that was the name of the traveller) had planned to organize the postal service upon a new basis. He said that in England, where family ties are strong, and where the members often live far apart—where, too, the spirit of commerce knows no limits, the correspondence was only limited by the cost of the post; and that by lowering this barrier, a great service would be rendered to society without hurting the resources of the treasury. These views were agreed to by the English Government, and on the tenth of January, 1840, not more than a penny was paid for letters which circulated over the whole extent of the British Isles. This bold scheme soon surpassed the hopes of the legislators. Ten years later, in 1850, the number of letters increased from 1,500,000 to 7,239,962.

How the Oyster Builds His Shell.

The body of an oyster is a poor, weak thing, apparently incapable of doing anything at all; yet what a marvellous house an oyster builds around his delicate frame! When an oyster is first born he is a very simple, delicate dot, as it were, and yet he is born with his two shells upon him. For some unknown reason he always fixes himself upon his flat shell, and being once fixed he begins to grow, but he only grows in summer. Inspect an oyster shell closely, and it will be seen that it is marked with distinct lines. As the rings we observe in the section of a trunk of a tree denote years of growth, so does the marking of an oyster shell tell us how many years he has passed in his "bed" at the bottom of the sea.

Suppose an oyster was born June 15, 1870, he would go on growing up to the first line we see well marked; he would then stop for the winter. In the summer of 1871 he would more than double his size. In 1872 he would add to this house. In 1873 and 1874 he would again go on building till he was dredged up in the middle of his work in 1875, when he would be five and a half years old. The way in which an oyster builds his shell is a pretty sight. I have watched it frequently. The beard or fringe of an oyster is not only his breathing organ—i. e., his lungs—but his feeding organ, with which he conveys the food to his complicated mouth with his four lips. When the warm, calm days of June come, the oyster opens his shell, and by means of his fringe begins building an additional story to his house. This he does by depositing very fine particles of carbonate of lime, till they at last form a substance as thin as silver paper, and exceedingly fragile; then he adds more, till at last the new shell is as hard as the old shell. When oysters are growing in their shell they must be handled very carefully, as the new growth of shell will cut like broken glass, and a wound on a finger from an oyster shell is often very troublesome.—Cor. Forest and Stream.

A Rothschild in Court.

The other day Baron von Rochschild, from Frankfort, had to appear before the Berlin Stadtgericht, together with the other millionaire, Baron von Bleichroder. They were both witnesses in the trial of Baron von Diest-Daber, who among other offenses for which he was arraigned, was also indicted on a charge of libelling Prince von Bismark by saying he was bribed to a large amount on the occasion of the establishment of the Central Boden-Credit-Anstalt. Baron von Rochschild is deaf, and Baron von Bleichroder nearly blind. But this is not the point. Baran von Rothschild, when under examination, afforded great fun to the audience by his replies. Being asked how old he was, he said, "I am fifty-six—should like to be younger." The next question was whether he had been offered any money or presents to give evidence in favor of certain persons. "For Heaven's sake, no!" was his rejoinder. In the course of his examination the Baron often looked at his watch. "I suppose," said the presiding judge, "you would like to be soon released from this interrogation?" "Certainly," replied Cræsus. "It is 1.30; the train leaves at two for Frankfort, and my children expect me." This caused what you call a roar of laughter, but the fun culminated when the President said to the witness: "Have you given 500,000 thalers to Prince von Bismark for his participation in the institution?" the Baron answering, "How, Mr. President, am I to get half a million?" This naïvette simply killed the audience, and even the stern Staatsanwalt was unable to suppress a smile. You hear of nothing else but this scene in every drawing-room, at every dinner-cafe.—London Mayfair.

Daily Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1877.

Concord Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 20.

To-day has been a good legislative day and the first opposition of the session presented itself. The committee on railroads, to whom the Portland & Ogdensburg railroad bill was referred, made a report, and instead of the old bill, which was referred, recommended a new bill based upon the recent compromise agreed upon by the P. & O. and B., C. & M. railroads. The bill got as far as the third reading when Mr. Stevens of Nashua moved the rules of the House be so far suspended that the bill be put upon its third reading at that time. Mr. Ordway of Warner, fearing some hidden plot, moved that the bill be laid upon the table and the usual number of printed copies be obtained for the use of the House. After some slight debate between Ordway of Warner, Stevens of Nashua, and Sinclair of Bethlehem, a division of the House being called for Mr. Ordway's motion was adopted by a vote of 139 to 97. Thus the matter stands for the present.

Among other bills passed this afternoon was one to incorporate the Rochester & Farmington R. R., and one to incorporate the Portsmouth Temperance Mutual Relief Association.

A rigid temperance act was introduced this morning, which if it becomes a law and is enforced will be rather disastrous to some of not to all rumsellers. Among its provisions is this: if a person displays a sign with the words wine, beer, rum, whiskey, brandy, etc., upon it, or if bottles are displayed in the window going to show they do or will contain spirituous liquors, these things will be sufficient evidence to prove that intoxicating liquors are sold there and the person will be liable to indictment for the sale of the same. Furthermore, if a person applies for a license to sell liquors and obtains it, he will be liable to indictment for selling liquors. Mr. Ordway of Warner introduced a bill regulating the sale of cider, whereby no person can buy a smaller quantity than ten gallons at a time. This will be rather rough on those who want only a few glasses in a year, but will have no effect on the farmers, as they usually purchase a barrel at a time. These with some others relating to the temperance movement have been referred to a select committee of ten, one from each county.

As an example of to-day's business, there were this morning four petitions introduced and referred, seventeen reports from the different committees, most of which were ordered a third reading, twenty-three bills introduced, and notices of thirty-nine others to be introduced on to-morrow or some other subsequent day. Among those introduced were two by Mr. Hanson of Portsmouth and one by Mr. Hackett. Those of Mr. Hanson's were an act to amend chapter 272 of Revised Statues; an act to amend section 6, chapter 195 of the General Statues, relating to Justice's Courts and civil proceedings therein. That of Mr. Hackett's was an act to provide for the employment of prisoners in County Jails. Mr. Sise of Portsmouth this afternoon introduced an act in relation to formation of co-operative associations.

The Speaker has appointed the following committee on Reduction of State Expenses; Viles of Alstead, Langdon of Portsmouth, Sawyer of Dover, Hayes of Alton, Banks of Nashua, Haines of Wolfeborough, Daniell of Franklin, Kimball of Charlestown, Parker of Boston, and Lane of Whitefield.

Mr. J. A. French, a photographer from Keene, has been about Concord for the past two days, taking stereoscopic views. This morning he took a view of the House while in session.

The session's supply of stationary has been apportioned and I will give the exact amount given to each, so that your readers may see how great a waste of the public money there is: three half-sheets of letter paper, three whole sheets of letter paper, three envelopes, and a lead pencil; how extravagant! Some of the members suggest that the authorities, having this matter in charge, have been so generous that they had better supply them with a jack-knife to sharpen their lead pencil. A. B.

[Communicated.]

How Long, Oh How Long!

The news now comes of another massacre by the Indians of the white settlers in Oregon and Idaho. Such casualties are continually happening all along the vast frontier of the United States. Men, women and children of the Caucasian and African races are murdered at every full moon—the time when the red savages delight to make their forays—and boys are carried off into a captivity worse than death. It is only when an unusually large massacre takes place that notice of it is thrust before the public of the thickly settled States; then only to create a sensation for a short time, after which another horrible tale is related in due course of events. But, says a mistaken philanthropy, "oh, let these poor people alone; they have been robbed of their homes and their property." The fact is, that they never had any homes or property. They were always a miserable, thievish set, never content except when killing or plundering one another. They were probably Tartars coming across from Asia by the way of Behrings straits or the Aleutian islands, and exterminating a race of people far better than themselves. Had it not been that a pestilence had thinned them off at about that time, the settlers here might never have gained a foothold. The Quaker policy may suit them, but it does not suit civilization. They have been fed and armed by this government continually, only to go forth, whenever the fancy might seize them, to rapine and plunder again. All the talk about the mistreatment of them amounts to nothing; for whenever they show themselves satisfied to remain in the settlements, they are in fact treated even better than others. It scarcely ever happens that they have been molested unless when in the wilds or on the war path. They are still a very numerous crewd, wandering over an immense region in tribes. The tribal system should be broken up by this government and these people treated like all other people. Ben. Butler (however much his enemies may have justly or unjustly blamed him) once truly said in Congress on this very question that the time had gone by in the United States, when any men or set of men should be paid for behaving themselves. VIATOR.

A Seasonable Book.

We have examined with care the new work on the Eastern Question. "The Cross and the Crescent," of which the publishers, Messrs. Hubbard Brothers, of Philadelphia, have kindly sent us the advanced sheets. This work has been very carefully prepared by the well-known historian, Dr. L. P. Brockett, whose previous works on our late Civil War, the Seven Weeks' War, the Franco-German War, etc., have had such large sales. No work yet issued, or likely to be issued on this question which is now absorbing the attention of both Europe and American, can compare with this in fulness, accuracy, and interest. We have here in condensed form, but written in most attractive style, the history, religion, and social life, not only of Russia and Turkey, but of the principalities, and the countries adjacent; the relations of the great powers of Europe to the contending nations, the causes which led to the war, the positions of the tributary States, the religious and social conditions of the provinces where the insurrection began, and the whole history, as it has never been told elsewhere, of the horrible massacres and outrages in Bulgaria, a year ago, in the words of those who were eye-witnesses. We have also a full account of the earnest efforts of the Great Powers to prevent war, and the circumstances of their failure; and then, in a masterly word picture, a bird's eye view of the whole situation, and of all parties concerned, as it was on the day of the declaration of war. Appended to this clear and deeply interesting narrative, we have biographical sketches of the leading actors in this great drama, not dry biographical dictionary notices, but portraitures which enable you to read the souls of the men, and to understand the motives of their action. The whole book is a most valuable contribution to modern history. The price is very low, for it has over 500 pages, and fifty elegant illustrations, and every man and woman, and every boy and girl in the community, ought to possess and read it. The farmer needs it to learn how those far-off lands, with their semi-savage inhabitants are able to compete successfully with him in the culture of grain, of silk, of fruits, and of cotton; the merchant, to show him how he can buy to the best advantage the products of those distant countries, and what he can best sell them of our productions; the manufacturer, to learn how to adapt his goods to the wants of these strange races; the sailor, to ascertain what are their best ports and harbors; and the children to increase their knowledge of other lands, and the people that dwell in them; and all who read the news, to enable them to comprehend the situation and understand the important events that are effecting momentous changes in nations, religions and civilization.

The War.

The Turks were defeated at the battle of Delebaba, in Asia Minor, on the 16th, losing 350 prisoners and 1000 killed and wounded. Mukhtar Pasha is in a critical position—as usual.

In attempting to move toward Danilograd Wednesday, the Turks were attacked by the united forces of the Montenegrins, and after a sanguinary struggle of five hours' duration were driven back to Spuz, abandoning their camp and baggage to the mountaineers.

News and Notes.

The Indianapolis and Allegheny base ball clubs played a game at Pittsburg, Penn., on Wednesday, resulting in a tie, the score standing 2 to 2 at the end of seventeen innings.

Eleven Molly Maguire murderers were hanged in Pennsylvania, Thursday, some of them for murders committed fifteen years ago. The market price of murder in the Molly Maguire district may now be expected to advance above ten dollars.

The dead body of Mary Ella Harrington, the East Boston girl whose disappearance created so much excitement about a year ago, was found in the Merrimack river six miles from Lowell, Wednesday night. The body was bound with ropes into the smallest possible compass, sewed into a sack, and weighted down. The body was badly decomposed, owing to its long stay in the water.

Rear-Admiral Reynolds, commanding the Asiatic Station, has sent the United States steamer Alert to search for the shipwrecked persons, sixteen men and one woman, reported on some island near Dampier Straits. It appears that the schooner Urania sailed from Kodiak, Alaska Territory, on the 29th of December, 1875, for San Francisco, and has not since been heard from. She had on board Mr. Sheeran, United States Collector at Alaska, Capt. Lee and wife and others, in all numbering sixteen men and one woman. It is probable that the shipwrecked persons are those who were on the Urania and may yet be rescued.

St. John, N. B., was almost destroyed by fire Wednesday night. The fire commenced in a boiler shop and destroyed the Victoria hotel and two other public houses, all the public buildings and newspaper offices, Academy of Music, all the best houses, north and south wharves, Dock street, Market square, Prince William street, King street, all the way down to the lower cove and part of Germain street. Several lives are reported lost.

At Vancebury, Ky., there has been a fight between a gang of horse thieves and a vigilance committee. The reports say about seventy men were engaged and four were killed, but do not say which party whipped. At Ludlow, Ky., a sheriff's posse attempted to arrest a man named Oebsner, who fortified his house and stood a seige; he finally offered to surrender, and in pursuance of an agreement left his house, when he was shot dead. His friends threaten vengeance, and the citizens have organized for defence. In Kentucky, the democrats having always had entire control of affairs, human life and property are as safe as in any northern State.

St. Stephen, N. B., had an incendiary fire Wednesday night; several houses and a church were burned; loss $19,000.

Fifteen thousand persons were rendered homeless by the St. John fire. All the grocery and provision stores in the city were burned, and aid is earnestly called for.

The Augusta Journal says the expenses of two-thirds of the newspapers of Maine for the last six or eight months have been larger than their receipts.

Bertha Von Hillern on Wednesday evening walked 25 1-2 miles in ten minutes and thirty-seven seconds inside of six hours, at Lawrence (Mass.) City Hall.

Five tramps were sleeping on top of an old lime kiln in Bridgeport, Penn., on the night of the 19th, when it fell in and they were buried with rubbish. Four were instantly killed, and the other, Charles Blake of Worcester, Mass., was mortally wounded.

San Francisco reports of the 20th inst. say the latest advices from Gen. Howard, commanding in Idaho, state that Capt. Theller of the 21st infantry was killed in the fight with the Nezperces Indians at White Bird canon. The total killed and wounded in the fight number twenty-seven.

Judge Hilton, who owns the business of the late A. T. Stewart, having given orders to the managers of the Grand Union Hotel at Saratoga which resulted in Mr. Seligman, the New York banker, being refused accommodations at that hotel because he is a Jew, the Hebrews all over the country have ceased trading with A. T. Stewart & Co. This, it is said, will make a difference in their trade of at least $4,000,000 a year. Serve 'em right; what business is it of Hilton's what a man's religion is, so long as he pays his bills?

Barbarians of trade who deface natural scenery with advertisements would do well to be more cautious hereafter in plying their paint brushes in this State. Gov. Robinson signed on Friday a bill which was prepared by Senator Gerard and passed by the last Legislature, making the persons who would be benefited by such an advertisement legally responsible for it unless they can prove that it has been painted without their authority. A heavy fine and imprisonment is the penalty for every infraction of the law. In case the owner of the property defaced does not make a complaint, the overseers of the poor of a county are authorized to make one, and if any fine is obtained, to use it for the benefit of the poor. "Shocks to the sensibilities" through such advertisements, as Senator Gerard well said before the Senate in advocating his bill, greatly lessen the value of property at some summer resorts.—Tribune.

In spite of all that England is doing for Gen. Grant's pleasure, the London Times, with the recollection of Mr. Walter's visit to this country fresh upon it, comes forward with a deprecatory air to wish things were better where Americans are to be entertained. It says: "The Americans are hospitable to a fault when they are visited by any well-known Englishman. Statesmen, writers, men of science, all come back delighted with the warmth of their greeting; and the reception of the Prince of Wales was a memorable event among the many occasions on which he has received a civic or a National welcome. If this country is not quite so alert in the dispensing of public hospitalities, our American friends will be good enough to remember the multitude of our distinguished visitors. Great soldiers, Ministers, Kings, Emperors, Eastern personages of somewhat mysterious but awful dignity, pay flying visits to our shores, and they must be greeted with honors befitting their National position. Personages equally worthy of homage must often escape distinction simply because they are more or less private citizens."

New Hampshire Items.

Sylvanus Holmes' steam mill at Lancaster was burned Thursday, with a lot of lumber. Loss $7000.

A wood-shed and freight car belonging to the Eastern Railroad were burned at Great Falls on Thursday, by an incendiary fire. Loss about $700.

The house of Foster Gage, at Goffstown, with a store and barn adjoining, were burned Wednesday night. Loss $5000; fully insured.

The extensive lumber mills recently erected at Sawyer's River, five miles from Upper Bartlett, were burned on Wednesday. The mills were owned by C. W. Saunders of Lawrence. All the machinery, including five portable engines, was totally destroyed.

At the Dover Trotting park, Wednesday, the race for horses in the 2:27 class, purse $800, was won by Joe Ridley; best time 2:27 1-4. The 2:31 race was won by Lottie, best time 2:28 1-2.

The dwelling of Clara E. Morrill, at Bristol, was burned Wednesday morning. Loss $800; insured $500.

THE CROSS AND THE CRESCENT

A volume of thrill ng interest by the eminent historian L. P. BROCKETT, describing the Russians and Turks: social, political, and religious history and condition; their home-life, various customs and peculiarities, the causes of the war, the issues at stake—Christian against Mohammedan—the mighty interests of other nations involved; Biographies of the Rulers, Statesmen and Generals; all richly illustrated. The book millions need now. Wanted instantly, 3,000 agents on very liberal terms.

Address HUBBARD BROS., Publishers, 309 Main St., Springfield, Mass.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray, or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

THE CIRCUS

Arrived on Thursday according to previous announcement, and did everything else according to previous announcement, too. At an early hour in the morning the five performing elephants were treated to a bath in the North Mill-pond, the sagacious but unwieldy brutes evidently enjoying the fun like a parcel of schoolboys in swimming in some prohibited spot. They splashed and bumped each other around, laid down, stood on their heads, and cut up other pranks to their hearts' content until they were ordered out of the water, an order the animated and docile hay-stacks immediately obeyed.

Quite a little excitement was occasioned at the tent in the forenoon, when a female rope-walker travelled up a wire from the ground to the tent pole. As she was on the way down, the wire was swayed violently by the puffs of wind, and she turned to go back to the tent-pole again, when she suddenly lost her footing and came down flop on top of the tent, to the great horror of many of the lookers-on. She was not hurt a bit, and some people suspected the fall was a shrewd advertising dodge.

The street procession took place between nine and ten o'clock, the Mardi Gras Carnival filling the juvenile soul with unalloyed delight, and the man in the den of hyenas attracting much attention. The street show, as had been promised, was the best ever seen here, and it was witnessed by the usual crowds, the sidewalks being lined with citizens and visitors from the surrounding towns.

The afternoon and evening shows were largely attended, and fully merited the patronage received, for (unlike some other circuses that have been here) the whole strength of the establishment was not put into the street show, leaving but a meagre entertainment for the inside. On the contrary, things were done just as advertised; the performing elephants formed the pyramid as represented in the pictures, and one of them stood on his head; Mlle. Dockrill showed the most skillful and daring feats of horsemanship ever exhibited here by a woman; Fred O'Brien turned a double somersault over the backs of five elephants, and didn't break his neck; in short, the promises of the managers were faithfully carried out, and we believe no show of the kind that has been here within our recollection ever gave so general satisfaction.

We have noticed that our exchanges have spoken in most complimentary terms of Mr. Barnum, the manager. Mr. Moore, the press agent, Mr. Durand, the advance agent, and other gentlemen connected with this show; and we are satisfied the compliments have been deserved, for a more courteous and capable set of officials we have never met with.

[Communicated.]

MISS MORGAN'S EXHIBITION.

Those who had the pleasure of attending Miss Morgan's School Exhibition the present week, could not have failed to be satisfied, from her thorough system of education, and the progress of her pupils, that the institution confers credit alike upon the accomplished lady who conducts it and the city in which it is located; as well as being fully deserving of its yearly increasing popularity as its merits become known. A girls' school, with so many fair young faces blooming with health, and eyes sparkling with animation, is ever a beautiful scene, recalling to memory Mrs. Hemans' familiar lines. Such an one as Miss Morgan's must excite an ambition in the younger of their sex to be alike accomplished with her pupils in their later studies, and carry others back to their girlhood at some similar institution, where they acquired the education that has had for them so many sources of pleasure, as well as enabled them to grace society in their maturer life.

Of Mr. Fields' lecture, it is scarcely necessary to say that it was every way worthy of our best public lecturer at the present time. If his theme was fiction, there was none, as Mr. George W. Haven pleasantly remarked in introducing him, in the warm-heartedness of the welcome he received, and certainly no fiction in the pleasure he imparted to all present. It is the fortune of but few to be able to hold so undividedly the attention of their audience as does Mr. Fields. Especially was it the case amid the heat of Tuesday afternoon; all listening with the same eager interest to every word that fell from his lips. Of his lecture it may be said that it was elegant, entertaining and instructive, and high-toned in principle in that it denounced all corrupt literature whether of the present or the past.

A happy and enlivening scene was presented at the reception of their friends by Miss Morgan and her pupils on Tuesday evening; the young, the fair and the gay engaging in "the mazy dance," while others looked on with not less of pleasure; all promenading and chatting amid the pauses in the dance. It was one of those delightful scenes it is ever most pleasant to recall. The guests, in parting, wished Miss Morgan and her young lady scholars every enjoyment during the season of summer vacation. B.

SOON SQUARED UP.

As the circus procession was passing through the streets Thursday forenoon, a horse belonging to Mr. John Woods took fright at the elephants, near the junction of Market and Deer streets, and running away came in collision with another horse owned by the same man, one shaft of the cart to which the first horse was attached penetrating the other's breast a long distance, inflicting a wound resulting in immediate death. The horse which ran away was injured, but not seriously.

Mr. Woods called Sheriff Kent, and an interview was had with Mr. Henry Barnum, manager of the circus, relative to compensation for the loss of the horse. Mr. Barnum announced his willingness to accept service and give security for whatever damages might be assessed against the circus by the courts, but said that at the same time he did not think the circus could be compelled to pay for the horse, as the city had licensed the circus to appear and the street procession is a part of the advertised show, so that he thought most probably the city was liable; besides, the management had taken all possible care to guard against accidents, sending a mounted man ahead over the route of the procession to warn all people with horses that those animals are always afraid of elephants. However, the management was disposed to be not only just but liberal, and would pay a fair claim for damages, waiving all claim to exoneration under the law. Messrs. Henry R. Stoddard and Robert Roberts were called in, and appraised the dead horse at $200, and the damage to the other one at $20; and Mr. Barnum handed over $220 to Mr. Woods in full of all demands.

We do not know what the law might say about the responsibility for such an accident as the one above referred to, but Mr. Barnum's view certainly seems a commonsense one; the city having granted a permit for the parade, and it having been conducted with all reasonable precaution, one would naturally consider the city liable for any accidental damage that might occur, through no fault of the parties licensed to parade. But Mr. Woods is no doubt glad to get his money without the trouble and expense of a law-suit with the circus or the city, or both, and the prompt and liberal settlement made will not injure the reputation of the big show any.

JOTTINGS.

At the seventy-fourth anniversary celebration and graduation exercises of Bradford, (Mass.) Academy, Wednesday, Miss Mary Gay Goodrich, daughter of Hon. Moses H. Goodrich, was one of the graduates and read an essay on "Deeds, not words."

A busybody correspondent of the Times and CHRONICLE is much exercised because more legal and formal ceremony was not exhibited in the burial of a poor marine found dead in the river the other day. But there was no mystery or cause for suspicion about the case, and we think most coroner's inquests only a useless burden and tax upon the people. The inevitable verdict would be, "Rum did it," and we do not think it at all "difficult to say where lies the most blame," for it is clearly first with the unfortunate man for drinking, second with the men who made and who sold him the liquor, and last but by no means least, with the community which tolerates and allows all these drunken practices.—Weekly.

Punch and Judy attracted a large crowd of juveniles on Market square, Wednesday.

Chief Engineer David B. Macomb, lately on duty at this naval station, has been ordered to the Hartford as fleet engineer of the North Atlantic station.

Seymour Wilcox Tullock, a son of Portsmouth, graduated at the Rensalaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, N. Y., on the 12th instant. His thesis was a "Review of the new wrought-iron lattice bridge of the Delaware & Hudson Canal Company over the Hudson River at Troy, N. Y." The reading of fourteen theses by the members of the graduating class of '77 occupied two days, and on the day of the fifty-first annual Commencement of the Institution, twenty-seven received their diplomas, and the degree of Civil Engineer. Rev. Dr. Tucker delivered the baccalaureate sermon at the St. John's M. E. Church, and Prof. Alfred P. Boller, Class of '61, the annual address, at Music Hall. The Troy papers give a glowing account of the interesting occasion, including the Commencement exercises at Music Hall, "with its splendid auditorium filled with the beauty and fashion of the city, and the graduates appearing like so many heroes facing the batteries of bright eyes from behind safe redoubts of flowers, piled up in great profusion and magnificence by fair friends." The theses "evinced deep thought and indicated that a thorough research had been made by each writer on the scientific topic he had chosen to discuss." The drawings were pronounced excellent, "displaying great beauty of workmanship and accuracy of outline." The farewell meeting and class supper of the graduates at Harmony Hall was very interesting and sumptuous, "music and speeches whiled the happy hours away." Speeches were made by Mr. Tullock and other members of the class, to great acceptance. Also, the ball at the close of the exercises "was a brilliant affair, and lasted into the 'wee sma' hours.'"

Political.

The greatest man in modern American politics stood up when Samuel J. Tilden made his speech in New York the other evening.—Milwaukee News (dem.)

Mr. Tilden's talk at the Manhattan Club is made on the basis of last December's public opinion. The world has moved since then and the apples are much further down the stream.—New Orleans Times (dem.)

The investigations of republican irregularities in South Carolina are bringing to lights facts that democrats will not like to see. A clerk of the Legislature charges that the ablest democratic paper, the Charleston News and Courier, accepted all of the disbursements for advertising which were offered it. This journal does not deny the charge, but to show that it was not the only democratic journal accepting plunder for printing, publishes a list of thirty-one papers which received $75,000 in 1872 for printing the laws, of which eighteen were democratic, and another list of twenty-eight papers which received $48,096 in 1872-3, of which twenty-one were democratic.

—Some one said to Hugo once upon a time: "It must be very difficult to write good poetry." "No, sir," replied the poet; "it is either very easy or utterly impossible."

—John Bull continues to grumble because Jonathan's beef is sold a few pence higher than British beef. Mr. Bull, do you expect to purchase cattle raised and fattened on freedom's proud prairies, in the land of the Fourth of July, at the same price as that which you pay for the beef of an effete little monarchy?—Boston Herald.

A Medicine of Many Uses.

A medicine which remedies dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, debility, intermittent and remittent fevers, urinary and uterine troubles, depurates the blood, counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and gout, and relieves nervousness, may be truly said to have many uses. Such an article is Hostetter's Bitters, one of the most reliable alteratives of a disorderly to a well-ordered state of the system ever prepared or sold. It has been over a quarter of a century before the public, is endorsed by many eminent professors of the healing art, and its merits have received repeated recognitions in the columns of leading American and foreign journals. It is highly esteemed in every part of this country, and is extensively used in South America, Mexico, the British possessions and the West Indies. If its increase in public favor in the past is to be regarded as a reliable criterion of its gain in popularity in coming years, it has indeed a splendid future before it.

Diamonds and Pearls.

DR. A. J. FLAGG: Dear Sir—I have good reason for regarding your Cough and Lung Syrup as of the greatest value. I feel assured that it was the means of saving my life. I have been troubled for a number of years with a Chronic Asthma, and so intensely severe Cough. Medical counsel called me in Consumption. I tried many remedies to effect a cure, and at last having given up all hopes of recovery, as a final remedy, was strongly urged to try Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup, which I procured, and using several bottles, found myself at last a NEW WOMAN. It is with deep gratitude and pleasure that I express with my signature the great value of your wonderful remedy.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 3 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, or such variety as he may indicate, by sending $3, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

The PAMPHLET which was printed last year, containing a report of all the proceedings at the Dedication of the Park, the Addresses of Rev. Mr. DeNormandie, Hon. C. L. Woodbury and others, with a full list of the 600 Trees set, and the name of the persons or Associations who set or paid for them—may be had at 25 cents per copy, at the Bookstore of J. H. FOSTER, or at the Portsmouth Daily Counting Room. Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Daily Chronicle.

—General Nipanditucki seems to be directing operations in Asia Minor.

—A farm laborer near Seilhac, in France, while ploughing somewhat deeper than usual, found his plough arrested by what he thought a stump. It proved to be an ox hide filled with gold pieces of the reign of Frances I., worth $60,000 for their weight alone, without reckoning their special value as rare coins.

—During the ceremony of decorating the graves of Confederate soldiers at Baltimore Capt. McIlenry Howard, President of the Society of the Army and Navy of the Confederate States, publicly announced his belief that the lost cause was a just one, and that there will be no reconciliation until the people of the North recognize the justice of that cause.

—In Yucatan a baby's clothing consists of a pair of sandals and a straw hat, and when it is fed a piece of meat or fruit is attached to a string, the other end of which is attached to the child's toe. The child after that takes care of itself. If it sucks the food into its throat and gets choked it naturally kicks, and that jerks the obstruction out again.

—There were two of them, says the Philadelphia Bulletin, hanging over the front gate the other night. She was standing in the yard and he on the sidewalk outside, both leaning on the top rail, and apparently as happy as two pigs in a cornfield. He was saying, "Now, my own little darling, sweet idol of my soul, whose image is ever on my heart"—when he saw the old man coming down the front walk, and continued in a different strain: "The potato bugs haven't destroyed our crops so much since we purchased Paris green, and you will find that cabbages can be raised better on a richer soil." The old gentleman heard it and turned back, saying, as he entered the house, "These young people take more interest in agricultural affairs than people generally suppose."

—A beautiful young gentleman, living near Bolton, England, won the heart of an English maid who worked in a spinning-mill. The happy day was set—May 26 by the calendar—and the bridal procession formed. At the church gate the tempter came. An acquaintance whispered to the bridegroom that he ought to fortify himself for the solemn ceremony. The bride pleaded, the bridesmaid frowned, the "best man" swore, but the bridegroom crossed the street, and drank two glasses of whiskey in a public house. The bride finding that he tarried, sought him out and summoned him to the altar. He would not budge. She appealed to her friends to drag him into the church. They seized him and carried him into the churchyard, where he broke loose from them and ran down the street with a crowd at his heels. They cut his new silk hat into shreds, rolled him in the dust, and beat him with umbrellas and baskets. The wedding was adjourned sine die.

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.

HE WILL COME;

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, JR., D. D.

This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and glowing writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 16mo., 216 pp.; $1.25 in Cloth; $2.50 in Morocco. PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic ... and relieves nervousness. It is a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative. ... It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain andagony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past two years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the time, and confined and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1873

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 5th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty-five, but am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago ladvised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get relief for a short time. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been induced to pay more than most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered much intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed find three dollars; please send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1874.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves when they go. I shall recommend those pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, ESQ.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1849, my first patent. Since then you have acted for me and obtained a hundred or of course, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation o health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of m at at the stalls shall be permitted to throw any offal, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any offal of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance or any other nuisance shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing adjudged to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, COUGHS, CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a eading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

which is superior to all other foods, for it consists of PURE NUTRIMENT. Containing only the pure nutritive portion of various grains, extracted by a chemical process (all inert principles being carefully rejected) combined with the Vegetable Phosphates obtained from the germinal portion of grain, so as to form a most perfect brain, bone, and muscle-producing food, combined with Pepsin, forming a complete remedy for the worst cases of Cholera Infantum, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all affections arising from a disordered stomach.

For Infants, Invalids, Growing Children and Nursing Mothers. Nursing Mothers should take it as a regular diet, in order to furnish nutriment and vitalizing material to the growing infant.

The only Infants' Food prepared on strictly scientific principles. To be used in Cholera Infantum, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and all intestinal troubles. For Infants, Invalids, Aged Persons, Nursing Mothers and Weakly Children.

This preparation is endorsed by the Medical Faculty, it having been in constant use by them for a number of years with the best of success, it being the only food acting with certainty in those cases that require Pepsin and the Phosphates for complete success.

DYSPEPSIA, HEARTBURN, ACID STOMACH, HEADACHE, BILIOUS STOMACH, DIARRHŒA,

and any derangement of the Organs of Digestion are immediately relieved and speedily cured by

PEPSINATED CHARCOAL.

It is particularly adapted to Chronic Cases, and is prescribed and endorsed by our first physicians as the only preparation ever presented for the troubles for which it is recommended.

A TOAD.

Close by the basement door-step,
A representative toad
Has made, all the sultry summer,
His quiet and cool abode;
And the way he bumps and bounces
About on the area stones,
Would break every bone in his body,
Except that he has no bones.

When a man is cringing and abject
And fawns for a selfish end,
Why they should call him a toady,
What mortal can comprehend?
Since for resolute independence,
Despising the courtier's code,
And freedom from mean ambitions,
There's nobody like a toad.

I know how strongly against him
Some popular whimsies go;
But the toad is never vicious,
Nor silly, nor stupid, nor slow.
Stupid? perhaps you never Noticed his jewel eyes?
Slow? or his tongue's red lightning
Striking at darting flies?

Oh, but the mouth he carries!
To make its dimensions clear,
One longs to describe it briefly,
As reaching from ear to ear;
But no professor of reptiles
Is able (so far as appears
In books upon kindred subjects)
To locate batrachian ears.

No matter how stern and solemn
The markings about his eyes,
The width of his mouth preserves him
From wearing too grave a guise;
It gives him the look (no matter
How sad he may be the while,
Or deep in profound abstraction)
Of smiling a chronic smile.

His ponderous locomotion,
Though full of nerve and force,
And well enough here in the area,
Wouldn't do for a trotting course;
Too modest to run for Congress,
Too honest for Wall street strife,
His principles all until him
For aught but a virtuous life.

A hole in the ground contents him,—
So little he asks of fate;
Philosopher under a dock-leaf,
He sits like a king in state;
Should a heedless footstep march him,
In gravel absorbed and blent,
He never complains or grumbles,—
He knows it was accident.

No drudging scribe in a sanctum,
No writer of prose or rhyme,
Gets through with so much hard thinking
In the course of a summer-time;
And if sometimes he jumps at conclusions,
He does it with accurate aim,
And after mature reflection,—
Would all of us did the same!

But what will he do this winter,
In the wind and snow and hail,
With his poor, soft, unclad body
Unsheltered by wings or tail?
He cannot go South, poor fellow,
In search of a milder air,
For spring would be back triumphant
Before he was half-way there!

But what are his plans for the future,
Or where he intends to go,
Or what he is weighing and planning,
Are things we shall never know.
He winks if you ask him a question,
And keeps his own counsel well;
Like the grinder of knives in the story,
He has never a tale to tell!

The Molly Maguires.

The hanging of ten men in Pennsylvania on one day marks a final triumph of law and order over one of the most desperate and cruel organizations that ever existed in this country. The history of the Molly Maguires of Pennsylvania is a novel one to us, although its purposes and its methods were in direct descent from the Ribbon Societies in Ireland, so far as they dealt with local agrarian troubles. It was conducted on the same system, and to make the resemblance still greater, its members adopted the name by which the agrarian secret societies in the north of Ireland were at one time known. It is justly observed by Macaulay and Froude that while assassination has been always abhorrent to the English race, it is not so to the Celtic Irish, nor until recently to the Celtic Scotch. It was considered a justifiable method of obtaining revenge for wrong, or of national warfare, and the sympathy of the community was with the criminals. The history of the Ribbon Societies of Ireland is full of assassinations in revenge for eviction or tenant oppression, and even for improvements or the enforcements of agreed rent. The burning of Wildgoose Lodge with a whole family of men, women and children, still lights the horizon of Louth in unforgotten tradition, and there are many other cruel crimes raised above the level of "the wild justice of revenge" by plain murder in the long list of Irish troubles. It would be injustice to say that these crimes, horrid and cruel as they were, ranked with ordinary assassinations for plunder or personal revenge. Robbery was very seldom attempted, and more often than otherwise the murderer was absolutely unknown to his victim. Mr. W. Stewart Trench has thrillingly set forth in his "Sketches of Irish Life," how, when it was decided in the Ribbon Lodge that he was to be "put off the walk," that the assassins were sent for from another parish and put upon his track. They followed him like bloodhounds and persistently attempted to kill him, although he had never done them an injury in the world. He escaped, but other agents and landlords around him were murdered with as slight personal animosity on the part of the assassins. Assassination was a part of the system, and men called to the duty felt no compunctions of conscience at the cruel work.

The Molly Maguires of the coal regions were composed almost entirely of Irishmen, and they kept the forms and practices of the secret societies of the old country. They combined against mine owners and bosses as they had combined against landlords and agents, and from the combination came assassinations likewise, although with less excuse, if there can be any excuse for assassination, for they were not starved or evicted. Their crimes were worse, as their excuse was less, and the cruelty was as ferocious as the offence that caused it petty. In committing the murders, the society took the course common in Ireland, and had it done by persons unknown in the section where the victims lived, and returns of courtesies were arranged by which murders were exchanged. They also pursued the same course in regard to terrorism of witnesses and to subornation of perjury, and consequently for a long time made trials a farce. To finally conclude the parallel, their fate was sealed by an "informer" among their own number, and out of the ten men who expinted their crimes on the scaffold, nine were finally convicted by the testimony of their associates.

The history of the Molly Maguires has been fragmentarily told many times during the past two years, as revelations of horrors were discovered, but it may be well to briefly summarize it at its culmination in this last wholesale hanging. It began fifteen years ago in an organization to resist the drafts, and the society was then known as the "Buckshots." The first murder was that of Langdon, a mine boss, who was clubbed and trampled to death for the offence of resenting insult to the American flag on the Fourth of July. No one was punished for it, although the parties were well known, and emboldened by impunity, the organization spread over the whole of the coal region. Murder after murder was committed, and great quantities of coal and other property destroyed by incendiarism. They terrorized over the whole country, and in 1875, during what is known as the "long strike," threatened whole towns and compelled the ordering out of the militia. After the withdrawal of the troops, a series of the most cruel murders was commenced. A policeman, who had arrested a "body master" when he was drunk, was shot as he was putting out the street light in front of his own house. Two mine superintendents were killed at the mouth of a pit in the morning, and another was shot as he opened his door. Two means resulted in the final arrest and conviction of the ten murderers and accessories. One was the employment of a detective by Mr. F. B. Gowen, President of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad. This man took his life in his hand, joined the organization and lived with the assassins until he had learned their secrets and put the rope around their necks. The other means was the capture of three of the murderers of a mine boss, almost red-handed, and finding an informer among them. With these two witnesses the case was hopeless, and the cloud of members of the society, who appeared to swear to alibis, were advised by the counsel of the prisoners to go home and not be prosecuted for perjury.

The trials developed a phase of criminality heretofore unknown in this country. By the tyranny of a society, men went out and slew persons whom they had never before seen, because they had been denounced for some fancied oppression, and prided themselves on the act. A mistaken sense of labor oppression grew into a system of assassination. The Molly Maguire murders are not free from the taint of personal revenge and malice, for they were frequently instigated by the meanest motives; but their foundation was in ignorance, a degraded clannishness, a hatred of the rich and those in authority as such. Not all of those executed were criminals by nature, and two or three shed blood only from loyalty to the commands of the order. But against such organized attacks society was obliged to vindicate itself, or to permit perpetual anarchy. It is to be hoped that the stern lesson will be sufficient to repress such deeds in the future, although it is a melancholy fact that a considerable portion of their fellow workmen sympathized with the murderers, and that women will secretly teach their children to say prayers for their souls as martyrs.—Prov. Jour.

News and Notes.

The round of brilliant receptions in honor of Gen. Grant continues, in England. Friday night a special performance was given at the Royal Italian Opera, London, at which Gen. Grant appeared for the first time in uniform, and was most enthusiastically received. It must be pleasant for Dana, of the New York Sun, to read of the honors paid the man Dana has for so many years been engaged in trying to lie out of his good name.

Patrick Golden was brutally murdered in his own house at Nicholson, near Scranton, Penn., one day last week. He was sitting with his wife in the parlor, when masked men entered with a double-barrelled gun, and fired two shots at Golden. The latter, who was eighty years old, died shortly afterwards. The murderers escaped. There seems to be no cause for the crime.

The past week revenue officers raided illicit distilleries in Putnam, Jackson, White and other mountain counties of Tennessee, broke up fourteen, got into a fight, killed an illicit distiller named Sam Johnson and badly wounded two others named Morgan, and captured twelve prisoners.

A deputation of ladies, headed by Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, waited on Mayor Prince of Boston, Friday, and presented a memorial of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union urging that no wine be on the table at the dinner to be given in honor of President Hayes. Mr. Prince told the ladies that while he respected them and their motives he considered prohibition all wrong; that he has wine on his own dinner table every day, though he has five children; and that he considered it but an act of courtesy to provide wine for the Presidential junket, which consequently he would do. Mr. Prince's avowal of his principles on this point puts him in entire accord with the liquor interests.

The striking ship laborers at Montreal, Canada, on Friday undertook to blow up a steamship with dynamite, but two of the rigg-leaders were sent to jail for six months instead. The police, armed with rifles, are doing patrol duty, and standing by for a call at any time. The strikers have made several attacks on the new workmen, but quickly disperse when they see the police coming.

The academy at Franklinville, Long Island, was nearly destroyed by a stroke of lightning on Friday, but was not burned. The walls were thrown down, the belfry shattered and the doors torn off. No lives were lost.

The office of the Grand Trunk Railway in Montreal, Canada, was robbed of $50,000 in bank bills on Friday.

Albert White and Mrs. Dora A. Cook, the former of whom boarded at Mrs. Avery's in Lowell, Mass., at the time Mary Ella Harrington came to her death there, and the latter of whom is Mrs. Avery's daughter, are under arrest and held in $10,000 bonds each. James A. Favor, uncle of the girl's paramour, is also under arrest. Mrs. Cook has confessed, but the confession is not made public.

The War.

Bismark has proposed to Austria an offensive and defensive alliance with Germany. The Turks claim to have beaten the Montenegrins at all points, and to have also won the fight at Delebaba Pass in Asia Minor.

The Russian passage of the Danube seems actually to have commenced at last, at Ibrail and Galatz. The movement commenced on Wednesday, without opposition from the Turks.

Despatches received in London on Saturday say the Russians, on landing on the Turkish bank of the Danube, opposite Ibrail, penetrated directly into the interior, gaining possession of the heights commanding Matchin after an obstinate fight with Bashi-Bazouks. The engagement lasted from daybreak until noon. The capture of Matchin is imminent. Another despatch says the Turks have abandoned Matchin, are destroying the railroads, and evacuating the Dobrudscha. At Galatz the Russians crossed in considerable force, and strongly intrenched themselves. No opposition was offered by the Turks.

The Idaho War.

A telegram was received at the army headquarters in San Francisco on Friday afternoon from Gen. Howard, dated Lewiston, Idaho, June 20th. He reports that Perry's loss in the engagements of the 17th inst. is one officer, Lieut. K. Heller of the Twenty-first Infantry, and thirty-three men. A press despatch says the Indians, when they commenced the massacre did not kill the women and children, but allowed them to be taken under the escort of friendly squaws to State Creek, which thus far is left undisturbed. At State Creek the whites have fortified themselves in a stockade fort into which have been received the wives and children of the murdered men, together with the families of the men who escaped massacre. These women are thus shut up in the midst of the hostile Indians without adequate means of defence and without aid. They will almost certainly be overpowered and murdered, as the Indians declare their determination to take the fort and murder the men. It cannot be hoped that the Indians will again spare the women and children, after the losses they must suffer in capturing the fort, as the men will fight to the last. Troops and armed citizens are hastening forward to rescue the people in the stockade.

In contradiction to the previous reports that the troops behaved badly in the fight at White Bird canon, it is asserted by citizens who were in the fight that the troops, though they allowed themselves to be decoyed into ambush, displayed throughout the action the utmost gallantry and fought like tigers. About twenty-five or thirty soldiers were killed in the same number of minutes.

The situation in northern Idaho is considered very grave, and it is believed it will tax the best resources of the Government and of all the people immediately interested, to subdue the Indians and restore peace in the country. The Indians knew the army on the Pacific coast is a skeleton, and that the people are helpless from want of arms.

Political.

A sharp controversy is going on in New York between Boss Tweed's counsel, Townsend, and Attorney-General Fairchild, Townsend charging Fairchild with having broken faith with the Boss, after using his confession to advance the political schemes of the Tammany democracy. The Tribune says that whatever the "confession" may be worth, it is reasonably certain the democratic Attorney-General used it not for the people's interest but for his party's.

The Sachems of Tammany have issued a call for a meeting of that pure, fraud-hating Society in Tammany Hall on the 4th of July, to have a grand concerted howl over the President's title to his office. No other body of men on earth is so well qualified to howl about fraud as the organization that furnished Tweed and Tilden to our politics, and stole the State of New York,—once for Seymour and Hoffman, and again for Tilden and reform.

It has been the general belief that ex-Governor Bullock of Georgia was a rank corruptionist while in power in the heyday of carpet-bagism. Not only the democratic press but many of the leading republican journals bitterly denounced him. When the democrats assumed power in Georgia, it was charged that Bullock was a swindler. He fled the State, but last Fall he was brought back on a warrant accusing him of cheating the commonwealth. He was promptly bailed, and through his counsel, Ben. Hill and General Gartrell, demanded a speedy trial. This has been refused him, and now an impression is gaining ground that the State has no case. During the past week his case came up before the court at Atlanta, but the Attorney-General asked for farther delay, claiming that he was not ready to proceed, owing to other engagements. Mr. Hill asked that a day be named for a trial, but the State's Attorney objected, and the court sustained him. Then Hill put in a demand in writing, and the arguments were assigned for Wednesday last, but when the court opened, the Attorney-General moved to postpone the hearing of the arguments indefinitely, which motion was granted. This is not fair treatment. Ex-Governor Bullock complains at not being accommodated with a trial, as he is anxious to have the matter disposed of.—New Haven Union, (dem.)

New Hampshire Items.

The Coroner's jury returned a verdict Friday exonerating Police Officer Frain of Manchester, for shooting Michael O'Brien, late of East Boston, in a desperate affray on the night of June 2d. The killing of O'Brien caused considerable excitement at the time, and an inquest was deemed necessary by the authorities.

Frank A. Groves of Concord was drowned by the upsetting of his boat while sailing on Long Pond Friday.

John Nutter of Dover was struck by an outward bound baggage car on the Boston and Maine road, Friday evening, and was thrown under the car. He had a leg and foot badly crushed and they will undoubtedly have to be amputated.

On the fourth and last day of the racing at the Dover trotting park, last week, Ned Wallace won the race for horses in the 2:24 class, in three straight heats; best time 2:26 3-4. The 2:38 race was won by Powers in three straight heats; best time 2:33 1-2.

A Primative Powder-Mill.

The mode of making gunpowder is nowadays about the same everywhere. The saltpeter, the charcoal, and the sulphur all must be ground very finely. Among the rude tribes in Asia, as in old times, the grinding is done by women and children, who pound the ingredients with wooden pestles in wooden mortars, and often finish by blowing up the entire family, house and all. In other places they pass a crank-shaft through a barrel and fix it in a frame. This barrel they partly fill with what they wish to pulverize, and also with a quantity of brass or wooden balls. By turning the crank rapidly the balls and the material are both rolled around from side to side, and finally the grinding is effected. Next they the mix three together in proper proportions, spreading it on a wooden table, turning it with wooden paddles, and rolling it with wooden rollers; then they put it back into the wooden mortar or tub and pound it again, any blow, just as likely as not, being the last they will live to give. If they and the powder survive this, they then spread it on a cloth in the sun to dry, and if it don't blow up before they can gather it together again, the husbands and fathers of these brave women and children soon have plenty of powder. I have been told of a lady, brought up in the East Indies, whose most vivid remembrance of her early life was the blowing-up of a "native" family by such means.—St. Nicholas.

A "Christian" Powder-Mill.

A powder-mill is not in the least like other mills. Instead of one great building, it is composed of many rough-looking little sheds,—sometimes as many as seventy or eighty. These are long distances apart, separated by dense woods and great mounds of earth, so that if one "house" is blown up, the others will escape a like fate. Of some the walls are built very strong, and the roofs very slight, in the hope that if an explosion happens, its force will be expended upward only. Other houses have enormous roofs of masonry covered with earth; the roofs of others are tanks kept always full of water. The constant danger inseparable from the work would be greatly increased were there not strict rules, always enforced. No cautious visitor can be more careful than the workmen themselves, for they know, if an explosion happens, it will be certain, instant death to them. So no lights or fires are ever allowed; no one lives nearer the mills than can be helped; some of the buildings are carpeted with skins, and the floors are kept always flooded with an inch or two of water; and in front of every door is a shallow tank of water. Before entering, every person must put on rubber shoes and walk through this water, for the nails in a boot-heel might strike a spark from a bit of sand or gravel, which might explode a single grain of gunpowder, and cause widespread disaster. So the rubber shoes worn in the mills are never worn elsewhere. Then, too, every one is expected to keep his wits about him; there is never any loud talking and laughter, and no one ever thinks of shouting. Yet, with all this extreme care, explosions sometimes occur, and then there is seldom any one left to tell how it happened.—St. Nicholas for July.

Deep Sea Life.

The mystery of deep sea life lies in the fact that there are multitudes of representatives of the animal world which, in virtue of their animality, are incapable of nourishing themselves upon inorganic matter, yet which are living miles below the limit at which vegetable life ceases. Some of the organisms found in deep sea soundings are undoubtedly of a vegetable nature; but these are surface-living diatoms, or other forms, which sink when they die. This animal life at the sea-bottom is capable of appropriating as food the organic matter held dissolved in the ocean water, as well as the inorganic substances necessary for the formation of its skeleton and the gases required for respiration. For life at the bottom of the sea is essentially like all other animal life; it requires food to eat, air to breathe, and minerals from which to elaborate its frame-work. Careful experiment has solved the difficulty: the surface-living nutriment descends after death; very slowly and laboriously the life-sustaining oxygen makes its way from the surface to the depths where cold and darkness reign, and as slowly the poisonous carbonic acid—the result alike of life and death—makes its way to the surface. Thus, just such life as can exist under the difficult conditions there present, does exist in enormous extent.—Scribner for July.

—Grant is probably willing to fete it out on the present line it it takes all summer.

A volume of thrilling interest by the eminent historian L. P. BROCKETT; describing the Russians and Turks: social, political, and religious history and condition; their home-life, various customs and peculiarities, the causes of the war, the issues at stake—Christian against Mohammedan—the mighty interests of other nations involved; Biographies of the Rulers, statesmen and Generals; all richly illustrated. The book millions need now. Wanted instantly, 5,000 agents on very liberal terms.

Address HUBBARD BROS., Publishers,
309 Main St., Springfield, Mass.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

IN THE WRONG BOX.

On Saturday forenoon, as the Sheriff was busy writing in his office, a well-dressed, very gentlemanly-appearing, one-armed tramp marched in and interrupting Col. Kent said: "Can you let me have a little money to help me to my home in Ludlow, Vermont?" when the following conversation ensued:

Sheriff—"What is your name?"

Tramp—"Henry Lawrence."

Sheriff—"When did you come into town?"

Tramp—"This forenoon."

Sheriff—"Where from?"

Tramp—"Kennebunk, Me."

Sheriff—"I'll see what I can do for you" —at the same time calling to Police Justice Batchelder, who occupies the adjoining office, and introducing him to Mr. Lawrence. The Sheriff continued: "Judge, this fellow says he is needy and wants money to help him on his way home. He also tells me that he came to this city this forenoon. He is a fraud. I saw him yesterday afternoon on Islington street, ringing the door-bells of every house on both sides of the street for some distance, and begging; he was then partially intoxicated, and is now, and I suggest that you give him some wholesome advice!"

Judge—"Young man, I advise you to leave this city as soon as you conveniently can, otherwise I may be called upon in an official capacity to attend to your case."

Tramp—"Gentlemen, I acknowledge the corn and gratefully accept the wholesome advice! I have got into the wrong box—and I trust you'll believe me when I say that if I had seen that Sheriff's sign over the door before coming in I wouldn't have troubled you. Good day, sirs"—and he retired in good order. The last seen of him he was going over the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad bridge at a rate that would have given Bertha Von Hillern the heartache, could she have seen it.

TELL THE TRUTH.

The Times of Saturday copies the communication to the CHRONICLE signed "Tax Payer," urging the Times to "show up the Rockingham House supper, and also the buying of the Steam Fire Engine No. 4," calls the suggestions "sneaking insinuations," and says:

"Nobody will believe that he ["Tax Payer"] or the CHRONICLE ever suppressed any story, true or false, which might injure any democrat or his party."

Yes, they will believe, and the editor of the Times is himself personally aware, that the CHRONICLE did repeatedly suppress stories—known to be true and easily proved so by scores of witnesses—concerning officials under the late democratic city government, when the promulgation of the stories would not only have seriously injured the men but would have damaged the democratic party,—and this, too at a time when a red-hot political fight was going on for the control of the State, and in face of earnest and repeated remonstrances from leading republicans against our course in "suppressing" the stories referred to. Further, we can send to the Times editor one of the best known "working" democrats in the city, who was in our office at a time when we were urged by a prominent republican to ventilate a certain occurrence, he telling us,—"It's a life-and-death fight between the democrats and our side, and this thing is legitimate (and if you use it will be effective) political capital; our folks are mad that you don't use it, and the democrats won't thank you for not doing it." But we did not use it, nor do we ask democratic thanks for our conduct; we simply state a fact,—and what the Times knows is a fact, notwithstanding its statement quoted above.

JOTTINGS.

We are requested to say that the name of O. M. Knight was attached to the committee of the Fourth of July celebration without his knowledge or consent.

Don't forget that the combination entertainment,—"She Stoops to Conquer," and music by the Parlor Orchestra,—is offered for to-morrow evening at Miss Morgan's Seminary. If the peals of laughter issuing from the house in which it was given to an invited few last week are a reliable indication, we may expect the best thing ever. Tickets at Mr. Foster's.

The Committee of the New England Association of Gas Engineers have fixed upon Wednesday, August 15th, as the date for holding their semi-annual meeting at the Rockingham House, in this city, the business of the session commencing at noon. They will remain until the following evening to participate in a steamer excursion to some prominent point, afterward returning to partake of a banquet at the Rockingham.

Gentlemen voters desiring to sign a petitions to so amend the Constitution of New Hampshire that women may vote, can find one at the Portsmouth Weekly Counting Room for a day or two only. Walk up, gentlemen!

The Supreme Court for Rockingham county has appointed George A. Ramsdell of Nashua referee in what is known as the Eastern Railroad controversy. There is pending an information and bill in equity. The former was brought by the State in the nature of a quo warranto, and the latter by several stockholders of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, asking the Court to declare the lease of this branch to the Eastern Railroad Company void. The annual meeting of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire is to be holden in this city July 10th. The stockholders will vote upon the question to amend Article Three of the by-laws of the corporation, relative to the number of votes to which the stockholders are entitled, so that it may be in accordance with the existing laws of the State on that subject. The Portsmouth, Great Falls and Conway Railroad will also hold the annual meeting here on the same date.

Steamer "Appledore" is now running her regular trips between this city and the Shoals, leaving her wharf near the foot of Deer street at eleven o'clock A. M. and six o'clock P. M., and the Shoals at seven in the morning and quarter past three in the afternoon. There were about seventy-five regular boarders at the Appledore on Saturday, and the numbers arriving increase daily, a large proportion of the rooms being already engaged for the season. Tickets at reduced rates, for the trip to the island and retuen, every Wednesday, can be procured at Preston's drug store.

Mr. Frank W. Miller is daily driving to and from business in this city, a very promising colt, half brother to old Fearnaught, and closely resembling that famous horse. The little gelding is but just two years old, but is well-broken, and shod. He is in-and-in bred, being from Fearnaught's dam, by Dover, by Fearnaught.

Among those who have secured rooms at Hotel Wentworth are the following: Prof. Childs and family of Cambridge, Mass. Prof. Hedge of Harvard College, and Miss Sara Jewett, the actress, with her father and mother.

Commodore John R. Goldsborough, U. S. N., died at Philadelphia, on Friday, aged 69 years. He was appointed midshipman in 1824, was commissioned captain in 1862, and commanded the Florida and Colorado during the war. In 1864 and '65 he was stationed at this Navy Yard, as ordnance officer; afterward commanded the Sheandoah; in 1867 was commissioned commodore, and in 1868 was ordered to Philadelphia Navy Yard for ordnance duty, where he remained until his decease.

Several gentlemen availed themselves of the opportunity to enjoy a moonlight excursion on the Steamer Major to Star Island and return on Saturday evening. The Major is bright in new paint and fresh adornments, and Capt. Bird, her commander, is the same polite and attentive gentleman he proved himself to be last season.

A dog five months old, belonging to Mrs. Robert Stokell, on Vaughan street, showed signs of being mad on Saturday, but became more quiet in the evening. Mrs. Stokell was somewhat alarmed and asked the opinion of some of her friends about him, and they assured her there was no trouble. On Sunday he became violent, tearing around the house, breaking a looking glass and other articles, and giving them all a terrible fright. The police were called in and shot the dog before he caused any further trouble. On Saturday he bit the daughter of Mrs. Stokell; Dr. Folsom was called and cauterized the wound, and prescribed internal medicine. A young son of Mr. Wm. J. Lydston, who lives in the same house, barely escaped being bitten by the dog, which made a rush for him on Sunday, but the boy jumped aside and escaped.

A Notable Story of Murder and Suicide.

Rockwell, Texas, sends on the story of a complication of murder and suicide, resulting from an affray in April, 1876, when Emberry Cannon, his son William, and two nephews on a spree severely beat and cut Sheriff Alex. C. Starks, who in defending himself shot William Cannon dead. The feud grew bitter, and Starks tried to sell his farm preparatory to leaving the place. In September, 1876, a stranger who desired to purchase the property accompanied Starks there, and the dead body of the latter was found next morning in the woods. The murderer, whose name was George W. Garner, fled, but was subsequently indicted with Emberry Cannon as the instigator of the crime. Neither could be found. Garner had previously shot the sheriff of Lee county, Texas, and after his recovery the latter went on track of the assassin, found him in Arkansas and took him to Lee county, where he was convicted of the murder of Starks and sentenced to be hanged June 15th. After conviction, he confessed that Emberry Cannon hired him for $500 and a team of horses to kill Starks. The evening before the day set for the execution Mrs. Garner was permitted to enter the jail and remain with her husband. Next morning the sheriff found both dead. She had carried poison to her husband in her mouth, but there not being enough for both, the deed was completed by strangulation.

—Very swell young men omit the cane from their wardrobe. "Everybody carries one," you know.

—When a man gets on the down-hill road of misfortune about the only consolation left him seems to be to kick any other man who happens to be going down still faster.

—"If I have a stupid son," pompously announced Capt. Smith of the army, "I'll make a parson of him." "You don't intend to follow your father's example then," remarked Rev. Mr. Brown.

—A German lost his wife, and the next week married again, and his new wife asked him to take her out riding. He felt indignant that she should have no more respect than that for his deceased wife, and said: "You dink I ride out mit another woman so soon after the death of mine frau?"

—A gentleman not unknown in literary circles was present at one of the Pope's receptions. The holy father approached him and said: "You're American. Are you a Catholic or Protestant?" "Holy father," replied our friend, "I am neither a Catholic nor a Protestant; I'm a journalist." His Holiness laughed heartily and moved on to some one else.

A Medicine of Many Uses.

A medicine which remedies dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, debility, intermittent and remittent fevers, urinary and uterine troubles, depurates the blood, counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and gout, and relieves nervousness, may be truly said to have many uses. Such an article is Hostetter's Bitters, one of the most reliable alteratives of a disorderly to a well-ordered state of the system ever prepared or sold. It has been over a quarter of a century before the public, is endorsed by many eminent professors of the healing art, and its merits have received repeated recognitions in the columns of leading American and foreign journals. It is highly esteemed in every part of this country, and is extensively used in South America, Mexico, the British possessions and the West Indies. If its increase in public favor in the past is to be regarded as a reliable criterion of its gain in popularity in coming years, it has indeed a splendid future before it.

Diamonds and Pearls.

Eyes bright as diamonds should be supplemented by teeth white as pearls, and this latter element of beauty can be secured by using Sozodont. If brushed in night and morning, this fragrant vegetable preparation is guaranteed to preserve the soundness of the teeth, and prevent their turning yellow.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

Board of Trustees.

MOSES H. GOODRICH,
JOHN H. BROUGHTON, Mayor, Ex. Of.

The PAMPHLET which was printed last year, containing a report of all the proceedings at the Dedication of the Park, the Addresses of Rev. Mr. DeNormandie, Hon. C. L. Woodbury and others, with a full list of the 600 Trees set, and the names of the persons or Associations who set or paid for them —may be had at 25 cents per copy, at the Bookstore of J. H. FOSTER, or at the Portsmouth Weekly Counting Room. Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Daily Chronicle.

The Cry of "Dead-Heads."

In a long article on "journalism and reporters," the New York Evening Mail says thus: "It is the people and not the journalists who are the 'dead-heads.' In case anything more serious than stubbing the toe befalls a man, he hastens to the nearest newspaper and demands that the editor shall wield the pen and shed ink in his vindication or defense. And if the jaded editor does not with alacrity espouse the cause of his 'patron,' he will make an enemy for life. 'Members of the press' are literally hunted down by all sorts of people who have axes to grind. The managers of a public meeting who do not find the reporters at the table suffer stings of disappointment; the judge who sonorously blows his nose before reading his opinion, looks anxiously for the stenographers; the preacher who descants upon some special subject sees spirit in the representatives of the press are not there; even the burglars on the way to the State prison, covet a talk with the 'newspaper man.' Yet the outside barbarian thinks all newspaper men are dead-heads, and envies them the fine times they have in the way of free dinners and free tickets to all manner of shows. There never was a greater mistake. People do not seem to realize that, on the part of the journalist, it is merely a matter of business; that the editor or reporter goes to these places, so attractive to outsiders, much as the horse goes to the plow—because he must do so. We venture to say that four-fifths of their entertainments are to journalists intolerable bores. The press is the victim of the public's rapacious and unceasing demand for services without pay. Let us have the boot on the right leg."

—There is a man in New York who "knows his valy." He is being sued for breach of promise, and he responds that he is willing to marry the complainant just as soon as she fills her part of the agreement, by withdrawing $700 of her money from the savings banks, and giving it to him to invest in his grocery.

—"My dear," said an affectionate wife to her husband, as she looked out of the window, "do you notice how green and beautiful the grass looks on the neighboring hills?" "Well," was the unpoetic response, "what other color would you have it at this time of year?"

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.

HE WILL COME;

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, Jr., D. D.

This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and excellent writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 12mo., 316 pp., $1.25 in Cloth; $2.50 in Morocco. PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was tried by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and noknowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Bachman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaints, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 7 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine, I have given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May, John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills February 20, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years; When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indivisel him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an inch from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. Whathelped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been troubled for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines, but to the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, for fear that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have two applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO. Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 19, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls to be stored over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any seller of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family or house is sick with small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or conducted into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his hand into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practising physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Dick Johnson's Sign.

Dick kept the fashionable saloon in town. It was tip-top. Every glass was polished to perfection. The liquors just sparkled in the decanters. The counter was all over carving and gilding and the barkeeper was the daintiest young man in Fiddleburg. Fiddleburg had a new painter. He was an artist. A picture of Nichol's was a real gem. Most of the stores had one, in some shape or another. The livery stable man had a horse painted that people came miles to see. The butcher had a cow that you could almost hear calling her calf, so life-like did she appear. The restaurant man had a pie, and some cakes and doughnuts, so exquisitely done, that when he put them in his window, the boys just felt like grabbing at them. And the milliner had a wooden dummy in her window, with a face and neck so tinted and fixed, that the men all stopped to gaze at that lovely thing. Well, to make a long story short, Dick Johnson thought he would have a sign for his saloon. With Dick, to think was to act. Cost was nothing to him, so the his fancy was tickled. "I want a sign," said Dick: "I want a sign like these other folks. Something to show what I do; something to suggest the business, you know. Just any good thing that you can think of. You are a painter, and can tell better than I can what is right." "I'll do it," said the knight of the brush, and Dick was off without another word. The painter went to work; he got a long board four feet wide, and filled it with human figures, almost life size, and so near life in appearance, that you could almost see them stir. Beginning at one end was a good looking young man coming to take a drink. The next figure was the same, just a little drunk. Then he was down in the gutter; then in jail; then in a fight, and lastly, a poor, wretched, broken-down creature was dangling at the gallows. Alongside of him, in different stages of his life, were his mother and sisters, weeping at his fate. His poor wife begging her bread with her children at her side. Then his boy was seen in the Industrial School. Then his girl in the Magdalen. Oh, it was beautifully done. And underneath was written in fine large characters, "We make these things here." When Dick was told it was done, he ordered it put up at once, and settled the bill before he filled his pipe, went on with his cards, and thought no more of the picture. It was covered with paper till dark, intending to surprise the natives of Fiddleburg at daylight. And it did. As Dick's customers came by for their morning bitters, they saw that picture and stepped back. Not a man crossed his threshold that day. Dick had played late, and slept till noon. When he came down stairs the saloon was empty. Not a soul had been in. Barkeeper said the whole town had seen that picture, but not one had called for a drink. Dick went out to look, too. He saw the paint, and cursed that painter, you bet.—Liverpool Herald.

Learn to Swim.

Hanging in the shouds of a sinking ship on a wild November afternoon, the engine-room flooded from the leak, the steam-pumps not able to work, my back tortured beyond endurance with hard labor at the levers of the hand-pump, the deck swept by the bursting seas, a wild and angry sky above, the lee shore perfectly horrible in the tempest of its waves and the thunder of the surf that went rolling and charging by squadrons of billows over a half mile of low sandy bottom, I asked myself whether, if the ship broke up, I could manage the under-tow,—that merciless drag backward of the sea, the topmost wave washing the swimmer illusively toward the shore, the undermost sucking him down and out. I said to myself an emphatic "Yes!" But the experiment was spared me, and I got ashore next morning in a life-boat. Ever since that awful hour and night, I have had a sincere respect for the science and art of swimming, in which, next to God, then rested all my hope and trust. But before we talk about fighting an under-tow in a wicked sea-way, let us discuss the principles and methods of swimming. To drown in a river, with the shore only a few yards away, when any dog or monkey would reach the land, must involve a feeling of personal humiliation as well as despair. To be self-trustworthy is the first thing in moments of danger; but the art of swimming has a high value in the saving of other lives, and is, besides, a luxury and accomplishment worth the having, for the mere fun of the thing. In our civilization, swimming is an acquired accomplishment. It is understood to be a natural function with nearly all kinds of animals, hogs and humanity being the leading exceptions. The inability to swim is in all cases a defect of education. —Sanford B. Hunt, St. Nicholas for July.

Behind the Times.

A South Carolina resident came down from the mountains one day, lately, and asked of the first man he met—

"What's the news from the war?"

"Oh, it's booming right along," said the stranger.

"Richmond keeps holdn' her own, then?" quizzed the mountain man.

"Richmond!" exclaimed the stranger; "there isn't any war in Richmond—it's on the Danube and around Batoum and Erzeroum, and pointing on toward Constantinople."

"Oh, yaas," observed the mountain man, hesitatingly, "it's drifted 'round to them 'ere places, has it?"

And as he passed on around a cliff, the amazed stranger heard that mountaineer muttering to himself—

"I hain't read the papers much, lately, that so, and I reckon I'm gittin' a little behind on the news."—Chicago Evening Journal.

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JUNE 26, 1877.

New York Letter.

NEW YORK, June 22.

The action of Ex-Judge Hilton, manager of the Stewart estate, in excluding Mr. Seligman and family from the Grand Union Hotel at Saratoga, is causing great excitement here. Although an Israelite, Mr. Seligman is one of the most liberal, cultivated and prominent gentleman in New York, and this indiscreet order of Judge Hilton's to the Sup't of the hotel to exclude all Jews this season, will open up a broad question, which will turn into a National one. Already the straws are visible which indicate one of the directions the breeze will take; for nearly all the prominent Jewish merchants in New York and elsewhere, have withdrawn their patronage from the house of A. T. Stewart & Co.

The Plymouth church Sunday-school had a boat excursion a few days ago, and while Mr. Beecher, the pastor, was comfortably seated at the bow of the boat enjoying the sail and scenery, the Sunday-school were dancing in the cabin, and on the deck. Verily the world (and churches) moves.

Reform, like charity, should begin at home. Those who cry loudest for reform want everybody but themselves to repent, reform and prepare for the New Jerusalem. This leads me to say that the latest publication in New York is a monthly entitled the "Eclectic and Peacemaker," or it has been called the "New Jerusalem Omnibus;" are invited to take a ride to the promised land—fare, usual price—five cents.

Most of the temples of (fashion) worship are closed for the summer. The season will begin again in the Fall.

Some of the members of the Independent Liberal Society, over which O. B. Frothingham presides, have become dissatisfied with his extreme liberal views, and have gone over to Rev. W. R. Alger's Society. These conservative souls should know that if they were before in the frying pan they are now in the fire.

Gen. B. F. Butler lectured at the Academy of Music Wednesday evening, his theme being "The Irish Soldier in American history." The Hall was crowded, and as the proceeds went to St. Cecelia parish, priests and politicians were alike made happy.

To the attractions at the Aquarium there have just been added four living white whales. Light comedies are being played at Daly's and Wallack's theatres; at Gilmore's Garden a concert is given every evening, but on Sunday evenings the music is supposed to be of a more sacred and devotional character; if a selection from the "Rollicking Dutchman" should appear upon the programme during the week—on Sunday it would appear as "The German's Prayer."

In looking over I see that my items are nearly all of a religious nature. I do get spells that way sometimes—but I hope you will excuse me.

Business is status quo,—well, in fact, not enough to speak of. E. E. B.

The Way the Laws are Administered in New York.

If there is a place on earth where the laws are worse administered than in the city of New York, it would excite no surprise if it shared the fate of Sodom and Gomorrah. While punishment never fails to be meted out to slight offenders, great criminals very, very often escape unwhipt of justice. By way of illustration as to the way the laws are put in force, we will suppose that a burglar robs a bank of a million of dollars. On his arrest it is arranged that if he can procure bail for two hundred thousand dollars, he will have his liberty until wanted for trial. One of his friends comes forward and says he will be his bondsman in that amount, and when asked how he came in possession of so large a sum, his reply is that it was given him by the individual who robbed the bank; yet, notwithstanding such a caricature as it is of justice, he is taken as bail. Incredible as it would once have seemed, precisely the same thing was done in the case of Tweed, who, after stealing sundry millions from the treasury of the city of New York, was allowed to go at large until he chose to run away, by his son becoming his bail in the sum of one million of dollars, which he acknowledged in court had been given him by his father. It will be rather a curious fact, a century hence, in the past history of New York, that after the years the laws have been trifled with since Tweed and his brother plunderers were exposed, they were allowed to go scot free—as seems to be the plan in the case of Sweeney—at the rate of $400,000 restored for $6,000,000 stolen. As in some of the States a law exists against the compounding of felony, it may be asked if such an one is to be found among the Revised Statutes of New York, and should that be the case, if those who make such an arrangement with the thieves are not liable to punishment for its violation.

Another phase of the manner in which crime is not only shielded but fostered in New York, is given in the following facts, which are as well known as that there is such a pleasure ground as the Central Park. As long as the wealth and fashion of New York centred around the Battery, when Union square was far up-town, and what is now the Central Park was out-of-town, a woman calling herself Restell, (a name she borrowed from one of the same infamous calling in Paris) established herself in Greenwich street as an abortionist, from which place she was turned out-of-doors at an hour's notice by an indignant lady, when she became aware to what a disgrace to her sex she had let her respectable premises. Removing to a location not far off, and thriving in her horrid trade, she was in a few years in a condition to purchase of a new owner the dwelling she first occupied. The death of one of her victims caused her arrest and conviction, but instead of being sent to the gallows as she should have been, she was merely sent to the Penitentiary for one year, and during that time there was not force enough in the government of the city to compel the keeper of the Penitentiary to oblige her to eat and work with and dress like the other criminals; officials were sent there to see that her sentence was enforced, but it was the merest farce, as long as she had money wherewith to bribe those who shielded her from punishment. At a subsequent time, after the death of another of her victims and her escape from its consequences, her house was surrounded by a mob, who, had she been a man instead of one of the other sex, would very likely have hanged the creature to the nearest lamp-post; but escaping through the yard of her dwelling, she managed to secrete herself until the excitement was over. Twenty years went by, and then, with the wealth she had accumulated, she was able to erect a palace on Fifth avenue, that in splendor, with its costly adornments of art, surpassed anything of the kind ever before seen in that famed locality; and there, unmolested, she has been permitted to pursue her infamous vocation, until it may be said that could the skeletons of her victims be gathered in a heap, they would form a spectacle not less appalling than Tamerlane's pyramid of human skulls! Astounding as it may seem, forty thousand dollars would be a moderate estimate of the revenue a New York daily, having contained her advertisements during her entire career, has derived from such a source; escaping, too, the penalty for thus violating the laws. Such are the beauties of an elective judiciary, and of a constituency such as puts that judiciary in power.

The War.

Further particulars of the crossing of the Danube at Ibrail and Galatz have been received. It had been ascertained by Russian spies that the Turkish forces at Matchin were in no condition to oppose a crossing if made in force, and that only straggling bands of Bashi-Bazouks were to be met among the lowlands along the river. Accordingly, before dawn, a few barge loads of Cossacks were sent across from Galatz to Ghlacet. The crossing was assisted by small steamers. In this manner a sufficient number of horsemen were soon across and mounted. They remained close to the river, having their sentres out to give notice of an approach of the enemy. The guns in the forts at Galatz fully covered the cavalry. Meanwhile the same movement had been made at Ibraij. All being ready at both points the telegraph was put in requisition from Ibrail, and a simultaneous movement took place, the Cossacks advancing with great rapidity into the Dobrudscha. In less than two hours the two lines of horsemen had formed a juncture, the distance between Galatz and Ibrail measured on the inside of the bend of the river being only eighteen miles, thus forming a cordon of Cossacks between the river's bank and the enemy. Under cover of the Cossacks cordon, the pontoons were towed into position and the bridges at the two points were soon laid.

Eight thousand men and two batteries of artillery then passed over as rapidly as possible, each battalion forming directly it had reached the dry ground. The enemy in the shape of scattered irregular cavalry had shown themselves at various points; and when the main body of troops had formed, and the batteries had been placed, the Cossacks were ordered forward, to drive back the videttes. An advance was then made toward Matchin, the object being to attack at once before the place could be reinforced.

After a hand-to-hand fight the outlying fortifications were captured and the guns turned on the fleeing Turks. The second assault followed as soon as the men could be formed, and with the aid of the newly-acquired field pieces the heights were carried by storm. These struggles, in which the fighting was in many instances hand to hand, continued until late in the afternoon. Driven from their entrenched position, the Turks fell back on Matchin. On Saturday morning the battle was renewed; but after a few shells had been thrown into the entrenchments and the town the Turks evacuated the former. The Russians advanced and occupied the town only to find that it had been abandoned by the main body of the Turkish troops during the darkness.

Marblehead Burned.

Marblehead, Mass., was almost destroyed by fire on Monday, fifteen acres of buildings, including all the shoe factories in the town but five, being burned. The fire broke out in the rear of the Marblehead Hotel, and soon spread to the General Grover engine house, which was situated directly over the main water supply, the Brick Pond reservoir; this forced the firemen to wait until the engine house and hotel were burned before they could get water, and during that time the fire spread rapidly. Engines from Lynn and Salem arrived, and after burning three hours and destroying two-thirds of the business part of the town, the fire was got under control. Police from Lynn and Salem were sworn in as specials, and a militia company ordered out, to prevent plundering by thieves. One life was lost.

News and Notes.

Let our cities look upon the desolation in St. John; let them remember how a similar though smaller conflagration crippled Portland, and then let them act as common sense and precaution dictate, regarding the toleration of fireworks upon the Fourth. The warning is a startling one, and to neglect it would be worse than folly. We certainly cannot complain that the teaching of experience is lacking, for this year at least it is timely and terrible.—Boston Post.

On Sunday, in Boston, Mrs. Jeannette Locke, whose husband recently procured a divorce from her, inflicted a slight pistol shot wound upon John Lavey, a witness against her on the trial; and Michael Maguinness, a North End rough, was arrested for assaulting another rough with a cleaver.

The Mollie Maguires are reviving their infamous business in the coal districts of Pennsylvania. Several persons who gave evidence against the recently executed murderers have been assassinated, others have had their doors "coffined" (a warning that they are singled out for murder), and several men have disappeared.

John Weldon and his sister and daughter were murdered on their farm in Logan county, Ohio, on Sunday.

A sailboat containing five persons was capsized off Fort Independence, Boston harbor, Sunday afternoon, and a man and two boys were drowned.

The President having accepted the invitation of the Massachusetts authorities to visit Boston, the following programme for the week has been arranged: Leaving Washington on Monday, the 25th, the President will arrive in Boston on the morning of Tuesday, the 26th instant. He will be escorted to the State house by a portion of the militia, and will there be formally welcomed by the Governor. On Wednesday he will attend the commencement exercises at Harvard, and on Thursday he will attend the military anniversaries at Providence.

Secretary McCrary has written a letter to Governor Emery of Utah in reply to the Governor's requisition for additional troops, informing him that while he does not share in the apprehension of a Mormon rebellion, yet in order to calm existing excitement and ensure the Gentiles protection, he will send the additional reinforcements asked for. Both Generals Sherman and Sheridan are of the opinion that there is no necessity for sending troops to Utah; yet they agree with the Secretary that it will be best to send them as a precautionary movement. Information has been laid before the Grand Jury of Utah implicating church officials high in authority, and it is the opinion of the Governor that in case these people are indicted, serious trouble will result. The Governor is anxious to have a sufficient force on hand to protect the Court and to enforce its decrees, as he is determined, so far as lies in his power, that all those implicated in the Mountain Meadow massacre, or other outrages, shall be brought to justice.

Political.

It will be remembered that on the day of President Hayes' inauguration, Donn Piatt's Capital newspaper at Washington, in a blazing editorial leader, counselled the assassination of the new President. Lo and behold! a wonderful change has come over the spirit of the dream of Donn Piatt. He has held out as long as possible, and at last comes down gracefully with a confession that he is a convert to the Hayes Southern policy. And in so doing, he proclaims that he has no sympathy with "the white-chokered, swallow-tailed old frauds of the Manhattan club," meaning by this somewhat forcible expression that he goes back on Tilden, Hendricks & Co. Now, Donn Piatt's last estate is infinitely improved over his first estate; but as to the reflection upon the President and his policy, we prefer to keep silence.

"The South is solid," we are told; and yet here comes an account of a formal meeting of the democratic editors of Mississippi, who took pains to resolve in the most solemn manner that they deprecate and will discourage all independent party movements and oppose all candidates of such movements. If it is "all solid," what's the necessity of such resolves?

Soon after the 4th of July, the President will make a trip to Richmond and Petersburg, where he has already accepted an invitation, and may extend it to West Virginia. After that he will remain in Washington a few days, and then go to Vermont to visit his relatives, and participate in the ceremonies of regard for the memory of one of them, who perished in the Ashtabula accident.

The apologists for Southern outrages point to the disorders and crime in the North, and especially to the offences of the Molly Maguires in Pennsylvania. How northern society deals with crime has been shown in the executions of Thursday. This most formidable and extensive organization for murder has been broken up by the trial, and conviction, and execution of the offenders. The whole machinery of the law, supported by a sound public opinion, was brought against them. In Mississippi and in the more civilized community of South Carolina, the law is silent, and public opinion sustains the crimes. And when the arm of the federal government is stretched out for the protection of the innocent and the punishment of the guilty, it is paralyzed by the refusal of juries to do their duty. The Chief Justice is said to have expressed the opinion that no white man can be convicted of an offence against a negro in South Carolina.

Why, the papers say that even the Caucasses is rising!" (Lady customer pays her bill without another word.)

THE CROSS AND THE CRESCENT

A volume of thrill ng interest by the eminent historian L. P. BROCKETT; describing the Russians and Turks: social, political, and religious history and condition; their home-life, various customs and peculiarities, the causes of the war, the issues at stake—Christian against Mohammedan—the mighty interests of other nations involved; Biographies of the Rulers, statesmen and Generals; all richly illustrated. The book millions need now. Wanted instantly, 3,000 agents on very liberal terms.

Address HUBBARD BROS., Publishers, 309 Main St., Springfield, Mass.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

E. G. PIERCE, JR., P. M.

HE CLEARS HIMSELF.

Caleb Moulton, of Hampstead, the man who by running as a prohibition candidate for Congress in this district secured a brewer's election, had things said about him by the republican papers after the election; and after waiting until the people had about forgotten that any such fellow as Caleb Moulton ever lived, he writes to the Manchester Mirror, under date of June 19th, to clear his reputation and show to an indifferent public that Caleb Moulton is a truly good man and his republican traducers no better than they should be. Looking over our back files to see if we were included in the "other publishers of republican papers" which like the Mirror "have seen fit to use my [Moulton's] name quite freely since the March election," we find several allusions to that worthy man. In the first one, in the GAZETTE of March 17th, in answer to a query of the Boston Traveller as to "how much each vote of Mr. Jones' forty-nine plurality cost him," we said:

A thousand dollars a vote is probably a very low estimate—and this does not include the compensation of Mr. Caleb Moulton, the gentleman who, after taking part in the various republican conventions, (and later tarrying a night at the Rockingham House, Mr. Jones' splendid hotel,) accepted the prohibition nomination for Congress and secured ninety-eight votes—not a great number, certainly, but enough to insure the election of Mr. Jones.

The size of our grief on discovering that we mode use of such language as the foregoing may be imagined though it cannot be described; but our inexpressible anguish, when on looking over the GAZETTE of April 5th we discovered several other paragraphs relating to Mr. Moulton, in one of which we found the following, cannot be imagined by anybody that we know of:

He atttended the republican Congressional convention and voted for the candidate who received the nomination; and then,—after a visit to Portsmouth and a night spent at Hon. Frank Jones' hotel,—he came out as a prohibition candidate in opposition to the man he had helped nominate! Whether they are right or wrong in their belief, the republicans do believe Caleb Moulton was "induced" to run by Hon. Frank Jones; for Moulton's candidacy was entirely in Jones' interest, and he did not nominate himself until after his visit to this city. * * Moulton has written a letter to the Manchester Mirror, denouncing as false any statements that he was bought or hired to run for Congress by Mr. Jones. Nobody imagines that any receipt was passed between the parties, whatever other "documents" may have been handed over.

Having duly considered the foregoing utterances of ours, made before we fully understood Mr. Moulton's character, we now feel inspired with a holy zeal to do the fair thing by that gentleman. First, we have read his long and labored letter; and considering the estimation in which we hold the writer, we think that is penance enough to justify us in a hope that we shall be able to slip through purgatory without getting our hair singed. But having determined to do what is right in the premises, we will go still further, and reprint the principal points of Mr. Moulton's letter. Extract first:

Not satisfied with this plain denial, next, a harmless little note written by me to an old friend, enclosing a few Prohibition tickets, was hunted up and published as a grand disclosure.

Mr. Moulton in the preceding statement conveys the impression that he wrote but one "harmless little note" asking the recipients to put the enclosed tickets where they would do the most good, and this may be correct; but a number of similar letters were sent to others by somebody. Extract second:

I did not vote for Gen. Marston, and I have never said that I did, or called any witness to prove any such thing; and no one to this day has ever asked me how I voted.

There is a gentleman whose reputation stands as high as Caleb Moulton's did before the election, and who was a delegate to the Republican Congressional Convention, who we are informed has asserted that Mr. Moulton told him in the convention that he voted for Gen. Marston, and requested him to remember it in case his [Moulton's] vote should be called in question; this story was some time since published, and is probably what is referred to in Mr. Moulton's denial; but this is a question of veracity we shall not attempt to decide. Mr. Moulton further says that he was sick for several weeks after the Congressional convention, and adds:

During that time the Prohibition State Convention was held, at which I was nominated for a candidate for Representative in the First District. The nomination was unsought by me, and I had no intimation that my name was to be used, nor that I had been nominated until nearly three weeks after the convention when a member of the prohibition committee came to notify me.

The general impression has been that Mr. Moulton was not nominated by any delegate convention whatever, but that imitating the glorious example of Cronin of Oregon, the noblest rum 'un of them all, he organized a convention of one and unanimously nominated himself, and it is gratifying to learn that he and "a member of the prohibition committee" found out more about the doings of the prohibitory State convention than the convention itself or any of the newspaper reporters attending it did. We have looked over all the reports of that convention that we can find, and do not find that Caleb Moulton of Hampstead (or anybody else) was nominated for Congress in this district by the prohibitionists; and a delegate to the convention gives us the following account of its proceedings: After the other business before the convention was disposed of, on motion a committee from each Congressional district was appointed for the purpose of bringing before the convention the names of candidates to be supported for Congress, each committee consisting of three delegates from the district. The committee for the first district consisted of a Mr. Sanborn of Epping, and Messrs. A. F. Craig and Joseph R. Curtis of this city; in commitee, Mr. Craig advocated the nomination of Moulton, but Messrs. Sanborn and Curtis preferred, if any Congressional nomination at all was made, to have Gen. Marston nominated, and the committee rose without deciding on a candidate, Mr. Sanborn not re-entering the convention. After Messrs. Craig and Curtis returned, the former announced to the president of the convention that the committee of the first district offered the name of Caleb Moulton, when Mr. Curtis replied that the committee did nothing of the kind, as they were two to one against him. A spicy debate followed; the president of the convention finally ruled that as such it could not nominate candidates for Congress, and the convention adjourned without nominating anybody,—unless Mr. Craig's rejected motion to nominate him was a regular nomination. Mr. Moulton further says:

It is also charged that, "after a visit to Portsmouth" I "came out a candidate." I went to Portsmouth but once, a week before the election, and more than a month after my nomination, and I am glad to have an opportunity to make my business there known. I received a tetogram from A. F. Craig, Esq., one of the prohibition committee, to meet him at Newmarket Junction to help arrange some political meetings during the week. I went there immediately, and not finding Mr. Craig, went on to Portsmouth in the last train and booked my name at the Franklin House, where I usually stop when in that city. I soon found Mr. Craig, and we stayed in his office until a late hour arranging for the meetings of the several speakers and for our tickets for this county, doing what we could that evening, when I went to my room and to bed at about 12 o'clock, being quite unwell. The next morning I went to Mr. Craig's office very early and found him already at work. We made some further arrangements, when I took the posters for the meetings and the tickets for our section, which had been printed while I was there, and left for home.

Mr. Moulton has evidently made a slight mistake here. He did not "book at the Franklin House" a week before the election, or if he did his name does not appear on the register of that hotel anywhere in March; but it does appear at the Rockingham House ("Mr. Jones' splendid hotel") under date of March 5th, on which occasion he was assigned to room No. 25. And under date of April 5th (after the election) both Mr. Moulton and Mr. Craig are registered at the Rockingham, though neither is assigned a room. It seems a little odd that Mr. Moulton should so confound the Franklin House, ("where he usually stops when in this city,") whose glory as a hotel long ago departed, and the palatial and widely-known Rockingham House, as not to be able to tell which one he stopped at; but probably his pen slipped, or some rascally compositor made "Franklin" of what he wrote for "Rockingham."

In the foregoing extracts and remarks we consider that we have given Mr. Moulton a fair show, and have certainly apologized all we are able to for anything we may have said about him; and we hope he will be satisfied when he reads what we have written, if he ever does read it.

JOTTINGS.

The evening service at the Middle street Baptist church is discontinued until September.

Whatever influence has developed the dramatic talent in Portsmouth we are profoundly grateful for its results. We heard a lady of great experience and rare cultivation pronounce Portsmouth the "Weimar of America," after listening with delight to the last play presented by the Eclectic Club, and it seems to us that Goethe could not have been surrounded in his little theatre for which he wrote and played with a greater array of talent that Portsmouth posseses,—and they do say that "She Stoops to Conquer" is to be the best thing yet, even better than "The God-natured Man." The musical troupe offer on the same occasion some exquisite music. The music begins at eight o'clock, this evening, at Miss Morgan's Seminary. Tickets at Mr. Foster's. †

The little steamer built by Mr. Pillsbury of Kittery Point for navigating the Merrimack river, was towed to the wharf of Trent's stone yard by steamer Clara Batemen, Monday forenoon, to receive her machinery.

The July dividend on the Concord and Portsmouth Railroad shares to stockholders in this vicinity, will be paid on Thursday next, 28th inst., at the office of William H. Hackett.

On Sunday afternoon two sailors from the U. S. S. Enterprise procured a boat from Mr. Albert Goodwin; while sailing in the lower harbor the jib halliards broke, and one of the sailors climbed the mast to reeve them, when a heavy gust of wind capsized the boat, throwing both men into the water. Another boat which happened to be near at the time picked them and the boat up, and carried them into Newcastle, with no material damage to the sailors or boat.

The temperance lecture on Sunday evening by Col. J. Horace Kent was an eloquent production, full of practical truths and logical deductions that the most specious and ardent defender of light and moderate drinking could not satisfactorily answer. The unusually large audience was the best compliment that could have been paid the speaker, to say nothing of the present of a beautiful cone-shaped bouquet that was placed on the table just before Mr. Kent commenced his remarks. We hope that the address referred to will be delivered elsewhere, as it has the true ring to it, because it was prepared by one who has "been there" and speaks from the abundance of the heart. These are the men who are the most effective in the great reform work, from the simple fact that their experience with alcohol consists of no finely spun theory but a frightful reality from which Col. Kent and such as he have happily escaped.

A Medicine of Many Uses.

A medicine which remedies dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, debility, intermittent and remittent fevers, urinary and uterine troubles, depurates the blood, counteracts a tendency to rheumatism and gout, and relieves nervousness, may be truly said to have many uses. Such an article is Hostetter's Bitters, one of the most reliable alteratives of a disorderly to a well-ordered state of the system ever prepared or sold. It has been over a quarter of a century before the public, is endorsed by many eminent professors of the healing art, and its merits have received repeated recognitions in the columns of leading American and foreign journals. It is highly esteemed in every part of this country, and is extensively used in South America, Mexico, the British possessions and the West Indies. If its increase in public favor in the past is to be regarded as a reliable criterion of its gain in popularity in coming years, it has indeed a splendid future before it.

Diamonds and Pearls.

Eyes bright as diamonds should be supplemented by teeth white as pearls, and this latter element of beauty can be secured by using Sozodont. If brushed in night and morning, this fragrant vegetable preparation is guaranteed to preserve the soundness of the teeth, and prevent their turning yellow.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SEAVEY, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or other of the other Trustees.

A Smart Pig.

A Kentucky pig has suddenly developed a genius for gymnastics and engineering which eclipses the proudest former achievements of his race. This eminent pig was recently placed by his owner in a pasture surrounded by a high wall and ornamented by elm trees festooned with wild grapevines. The walls, however, could not confine his bold and ragrant spirit. Selecting a tree standing near the western wall of the pasture, he carefully bit loose the lower end of a stout grape-vine, which was attached by its tendrills to a limb on a tree, and taking this improvised rope in his mouth, swung himself in the air until he had gathered an impetus which sent him entirely over the wall and landed him in the next field. Though often recaptured, he has constantly repeated this extraordinary feat, and his intelligent owner, instead of cutting down his elm trees to restrain his pig's wandering propensity, has decided to educate him for the trapeze business.

—At Belchertown, Mass., recently, an Amherst couple, named respectively Fry and Boll, were married under rather exciting circumstances. The girl's father didn't want her to marry the man, and so the latter took her to the place where her sister was employed till the wedding could be arranged. The sister, however, was also opposed to the match, because the same fellow had previously made love to her, and so she locked the bride-expectant into her room. After's a night's incarceration she jumped from the window and joined her lover at the hotel. The clerk of the house drove off furiously for a clergyman, and the Methodist pastor was just beginning the ceremony when the sister appeared at the window to forbid the banns. The certificate was all right, however, and the minister concluded to go on, but in his excitement he read most of the baptismal service, beginning, "Whereas all men are born in sin," and repeated the names of the couple half-a-dozen times. The clerk held the door so that the sister couldn't come in. On Sunday the girl's father came to the church door and called the minister from his Sunday-school class to demand of him why he married his daughter, at the same time admitting her legal age. Meanwhile the groom has lost his place at Amherst, and left for parts unknown.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative no could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is authoritic and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the choice of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy elief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are oft every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Conditior Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 5th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. Before I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room more all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was too poor to go. I came to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel. Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation o health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water or houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to offer for sale any of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owner or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person with his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds within city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION!

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

Conversation A La Mode.

First Lady—Did you go to the Wagner festivals?

Second Lady—Yes, my dear, and I quite really must confess I liked them. There is something so quite awfully too amusingly jolly about them to be missed.

First gentleman—Been to the Grosvenor?

Second Gentleman—Yes. Isn't it quite awfully proper. Some of the pictures are so quite too terribly awfully good, and the restaurant business is a splendidly awfully fine idea of Sir Coutts'. It's the quite too charmingly jolliest place of the day for a lounge.

First Lady—Yes; the whole idea is so quite too comme ill faut.

Third Gentleman—Quite too awfully—weally—ah! What a awfully—weally—quite too doosibly how wid wude thing that is they're playing at the Cwitewion now, isn't it?

First Lady—Quite too awfully naughty. I've seen it three times. It's quite too delightfully wicked. I sh'n't allow my husband to see it.

Second Lady—Oh, I thought it quite shockingly awfully smart. So quite too really absurd.

Third Gentleman—Do you see that quite nearly all the fwuiteres stick up in their windows now, "Aspawagus is cheap today," evewy day? It's wealy awfully quite too nonsensically silly, because it can't always be cheap—he! he!

First Lady—It makes it really quite too common; asparagus will soon be as vulgar as broad beans, and then wo sh'n't be able to include it in the menu. It's quite too shameful to make it so quite too vulgarly commonly cheap.

Second Lady—My dear, it's quite so too quite awfully terribly fearfully quite too so quite shockingly awful to so quite too much as contemplate.—London Fun.

How a Chicago Girl Fixed Him.

"Will you do something to oblige me?" shyly asked a beautiful young woman of a timid gentleman whose acquaintance she had just made at a small social gathering on West Adams street the other evening.

"Anything that I can in honor, miss," he replied, blushing,

"Well," said she, "come into the back parlor, where it is dark, and sit on the sofa with me, and let me rest my head on your shoulder, and you pretend to whisper in my ear—only don't blow, because that tickles and I can't laugh, for this new dress is very tight—and when anybody looks you can draw your arm away—I forgot to say I wanted you to put it round my waist—and I'll pretend to blush."

"But, my gracious, honored miss," stammered the young man, after hastily dividing four into 1877 and finding that it wasn't leap year; "my goodness, before all these people—and I am already engaged—and your father must weigh—"

"Hush, I know what I'm up to," replied the artless girl. "I'm engaged, too, to that young man talking to the waxen-faced thing with somebody's hair over there. I want to stir him up—to bring him down to business—make him come up to his milk, that's all."

The young man said that a load had been lifted from his bosom, and aided her to the best of his ability, so well, indeed, that in three-quarters of an hour the true betrothed got his girl into the library, demanded an explanation of her shameless conduct, was softened by her tears, called himself a brute, asked if she could ever forgive him, and promised to behave better in future. And how did the young girl reward the young man who had helped her to this happiness? Why, she never said a word to him all the evening, in fact never mentioned him except to say to her reconciled lover, "Alonzo, could you have been so stupid as to think I could see anything to admire in such a mutton-headed clam as that?" "O, woman, in our hours of ease," etc.—Chicago paper.

What Made the Court Laugh.

The Court in the Ellenton, S. C., trial was convulsed with laughter by the quaint talk of a singular type of African, named Frederick Jones. He was about sixty or seventy years of age, not more than five feet high, short-legged and straight-bodied. He lived on "de hard-scrabble road," near Rouse's bridge, and on this Sunday was going to meeting, for there were to be three funerals preached. On his way he saw a cluster of men riding up and down the road and carrying guns. He got scared, and when they happened to come close to him he ran, but they hemmed him in, and he was captured and taken to Mr. Dickson Owens. Then he told his story, about as follows: "Mr. Owens said, 'Frederick!' I said, 'Sah?' He said, 'What for you run?' I said "'Cause I'm scared.' He said, 'Frederick!' I said 'Sah?' He says, 'Don' you know me?' I said, 'Yes, sah, I do now, but I was so scared I didn't know nuffin'.' Den he said, 'How you voted?' I said I generally voted straight along way. He said, 'You must come to our compliion.' [Moderate laughter.] He said, 'You mus' all come to our compinion or we will make you.' Den he said hadn't I seen Colonel Butler and his men? I said, 'I dunno, sah; I seed three or four hundred thousand men.'" At this unexpected and sweeping exaggeration, uttered in the comical piping tones of the witness, even the court broke down. Chief-Justice Waite and Judge Bond made no effort to conceal their feelings, and the jury, witnesses, counsel, defendants and spectators, all joined in one general guffaw. The witness, seeing that something had happened, but hardly comprehending what it was, felt called on to make an explanation, and as soon as there was a lull he went on: "Well, de men was about three acres long and four tier deep." This did not give relief to the aching sides of the dignified men who were doing their best to suppress their laughter, and a fresh outburst was the result. As soon as quiet was restored the witness tried it again, but made it worse: "Well, you see dey looked bigger to me 'cause I was standin' in a big old field, 'bout 500-acre field, and dey looked like a million."—Charleston (S. C.) Letter to N. Y. Times.

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27, 1877.

The Last "Civil Service Reform" Order.

The following is President Hayes' circular order to office-holders, issued June 22d:

Sir: I desire to call your attention to the following paragraph in a letter addressed by me to the Secretary of the Treasury on the conduct to be observed by the officers of the General Government in relation to elections: "No officer should be required or permitted to take part in the management of political organizations, caucuses, conventions or election campaigns. Their right to vote and to express their views on public questions, either orally or through the press, is not denied, provided it does not interfere with the discharge of their official duties. No assessment for political purposes on officers or subordinates should be allowed." This rule is applicable to every department of the civil service. "It should be understood by every officer of the General Government that he is expected to conform his conduct to its requirements. R. B. HAYES.

This order, it is said, as interpreted by members of the Cabinet, is intended to absolutely prohibit Federal office holders and their employes from holding any connection with what is known as the "machine of politics," and to prohibit office holders from any connection whatever with any of the various ward, township, county, State or national organizations for conducting political campaigns. Those who now hold any of these positions will be removed if they continue to hold them after time enough has elapsed for the general circulation of the President's order.

It seems to us that the civil service reform hobby is being run into the ground. That the President can enforce his order by removing from office any men who violate it, and filling their places with more plastic material, we believe; that this order is flatly opposed to the spirit of our republican institutions we also believe. The President has a right—and it is his duty—to remove from office any man who neglects the duties of his position, for politics or anything else; but when he demands that a man on accepting office shall give up all or any part of his rights as a citizen, he meddles with what is emphatically none of his business. He has a right to demand that an official shall faithfully perform all the duties of his office, but there his rightful control over the office-holder ends, and it is as much a piece of impertinence for him to dictate how the official shall act politically outside of his office, as it would be to direct him what church to attend or what kind of shirt collar he should wear.

Civil Service Reform started out on the platform that office should not be a reward for political service, but it has now got so far beyond that that political service is considered a disqualification for office—as shown in the appointment to office by the present Administration, in more than one instance, of active working democrats, to the exclusion of eligible candidates whose misfortune it was to be active republicans; and now the office-holder who as a private citizen was active and earnest in attending to his political duties, and who since his appointment to office has continued the same course, is notified that he must give up part of his rights as a citizen, though he will still graciously be allowed to speak and write his sentiments, under certain judicious restrictions, and to vote. Next he will be prohibited from voting, unless he votes with the opposite party.

Charleston "Chivalry."

After Chief Justice Waite, of the United States Supreme Court, returned from South Carolina, where he had been to preside at the trials of the Ellenton conspirators, the northern papers showed up how sincere the chivalry of Charleston, S. C., have been in the cry of "conciliation" they have kept up for years, by exposing the fact that the Chief Justice and his accomplished lady were socially ostracised in that hotbed of conciliation and fraternal love, not a solitary lady or gentleman of prominence in Charleston society having called upon them during their stay in that city, this marked discourtesy being all the more noticeable from its contrast with the manner in which Mr. and Mrs. Waite were received in North Carolina. The Charleston papers, evidently surprised and chagrined that the matter should have attracted so much unfavorable comment at the North, hastened to explain that the studied avoidance of Mr. and Mrs. Waite (whom they acknowledged to be the social equals of the best) was not owing to the fact that the Chief Justice is an official of the United States, but to the fact that he presided at the trial of the Ellenton murderers, and was accompanied by Judge Bond, who has been active in endeavoring to bring the Ellenton and Hamburg murderers to justice and thereby incurred the displeasure of the chivalry. Now we have the following letter from Judge Waite to Ex-Gov. Aiken of South Carolina, which is going the rounds:

My Dear Governor: I have to-day seen for the first time an article which, as I understand, has gone the rounds of the press, to the effect that I was not satisfied with the especial attentions which I received while I was in Charleston. Most certainly I hope my friends will not believe me guilty of any such foolish complaints. I have never said a word from which any such inference could be drawn. No such thought was in my heart. It has annoyed me exceedingly, and my daughter is as much annoyed as I am with this newspaper paragraph. M. R. WAITE.

It will be observed that Mr. Waite does dot deny the entire truth of the stories referred to; he merely says that neither he nor his daughter had any idea of whimpering over the matter,—that's all. The New York Tribune makes the following brief comment on the affair, which seems to cover the whole ground: "The exact truth seems to have been reached at last in the matter of Chief Justice Waite and the people of Charleston. It will confirm the popular notion that the manners of the 'chivalry' are as poor as they were in the days of slavery, and that to be 'a Southern gentleman' does not necessarily imply either intelligence or good breeding."

Beecher on the Hilton-Seligman Affair.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, in his last Sunday's sermon, said;

"There was a terrific row raised in Ephesus by a merchant because a Jew had appeared there. When an attempt was made by friends to defend him they were forbidden. How far has the world grown since that time? During the past few days we have seen a similar attempt to ostracize a man because he was a Jew, and for the space, not of two hours, but two days—an age in New York—there has been something of the same kind of an uproar. I have had a long acquaintance with the gentleman who has been brought into such unpleasant connection with this affair, Mr. Seligman. I bear testimony that during all this time his behavior has not only been what we might expect from a Christian gentleman, but often even such as to put the behavior of most Christian gentlemen to shame. I have met Mr. Seligman in repeated seasons at the Twin Mountain House, and in general assistance for benevolent undertakings, in the successful organizing and helping of prayer-meetings, or in whatever volunteer service might be needed, he has been one of my deacons. Beyond the restrictions necessarily imposed by his own religion, I suppose no man could show himself more tolerantly courteous."

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 23.

It is by everybody conceded—even by iron-clad Bourbons—that Townsend's letter places the "Reform" Attorney-General of New York in a most unenviable position where, unless able to disprove the allegations of Tweed's lawyer, he must inevitably be ground to impalpable powder between the upper and nether millstones of public opinion. There has long been an opinion among the politicians encountered here that the New York officials were only intent on suppressing Tweed's testimony because of possible danger to themselves and friends should it be made public. Fairchild appears to have retained the so-called "confession" just as long as suited his own purposes and then returned it to the heart-broken old thief languishing in Ludlow, with the statement that his continued confinement is deemed of more advantage to the plundered city and State than the arrest and conviction of scores of others equally criminal, which it is claimed could be readily accomplished upon the testimony of the old Boss.

The late "reform" candidate for the Presidency setting up as a plea the statute of limitations in the suit against him for $150,000 tax withheld through alleged perjury, and all the sombre possibilities of Tweed's revelations in the background lead to reflections not at all calculated to lessen the gloom at present surrounding many of the Tammany and other democratic statesmen of the country.

Very little sympathy was excited here in behalf of the "Mollies" yesterday executed in Pennsylvania. Outraged law has at last been vindicated and it is felt that the world would lose nothing if every brute who could be identified as one of the cowardly gang known as "Molly Maguires" was to be sent to his own place by the same road taken by the elven despatched yesterday.

The fusilade between the Methodist parson, Newman, and the Jesuit pastor, White, and Secretary Sherman's last letter are about the only matters of general interest just now. KNOX.

The War.

The Turkish losses in the recent fighting in Montenegro it is said will reach fully 10,000 men killed. The Montenegrins lost heavily, but nothing like the Turks. A correspondent at Pera reports that Suleiman Pasha is retreating toward the Albanian frontier, having to fight every step. The Montenegrins line the hills on his flanks and hover in the front and rear, firing perpetually, charging wherever opportunity offers and availing themselves of every rock and accident of ground to impede his progress. They are ever on the watch and lose no chance of killing a Turk or cutting off an isolated detachment. The Turkish garrison of Spuz made an attempt to render Suleiman's retreat somewhat easier by a sortie, but the effect was hardly perceptible. The Montenegrins are well supplied with mountain artillery. It is admitted that this march of Suleiman Pasha is the most disastrous to the Turks of any event recorded in the history of their wars with Montenegro.

There has been some heavy fighting in Armenia, lasting for several days, Mukhtar Pasha claims a "decisive" victory, and other sources report a repulse of the Russians.

News and Notes.

The U. S. revenue cutter Gallatin sailed from Boston for St. John, N. B., on Monday, with a full cargo of clothing, provisions, etc., contributed by the citizens of Boston for the sufferers by the great fire.

Capt. William W. Low, of the United States Navy, died at Frankfort Arsenal, Saturday evening, aged 55 years. He will be buried at New Haven, Conn.

John Douglass and wife of Porter, Me., were driving down a steep hill in that town, Sunday evening, when part of the harness gave way, the horse became frightened, and ran. Mr. Douglass was thrown out and instantly killed, and Mrs. Douglass fatally injured.

Fannie Brown, arrested in St. Louis on the charge of abducting Mary Masterson, aged ten years, pleaded guilty at Philadelphia, Monday, and was sentenced to five years' imprisonment.

A heavy gale and rainstorm passed over Missouri, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio and Iowa on Monday; houses were unroofed and blown over, trees torn up, railroad trains blown from the track and towns flooded, but no lives are reported lost.

Tug boat Herbert exploded her boiler at Taunton, Mass., on Tuesday, killing the engineer and one deck hand. The deck hand was blown thirty rods, over a barn and into a field.

President Hayes arrived in Boston on Tuesday, and was received with the honors due his station.

The losses by the St. John fire foot up $30,000,000; insurance $5,527,000, much of which will be unavailable, owing to the ruin of the infurance companies.

Robert Dale Owen died on Monday, at his home in Indiana, aged 76 years.

Lieut. Catsby Jones, formerly of the United States Navy, but who left the service and commanded the Confederate ram Merrimac at the fight in Hampton Roads, was lately killed in a street encounter in Selma, Ala.

New Hampshire Items.

Hon. Wm. E. Chandler is sick, and his physician has forbidden his engaging in any business this summer.

The Legislature has asked Congress to repeal the Bankrupt act.

James Holman of Fitzwilliam fell from his granite loaded wagon, Friday, and was run over. His injuries are thought to be fatal.

Major A. P. Blake, one of the oldest hotel keepers in New Hampshire, landlord of the Squamscott House at Exeter, died suddenly Sunday morning, presumably of heart disease. He was widely known.

The storms of winter make great changes in the condition of New Hampshire's magnificent line of beaches, where so many thousands annually seek recreation and rest. For a number of years the beach close to the Granite House at Hampton, on the northerly side of Boat's Head, has been covered with rocks which made it unpleasant riding or bathing. Fortunately the storms of last winter drove all the rocks above high water mark or carried them out into deep water. This is a cause of congratulation to Miss May Batchelder, the young lady whose enterprise and tact as hostess has made the Granite House so popular with summer visitors, and the work performed by the winds of winter is worth hundreds of dollars to Miss May.—Post.

"Making Old Bones."

People who neglect their minor ailments rarely live to make old bones. The secret of hale and vigorous old age, lies not only in taking care of one's health in early life, by the observance of sanitary rules, but also by judicious medication when the premonitory symptoms of bodily disorder manifest themselves. Indigestion, bowel and liver complaints are fruitful causes of injury to the constitution. These diseases should be, therefore, checked without delay. The best medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This standard preparation disciplines the digestive organs, gives renewed impetus to the bilious secretive function, and exerts a beneficial influence upon the organs of urination. It has no rival as a remedy for and prevenive of chills and fevers and bilious remittents, infuses vigor into the debilitated frame, and is an excellent appetizer and nervine.

The Climax.

At last a perfect dentrifrice has been discovered. Never was tooth brush dipped into a preparation so unobjectionable and so effective as Sozodent.

All its ingredients are botanic. It whitens the teeth, keeps them undiscolored, and free from blemish, and improves the condition of the gums.

Nothing but a broken bank is namendable by Spalding's Glue.

JUST THINK OF IT.—That dread disease consumption, which takes away 40,000 lives every year in New England, might easily be avoided by the timely use of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup, which is gaining a wide reputation by its curative properties. 50 cents will buy it at your druggist's.

COCOA BUTTER, for external use, is superior to glycerine, and meets with great success in cases of sore throat and typhoid fever. This excellent remedy is prepared by Walter Baker & Co., the great Chocolate manufacturers, and may be procured of druggists in any part of the country.

T. E. MOSELEY & CO., 469 Washington street, Boston, offer their large stock of shoes and gaiters for ladies, misses and children, at very moderate prices.

If your morning cup of coffee makes you feel qualmish, or renders your nerves uneasy, substitute a cup of Walter Baker & Co's delicious Chocolate. It is nutritious, healthful, and very easy of preparation. All grocers sell it.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, is a model establishment. It is superb in both style and appointment, and its table and service cannot be excelled.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR SORE THROAT, PULMOCINE CORDIAL is for sale at the UNION STORE, Market Street. Price 50 cents per bottle.

"Sulphuret Oil of Roses."

A wonderful External Remedy, almost miraculous in effect. By absorption it eradicates Rheumatic pains, Neuralgia, Nervousness and Throat Diseases. Sufferers do themselves positive injustice by not giving this Remedy a trial. Price 50 cents and $3. FLAVILLE, BROTHER & CO., Chemists, 20 Franklin street, Boston. ☞N. B. Political.

The New York Tribune is anxious to know who will watch Cox and Sayler and Randall and Morrison and Walker, at White Sulphur Springs, while they are defeating the scheme of Hayes to make a republican Speaker. There'll be no trouble about that. Neither of those gentlemen will be able to look through a keyhole without seeing one of the others dodge.—Cincinnati Enquirer, (Dem.)

Mr. Kline, editor of the Amsterdam (N. Y.) Democrat, has been given a post-office. Mr. Kline's claim to the position was that he published an independent paper, turning it into a democratic paper, we believe, during the late campaign. It is said that the republicans of the locality opposed him for the position. Civil Service Reform is a peculiar institution.—Rochester Dem. Chron. (Rep.)

ST. JOHN'S SUFFERERS.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH,
MAYOR'S OFFICE, June 26, 1877.

AN APPEAL FOR AID for the sufferers by the late fire at St. John is being nobly responded to by our sister cities. It is hoped that the people of this city who have themselves suffered in years past the same way, will show their sympathy in a substantial manner. I, therefore, call a meeting of the citizens of Portsmouth, at the Common Council Room, on Wednesday Evening, June 27,

At 8 o'clock, for that purpose. The immediate wants of the sufferers have been promptly relieved, but their future need will be great. I trust that this meeting will be largely attended, and prompt measures adopted for this humane object.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

DRESS REFORM FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS.

Some days ago we clipped the following paragraph from the Times:

It seems to be the general hope that the approaching annual graduation at the High School will not be made a dress affair. A departure from former customs is desired and certainly desirable.

Perhaps the following edict in regard to graduation dresses, issued by the principal of a young ladies' seminary in Tennessee, will meet with the approval of our neighbor: "The young ladies are to dress in white, and the material is to be muslin, tarlatan, or its equivalent. No trimmings permitted, except when made of the same material as the dress. Lace, silk and satin expressly forbidden. No satin nor silk sashes, and no train of over ten inches in length. No sleeves shorter than the elbow. No low-neck, or low, square-neck dresses. No lace except for sleeves and neck."

Then there is the graduating class of young ladies at the Lewiston, Me., High School, who some time ago voted to appear in American prints on graduation day, and have been advertised and commended therefor by two-thirds of the papers in the Union,—we presume our contempory across the street considers those young ladies about the right kind to have around. Whether he does or not, he is on record as thinking a departure from former customs in the matter of dressing for graduation day desirable in this city,—and he will find many to agree with him, among them many parents who, should their daughters at some time graduate, would not be able to afford them costly dresses to wear on that one occasion, and who yet would not wish their children to appear before a large assemblage of ladies and gentlemen dressed in so markedly inferior a manner as to attract general attention, like a jackdaw among a flock of peacocks.

There is plenty to be said on both sides of the question. The advocates of unlimited piling-on of adornments urge that the desire to appear attractive is a natural and proper one with woman, and that as graduation day is the one public occasion in the life of the average girl graduate in which she is likely to appear as a central figure, she should be made as attractive as fine clothes can make her, regardless of expense. The other side urge that to show the extent to which the minds of the pupils have been cultivated should be the object of "Exhibition Day,"—instead of which it is often little more than a display of choice dry goods,—and that the natural desire of a young girl to appear as well as her fellows may (and often does) result in mortification and pain as she sees herself outshone in dress by a companion whose father is richer than her own. The following is a case in point, which occurred in this city within a few years past:

A young girl of the graduating class, one of the best scholars in the school, was very anxious to take part in the exercises of the day; but her mother, a poor widow, industrious and thoroughly respectable, was absolutely unable to go to the expense of fitting out her daughter in such style that the poverty of her dress would not attract notice as she appeared among her richly-dressed class-mates. Between her anxious desire to graduate with her class, and her consciousness that if she did so she would have to attend in a dress which by its glaring contrast with others would serve to call the attention of the spectators to her mother's poverty rather than to her own mental attainments, the poor girl fretted so much that she was taken seriously ill; and though through the kindness of a few friends, who knew the girl's ability as a scholar and sympathized with her perplexity, she was finally enabled to appear in a dress which did not cause her public mortification, she would have no doubt displayed quite as good scholarship and enjoyed the occasion much better in a calico dress, had custom rendered it possible for her to have appeared in such an one.

The public schools are not for the poor any more than for the rich; they are for all,—and the daughters of the wealthy have the same legal right to attend in silks that they or others have to appear in calicoes; a change in public opinion is the only thing which can effect what is certainly a much-needed change in this matter of dressing on graduation day, for the school authorities have no power to regulate dress, though they can prohibit any public exercises at the end of the school year,—and it is a question whether it would not be better even so, rather than have the competitive extravagance of past years repeated indefinitely, increasing as it does with each repetition.

SMASH-UP.

On Tuesday forenoon, as Mrs. H. C. Denney was driving along Market street, near J. Brooks & Co's corn and flour store, in a carryall, the horse took fright at a boy who was passing with a cloth-covered framework on his head, and ran away. Mr. Brooks' carriage, which was standing in front of his store, was collided with and it and the horse attached capsized, the runaway horse keeping on as far as Green street, up which he turned, but one of the forward wheels of the carryall struck against the corner of Wendell block, the shock throwing the horse down and Mrs. Denney clear out of the vehicle, she fortunately going far enough to clear the hoofs of the horse, which was secured before he could again get under way. Mrs. Denney, though somewhat lame at first from a bruised hip, and rudely jarred, announced herself as but little hurt; the carryall (a very fine one) was badly injured, one wheel being shattered, both shafts and the cross-bar broken, one axle twisted and other damage done. It was a fortunate escape for the lady, those who saw the accident wondering how she got off with her life, or at least without broken bones.

BAND OF HOPE.

The juvenile temperance society known as the Band of Hope meets every Saturday afternoon in Mechanics' Hall at three o'clock. We invite parents to encourage the children to come to this service; there is nothing sectarian about the work. Our motto in this, as in every good work, is, "Prevention is better than cure." The society has been organized about two years, and at the present time has a membership of about five hundred; but we desire to have all the children and young people interested in this noble work—and may we not expect the hearty co-operation of the fathers and mothers? A prize is offered to the member who shall bring in the most new members during the month of July. We invite friends to come to our Service, and hear the beautiful singing, and the speaking by members of the Society. SUPER.

JOTTINGS.

The Eastern Railroad is having one or two passenger cars fitted with revolving cane chairs, forty-two chairs to a car. These cars are to be run on the White Mountain trains via North Conway, Crawford's and Fabyan's.

The splendid schooner Henry M. Clark arrived at Doane's wharf on Tuesday from her first fishing trip, with four hundred and thirty-five barrels of mackerel.

If we were a horse we should like to be owned by Mr. Joshua Brooks, as his horses have plenty of fun, even when standing still. Some weeks ago the horse attached to J. Brooks & Co's store wagon, while backed up to the North Mill to get a load of meal, was struck by a runaway team and turned exactly upside down, so that he laid on his back and looked up at the sky with his feet; and on Tuesday Mr. Brooks' carriage horse, while hitched in front of his place of business, was run down and capsized by another runaway team, though he was not rolled quite so far over as his stable-mate was on the former occasion. No particular harm was done either horse, though their astonishment must have been very considerable.

The Times makes a "local" of President Hayes' circular to government officials, (notifying them that "no officer should be allowed to take part in the management of political organizations, caucuses, conventions or election campaigns," and that "no assessments for political purposes on officers or subordinates should be allowed,") by heading it "Elbridge to the Rear." This is a fling at the gentleman who has for some years conducted the affairs of the Post-office here to universal satisfaction; but we don't imagine he will go very far to the rear on account of the order, nor break his heart over it, either, for if it should result in relieving him of some of the political hard work he has been accustomed to do it will also keep considerable money in his pocket,—and that we do not suppose will hurt his feelings any, though no one can justly accuse him of ever being tardy or niggardly in his contributions to campaign funds, or in assisting to make up any deficiencies which might occur. Men are not apt to be indignant at having their work reduced and their compensation increased.

A bill was last week introduced in the Legislature, providing for a Board of Instruction to consist of twelve members and take the place of our present School Committee, and to be elected by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen in the month of July. This bill provides for a classed Board, four members to be elected for one year, four for two years and four for three years, one-third to be elected every subsequent year. The authors of this bill claim that better men can be obtained to manage the schools by this manner of election than are usually elected by the people.

The prize speaking for the Clarke and Lockwood prizes, at Dartmouth college, came off Monday evening in the college church. There were twenty contestants, and the speaking was unusually good. Mr. George William Bartlett, of the senior class in the scientific department, took the fourth prize. Mr. Bartlett also took prizes in his sophomore and junior years.

Chief Engineer John W. Moore, U. S. N., formerly of this city, was elected Dictator of a branch lodge of Knights of Honor instituted in Washington a few days ago, composed entirely of naval officers stationed at that navy yard. After the institution Mr. Moore gave a banquet to the members at his residence.

The July coupons on Portsmouth city bonds, of the dates of Jan. 1. 1873, and Jan. 1, 1877, will be paid at the Hide and Leather Bank, Boston.

A bushel of new potatoes raised on the City Farm were brought to market by Superintendent Shannon on Tuesday, and sold to Mr. Henry M. Clark for two dollars.

Schooner Clara E. Simpson, Capt. Talpey, which arrived at this port on Tuesday, reports that between seven and eight o'clock Monday evening, when off Thacher's Island, was struck by a squall which split the foresail and did other trifling damage.

A child of Mr. Frank Moran, about four years old, fell from a window Tuesday afternoon to the sidewalk below, a distance of ten feet, and was badly injured; but Dr. Hall, who attended the case, reported no bones broken and that the child will probably recover.

Seven big three-masted schooners were alongside the Concord Railroad wharf on Tuesday, discharging or waiting a chance to discharge coal.

Some persons in a boat near "the landing" at Kittery, Tuesday afternoon, were amusing themselves with rifle practice at one of the can buoys in the river, the bullets ricochetting in lively style across the track taken by boats to and from the Navy Yard, to the disgust of those who had to cross the line of the firing. No one supposes the marksmen intended to hit anybody, but it is suggested that an accidentally hit man feels just as uncomfortable with a bullet in his "innards" as a man who is shot on purpose.

At a meeting of the Heavy Artillery, on Tuesday evening, Shirley B. Cunningham was elected First Lieutenant. William A. Payson was unanimously elected Second Lieutenant, but declined the position, and Andrew P. Preston was then chosen, also by a unanimous vote.

See call for meeting at Common Council Rooms this evening, to adopt measures for assisting in relief of suffering occasioned by the fire at St. John, N. B.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR.

At the third semi-annual meeting of Sagamore Lodge, No. 258, Knights of Honor, on Monday evening, the following were elected officers for the ensuing term:

Past Dictator, Clarence B. Mason.
Dictator, R. Hamilton Perkins.
Vice Dictator, Edwin A. Leslie.
Assistant Dictator, Stephen W. Clarke.
Reporter, George A. Perkins.
Financial Reporter, Shirley B. Cunningham.
Treasurer, Plumer D. Norton.
Chaplain, William C. Newton.
Guide, Charles H. Marston.
Guardian, Alfred M. Lang.
Sentinel, George A. Mudge.
Auditing Committee, Charles A. Shannon, Charles A. Hazlett, Charles H. Marston.

The officers will be installed on Monday evening, July 9th. The financial condition of the Lodge was reported excellent. Elbridge G. Peirce, Jr, has been appointed District Deputy Grand Dictator for this Lodge.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St. Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $3, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sum as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

Woodbury and others, with a full list of the 600 Trees set, and the names of the persons or Associations who set or paid for them—may be had at 25 cents per copy, at the Bookstore of J. H. FOSTER, or at the Portsmouth Weekly Counting Room. Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Daily Chronicle.

He Lost Every Time.

The unhappy Kentuckian who bet on every race during the week, and lost every time, illustrates the freaks of fortune in this respect. He had just $50 left, and in sheer desperation cried out in the crowd that assembled at the hotel after the races: "I'll bet $50 I can name two men with twenty-three fingers." When the bet was taken this child of Fate continued: "Anybody'll do. Here, my friend, I'll take you. I have thirteen fingers and you have ten—that makes twenty-three. I knew there was one bet I could not lose." The stranger gazed at him with a pitying expression, and then said, compassionately: "Well, I'm sorry for you. You have struck a hard streak of luck. I had three of my fingers shot off at Chickamauga."

—The New Bedford ball nine is called the Metacomet. When a member gets a regulation ball between the eyes he thinks he has met five million comets, besides other fireworks.

—In a late style of marriage announcements only the names of the bride and clergyman appear. As civilization advances, the groom becomes of less and less importance on such occasions.

—Mr. Lonoir, of North Carolina—a descendant of an ancient Hugenot family—owns a successfully managed estate in London county of 2500 acres. During the war Burnside's command found its way to the Lonoir estate, and the General remarked to old Mr. Lonoir that he admired the property, and had been thinking of proposing to trade for it. The old gentleman said he might swap it for Rhode Island if the General would give boot enough.

—A little anecdote illustrative of Miss Adelaide Neilson, that is to say, of the lady who has made the most money of any star in the country during the past season: When she was playing at Buffalo she proposed to her agent, Ned De Nyse, and her principal support, Eben Plympton, to take a trip to Niagara, and she added: "We will each bear a third of the expense." The expense was $23. They each, therefore, paid $7.66, De Nyse, I believe, paying the two odd cents. Miss Neilson at this time was making $500 a night, Plympton $100 a week and De Nyse $75.

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.

HE WILL COME;

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, Jr., D. D.

This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a living problem. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 8mo., 218 pp.; $1.25 in Cloth; $2.50 in Morocco. PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

— USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "wandering in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Conditior Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May, John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS the February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir,—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another package. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. When I helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story, I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and neck. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was going to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more competent to attend to business in early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1849, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of manure at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind that may cause a nuisance or offence, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley or the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the City, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any dwelling from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION,

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.
WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

LESS THAN THE MANUFACTURERS' PRICES.

THE BUCKEYE,

continues to be the Standard Mower of this country, even after twenty-one years of close competition.

It is now so thoroughly perfected, and has so much wrought iron used in its construction as to place it among the very lightest. It is also the strongest and easiest of draft. (One man being able to draw the one-horse machine on level land when cutting a full swath of one ton and a quarter to the acre.)

THE NEW MODEL UNION

Portsmouth Chronicle.

An Editorial Slanderer.

The following suggests itself to a crabbed editor as an admirable class ode for the numerous commencement exercises now being perpetrated by the female colleges throughout the land:

Here as we stand in fair array
Upon this sad commencement day,
And bid each other long farewell,
Our Paris muslin waists do swell,
Our tears gush from our pencilled eyes,
Our painted lips breathe perfumed sighs
Upon the platform as we stand
And each one grasps a kid-gloved hand, (Twelve-buttons—all the style they are,
Four dollars and six-bits per pair.)
Please tell me if you'll be so kind,
How does my tilter look behind?
And do you think the audience knows
I wear a pair of striped hose?
I'm sure they see my white kid shoes—
Threes are my number, these are twos.

The Meek Detroiter.

There are some meek-faced and tender-hearted men in Detroit, remarks the Free Press man. There is one in particular who owns a house and lot in the eastern part of the city. Another citizen, whose face doesn't betray meekness, owns a vacant lot next to him, and a few days ago he wanted to buy the meek-faced man out and build a factory covering both lots. The figures were too high, and he went away feeling mad and revengeful. Coming across a showman who wanted to set up his tent and exhibit a wild man and other interesting specimens of life and death, he gave him the free use of the vacant lot. It was stipulated that a hand-organ should be kept going, bells rung now and then, and if the wild man uttered wild yells occasionally, so much the better. When the meek-faced citizen saw the tent put up, a tender, forgiving smile crossed his face, and he made for a printing office. About the time the showman was ready to open the doors to the anxious public the meek-faced citizen was ready with his signs and tack-hammer.

"Gentlemen, walk in and see the great Kickapoo kangaroo from Kalamazoo!" said the showman.

"Tack! tack!" and up went a sign on the fence reading, "Look out for the small-pox!" A second and a third followed, and the meek-faced man was putting up the fourth when the showman closed a bargain with a truck to move him down town. He wasn't over fifteen minutes packing and loading, and when the lot was clear again the meek-faced citizen sat on his door-step and mused:

"He who wants to sell out let him sell, and I wonder how much ahead they are?"

To Protect Animals from Flies.

A gallon of warm water poured on a pailful of walnut leaves will make a safe wash for horses and cattle, and save them the annoyance of flies. We recommend its use daily until we hear of something better.

—A woman thinks a man brave if he only picks up a cockroach with his fingers, but she doesn't think it requires any courage to swear off smoking for three weeks.

—Joseph Cook receives many condolences from the press on his approaching marriage. One of the most sympathetic is from the Lowell Courier: Joseph Cook is soon to be married and will know how much more blessed it is to give lectures than to receive them.

—"Mamma," tearfully inquired an uptown girl, "why can't I have a pony phaeton this summer? Everybody that is anybody has one." "My child, you know I have passed the appropriation, but your pa has vetoed the bill." More tears and the promise of a new croquet-set out of the market money.

—If there is one thing above another which exasperates a man on the top rail of the fence of impecuniosity, with a tendency to drop over into the sandy park of dire poverty and starvation, it is to see nice white vests advertised for $1 and know that it costs thirty cents to have a vest "done up" at the laundry.

—Hundreds of confiding parties send their daughters to Vassar or its rivals, fully believing that they are to be thoroughly educated. Will not such parents feel outraged on learning that the average Yale Freshman knows more of rowing and ball-playing than does the average Vassar graduate? The female colleges are little better than the male colleges of twenty years ago, where what was called the mind of the student was regarded as the true subject of education. For them to claim an equality with the best rowing colleges of the present day is, to put it plainly, impudent and dishonest.—N. Y. Times.

—The Providence Press says that a wealthy merchant doing business in that city and living in an adjacent town lost his pocket-book a few mornings since while coming to his place of business. The purse contained $750 in money, besides a large number of valuable papers. A poor lady, who depended on the labor of her hands for her daily support, found the purse, and after a long, tedious search restored it to the owner. The merchant was, of course, highly elated at recovering his money, and after thoroughly catechising the lady he dismissed her with the promise of an early reward, which she received the next morning in the shape of a small bottle of cologne costing twenty-five cents. So much for generosity.

Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JUNE 28, 1877.

Concord Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 25.

The House assembled at 4 P. M. and soon proceeded to business. Seven petitions were disposed of and three reports from committees, when the minority report on State Prison bill was presented to the House. After the report was read and laid upon the table, Mr. Hitchcock, the chairman of the State Prison committee, moved that the majority report, which was presented last Friday, be recommitted, and that the minority report lay upon the table until the majority report be reported again and that both then be printed together. Mr. H. F. Norris of Epping, (one of the minority,) offered an amendment that the minority report be also recommitted, and then some squabbling occurred as to whether Mr. Norris' amendment was in order, and it was finally decided by the Speaker that it was not. Mr. Hitchcock's motion was then put and declared carried. Mr. Norris then called for a division of the House, when fifty-nine voted in the affimative and nine in the negative, and the Speaker declared no quorum was present,—and thus all legislative business was at an end, and the House adjourned. The matter will come up before the House again to-morrow as unfinished business. The committee stood seven in favor and five against the new State Prison. The minority report claims that there is land enough belonging to the State Prison to build a large addition at its northern end, that the convicts could do the most of the work, and that the sowerage can be made better with but very little expense. It furthermore says that if specific plans and contracts were given so as to assure a new prison would not cost more than $200,000, they would be in favor of it; but that this general indefiniteness looks too much like a ring hidden somewhere. It is rumored that Thursday is to be set apart for the consideration of the State Prison bill. If a vote could have been taken when the legislature first assembled I think the bill for the erection of a new State Prison would have passed, but as it is now I hear but a very few express a favorable opinion toward it, outside of Concord.

The two members, who made an affirmation instead of taking an oath at the commencement of the session, were Stephen C. Meader and Joseph M. Hanson from Rochester, both of whom are Quakers. Col. Enoch Q. Fellows of Sandwich twenty-three years ago was doorkeeper of the Senate. Yours, A. B.

CONCORD, June 26.

To-day being the last day when notice of the intention to introduce bills could be given, quite a number of notices were given, there being seventy-one in all. There was combination of all kinds of parliamentary rules and legislative business. This afternoon the Speaker of the House, President of the Senate, and joint committee, appointed to invite President Hayes to the Capital, went to Boston to pay their respects to the President. In the absence of the Speaker, Judge J. E. Sargent of Concord occupied the chair.

Mr. Sinclair of Bethlehem this afternoon introduced a joint resolution in words to the following effect;

Resolved, in the opinion of the House of Representatives, the acts of the head of the present Administration in the removal of the troops from the three Southern States, Florida, Louisiana, and South Carolina; the restoration of good government in the same States; the prohibiting of assessment of officials for political purposes; and prohibiting government officers from participating in political machinery meets with unqualified approval.

Mr. Stevens of Nashua moved that the resolution be referred to the committee on National affairs. A debate then occurred between Stevens of Nashua, Cross of Manchester, and Sinclair of Bethlehem. The remarks of Judge Cross were loudly applauded. He rebuked Mr. Sinclair for attempting to smuggle into his resolution a hidden meaning in the term "head of the Administration," instead of President. Mr. Sinclair called for the yeas and nays, and for the first time this session they were called; and Mr. Stevens' motion was adopted by a vote of 171 to 115. Mr. Sinclair thinks his resolution will never see daylight again.

Among other bills introduced to-day was one amending the existing law in regard to the taxation of dogs, and as amended it shall read, "the tax on male dogs shall be two dollars and on female dogs ten dollars." An audible smile ran through the House as it was finished reading. The Speaker assigned it to the judiciary committee. Mr. Barton of Newport moved it be referred to committee on finance; a division of the House was called for, and the vote stood sixty-six in affirmative and eighty-three in negative. The motion was lost through a quorum not voting.

A bill was introduced entitled "an act to compel cases to be tried within the reasonable expectation of a man's life."

A bill was introduced in regard to the hanging of Joseph La Page so that when he shall be hung it shall be in some public place, and that the sheriff of the county be requested to provide a suitable place where the public may see that execution.

Mr. Sise of Portsmouth introduced a bill in relation to the State Normal School, setting forth that whereas the friends of that institution agreed when the building was erected that they would not call upon the State for any aid, and whereas the State has appropriated $33,000 since 1870, in sums from $5,000 to $8,000,—be it resolved that the friends of that institution be requested to fulfil their pledges hereafter, and that the State will not give them any further assistance. The bill was laid upon the table, and the usual number of printed copies were ordered for the House.

There is so much business on hand that the House will not make its final adjournment until after the Fourth of July. The different committees have so much business that a motion was carried that the House meet at eleven o'clock to-morrow instead of ten, so that the committees may have more time on their business.

The committee on Agriculture and Agricultural College are loud in their praises of the College farm and its condition at Hanover, and of the courtesies extended to them while there. Yours, A. B.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.

The position taken by Senator Jones in the report of the silver commission which he is understood to have about completed, is being discussed and elicits a great diversity of opinion. The inflationists proper commend him generally, those occupying middle ground with Secretary Sherman, are disposed to regard his views unfavorably, while the hard money men, those cleaving to gold as our only hope, denounce them as heretical and to the last degree dangerous. The same may be said of the Senator's opinion as he says of Secretary Sherman's, to wit: that it is just as valuable as an indication of what will be done or will not be done, as that of any other man who is similarly qualified to judge. The Secretary's letter giving it as his belief that there would be no action on the part of Congress or the Department, looking to the payment of the interest or the redemption of the four per cent. bonds in anything of less value than gold, is admitted to have had a re-assuring effect. It was needed; but it is predicted that the Senator's position will increase the distrust felt, and that the prospects of the new loan, at first so flattering, are being rendered more and more doubtful by the mischievous utterances of those favoring unlimited inflation. Now that the new loan is fairly on the market and its practical working more apparent, it is generally felt that it was a great mistake to limit the time of popular subscription to thirty days.

There is a good deal of dissatisfaction in many quarters with the Presidential edict, forbidding federal officials from active participation in the conduct of political campaigns. Its revolutionizing effect, if carried out to the letter can hardly be overestimated. It deposes several Chairmen of State Committees, among them General Wykoff of Ohio, the Chairmen of the Republican Committee of Wisconsin, and one democrat, I am informed, the recently appointed postmaster at Memphis, Tenn. The penalty of disobedience will, it is said, be a prompt dismissal from the Federal office. It wouldn't be safe to predict a large number of removal on this account.

Stanley Matthews, guilty or not guilty, is credited with the paternity of the effort to bounce Dowling, the postmaster at Toledo, against the wishes probably of a very large majority of the citizens of that town. Dowling was a soldier and his record as postmaster is first class in every respect, so it was quite impossible to find any ground upon which to base a request for his removal; and though he has been asked to resign no cause has been assigned, only that the President desired it. But he refuses and is generally commended for his grit. Pitkin's case was not as much talked about here as Dowling's has been and still is; and the doubts the President managed to arouse relative to his sincerity in his civil service reform profession by his action in the former case, ought to prepare him for what will surely follow in case he removes a faithful officer, for no other purpose but to repay a political servitor. This case has been so long before the public that every particular is well known; and any interference now with the plucky postmaster will be sure to gain him popular sympathy, and render all concerned in his removal correspondingly unpopular. But somehow the impression has got abroad that Mr. Matthews is insatiable in his demand for places for his personal adherents, and that he will not withdraw his claims for one, so long as there is any hope of obtaining it, not even to relieve the President from embarrassment.

Not one expression of sympathy did I hear for the doomed Molly Maguires on the day of their execution. The usual reaction in favor of criminals sentenced to suffer the extreme penalty of the law as they near the hour of execution, was wholly absent in the case of the Pennsylvania ruffians: but instead, every one seemed to grow more pitiless as the full enormity of their revolting crimes and the danger to society from such as they, became better known and fully appreciated; and if there were any signs of relenting towards those still awaiting execution, the murders reported since the terrible scenes at Pottsville, Maunch Chunk and Wilkesbarre last Thursday, have already dissipated them. News and Notes.

A San Francisco despatch says: Under the decision of the United States inspector of hulls and boilers, in the case of the wrecked steamship City of San Francisco, Capt. Waddell was notified that his certificate as captain in the merchant marine would be suspended one year on the ground that he did not use sufficient care while running along that portion of the coast where shoals and dangers were known to exist, although not marked upon the chart. Waddell will appeal from this finding.

Ella McCloud, a Georgia negress, died on St. Catherine's Island last Sunday, aged 120 years. She outlived seven or eight husbands and died childless.

To properly wake the late Alexander Campbell, hanged on Friday at Maunch Chunk, Penn., took eight dozen pipes, fifteen pounds of tobacco, and twenty dollars worth of cheap whiskey. The house was packed with people, closely guarded by Campbell's friends to keep out enemies, and closely watched by the Coal and Iron Police on the part of the citizens. Wakes of some of the other Mollies were equally elaborate, and they were prolonged more than one night, with an effect probably unfavorable to the future peace of the coal regions.

It is said that the engineers of the Boston and Maine Railroad who struck last March are still in receipt of regular weekly wages from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

On Tuesday, June 26th, Ex-President Grant and his wife were received at Windsor Castle by Queen Victoria. They arrived at Windsor from London at half-past five o'clock, and were conveyed in one of Her Majesty's carriages to the castle, where they were received by the Queen at the bottom of the staircase at the Queen's entrance, and conducted through the State corridor to the white drawing-room. After a short interview Gen. Grant and wife were conducted to apartments over the Waterloo gallery, overlooking the home park. In the evening a grand dinner party was given in Gen. Grant's honor, during which the band of the Grenadier Guards played in the quadrangle.

Fears of serious trouble at Montreal on the 12th of July are entertained. The Irish unions, numbering about 2500 members, advertise a special meeting. The Orangemen are arming and preparing for trouble.

A despatch from Plymouth, Pa., says that Monday night, near Nanticoke, a party of drunken Molly Maguires attacked a number of miners, injuring all of them. Martin McIntyre, one of the colliers, was so badly wounded that he died.

Robert Williams, Chief Factor of the Hudson Bay Company, on a tour of inspection of the company's posts on the northwest coasts of British Columbia, was drowned while crossing Queen Charlotte Sound in a canoe with five Indians, one of whom was saved.

A man was found insensible on the sidewalk in New Haven, Sunday night, and died Monday. He proved to be Christopher Mower, business manager of the Rand Powder Company, and had been knocked down and robbed, and death was caused by concussion of the brain.

The ship-laborers' strike at Montreal came to an ignominious termination, the men having themselves begged to be taken back at reduced rates. The request was acceded to, and they have returned to work.

The Secretary of the Navy has issued a circular directing commandants at Navy Yards and stations to conform strictly to the requirements of the navy regulations of 1876, and to hold all under their command to a strict accountability under these regulations. Laborers shall be employed in Navy Yards by the proper officers in charge with reference to their skill and efficiency, and without regard to political or other considerations. No officer or employe in any of the Navy Yards shall require or request any workingman to contribute or pay any money for political purposes, nor shall any workingman be discharged for political opinions.

Davis of Portland beat Faulkner of Boston fifteen seconds in the single scull race on Wednesday, on the Charles river course at Boston.

The Harvard-Columbia eight-oared race at Springfield on Tuesday was won by Harvard, beating Columbia by fourth lengths in 22 minutes and 37 seconds.

By a boiler explosion at Ravensdale iron works, at Tunstall, England, eight men were killed and thirty wounded.

A heavy storm at Newfoundland blew twenty vessels ashore, and destroyed several of them.

New Hampshire Items.

Work upon the new Manchester horse railroad began Tuesday morning, the 26th, under the supervision of D. Atwood of Cleveland, O. A part of the material has arrived, and the grading of the road will be rapidly pushed, and completed about July 15th. The capital stock of the company is $25,000; length of road about three miles.

Mr. John H. Barber, one of the oldest residents of Bath, died June 25th at the age of 83 years. He was one of the first settlers of that place and had held many local offices. He had been a member of the Masonic order for 62 years. The deceased leaves a widow and a large family of children.

The Supreme Court, which has been hearing equity cases at Exeter, on Wednesday adjourned to July 6th.

At Rumney, on Monday, the only child of Mr. Eugene Elliot, a little girl four years of age, was with her mother at a neighbor's, and unobserved pulled a bottle of ammonia from a table, spilling it upon her clothing and face; some of it went into her nostrils and mouth, nearly suffocating her. Medical aid was summoned at once, but to no avail. She lingered about thirty-three hours, when death ended her sufferings.

An ice-cart containing five men was struck by a train at Concord on Wednesday, the cart demolished, the horse killed, and two of the men badly hurt, one it is feared fatally.

While Michael Barrett of Alstead was cleaning a gun on Saturday night, the weapon was accidentally discharged and the charge entered his mouth and came out of the back side of his head, injuring him so that he is not expected to live.

Political.

The Boston Globe is displeased because the New Hampshire Legislature, instead of adopting the resolution introduced by an old dyed-in-the-wool democrat like Sinclair of Bethlehem, endorsing the policy of the National Administration, referred the resolution to a committee where it can have a nice sleep. The New Hampshire republicans have not been accustomed to follow the lead of Mr. Sinclair or the Boston Globe—hence they have been accustomed to win victories even over the persistent, active and ever-ready-to-fight democracy of the State. How the democrats would enjoy it to have the republicans conduct a State campaign according to Globe tactics!

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptional, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

AID FOR ST. JOHN.

The meeting of citizens called by the Mayor to take measures for extending aid to the sufferers by fire at St. John, N. B., was held in the Common Council room on Wednesday evening. The meeting having been called to order, Mayor Broughton was chosen chairman and Col. William H. Hackett secretary. Mr. Hackett offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Voted, That a Committee of ten be appointed who shall be authorized in behalf of this meeting of citizens to receive subscriptions for donations toward the relief of the sufferers by fire at St. John, and all contributions made shall be forwarded under the direction of said Committee to the Mayor of St. John, as a contribution from the citizens of Portsmouth.

The chair, having been delegated by the meeting for that duty, appointed the following gentlemen a Committee for the purpose in view:

Hon. Frank Jones, Hon. Daniel Marcy, Ex-Gov. Ichabod Goodwin, C. H. Mendum, Esq., Capt. John S. Pray, John Sise, Esq., Rev. James DeNormandie, Capt. E. G. Peirce, Jr., Col. T. E. O. Marvin, Stephen W. Clarke, Esq.

On motion, the meeting added Mayor Broughton to the committee, and the meeting then dissolved.

The committee will meet this (Thursday) evening at the same place, at eight o'clock.

[Communicated.]

AN EVENING'S ENTERTAINMENT.

A large and highly appreciative audience gathered at Miss Morgan's hall on Tuesday evening to listen to a rare treat in music, and not less so in the reading of Goldsmith's fine old comedy of "She Stoops to Conquer." The orchestral corps was made up largely of the youthful pupils of Mr. Harlow, who conferred great credit upon themselves and their able teacher. The piano music gave evidence of the very highest culture on the part of the young lady artists, for such they truly are, who officiated at that instrument. We have much native talent among us, and in no art is it more conspicuous than in that of music; rendering it the more gratifying that so many of the young are ambitious to excel in an accomplishment that has ever so refining an influence. The ever attractive compositions, "The Sleigh-Ride" and "The Fireman's Polka," arranged and improved by Mr. Harlow, in the brilliancy and effect with which they were given brought most pleasantly to memory, to one at least present, Jullien's band, during the little maestro's ever-to-be-remembered visit to this country. Our citizens have been greatly indebted to Mr. Harlow in his skill both as a leader and a teacher, for much of enjoyment during his entire residence among us.

Of the reading of "She Stoops to Conquer," so well was it done, it would be hardly generous to say wherein it might have been improved. Besides the expressions of pleasure by the auditors during the progress of the reading, others of hope that it would at some time be repeated could be heard as they went their several ways homeward at its close; all acknowledging that it had been a season of great enjoyment to a degree that, had the somewhat familiar question been asked, "Ar'n't you glad you came?" not one could have been found to reply in the negative.

Among the humorous incidents of the evening, the modestly expressed pride of Mrs. Hardcastle at her success in imitating the London style of dressing the hair, left a merry thought in the memory. The familiar tones of the Bailiff and his assistant, Mr. Flannagan, whose acquaintance had been made in "The Good-Natured Man"—the involuntary laughter of one of the pairs of lovers, in which the audience joined for the reason that they could not help doing so, and the notes of the little doggie, his appreciation, perhaps, of the performance, that for a moment were supposed to be the latest novelty in music, (such as Jullien's imitation of katydids and crickets,) will also be remembered in aftertime. While so acceptable an entertainment can be gotten up from its own resources, Portsmouth has little occasion to procure from elsewhere its amusements or its music.

JOTTINGS.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Wilkinson's Dramatic Combination, announcing that "Uncle Tom's Cabin," with Lillie Wilkinson as "Topsy," will be given in Franklin Hall on the evening of the 4th of July.

The Times calls our reference to Postmaster Peirce as "the gentleman who for some years has conducted the Post-office here to universal satisfaction," eating "humble pie." Possibly the Times editor may at some time have seen something in the columns of the CHRONICLE that could be construed into finding fault with Mr. Peirce's management of the Post-office; we never did,—and if the Times man ever did, we suggest that he publish it.

We have just received the July number of The Sanitarian, a monthly magazine published in New York in the interest of health and physical culture. The matter of the present issue relates more particularly to the public interests of New York city, although much of the discussion of the question of "what should be the policy of a great city towards its poor" may be profitably read by the managers of smaller places than the great metropolis. The Sanitarian is an ably edited magazine and will increase in its circulation as people grow more intelligent.

"NAT" DISCIPLINED.

RYE, June 26.

Messrs. Editors: In the GAZETTE dated June 21st I observe that your correspondent signing himself "Nat," calls attention to an accident that befel the choir of a church not a thousand miles from Rye. Considering that Nat himself was one of the new singing in that choir who had the wrong tune, it would have shown better taste had he let the accident pass quietly over; it reminds one very much of "the pot calling the kettle black." If your correspondent had called attention to the miserable state of the organ, and suggested a subscription for a new one, he would be doing better than writing about the choir, who attend voluntarily, sometimes at a great inconvenience, to practice on Saturday evenings, often to find the minister has not arrived and are therefore unable to decide on the "right tune" until just before service on Sabbath morning. Under these circumstances, I think they deserve to be sympathised with, rather than to be criticised by your correspondent "Nat," who I am informed is unable to sing with them any more this Summer, and who, no doubt was glad of this opportunity to give them a parting shot. I am sure all right thinking members felt very sorry for them, it being the first time such an accident has occurred there. In justice to the young lady organist I am informed she played the right tune. Apologizing for troubling you, I remain,

A SYMPATHISER.

[We cheerfully allow "A Sympathiser" room to rebuke our valued correspondent "Nat" for his misdeeds, and trust he now feels a proper degree of contrition. We did not detect any hidden ill-nature in his item about the choir, when we first read it; and now that we are informed that "Nat" himself was one of the guilty ones who sang the wrong tune, thereby causing an apparent discrepancy in the music, his object in writing it is plain, viz: to make people so angry over his sins as a newspaper contributor that they will forget all about his fearful singing on that fatal Sunday. We suggest to "Nat" that he take his critic's advice, and give the old rattle-trap organ (we know nothing about it, and allude to it in this manner solely to placate "A Sympathiser") particular fits. By so doing he may be able to restore himself to favor in the community.—Ed.]

People who neglect their minor ailments rarely live to make old bones. The secret of hale and vigorous old age, lies not only in taking care of one's health in early life, by the observance of sanitary rules, but also by judicious medication when the premonitory symptoms of bodily disorder manifest themselves. Indigestion, bowel and liver complaints are fruitful causes of injury to the constitution. These diseases should be, therefore, checked without delay. The best medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This standard preparation disciplines the digestive organs, gives renewed impetus to the bilious secretive function, and exerts a beneficial influence upon the organs of urination. It has no rival as a remedy for and preventive of chills and fevers and bilious remittents, infuses vigor into the debilitated frame, and is an excellent appetizer and nervine.

The Climax.

At last a perfect dentifrice has been discovered. Never was tooth brush dipped into a preparation so unobjectionable and so effective as Sozodont.

All its ingredients are botanic. It whitens the teeth, keeps them undiscolored, and free from blemish, and improves the condition of the gums.

Nothing but a broken bank is unmendable by Spalding's Glue.

JUST THINK OF IT.—That dread disease consumption, which takes away 40,000 lives every year in New England, might easily be avoided by the timely use of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup, which is gaining a wide reputation by its curative properties. 50 cents will buy it at your druggist's.

COCOA BUTTER, for external use, is superior to glycerine, and meets with great success in cases of sore throat and typhoid fever. This excellent remedy is prepared by Walter Baker & Co., the great Chocolate manufacturers, and may be procured of druggists in any part of the country.

T. E. MOSELEY & CO., 469 Washington street, Boston, offer their large stock of shoes and gaiters for ladies, misses and children, at very moderate prices.

If your morning cup of coffee makes you feel qualmish, or renders your nerves unsteady, substitute a cup of Walter Baker & Co's delicious Chocolate. It is nutritious, healthful, and very easy of preparation. All grocers sell it.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, is a model establishment. It is superb in both style and appointment, and its table and service cannot be excelled.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

The First Steamboat Trip.

In the Suffolk Gazette, printed at Sag Harbor, on the east end of Long Island, October 12th, 1807, is a letter from Robert Fulton to Joel Barlow, giving an account of the first trip of the first steamboat on the Hudson River. It is as follows:

To JOEL BARLOW, Philadelphia:

New York, 22d Aug., 1807.—My Dear Friend: My steamboat voyage to Albany and back has turned out rather more favorable than I had calculated. The distance from New York is 150 miles; I ran it up in thirty-two hours and down in thirty hours. The latter is just five miles an hour. I had a light breeze against me the whole way going and coming, so that no use was made of my sails; and the voyage has been performed wholly by the power of the steam engine. I overtook many sloops and schooners bearing to windward, and passed them as if they had been at anchor.

The power of propelling boats by steam is now fully proved. The morning I left New York there were not perhaps thirty persons in the city who believed that the boat would ever move one mile an hour or be of the least utility. And while we were putting off from the wharf, which was crowded with spectators, I heard a number of sarcastic remarks; this is the way you know in which ignorant men compliment what they call philosophers and projectors.

Having employed much time and money and zeal in accomplishing this work, it gives me, as it will you, great pleasure to see it so fully answer my expectations. It will give a cheap and quick conveyance to merchandise on the Mississippi, Missouri, and other great rivers which are now laying open their treasures to the enterprise of our countrymen. And although the prospect of personal emolument has been some inducement to me, yet I feel infinitely more pleased in reflecting with you on the immense advantage that my country will derive from the invention.

However, I will not admit that it is half so important as the Torpedo system of defence and attack; for out of this will grow the liberty of the seas; an object of infinite importance to the welfare of America and every civilized country. But thousands of witnesses have now seen the steamboat in rapid movement, and they believe—but they have not seen a ship of war destroyed by a torpedo, and they do not believe. We cannot expect people in general to have a knowledge of physics, or power of mind sufficient to combine ideas and reason from causes to effects. But in case we have war, and the enemy's ships come into our water, if the government will give me reasonable means of action, I will soon convince the world that we have surer and cheaper modes of defence than they are aware of.

Yours, etc., ROBERT FULTON.

PULMOCINE. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Spotted Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, etc., —USE— Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as the best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS! The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood! No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 5 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of my Bowels. have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all that are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50. Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 26th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come. Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package. JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. He has helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have. Yours with respect, ED. F. PEYARE

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or three years, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that would be cure for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mullins, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to order for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me in care of Mrs. Laura Sherrel. Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas. Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO. Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation o health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of m at at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 8. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive nuisance therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

[Chronicle Correspondence.]

THE BLACK HILLS.—LETTER NO. 1.

In Camp on Whitewood Gulch, near Deadwood, Black Hills, June 5th, 1877.

Messrs. Editors: As my "pard" has gone off on a tramp of eighteen miles to look at a claim, leaving me to keep house, I will avail myself of the first leisure day I have had since my arrival, to give you,—and the readers of the CHRONICLE, if you see fit—a brief description of "our journey to the Black Hills." Omitting any remarks I would like to make upon the beauty and interest of our railroad ride across the fertile prairies of the nearer West, I will begin at Yancton, Dacota, where ended our railreading, at six o'clock P. M., April ninth.

Yancton is the capital of the territory, the depot for Government supplies, and is beautifully laid out. It has all the appearance of rapid growth and a prosperous future. The only articles we found high-priced here (for here we laid in our supplies for our tramp across the plains) were the emigrant's prime necessities, flour and bacon. Butter was ten cents per lb.; eggs, six cents per dozen; milk five cents per quart. We got a good supper at the hotel for twenty-five cents. After completing our purchases we moved our luggage aboard the steamboat Ashland, which had just arrived, and there found about one hundred fellow pilgrims bound for the golden Mecca, Deadwood. The loading of the boat was an animated spectacle. She had been run as near as possible to the high bank of the river, and moored; a long plank was then run ashore, and over this narrow causeway a large gang of negroes were rapidly conveying a vast quantity of freight, until long past midnight. An iron basket, attached to an upright pole in the bank of the river, filled with blazing pitchwood, cast a glare over the boat and river, and threw the picturesque element into a scene always exciting and interesting—that of loading a steamboat.

Here occurred my first little adventure. At about eleven o'clock P. M. I went ashore for the purpose of mailing a letter. Just as I had got beyond the glare of the torches, and as I was passing through a perfect maze of freight and dunnage of all description, a crouching figure—but dimly perceptible—arose and stealthily followed. To make sure of the fact I stopped and turned around, when the figure slunk into the dark shadow of a wood-pile, and was lost to sight. I then turned and walked slowly up the levee, turning my head so as to command the approach by the rear. In a moment the figure reappeared, dogging me in a wary, sneaking manner. Satisfied that I was being followed, I drew my knife and held it ready for instant use (I had left my revolver on board.) Passing across the levee, I took the street leading to the post office. The stealthy footsteps behind were distinctly heard by my sharpened sense, though the form was only occasionally seen. About five hundred yards up the street, I became aware of the presence of another person ahead of me. I caught the sound of footsteps as I was passing up the wooden sidewalk with a steady stride, and as I rapidly approached, these footsteps quickened into a run, crossed the street and disappeared in the distance. I was chasing while being chased. At this point my follower evidently stopped, for I heard and saw nothing more of him. I proceeded to the post office and immediately returned, but with both eyes open and knife ready for whatever might bounce out of the shadows and places of concealment. However, no encounter took place, and I went aboard in tolerably good order. Although a trifling incident, it was my first reminder that I was in a land where the knife and revolver are held in greater respect than law, and that to be "well-heeled" was a greater protection, personally, than that intangible guard which an older community throws around its members, and which finds its expression in the written statutes and common sense of society. The anomalous condition of society found on the frontier, I hope to be able to present to you in some faint degree, not so much by personal adventures, as by the relation of stories, incidents that have occurred to others, and descriptions of the scenes I have passed through before this series of letters has been concluded.

At three A. M., on the 10th of May, and long before we were awake, our boat started up the river. My sensations on awakening and looking for the first time upon the murky, dirty volume of water rolling down upon us, and against which we were ploughing, were novel; and when told it was to be our washing, drinking and cooking medium for four or five days, I was aghast. I could not look upon this experience with any pleasant memories, until we had encountered the alkali and slums of the "bad lands," and our astonished eyes had looked upon the Cheyenne river. Suffice it for me to say that the waters of the Missouri river are muddy. So rapidly do the deposits of mud take place, that the channel of the river is constantly changing. I can compare it only to the twistings of a huge serpent. About an hour after sunrise we struck the first bar; and here we were shocked and grieved (two Chicago Tribune printers especially were made sad) by being compelled to listen to the atrocious language of the first mate of a Missouri river steamboat. He was calling all hands to get out the spars, start the donkey engine, and lift the boat over the bar. Suffering Indiana!! How that first mate swore. None of your hackneyed anathemas, stale expressions, or worn-out figures of speech either. They rushed and crackled and tore like discharges of canister. I do not know why it should be so, but it was, the printers were the first to recover, and I regret to say, they perched themselves on the rail and clapped their hands, and said, "beautiful," "charming," "Oh, what a darling first mate," at each fresh explosion of language. After getting over the bar the channel was found close to the right bank of the river, and for several miles we actually bumped and scraped against the procipitous bluffs lining that side of the river. We were aground many times during the trip, and ceased noticing it after the first day's experience. During the afternoon a huge snag ploughed along the bottom of the boat, broke one of the rudders, and ran up into the great wheel at the stern with a fearful crash. This delayed us an hour, but ready hands repaired damages, and we continued up the river until eleven o'clock P. M., when the boat was run close to the bank, a hawser was made fast to a tree, and here we remained until about three o'clock the next morning. Thus we proceeded each day, the difficulties of navigation being too great to run all night.

On the next day, (Friday,) some of the pilgrims had more "bars" to contend with than on the previous day. Early in the morning we passed the steamer "Fannie Tatum," which had broken her shaft a week before, and was waiting for a new one to be brought up the river. We also passed Fort Randall, one of the Government posts.

On Saturday we passed the Brule Agency. Large numbers of Indians are camped on the banks of the river, and they all live in tepes, or conical tents, furnised by the Government. One chief and his three wives, all mounted on ponies, rode abreast of the boat for a long distance. The only person on the boat whom the chief would condescend to recognize, was a solitary and inconsequential individual who wore a silk hat. One hundred pilgrims standing in rows along the side of the boat would count, "one," "two," "three," and then simultaneously ejaculate "How!" but to this royal greeting the stoical red man was indifferent; he had eyes and ears for that silk hat only. This sort of thing was too much for the printers, and they avenged themselves by calling the "poor Indian" names. I remember that "Old Leather-head," "Snuffy," and "Smokey-nose" were some of the elegant titles that were conferred upon the "Big Injun." The chief stood this until his squaws began to giggle and laugh, and then he rode off in evident disgust. I do not propose to advance any ideas on the morality of the above proceeding in particular or the Indian question in general. Possibly the chaffing of the Indians was provoked by their personal appearance, and the recollection that in all probability all the murders of Black Hillers last year were committed by these agency Indians. It is the universal testimony of the frontiersmen (and I have talked with many) that the Indians have no redeeming qualities; they are thieves and murderers, and false to every principle of honor recognized by whites. A frontiersman in conversation will instantly express his deep and lasting hatred of an Indian, and in the few opportunities I have had to study them should say they were nearly correct. I have not yet seen a prepossessing countenance. Their eyes are quick, suspicious and furtive, never looking one square in the face. Their faces are utterly cruel and repulsive; and precisely the same feeling toward them has crept over me, that one feels toward a venomous snake. This is not Christian, I will allow, but it is an instinct one cannot control. It was the expressed wish of our party of seventeen, to have nothing but a good "square fight" with them, if we encountered them on the plains, and the "square fight" was what we knew we would not get, if the Indians had their own way about it. The Sioux Indians are tall, and accounted the best warriors of the plains. Physically, the average Indian is not the equal of the average white. They have not the muscle, brain, or endurance of the white mountaineer or miner, and will never attack and push a fight to the bitter end on equal terms with them, or with our army.

With no unusual occurrence we arrived at Fort Pierre, at seven o'clock A. M., Monday, May 14th, and disembarked. at once. The pleasure of our trip was somewhat dampened by continuously cloudy weather. This prevented us from obtaining accurate ideas of the scenery, but my impression is that though much of it is beautiful, there is a lack of variety, which is unsatisfying to one accustomed to our charming New England scenery. The lack of wood and forest is almost irritating. Like the prairies, the hills and bluffs bordering the river are destitute of trees, generally, although there are many benches and "washes" where the cottonwood grows luxuriantly. At each of these places are "wood stations," inhabited by lonely whites, and in a very few instances by Indians, (the squaws cut the wood). Occasionally we would pass a solitary "brave," dismounted from his pony and squatting on a hillside, where he would remain motionless until we were out of sight. Many Sioux graves are on the hills along the river. They consist of four poles upright in the ground, to which the body is attached in a horizontal position.

The greatest pleasure of our trip we found in good fellowship and social converse with many men of varied experiences and from all parts of the country. By tacit consent "our party" came together on the boat, and made arrangements for our mutual protection and advantage. There were seventeen of us—including our "Bullwhackers" whom I shall introduce in my next letter. At the head of the list I shall place "Mac," an old frontiersman, a crack shot and whole-souled fellow; then follow the printers, a Scotchman, an Irishman, a Norweigan and a German. The balance were Americans, and included a veteran miner of twenty years' experience. One man had served in the regular army on the plains for eight years; two had served in the Union army during the late war, and one had served in the Confederate army. All—including your correspondent—were capital fellows, and all the enjoyment that can be extracted out of a trip across the plains was "gathered in," you may believe. My next shall be devoted to an inadequate, because necessarily brief, description of the aforesaid "trip." As ever, AL.

Daily Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1877.

The Legislature.

In the House, Wednesday forenoon, the bill to incoporate the Magdalena River Railroad was ordered to a third reading; also the bill to fix the time when the constitutional amendments adopted last March shall go into effect. The bill to increase the revenues of the State by taxing express companies was referred. The act to amend the laws relating to the present Judiciary system, making the Judges consist of the Chief Justice and six assistants, was ordered printed; also the bill to provide for the classification of towns for representation. The action in relation to the execution of Joseph La Page, making it public, was indefinitely postponed.

The Editorial Excursion.

The New Hampshire editorial party will go to Stowe, Vt., on Friday, July 13th, and stop at the Mount Mansfield hotel. Gov. Smith, president of the Central Vermont railroad, has written a letter to the committee extending the hospitality of his road to the editorial fraternity of New Hampshire. It is thought that the expense to those visiting Mount Mansfield will not exceed $12 for each person, and perhaps less. The party will pass Saturday and Sunday at Stowe, go to the top of Mount Mansfield on Monday, go to St. Johnsbury, Vt., spend the night there and return over the Passumpsic road to Wells River and on the Boston, Concord and Montreal railroad to Concord on Tuesday.

The War.

Desperate fighting is reported in Asia Minor, along the Danube and in Montenegro, but the accounts are extremely contradictory.

The Russian general who commanded at the fight near Delebaba says the Turks were repulsed with great loss, the Russian loss being 150; the Turks claim a victory. The Turkish governor of Erzeroum announces a victory, 400 Turks and 3000 Russians being killed. Other fights are reported in Asia Minor, but each side lies so it is impossible to more than guess at the truth. It however seems to be settled that the Russians are besieging Kars.

On the Danube, the Russians are still crossing, and meeting no serious resistance. Rustchuk is being destroyed by a Russian bombardment, and Giurgero (opposite Rustchuk) by a Turkish bombardment.

Turkish advices say the Montenegrins are hopelessly penned up; Russian advices announce every invader driven from Montenegrin soil.

A Rustchuk dispatch, dated midnight on the 28th, says: "The Russians are crossing the Danube near Sistova, not far from Yantra, assisted by the islands lying between the banks. Terrible fighting is now going on, the Turks doing their utmost to resist the enemy. Another crossing is confidently expected at Tlemunda, opposite Nicopolis. The bombardment of Rustchuk continues."

A dispatch says that the Russian cruisers operating in the Black Sea at points are so near the Bosphorus as to argue an utter contempt for the Turkish fleet. Their latest exploit was the sinking of three merchant vessels in the harbor of Heraclea, in Asia Minor. This was accomplished by one of the Russian cruisers pushing boldly into the harbor and sending out launches with torpedoes, by means of which the vessels were sunk. This created quite a disagreeable sensation in Constantinople.

New Hampshire Items.

Frank Woods and Lon Morrill, two Concord roughs, while half drunk on Thursday made improper proposals to Mrs. Sarah J. Wilson, who was taking a walk with a young lad named Stevens. She resented their advances and fled, when she was struck in the face by Woods with a stone, knocked down and severely injured. The ruffian then placed a rope around her neck, fastened a stone to it, and threatened to drown her, but did not throw her into the water, which was near by. Woods was arrested, but Morrill managed to escape for a time.

Political.

Mr. Clerk Adams has completed his list of the next House, which shows a democratic majority of eight. He has only disfranchised three republicans—the Fourth California, Third Missouri and Colorado Districts, from all of which the State courts or executives have decided that republicans are elected. Mr. Adams belongs to the State Rights party.

Secretary John Sherman, since he took control of the Treasury Department, has been absent from his post just one day. That day he passed in New York on business for the country. At the present time, he is the only Cabinet Minister in Washington but Mr. Thompson, and the latter is not away because he has no place to go to. Messrs. Evarts and Schurz, the two great Civil Service Reformers, take their ease a good portion of the time.—N. Y. Com. Adv. (Rep.)

The expected departure of Mr. Tilden for Europe about the fifteenth of July, leads the New York World to remark that "it may be safely inferred, therefore, that he agrees with a great majority of democrats throughout the United States in thinking it is hardly worth while to waste much energy in making an ex post facto war on a de facto President." We should say not.

A private letter from Mississippi to a gentleman in Washington says that the following were Judge Chisolm's last words, which he addressed to his wife at his bedside: "I am innocent of any crime, and when I am dead I want you to tell my children so, and train them up to know that their father never did an act for which they need to blush or feel ashamed. I have been murdered because I am a republican and would live a free man."

During the Presidential campaign—and other past campaigns—the democratic papers loudly asserted that the wonderful democratic gain in districts in southern States where the colored vote preponderated was due to the conversion of the negroes to democracy. This was especially the case in Virginia, where a bought-up colored preacher was paraded over the State as a stump-speaker; but now comes the democratic Richmond Despatch with the following statement: "We do not believe that one hundred negroes voted the conservative (meaning democratic) ticket at any election ever held in Virginia. The negroes are all republicans. They regard that negro as a traitor to his own people who votes the democratic ticket. We beg to be excused from entering into a scramble with darkies as to who shall be the white people's candidate for Governor."

News and Notes.

It is announced from Washington that Secretary of the Treasury Sherman has entered upon an extensive real estate transaction, and has made arrangements to erect sixty-four houses on Capitol Hill. This sort of thing should not be allowed; let the President issue a circular forbidding government officials entering into real estate speculations.

We are pleased to again find among our exchanges that excellent paper the St. John (N. B.) Globe, missed since the great fire. It is much reduced in size, as might be supposed would be the case, and bears internal evidence that the "plant" of its old office was destroyed; but so well conducted a paper must speedily recover from even so great a misfortune as overtook it and the city of its publication together.

It is stated that Francis Murphy, the temperance reformer, is shortly to be married to a lady named Mrs. Rose Wood.

Mrs. Dr. Johnson of Trenton, Ky., gave birth to four children one day last week. The slightest one weighed eight and one-half pounds.

William Parker of Hamblen county, Tenn., was killed by a blow with an iron poker in the hands of his step daughter on June 11th. Parker slapped his daughter in the face, and she retaliated by striking him on the head with a poker. He died next day. The girl was lodged in jail for lack of bail. She is seventeen and he only twenty-five years of age.

The schooner George P. Rust, Captain Lawrence O'Brien, while lying at anchor on George's Banks at five o'clock on the morning of June 22d, was run into by an unknown ship and cut down to the water's edge, knocking two men that were in their berths sleeping across the forecastle upon the floor. She was struck just forward of the fore rigging, carrying away foremast, bowsprit and all of the fore rigging and head-gear. She is damaged about $1500 to $2000. She is insured in the Gloucester Mutual Fishing Insurance Company for $3588. She was towed into Gloucester, Mass., by the schooner Flying Scud, Capt. Patrick Hogan. The ship was hailed by the crew of the schooner and told they were in a sinking condition, and received an answer, as they understood it, "You are all right," and the ship kept on her course without heaving to. The schooner, with salvage and damage, will be a total loss.

ROCKINGHAM, SS. Law Term, June, 1877. No. 12.

EDWIN T. RICE of New York respectfully represents that ARABELLA RICE, late of Portsmouth, deceased, in 1872, testate, having in her will nominated your petitioner together with two other cousins to be Executors of her will: that both of the other persons nominated declined to accept the trust, and have since deceased.

And your petitioner having nearly completed the distribution of the residuum of said estate, upon the petition of Samuel E. Sewall, administrator of one of the residuary legatees who lived and died in Russia, at the Probate Court, holden at Portsmouth, September, 1876, was removed from his position as Executor of said will.

He further represents that his counsel was in Court when said removal was announced, and then and there in open Court claimed an appeal to this Court which was then and there allowed, and further requested the Register of Probate to prepare the proper papers to render said appeal effectual to this Court, and to hand the papers to the Clerk for entry, but, owing to some misunderstanding between the counsel of your petitioner and the newly-appointed Register of Probate, and not through any neglect, the proper papers were not seasonably filed to effect said appeal.

Wherefore, he prays that this Court will give him leave to appeal, according to the provisions of the statute in such case made and provided.

EDWIN T. RICE, by
W. H. Y. HACKETT, his Atty.

Upon the foregoing petition, it is ordered that the petitioner notify all persons interested in the subject matter thereof, to appear at an adjourned law term of our Supreme Court to be holden at Concord in our County of Merrimack, on the thirteenth day of August, 1877, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer thereof should not be granted, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order to be published once a week for three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in our County of Rockingham, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days before said thirteenth day of August next.

Attest, C. G. CONNER, Clerk.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

JOTTINGS.

Under the proposed new apportionment of the State, Senatorial District No. 24, to be known as the "Portsmouth District," will include Wards One, Two and Four in this city. District No. 22, to be known as the "Newmarket District," will include Durham, Epping, Greenland, Newcastle, Newington, Newmarket, North Hampton, Rye, South Newmarket, Stratham, and Ward Three in this city.

By an accident at Newburyport, Thursday morning, Mr. A. Fanning, a freight brakeman on the Eastern Railroad, received severe and probably fatal injuries. The train due in this city from Boston at about ten o'clock A. M. was making a shift, and while pulling a pin Mr. Fanning's foot was caught and he was knocked down by the train, his head being badly injured. His family reside at Chelsea, Mass. The coupling and uncoupling of cars always looks to be a dangerous job, and that it is really so is proved by the numbers of men who lose their lives at it every year. The inventor who perfects a simple coupling which can be operated with entire safety will make a fortune and be a public benefactor.

We are indebted to Paymaster C. F. Guild, U. S. N., of this city, for a copy of "Facts About the Carroll County Kearsarge Mountain,"—the title under which Mr. G. V. Fox has published a pamphlet of seventeen pages, read by him before "The Appalachian Mountain Club," in which he demonstrates that the mountain in North Conway, called "Kearsarge Mountain," is rightly named "Kearsarge." He proves that this mountain has had that name for about a century, on maps, deeds, acts of the Legislature, public records, and by undisputed usage. He does not deny, however, that the mountain in the towns of Sutton, Salisbury and Warner is entitled to the same name; in other words, he says, "there are two mountains in New Hampshire named Kearsarge, and there always will be, because history teaches that the names applied to the soil by the common people survive when the race that spoke them have ceased to exist." And the evidence produced by Mr. Fox is (we consider) conclusive that the Carroll county mountain was the one in honor of which the famous little sloop-of-war that sank the "Alabama" was named.

We are informed by Mr. A. F. Craig that Mr. J. B. Sanborn of Epping, who was chairman of the committee of three appointed by the prohibition State convention to nominate a candidate to be supported for Congress in this district, was in favor of the nomination of Caleb Moulton; and that it was by request of Mr. Sanborn that Mr. Craig reported to the convention that the majority of the committee were in favor of the nomination of Mr. Moulton. Mr. Craig further informs us that after the nomination had been left to the delegation from this district, under the ruling of the chairman of the convention, the district delegation with but one dissenting voice (Mr. Hurd of Dover, if we remember aright,) decided to nominate Mr. Moulton; and that Mr. Moulton was notified of his nomination by Mr. Craig at least a week prior to "the night spent at Mr. Jones' splendid hotel."

The property on Bridge street belonging to the insolvent estate of Luke Quinlan was sold at auction on Thursday to Mr. James Jones, for $2475.

The Portsmouth Weekly says Francis Scott Key, author of the "Star Spangled Banner," was son of John Ross Key, who was an army officer in the revolution. Francis Scott Key died in 1843, leaving a numerous family. One of his sons was shot in a duel by John Sherburne of this city, and Daniel E. Sickles shot another (Philip Barton Key) in Washington on a Sunday in 1859.

In another place in this paper will be found an interesting letter from the Black Hills gold region, written by Capt. J. Albert Sanborn of this city, who has promised us a series of letters from that part of the world. In a private letter he informs us that "The climate here is perfectly —— [the adjective employed is blurred so that we cannot make it out.] It would knock the stuffing out of Old Prob. to prognosticate. We had a snow storm on the first of June, and we have either rain, hail, snow or thunder and lightning every day. Yesterday morning the ground was white with a thick frost. To-day it is as hot as 'the hinges,' and ten to one we will have thunder before night, then a hurricane until midnight and by to-morrow morning more frost. It beats anything I ever saw or felt." He boasts of his mining knowledge as follows: "I take to the life like a duck to water, and what I don't know about sluices, flumes, bed-rock, drifting, ditching, etc., would make a large sized book; and as for quartz,—oh, my! you would turn green with envy to see me sit down in the middle of a group of tender feet, and sling about my lore in pyrites, sulphites, crystals, wall-rock, leads, blowouts, deposits, pockets, etc." Capt. Sanborn writes a readable letter, and ambitious youths who yearn to "rough it out on the diggings" will be able to do it very nicely by proxy,—far the most comfortable and safe way, and generally the most remunerative.

The Rochester Courier says that a cock-fight came off at Gale farm, four miles below Rochester, on Fast Day, at which there were about a hundred spectators and three regular pitched battles between the pugnacious birds. It further gives the details of the recent prosecution, in the Rochester police court, by A. F. Craig, Esq., of this city, Secretary of the N. H. Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, of two Dover men and four Rochester men, all of whom were convicted and fined, the fines and costs footing up $19.62 against each of two of the accused, the others getting off with $21.62 each. All appealed and gave bonds, but the Courier is of the opinion that they don't think cock-fighting so good fun now as they used to.

A gentleman who had heard us say we had never seen a potato bug or its grub, on Thursday sent in about three quarts of the repulsive looking things (the result of an hour's foraging among his potato vines) in a bucket, for our inspection. We don't want to see any more of them.

A Real Boat Race.

The following interesting account of a real boat-race—not a fifteen-minutes' spurt in cockle shells weighing less than a coal-hod, over water as smooth as if ironed by a Chinese laundry-man, but a pull over a rough sea in boats built to work or fight in, and weighing two tons apiece—is from the Yokohama (Japan) Gazette of May 14th:

The race between the barges Magic (14 oars) of the U. S. flagship Tennessee, and Albert (16 oars) of H. M. S. Audacious, for the championship of the Asiatic Station, came off on Saturday afternoon, May 12, and resulted in a remarkable victory for the American crew. Since our first announcement of the match, lively interest has been manifest both ashore and among the shipping, the Audacious being the favorite until Saturday morning, when the prospect of a calm day and smooth water encouraged the backers of the American boat to offer slight odds. Toward noon, however, a breeze sprung up, and as the wind rose Tennessee stock fell. At four o'clock a strong wind, varied by severe puffs, was blowing directly across the course (about four miles in length), and, as a disagreeable swell was running, the Americans expressed a willingness to delay the race until 5:30, which was met by objections from the Audacious crew, who believing their chances more favorable in rough water were anxious to hurry the event on, and finally presented the ultimatum "4:30 or no race."

Although this was half an hour earlier than the time announced in the Gazette of Friday and would have deprived many visitors invited by the officers of the Tennessee and Alert of the pleasure of witnessing the race, the Tennessee's crew reluctantly assented rather than have the match declared off. Shortly after four o'clock the Magic was lowered from the Tennessee's quarter, and at 4:35 both coxswains reported alongside of the starter's boat to toss for choice of position. Arrangements had been made to start the contestants by the stern from a rope stretched between two cutters anchored near the flagships; but, owing to the roughness of the water, this was found impracticable, and after much fruitless effort the plan was abandoned, and the boats were brought abreast in the trough of the sea on an imaginary line at right angles with the course. At 4:58 the starter's flag fell, and considering the state of the water both crews got to work in fair shape, but from the first a vast difference was observed in the style of rowing displayed by the contestants. Notwithstanding the desire repeatedly expressed on the part of the Audacious for a heavy weather race their crew seemed totally unprepared for such an emergency; starting their boat in the trough of the sea on a quick, jerky stroke numbering forty-two to the minute, while their opponents gathered headway on the remarkably low stroke of 28, which, taking advantage of a temporary lull, they suddenly increased to thirty-nine and made a rush for the lead which they easily gained, and immediately settled down to a long swinging gait of thirty-six, which they maintained to the finish.

In less than five minutes the race was virtually decided. The coxswain of the Magic, who had won the toss for choice of position and taken the "weather guage" in starting, deliberately threw away this great advantage, after gaining a lead, by crossing the course ahead of the English boat, and taking a position on her lee bow. The sailors on board the Tennessee were much puzzled by this strange manœuvre, and from her spars and rigging came loud shouts of "Keep to windward, Willis!" "Are you crazy?" etc., etc., but the tall Yankee who handled the Magic tiller proved a very methodical lunatic.

Under the disappearance of their opponents from the weather bow had a marked effect on the Audacious' crew. Their stroke became irregular, and some of them so far forgot themselves as to look round. Their coxswain also seemed a trifle bewildered, and, instead of holding his boat to windward, steered directly after the Magic. A change of tactics was now observed in the latter boat; she was thrown out of the trough of the sea and headed directly for Treaty Point, the crew rowing hard between seas, and easing whenever the boat was about to plunge. In seventeen minutes and forty-five seconds from the start the Magic reached the lightship, around which the turn was to be made, the Alert being at this time three minutes behind, and fully 500 yards to leeward, the British crew pulling gamely what they must have already realized was a hopeless race. The Magic made a splendid show at the lightship, completing the turn in seventeen seconds, though their boat had thirteen inches of water on board, which was increased to fifteen inches by the cap of a sea which boarded them just after turning. Coming home with the wind slightly abaft the beam both boats behaved better, the Tennessee's men increasing their lead, and finally tossed oars at the finish six minutes forty-eight seconds ahead. After cheering their opponents, who, whatever mistakes they may have made in training, displayed pluck and endurance throughout, the Magic's crew rowed 200 yards head to windward at a higher rate of speed than either boat had shown during the race. The men of the Tennessee and Alert were wild with joy, and the winning crew on boarding their ship were seized and carried round the decks on the shoulders of their excited comrades. Midshipman C. M. Winslow, U. S. N., was umpire for the Magic.

People who neglect their minor ailments rarely live to make old bones. The secret of hale and vigorous old age, lies not only in taking care of one's health in early life, by the observance of sanitary rules, but also by judicious medication when the premonitory symptoms of bodily disorder manifest themselves. Indigestion, bowel and liver complaints are fruitful causes of injury to the constitution. These diseases should be, therefore, checked without delay. The best medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This standard preparation disciplines the digestive organs, gives renewed impetus to the bilious secretive function, and exerts a beneficial influence upon the organs of urination. It has no rival as a remedy for and preventive of chills and fevers and bilious remittents, infuses vigor into the debilitated frame, and is an excellent appetizer and nervine.

COCOA BUTTER, for external use, is superior to glycerine, and meets with great success in cases of sore throat and typhoid fever. This excellent remedy is prepared by Walter Baker & Co., the great Chocolate manufacturers, and may be procured of druggists in any part of the country.

BOOTS AND SHOES for gentlemen's and boys' wear, made in the most thorough manner, are for sale by T. E. Moseley & Co., 460 Washington street, Boston.

If your morning cup of coffee makes you feel qualmish, or renders your nerves unsteady, substitute a cup of Walter Baker & Co's delicious Chocolate. It is nutritious, healthful, and very easy of preparation. All grocers sell it.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, is a model establishment. It is superb in both style and appointment, and its table and service cannot be excelled.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR SORE THROAT, PULMOCINE CORDIAL is for sale at the UNION STORE, Market Street. Price 50 cents per bottle.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SEARS, Keeper at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

FOSTER, or at the Portsmouth Journal Counting Room. Sent postpaid on receipt of price.

Daily Chronicle.

—The man who was "moved to tears" complained of the dampness of the premises, and wishes to be moved back again.

—A sarcastic item from the Brandon, Vt., News: "We understand that a cow was killed on the track of the Addison county railroad last week. She was hid in the grass and the engineer could not see her until the engine flattened down the grass."

—"My son," said a mother to a little boy four years old, "whom above all others will you wish to see when you pass into the spirit world?" "Goliah!" shouted the child, with a joyous anticipation; "unless," he quickly added, "there's a bigger feller there."

—A reference to the following despatch sent by Napoleon to Marshal Davoust, September 14, 1811, well illustrates the change which two generations have wrought in the relations between France and Germany: "My cousin, I have sent a courier to Berlin to-day, if Prussia does not at once cease her works of fortification, provisioning Spandau, and Kolberg, and all her military movements, he is to leave Berlin. My intention is, that as soon as the Comte Saint Marsan shall have left Berlin, that you march at once on that capital. * * My resolution is so strongly expressed that I hope Prussia will feel her impotency and the folly of her pretensions."

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.

HE WILL COME;

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, JR., D. D.

This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original ideas, and suggestive illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 16mo., 316 pp., $1.25 in Cloth; $2.50 in Morocco. PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative we could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before we was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain as I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all you claim or recommend to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indyesl him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been excruciating and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; that I had advised my friends to spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Baillie, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer the same to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds within city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any cove, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. Old Time Chronicles, No. 152.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

In our researches in these articles we have kept pretty closely at home, that is, in our own country, and intend still to do so. But for variety as well as interest, an account of one or two distinguished characters and events with which they were connected in England will be noted.

Warren Hastings, and the celebrated trial of Warren Hastings are frequently named by American writers. Who was Hastings, and for what was he tried? The answers will be given:

Mr. Hastings was an Englishman, and was appointed Governor-General of Bengal. He was accused of high crimes and misdemeanors in that office. George III. was king, the year was 1786. It appears that the king with his constitutional advisers were somewhat favorable to Hastings, who had friends in the distinguished Mr. Fox and Mr. Sheridan.

The principal accuser in Parliament was the able and celebrated Mr. Burke. This gentleman was talented, a very effective speaker, of great perseverance and inflexibility in what he regarded as duty and right. He introduced articles of impeachment into the House of Commons. Mr. Hastings was in London, probably retired from the Governorship. At his request he was allowed to appear at the bar of the House, where he undertook to answer the charges. In this his course and language were unhappy, so that the feeling against him was increased.

It would be tedious to give the details of this affair. Suffice it, that without much investigation or trial, it was put off from one session to another running for seven years. The trial was before the House of Peers. So much time passing, it became an old matter, and interest was lost as to it. Mr. Hastings urged to have it finished, and finally the end was reached. The defense had been finished some months previously. In the closing part of the trial, Mr. Burke argued the case for the government. He spoke several days, three at least, some accounts say more. All testimony is that it was a masterly speech in ability, and in some parts of great eloquence. It seemed at times he was carrying all before him. Macauley says, "Handkerchiefs were pulled out, smelling bottles were handed round, hysterical shrieks and sobs were heard, and Mrs. Sheridan was carried out in a fit." It appears that Mr. Hastings for a time almost felt himself guilty, for he said afterward that "for half an hour he looked up at the orator in a reverie of wonder, and during that space of time he actually felt himself the most culpable man on earth."

The vote of the Peers was taken. On some of the specifications six voted against him, on others less. For innocence on some charges the votes were nineteen, on others twenty-three, twenty-six, etc. The Chancellor of the realm announced the decision to Mr. Hastings, who received it in silence, bowed, and retired from the bar. We have no account of Mr. Hastings after this. July 8, 1797, Mr. Burke died, aged 58 years. He was an eminent political writer, clear-headed statesman, and able parliamentary orator.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color.

It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE
For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from a gray to a uniform auburn shade, to brown or black, at will. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a natural color, which will not rub off nor wash out.

A FINE ASSORTMENT
—OF—
SUMMER LAP--ROBES
—AT—
TILTON'S,
No. 18 Congress Street

Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1877.

Concord Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 28, Morning.

To-day, by a vote of the House, at 11 A. M. the bill entitled "an act to fix the time when the constitutional amendments adopted in March last shall take effect" and also providing for compiling the statues of the States, is to be taken from the table and discussed. As the democratic side of the House made the motion to discuss the bill at this time there is a probability that they are going to make some opposition to it.

To-morrow at 11 o'clock has been assigned as the time for the discussion on the State Prison bill.

Eleven different House bills were distributed to the members to-day; also, report of the Adjutant-General; report of the special committee appointed by the Governor and Council to examine into the condition of the State Normal School; reports of the Board of Trustees, Superintendent, and Treasurer of the Reform School; and the New Hampshire Register and Business Directory for 1877. These, with the daily papers furnished reading matter while the roufine was going on.

When the bill for the protection of fish in a certain brook in East Hanover had received its third reading, Mr. Batchellor of Littleton made some remarks against the passage of the bill, saying that a great number of such had been introduced and when the new topographical survey of the State should be made probably a hundred more brooks would be found and all of them would have to be protected and thus put a great deal of expense upon the State; he hoped all such bills would be killed. Mr. Whitcher of Strafford followed in the same strain, and the bill was defeated.

In all probability as a take-off on the number of bills in relation to protection of fish-ponds, Mr. Sherman of Keene introduced a bill to prevent the taking of fish in the waters of the State for ten years, such as eels, horn-pouts, suckers, dace, shiners, etc., the fine to be ten dollars for every fish found in possession of any one. This was received with roars of laughter.

The bill in relation to the execution of Joseph La Page was indefinitely postponed, on motion of Mr. Sise of Portsmouth.

The final report of the Centennial Committee was sent to the House and is as follows:

RECEIPTS.

Legislative appropriation, 1875,	$5000.00
" " " 1876,	1500.00
Voluntary contributions	1550.00
Sale of N. H. Building etc.	787.80
Total	$8837.80

EXPENSES.

For Agricultural Department	$744.18
" Educational "	988.78
For erection of N. H. Building, decorations, and care of the same	6290.47
Total	$8023.43

Leaving an unexpended balance of $814.37, which is now in the hands of the State Treasurer. Signed by James A. Weston, Lewis W. Clark, and Mason W. Tappan, Commissioners. The report was accepted and ordered placed on file in the office of the Secretary of State.

Another democratic resolution was introduced in favor of the civil service reform movement of the President, but they had no discussion from the republicans this time, for it was tabled and ordered to be printed.

CONCORD, June 28, Evening.

Agreeably to previous assignment, the House considered at 11 o'clock the bill entitled "an act to fix the time when the constitutional amendments, adopted in March last, shall take effect; and also providing for compiling the statutes of the State." Mr. Hodgdon moved to put the bill back upon its second reading so as to offer an amendment to the bill in regard to the time of the taking effect of the constitutional amendment prohibiting the General Court from authorizing towns or cities to loan or give their money or credit to corporations, as covered by the eighth question thus submitted. Judge Sargent's bill fixed the time for this amendment to take place on the first Wednesday of June, 1879. Mr. Hodgdon's amendment makes it take place in June, 1878. Then followed considerable discussion upon Mr. Hodgdon's motion, Messrs. Hackett of Portsmouth, Sawtelle of Lyme and Hodgdon of Barnstead speaking in favor, and Messrs. Cross of Manchester, Goodell of Antrim, and Ordway of Warner against it. Judge Sargent made an explanation why the time was thus fixed. After discussion the motion was put and decided [illegible]. A division was called for by Mr. [illegible] of Portsmouth, which resulted [illegible] 158 in the negative, [illegible] it was defeated. Mr. Hackett [illegible] called for the yeas and nays, which resulted [illegible] 118 yeas and [illegible] nays, and thus the motion was lost. The bill was then put upon its passage and passed unanimously. Thus one of the "great bills" of the session has been disposed of; the next one will not meet with so easy a passage.

An act to incorporate the [illegible] Home for Indigent Women at [illegible] was passed.

The adjournment of this afternoon was made a subject of considerable importance. After the regular routine of business was disposed of, Mr. Sinclair of Bethlehem gave some political resolutions to the Speaker, and just as he was about to read them Mr. Stevens of Nashua said that there was considerable business for the committees to do, and that there was a prospect of a heated political discussion, and therefore he moved the House adjourn. Mr. Sinclair called for the yeas and nays, and the motion to adjourn was adopted by a vote of 175 to 140.

The railroad committee reported this morning, unanimously, that it was inexpedient to legislate upon the general railroad law. The House adopted the resolution,—and thus that great bobgoblin of the railroad corporations in the State has been laid low.

The bill to enable parties "to have their cases tried within the ordinary expectation of a lifetime," was reported on—that it was inexpedient to legislate thereon. Adopted.

The bill to amend chapter 37 of the General Statutes, in relation to the choice of town officers, received the same fate.

House bill No. 25 was negatived; it was an act in amendment of chapter sixty-one, section five, of the General Statutes, relating to weights and measures:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

SECTION 1. That the standard weight for marrow beans shall be sixty pounds, for medium beans sixty-two pounds, and for pea beans sixty-four pounds.

SEC. 2. That this act shall take effect on the first day of September next, and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

A bill has been introduced by Mr. Ordway of Warner, entitled "an act to reorganize and equalize the Senatorial Districts according to the amended Constitution." The State is divided into twenty-four Senatorial Districts, each one of which may elect one Senator to the Legislature, biennially. The following is the apportionment:

Act to take effect for the purpose of election on the first day of October, eighteen hundred and seventy-eight, and for all other purposes upon the first Wednesday of June, eighteen hundred and seventy-nine.

Rev. Daniel B. Dodge of Bloomington, North Carolina, this evening gives a lecture in Representatives' Hall on the Industrial Relations of the South and New England. This is to take the place of the regular agricultural meeting. If the members don't wish to attend that, then they have the opportunity of listening to Col. Blair of Plymouth in Eagle Hall, upon temperance, or a band concert on the balcony of the Phenix Hotel, or attending a democratic caucus in Phenix Hall,—the latter of which no doubt will have a full attendance. An Excursion Party Blown Up.

Steamer Lady of the Lake, a little pleasure steamer plying on Silver Lake at Plympton, Mass., exploded her boiler on Thursday while conveying two small parties of church people from Boston about the lake. The upper deck and pilot house were blown away, the sides of the boat shattered, and a man and child thrown into the water; and fully half of the forty persons on board were cut and bruised or scalded, or otherwise injured. The boat took fire, and a little girl, who was entangled in the wreck, was badly burned before she was discovered by Miss F. S. Merrill of Boston, who rushed in and rescued the child at the peril of her own life, the lady and child both being dangerously injured. No deaths have occurred from the accident as yet. The cause of the explosion is a mystery. The engineer (who was badly bruised and burned) says he had plenty of water in the boilers and eighty pounds of steam on. The head of the boiler was blown out and holes blown in both sides of the boat, and the machinery was blown to pieces. The steamer originally came from Newburyport, and is about five years old. She ran in Plymouth Harbor one season under the name of "Glide," and was transported overland to the lake in 1874, and named Lady of the Lake. This is the second steamboat explosion in Massachusetts within a short time; a tug at Taunton recently blew up, killing the engineer and one deck hand.

The War.

The crossing of the Danube has been effected at several points, and the report of a general movement of the entire Russian line has been confirmed. The last detachment that has crossed over performed the feat near Gura, and met with no opposition. The Turks seem to have been taken completely by surprise. The Russian army now practically controls the Danube, and the strategy of the Russians Generals has secured the command of the river almost without striking a blow. The whole Russian army is now in motion, and within a few days news of the gravest importance may be looked for.

News and Notes.

Annie Graham, daughter of Daniel Graham of Hartford, Conn., aged four years and eight months, died Thursday of hydrophobia. It was clearly defined case. She was bitten May 21st. This is the second death from hydrophobia in Hartford this season. Prof. Alvergnat died of this disease, (or fright,) May 31st.

Fifty Jewish houses in Cincinnati, representing an aggregate of over $10,000,000 of capital, have published a card in the Cincinnati papers pledging themselves to entertain no business relations whatever with the house of A. T. Stewart & Co. Among them are several heavy clothing houses.

A fatal and singular accident occurred on the Pennsylvania Railroad on Wednesday. The ten o'clock express, which was going at a rapid rate of speed, struck one of a party of four tramps who had stepped on the track to avoid a freight train which was coming the other way, near Forestdale. The train struck him with such force as to hurl him against a telegraph pole and sever his head from his body. The head flying and striking another, broke his leg. It is said that every bone in the body of the tramp who was killed, was broken.

Dr, R. V. Pierce, the greatest living medical advertiser, is flatteringly mentioned as a candidate for the office of Mayor of Buffalo, the Queen City of the Lakes. Let other advertisers and other medical men imitate his example, and we shall hope in time to record the fact of similar distinctions conferred upon them all. They cannot all be Mayor of Buffalo, but each may become great in his own locality, or, what is better, great in the consciousness of a great deal of money judiciously spent. We tender our respectful compliments to Dr. Pierce. Let him be Mayor!—N. Y. Sun, June 9th, 1877.

The American House, Boston, has the reputation of being one of the most homelike hotels in the country. To make their patrons comfortable seems to be the great effort of the proprietors, and the clerks do not deem it beneath their dignity to shake hands with a guest. Diamond studs and button hole bouquets are at a discount in that office.—Detroit Free Press.

New Hampshire Items.

The late Chief Justice Chase's legacy of $10,000 to Dartmouth has just been received by that college.

President Hayes has concluded to visit New Hampshire after he has attended the Bennington (Vt.) celebration, August 15th and 16th.

—"Charles, dear," said a lady to her escort at the Boston Theatre, as the bewitching Aimee glanced tantalizingly out of the corners of her eyes at a row of Harvard boys in the orchestra chairs,—"Charles, dear, I'm afraid she is saying something very improper. Find me the place in the libretto, will you?"

—"Which is the most valuable—experience or instinct?" was the subject up for discussion at a county debating society recently. One member said experience teaches us to back up to a hot stove when we are cold, but when our cont-tails catch fire instinct is boss.

—Man claims there are things he can do better than a woman, but the most experienced base ball player can never hope to equal the dexterous back-handed action with which a woman "picks up" her dress.

"Making Old Bones."

People who neglect their minor ailments rarely live to make old bones. The secret of hale and vigorous old age, lies not only in taking care of one's health in early life, by the observance of sanitary rules, but also by judicious medication when the premonitory symptoms of bodily disorder manifest themselves. Indigestion, bowel and liver complaints are fruitful causes of injury to the constitution. These diseases should be, therefore, checked without delay. The best medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This standard preparation disciplines the digestive organs, gives renewed impetus to the bilious secretive function, and exerts a beneficial influence upon the organs of urination. It has no rival as a remedy for and preventive of chills and fevers and bilious remittents, infuses vigor into the debilitated frame, and is an excellent appetizer and nervine.

The Climax.

At last a perfect dentifrice has been discovered. Never was tooth brush dipped into a preparation so unobjectionable and so effective as Sozodont.

All its ingredients are botanic. It whitens the teeth, keeps them undiscolored, and free from blemish, and improves the condition of the gums.

JUST THINK OF IT.—That dread disease consumption, which takes away 40,000 lives every year in New England, might easily be avoided by the timely use of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup, which is gaining a wide reputation by its curative properties. 50 cents will buy it at your druggist's.

VANILLA CHOCOLATE.—The highest perfection is obtained in the goods made by Walter Baker & Co., who received the first award over all the world, even at the Paris Exposition. Ask your Grocer for Baker's, and you will get the very best Vanilla Chocolate in the market.

FAMILIES will find in the large and carefully selected stock of T. E. Moseley & Co., 469 Washington street, Boston, every style of boots and shoes that they may require.

DRAW YOUR WALLETS.

A meeting of the committee appointed by the citizens to raise funds in aid of the St. John sufferers was held Thursday evening, Hon. Daniel Marcy presiding, in the absence of the Mayor, who was out of town. Charles H. Mendum, Esq., was appointed treasurer, and Postmaster Peirce and Charles H. Mendum were appointed a sub-committee to wait upon and solicit subscriptions from the substantial citizens of this city. Capt. Joseph H. Thacher and Joseph H. Foster, Esq., were added to the general committee.

There are many hundreds of absolutely destitute people in St. John, who must be fed, clothed, and sheltered, mainly through the voluntary contributions of more fortunate communities. Our city and St. John have been for many years more or less closely connected in commercial enterprises; but no business relations can increase the right of suffering humanity to look for aid to those who have escaped disaster, nor does lack of personal acquaintance release the fortunate man from the moral duty of extending aid to his unfortunate fellow in the hour of his great need. Hundreds of people in St. John have lost their all,—seen the results of a life's labor swept away in an hour, and must for a considerable time depend upon the charity which they have a right to expect, and which other cities are liberally bestowing. It is of course not to be expected that Portsmouth can stand beside the large cities in the number of dollars contributed to the cause; but it can, without suffering, raise for the stricken city a sum which will be of substantial benefit, and maintain its reputation for generous sympathy with suffering wherever it may occur.

We trust that no one who can afford a subscription, however small, will refuse it when called on by the committee.

POLICE COURT.

Friday, June 29th.

Frank Ludlow was charged with an assault on G. H. Kennard, a brakeman on the Eastern Railroad. The evidence showed that Ludlow, then somewhat under the influence of liquor, was on the platform of a car at North Hampton, Thursday evening, and the brakeman, as was his duty, attempted to enforce the rule against passengers standing on the platforms of cars. Ludlow was abusive and violent, and on the train's arriving in this city at nine o'clock, he was given into custody. Fine $10, costs $6.90.

James Sullivan and Michael Welch, two young fellows whose names have appeared in these reports before, for disorderly conduct were fined $3 each,—each to pay half the costs of prosecution, which footed up $9.18.

Sullivan and Welch were also complained of for malicious mischief (breaking glass), and Welch was fined $3, costs $5.76; the case against Sullivan was "nollied."

Jeremiah W. Edwards, otherwise "Professor" Edwards, was brought up on complaint of his wife, who charged him with assaulting her. Mrs. Edwards testified that she was not defendant's wife, she having separated from him; was once married to him, and never divorced; is not his wife now. The evidence was to the effect that the Professor notified Mrs. Edwards from Boston that he was going to send her ten dollars; she notified him that she didn't want any of his ten dollars or him either, and that she was going to Concord right away; he notified her that he was coming to this city right along,—and he came at nine o'clock Thursday night, went to his wife's home and into her chamber, and according to her version of the affair tried to choke her. The latter part the Professor denied; he was glad to see his wife, and kissed her just so (giving the Court a practical illustration of just how it was done); that was all. The Court, after patiently listening to all the evidence offered, ordered the Professor's release from custody.

ENGLAND TO BE INVADED.

A hundred years ago, when the Revolutionary War was raging, had any one suggested a hint of the possibility of a military expedition from Portsmouth, New Hampshire, ever invading Portsmouth, England, he would have been very suddenly and decidedly and properly sat upon, as being an idiot and a false prophet; yet this is exactly what is now intended, the Portsmouth Light Artillery proposing to invade both England and France next summer, and in the identical red-coat uniform worn by the royal troops when they invaded what were then the rebellious colonies—now the United States of America—a century ago. At a meeting of the Light Artillery, held Thursday evening, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, The pleasant relations long existing between the municipal officers of Portsmouth, England, and those of this city, having resulted in the cordial invitation of the Mayor of that city to the Portsmouth Light Artillery through its former captain, Col. Thomas E. O. Marvin, to visit England, extending to them the freedom of Portsmouth; and

Whereas, The company have on 4th inst. accepted the said invitation and with great unanimity voted the thanks of the organization to Mayor Kent for this unusual honor, and, unable then (having just returned from an extended tour to the American Exposition) to name the time when the company would make the contemplated visit to England, it is therefore

Resolved, That the Portsmouth Light Artillery visit Portsmouth, England, in the summer of 1878, and extend the trip to attend the Paris Exposition; also

Resolved, That the company appoint a committee of seven to make the necessary arrangements.

Agreeably to the above vote, the following gentlemen were appointed a committee of arrangements: Wm. O. Sides, Joseph R. Curtis, D. J. Spinney, John S. Trant, Justin French, S. J. Slaney, John Turner, John C. Lewis.

We have briefly examined the plan of operations proposed by the managers of this scheme, and have no doubt that it will be carried to a successful issue, and that to the Portsmouth Light Artillery will belong the honor of first showing to the inhabitants of a British city a specimen company of the citizen soldiery of the United States.

The members of the company have pledged themselves to pay into the treasury the sum of one dollar each from week to week from now to June 1st, 1878, the amount thus contributed to be placed in the Portsmouth Savings Bank on deposit. After this sum shall, with interest, amount to $3000, then the honorary members and public will be invited to help swell the fund to $6000, which will be sufficient to cover all the expenses of the trip. Circulars are now preparing, giving full particulars, and will be sent to the honorary members and prominent gentlemen.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

At St. Mary's church, Children's Mass at 8:30, Solemn Mass at 10:30 A. M.; Sunday School at two o'clock, Vesper Service at three o'clock, P. M.

At the Methodist church, preaching at the usual hours forenoon and afternoon, by the pastor. Subjects—forenoon, "Secret of Prosperity;" afternoon, "History of the Methodist Church in Portsmouth." Sacrament of the Lord's Supper after the afternoon service.

Rev. James W. Hubbell will preach at the North church, Sabbath morning, the sermon preached by him recently at the annual meeting of Rockingham County Conference. Subject, "The plus quantity in Christ."

At the Universalist church, Sunday forenoon, the pastor will preach, the subject of his sermon being "Unconscious service and conscious neglect."

There will be a floral service in the Court street Christian church on Sunday morning at half-past ten, with singing and recitations by the Sunday school children. Also, preaching in the afternoon at quarter before three o'clock. Prayer meeting at half-past seven o'clock in the evening. All are welcome.

The Temperance Reform Club meeting at Mechanics Hall to-morrow (Sunday) evening will be addressed by the President, Mr. James Janvrin. It is understood that Mr. Janvrin declines a re-election, so his remarks will be of the character and tone of a valedictory. He has been in office six months and has discharged the difficult duties of presiding officer of the Club in an acceptable manner, and proved himself worthy in every way of the high trust committed to him by the members of the organization in choosing him as their leader. Honest in his purposes, unflinching in the discharge of duty and earnest in the work of reclaiming the fallen, Mr. Janvrin stands among us as a noble instance of salvation from the slough of intemperance, and his reclamation is a signal victory for the Portsmouth Temperance Reform Club. Give him a good house on Sunday night! Praise service from half-past seven until eight.

[Communicated.]

MODERN IMPROVEMENTS.

It is a propensity of not a few in every age to compare the time in which they live with the past, to the disadvantage of the latter. If we may believe Cowper, the generation among whom his lot was cast were to a great extent very bad when compared with those of the "good old times" of which he wrote who were the very salt of the earth, according to his idea, in goodness. That the former were bad enough there can be no doubt, when "people of quality" as they were called, meaning the higher class, if the phase may be used, played cards for money at parties, in which pastime misses and masters in their teens were allowed among themselves to indulge; when what was known as the double entendre was regarded as evidence of smartness, however impure the thought concealed beneath it, and when gentlemen as they regarded themselves, boasted of deeds which should have consigned them to infamy in the eyes of those of either sex possessing the slightest sense of honor and virtue. Whatever may have been the merits or demerits of the people in the "good old times" of which we hear and read, there is no denying the fact that a great change for the better has come about within the memory of most of us in many things, and among them none is more noble, or deserving of a greater degree of encouragement than the interest awakened everywhere in the welfare of the dumb creation, and the efforts made to protect them from abuse. There was a time when burdens were placed upon horses that taxed their utmost strength to draw even but a few rods at a time, and if not progressing as rapidly as their inhuman task-masters desired, the lash was applied with a severity it makes one's blood run cold to think of; the poor creatures could be seen, too, [illegible] bleeding sores [illegible] it was to be regretted could not be transferred to the backs of their brutal owners. There are laws in these better days to punish such inhuman wretches and kind-hearted people to see that they are put in force. Before the enactment of such restraints, through the exertions of good men like Mr. Bergh and others of both sexes, of which we have a share, the driver of a cart in New York, by way of taking vengeance upon his horse, when his hard-day's work was over, for treading upon his boot, tied him to his stall, and applied the whip until his own strength was exhausted; then, as he was giving the last blow, in stooping to recover his instrument of torture that had fallen from his hand, he received a kick from the iron-shod hoof of his victim, that broke his skull, and after hours of suffering, caused his death. "Served him right" was the verdict of all who read the story.

There was once no laws to prevent the destruction around Portsmouth of birds whose sweet song was music to the ear and whose bright plumage, often, was a delight to look upon. A daily sight it was, in summer time, to see brave sportmen returning from the country with strings of birds of every kind from a ground sparrow to a robin redbreast or golden-winged yellow hammer; just as common was it to see school-boys come back from their Wednesday and Saturday afternoon rambles, bearing with them unfledged little ones of which they had robbed the parent birds, and eggs they had stolen from the nests of others; they are taught better now if they were not then, and a very mean boy it must be, few and far between it is to be hoped, who would be guilty of acts so base and heartless. Nor less frequent an occurrence was it to see a poor cat, who chanced to come in their way, pelted even to death with stones by vagabond boys, who regarded it as the greatest of enjoyments to do so; the breed of such creatures may yet remain but a nobler race of their sex and age might be found I fancy who would teach them that throwing stones is a game at which, in such a cause, two parties could play. The croakers to the contrary notwithstanding, we do live in a better age than the past in many ways; and there is reason to hope that the generation to come will be better still.

THE CROSS AND THE CRESCENT

A volume of thrilling interest by the eminent historian L. P. BROCKETT; describing the Russians and Turks: social, political, and religious history and condition; their home-life, various customs and peculiarities, the causes of the war, the issues at stake—Christian against Mohammedan—the mighty interests of other nations involved; Biographies of the Rulers, statesmen and Generals; all richly illustrated. The book millions need now. Wanted instantly, 3,000 agents on very liberal terms.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 3 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

Chang Ah-Tung, who was arrested about six weeks ago for forging the name of Charles Samuels to three money orders of $40 each, was placed on trial in the United States Circuit Court, New York, but the trial had gone on only a short time before it was discovered that the Chinese signature which was supposed to be Samuels' name was in reality that of Ah-Tung himself. Assistant District Attorney Foster entered a hasty nolle prosequi, and Mr. Chang Ah-Tung resumes his former place in the confidence of the community. This illustrates the general uncertainty of life, and the painful vicissitudes of a Chinese handwriting.

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.
HE WILL COME;
BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, JR., D. D.
This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative so could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.
Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and notknowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:
Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.
WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2 years with Dyspepsia, and, for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.
WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS on the 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.
WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.
Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."
EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know of, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story—I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE
Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.
DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; but my all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if you take them they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Lucy Sneed, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON
Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.
LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water or houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vault, room or stall of the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any solters of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the Health Officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds within city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughterhouse, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his tenement either of said ponds, or upon any flat, dam or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the Worst CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.
It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.
It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.
It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Heetic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.
For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION,

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:
For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.
WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.
DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

LESS THAN THE MANUFACTURERS' PRICES.

THE BUCKEYE,

continues to be the Standard Mower of this country, even after twenty-one years of close competition.
It is now so thoroughly perfected, and so much wrought iron used in its construction as to place it among the very lightest. It is also the strongest and easiest of draft. (One man being able to draw the one-horse machine on level land when cutting a full swath of one ton and a quarter to the acre.)

is a nice machine for those desiring a cheaper one.
SECOND-HAND MOWERS of different makes for $15.00 each.
Will exchange for any pattern. Furnish extras for the BUCKEYE and UNION.
THE IMPROVED BULLARD HAY TEDDER

LANGDON PARK
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.
THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St. Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.
Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.
The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

Fancy Farming.

It has been of late proposed to raise by subscription enough to enable Mr. Evarts to hold the office of Secretary of State without damage to his private interests. One of the best features in such measures would be to abolish the Vermont farm, which is said to exhaust the best part of his income. He has 70 head of cattle, 200 sheep, 16 horses and 25 swine. The extent of land is 800 acres. Last year 200 tons of hay were cut, costing the proprietor not much more than double the market price. More than 2000 bushels of corn were raised, at an estimated loss of 50 cents a bushel, and therfore ought to be of good quality. His pork is estimated at 20 cents a pound, and chickens at $3 a pair.

Beecher last year raised about 15,000 bushels of onions on his Peekskill farm. They cost him $1.50 a bushel, according to estimate, and as the price in this city was $1, any one can see how much he made. Beecher can send beef to New York market at 50 cents a pound, and can raise oats at as low a mark as $2 a bushel. His butter is reckoned at $1.25 a pound, and his eggs at 75 cents a dozen. He cleared $40,000 by lecturing last winter, and if he maintains such an income he will be able to continue farming.

Gough lectures five times a week, his fee being $200. He has a farm in Worcester, which at one time contained 175 acres. He has no children, but his expenses are very heavy, and, to bring matters in a snug shape, he sold a part of his land, and reduced the farm to 125 acres, which is as extensive as his income will admit. A few years ago his wife, who was a Yankee girl, undertook to raise fancy fowls, which some say are very profitable. She got up a very nice variety, and at a rather reasonable expense, for the Shanghaes did not cost more than $75 a pair. The Cochin Chinas were a little cheaper, and bantams could be rated at from $25 to $40. After stocking the place with these rare birds, Gough, it is said, found that if they were to be kept up he would be obliged to lecture on Sundays as well as on week days to make a living. When it costs $15 to winter a chicken a man needs a good income. The system was therefore changed; the fowls were abolished and regular crops were tried with decided success. As long as Gough's rye does not cost more than $5 per bushel, and the other crops are kept at an equally reduced rate, his present income will enable him to live in a very decent manner. There is nothing like a farming life for men who have plenty of money.—New York paper.

Mr. Beecher Rising.

It is very plain to see that Henry Ward Beecher is rapidly regaining his former position of power and influence in this community, while those who attempted to pull him down have one after another disappeared from view. Mr. Beecher is also rapidly replenishing his exchequer. One of his senior counsel during his trial informs me that he has received $50,000 for his public lectures; furthermore that it is true that he has had an offer from the Boston bureau of $25,000 to lecture in California during the summer vacation. Manifestly Beecher stock is rising. It is understood that Messrs. Moulton and Tilton are now not only estranged but hostile to each other. Mr. Moulton is reported to have said in Boston the other day that it was a shame he ever threw himself away for such a fellow as Tilton. Mr. Beecher's counsel believe, or assume to believe, that Mrs. Moulton sooner or later will come out with a confession to the effect that she was persuaded by her husband to say what she did on the trial, and will then proceed to tell a directly opposite story—New York cor. Chicago Journal.

—If there were no other feature to mark the importance of the institution of Freemasonry its stability would recommend it to the consideration of the wise and thoughtful. There is a deal of nobility in this sturdy changelessness of the fraternity. It is our pride that the craftsman of to-day is laboring in the same quarries, and for the same objects as his brother of centuries ago. Not because of the odd sentiment brought out by the thought, but because it exhibits the strength of that humanity, whose problems wrought out one after another, through the ages, are still renewed for thoughtful inquiry, year by year.—Noah's Sunday Times.

CHRONICLE & GAZETTE PUBLISHING CO.,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

The Job Printing Business is conducted in the same office by Mr. Charles W. Gardner, who keeps on hand a large and well-selected stock of all materials required in his line. In his absence orders may be left at the CHRONICLE Counting Room.

The undersigned, in announcing his retirement from the journalistic field, and especially from the editorship and proprietorship of the DAILY CHRONICLE and NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, desires to tender his heartfelt thanks to the many personal friends and the patrons of the CHRONICLE and the GAZETTE, who by their uniform courtesy, kindly remembrances and many proofs of confidence and esteem, have aided in rendering his arduous and trying duties less irksome than if unsupported by sympathy and substantial endorsement. No person placed in the responsible position of editorial management for a series of years can fail of being convinced that however indefatigable may be his exertions and conscientious his motives, his success still largely depends on the kind co-operation of friends and well-wishers. It is an exceedingly pleasant remembrance that from the time the writer first ventured into active and responsible journalism (April 12, 1868,) he met with an encouragement that has continued through the nine years and more that have intervened. It is a matter, also, of extreme pleasure to note that his associations in business and editorial labor have been unmarred by serious disagreement or conflicting opinion. Personalism in journalism is evidently being "cultivated out of sight," but the readers of this paper will doubtless excuse references that seem due to others ere the writer relinquishes the pen editorial.

First among those offering encouragement to youthful ambition was good old "UNCLE TOBY," Heaven bless his memory! How sadly was he missed from the CHRONICLE sanctum when his life-work of good deeds was ended, and the record closed of a life wholly unconscious of any intention to do wrong to others, but, instead, impressed with a desire to help right the wrongs of others. Then comes to the mind's eye, the energetic partner to whom Portsmouth is more deeply indebted than its citizens ever realized, and to whom it gave the Chief Magistracy for a period, all too brief, Hon. FRANK W. MILLER, the first person who established here a daily newspaper, and who, true to his convictions, cannot confine his "pent-up" ideas and once more dashes into editorial life with all the vigor of youth and energy of his nature. He was succeeded by Mr. WASHINGTON FREEMAN, as steady a balance wheel as one could wish for, a financial manager whose integrity could never be doubted, and whose influence has largely tended toward increasing the success which has attended the CHRONICLE from its inception to the present time. And who that has once known him can forget the "ancient mariner," whose humorous and patriotic letters from Australia, in war times, were sought for eagerly, and who on returning published in this paper the remarkably convincing series of "Pakeha" letters, on the merchant marine and naval matters, which, being extensively copied, aided in gaining Congressional adjudication which gave naval "staff" officers their rights. The writer of these sturdy articles, Mr. ISRAEL P. MILLER, soon gravitated to editorial life and has ably taken charge of the editorial labor on this paper during the past year.

The correspondents and volunteer reporters who have kindly favored this paper in the past with discussion and news, have aided in continuing its success; and to them and the brethren of the press at home and abroad, with whom many pleasant acquaintances have been formed, acknowledgment of courtesies received is due. A chief regret at retiring from editorial life is the severance of these professional ties, which have grown and strengthened with each succeeding year. Due regard, however, for personal health and business interests elsewhere which demand attention, although not of such an exacting nature as newspaper publishing, furnishes a motive for this withdrawal.

The CHRONICLE and the GAZETTE will remain in excellent hands, and will gain by the partial change of proprietorship which takes place to-day. May the papers and their proprietors meet with still greater success, and the readers and patrons increase tenfold and be abundantly satisfied.

GEO. W. MARSTON,

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 27th.

Many thousand Centennial visitors who included the Federal Capital in their journey to or from Philadelphia last season, viewed the incompleted shaft of marble 174 feet high and one half mile south of the White House, and when told it was the rudiment of the Washington Monument, began so many years ago, the almost uniform wish expressed was that it might speedily be completed. These indications of popular sympathy, quickened by the inspirations of patriotism absorbed at Philadelphia on the 4th of July, 1876, probably induced Hon. John Sherman to move the appropriation of $200,000 for its completion, on the following day, which was carried without opposition. A commission of army officers was at once designated to test the sufficiency of the foundation to support the great weight of a gradually tapering shaft of marble, carried upward to a height of 600 feet from a base about 80 feet square. Contrary to several previous reports of competent engineer officers, and to general expectation based on the statements of our local papers that everything was found all right, after several months spent in sinking shafts an unfavorable report was made, stating that the portion already up was deflected several inches from the perpendicular, from the inequality in the substance of the underlying earth. The Monment Association was highly incensed, and attacked the report with such vigor as to discredit the conclusions of the scientific West Point gentlemen; for it has been pretty conclusively shown in the controversy that the fixed point—a stone marking the meridian of Washington—serving as the basis of all their measurements and calculations, was moved a few years ago without their knowledge, invalidating the results arrived at. Thus the matter stands, and likely Congress will be asked at the next session to indicate its pleasure in the premises—either to tear it down or complete it according to the original, or some other plan.

Hard money men are said to be growing dispirited at the evident tendency in high official quarters to adapt the alleged suggestions of Senator Jones to be made in his forthcoming report as spokesman of the silver commission, to make the silver dollar a legal tender without restrictions of any kind, thus placing it on an equality with gold. It is now given out that Secretary Sherman is gradually retreating from the middle ground he at first took in favor of a limited restoration of silver, toward the President's position of an absolute repeal of the demonetization act of 1873. Under such circumstances it is held that the redemption of the four per cent. bonds and the payment of their interest in silver would do no violence to the spirit of the Secretary's assurances in his late letter, but about every one here understood him to mean gold, and there is no doubt from Senator Jone's criticism that that was precisely his understanding of the matter.

Dowling's case is kept very quiet. It will certainly require a good deal of courage to remove him in the face of the protest of nearly the entire population of Toledo, and that too in the absence of a single valid cause for such action, as it would serve very greatly to discredit the Presidential professions of civil service reform. A good many people shake their heads knowingly at every mention of Stanley Matthews, as though he couldn't be too soon or too persistently snubbed, if the President would save himself from the suspicion of allowing that gentleman too much latitude in dictating removals and appointments.

The storm that devastated so many farms and villages on its way here from the West, struck us last evening about sunset. Its force was so nearly spent that it did no material damage, though it made matters lively in the streets for a few moments, and gave us a copious fall of rain, accompanied by thunder and lightning. KNOX.

Couldn't Manage It.

Mr. John G. Sinclair, of Bethlehem, has tried hard to delude the republicans of the New Hampshire Legislature into indirectly acknowledging that the Southern States were badly governed by the republicans and are well governed by the democrats, through the introduction of resolutions pretending to be an endorsement of the President's Southern policy. First, he introduced a resolution endorsing the "Head of the Administration" (not the "National Administration," as the press despatches made it) for his Southern policy; but the republicans didn't propose to allow a hide-bound Bourbon like Sinclair to dupe them into even an indirect admission that there is no "President" in the country, so they banished his resolution to a committee. Next he introduced a resolution and preamble, the preamble setting forth that "justice has been established and domestic tranquility restored" in the South by the "Southern policy." As the Kemper county, the Hamburg and the Ellenton assassins are still at liberty, and though well known are holding their heads high as ever in democratic society, unmolested by and fearless of the law, the republicans declined to declare that "justice has been established" in the South, even though invited to do so by Mr. Oily Gammon Sinclair. And they did just right.

The War.

A despatch from Athens says an Austrian Lloyds steamer landed at Corfu for the Turkish Government 103 cases of arms intended for reshipment to Prevesa in Albania, but the Russian consul protested to the Greek Government against the use of neutral territory as a neutral territory as a depot for the arms of a belligerent. The Government thereupon ordered the detention of the arms, and the captain of the Austrian ship in which they were already embarked, on hearing the protest, unloaded them into the boats, where they remain. The Turks intimated they are about to send a man-of-war to fetch the arms. The Greeks replied that they would send what force was at their disposal to prevent it. The Turkish Government protested, but notwithstanding, the Greeks have ordered the iron-clads George and Olga to leave immediately, and they are now ready. The Greek Government has informed the powers of this, calling upon them for support in preserving neutrality. They will allow the arms to be taken to Trieste by a neutral ship.

From all accounts there has been severe fighting along the Danube, though the Russians have succeeded in establishing themselves on the Turkish side of the river at a number of points. At Nikopolis and Sistova the Russian loss was very heavy; between Sistova and Simuitza the fighting was not so severe, and the Russians easily brushed the Turks out of their way. A despatch from Nikopolis dated June 29th, says that the Russians attempted to cross the river Thursday in fifty lighters; ten of the lighters were sunk by shells and the attempt failed; the slaughter was frightful.

A despatch from Constantinople says the Porte has declared it is willing to conclude peace with Montenegro should Montenegro request peace.

A telegram from Trebizond says that on Friday the Turks assaulted and carried the Russian positions at Batoum, in Asia Minor, in which they achieved a great victory. The Russians are retreating, after a severe battle, in which they lost a large number of men.

Concord Correspondence.

CONCORD, June 30.

Among the first movements in the House yesterday morning was that Mr. Cross of Manchester asked for unanimous consent to have the report of the railroad committee on the general railroad law reconsidered. Mr. Sinclair of Bethlehem objected; then Mr. Cross gave notice that he should move a reconsideration. Then followed sixteen different reports from the committee on judiciary.

The committee on banks reported that the bill to incorporate the Piscataqua Savings Bank ought not to pass. Mr. Hackett of Portsmouth said that some parties from Portsmouth desired to be heard upon the bill, and upon his motion the bill was laid upon the table.

At 11 o'clock Mr. Barton of Newport called for the special order, being the State prison bill. On the objection of Mr. Sinclair, the Speaker ruled that the general orders must be disposed of. Mr. Stevens of Nashua moved that the rules be suspended and the special assignment be considered. On the objection of Mr. Sinclair, Mr. Stevens withdrew his motion. After a number of bills were read a second time Mr. Sinclair called for the unfinished business of the day preceding, being the resolution offered by himself. Then for two hours and quarter there was warm a political discussion as one would wish to hear. The Speaker read the preamble and resolution which was as follows:

"Whereas, A resolution was presented to this House on Tuesday last approving the acts of the National Administration in removing the United States troops and restoring self-government to the States of Florida, Louisana, and South Carolina, by which justice has been established and domestic tranquility restored, and also of the order prohibiting undue interference by officers of the National Government and their subordinates with elections; and whereas, it appeared in the discussion that the sentiment of that resolution was warmly and unanimously endorsed by the House; and whereas, the only objection to said resolution, was found in the source from which it emanated and its phraseology or grammatical construction, therefore,

Resolved, That the Committee on National Affairs be respectfully requested to prepare and report a resolution couched in chaste and unexceptional language, expressive of the unanimous and unqualified approval of this House of those great distinguishing acts."

Mr. Sinclair supported his resolution in his usual story telling, witty, sarcastic and facetious manner. Then resolutions, amendments, and points of order were offered, made and debated by Messrs. Wood of Acworth, Stevens of Nashua, Patterson of Hanover, Ordway of Warner, Sinclair of Bethlehem, Stevens of Concord, Barton of Newport, and Colony of Keene. Time and space permits of only a mere outline of this debate. After Mr. Sinclair's first speech Mr. Wood offered a humorous substitute, which was rejected. Mr. Stevens of Nashua called for a division of the question, dividing the preamble from the resolution. Mr. Ordway then offered an amendment. Ordway and Sinclair then debated whether this amendment was germane. Mr. Stevens of Nashua then offered an amendment. Mr. Stevens of Concord then offered an amendment. Mr. Stevens of Nashua moved to refer the whole matter, with all the amendments, to the Committee on National Affairs. Mr. Sinclair moved as an amendment to this that the committee be instructed to report a resolution endorsing the President's policy in regard to the Southern States, and in regard to civil service reform. Messrs. Stevens of Nashua, Barton, Patterson, Sinclair, and Colony then debated whether Mr. Sinclair's amendment was in order. Finally Mr. Stevens moved that Mr. Sinclair's amendment be tabled, to be taken up when the parties interested should agree. Mr. Sinclair asked the Speaker, if the motion was carried to table his amendment, if it did not carry with it the whole matter. The Speaker said he thought it would. Mr. Sinclair said, amidst loud laughter, "Then to bar against all accidents I will call for the yeas and nays on the motion to table." The yeas and nays were called and the whole matter was tabled by a vote of 202 yeas to 128 nays.

The Speaker gained a good deal in the estimation of the House by his fairness and impartiality in the debate.

The State prison bill, which was crowded out by this debate, has been assigned to next Friday at 11 o'clock.

In the afternoon many members deserted the House, but those remaining managed to dispose of a vast amount of work and the Speaker's desk was cleared. For over an hour bills were read the third time and passed.

The House adjourned until Monday, at 4 o'clock P. M.

Yours, A. B.

"Making Old Bones."

People who neglect their minor ailments rarely live to make old bones. The secret of hale and vigorous old age, lies not only in taking care of one's health in early life, by the observance of sanitary rules, but also by judicious medication when the premonitory symptoms of bodily disorder manifest themselves. Indigestion, bowel and liver complaints are fruitful causes of injury to the constitution. These diseases should be, therefore, checked without delay. The best medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This standard preparation disciplines the digestive organs, gives renewed impetus to the bilious secretive function, and exerts a beneficial influence upon the organs of urination. It has no rival as a remedy for and preventive of chills and fevers and bilious remittents, infuses vigor into the debilitated frame, and is an excellent appetizer and nervine.

The Climax.

At last a perfect dentrifrice has been discovered. Never was tooth brush dipped into a preparation so unobjectionable and so effective as Sozodont.

All its ingredients are botanic. It whitens the teeth, keeps them undiscolored, and free from blemish, and improves the condition of the gums.

Nothing but a broken bank is unmendable by Spalding's Glue.

The Smithsonian Institution records show that the capital city of Minnesota has a winter of 148 days, during which the temperature is 10° Fahr. below the freezing point. That such an arctic temperature is more favorable to the cure of consumption than a climate comparatively warm and uniform throughout the year, is a point that is not proved. Of the consumptives who go to Minnesota, even in the early stages of their complaint, but one in fifteen are cured. The Young Men's Christian Association of St. Paul has found it necessary to take in charge the burial of the friendless invalids that flock there in the vain hope of the climate cure; and they have abundant duty as undertakers. In short there seems to be no sovereign balm for consumption in Minnesota. And this is not only the case there, but is also true of other supposed beneficial climates. Far better would it be for the patient to remain at home, and take some reliable remedy like Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup, which the inventor, a well-known practising physician of Claremont, N. H., has used with unparalleled success in his practice for over fifteen years.

AN Oriental traveller describes this busy scene, witnessed on historic shores: "Our steamer landed on a beach which was the port of Antioch, where the disciples were first called Christians. There was no town at the water's edge, no people, no wharf. The passengers and the merchandise were put ashore in lighters, which ran up into the sand. A troop of camels, with their drivers, lay on the beach, ready to transfer the goods into the interior. Among the articles landed were boxes marked 'DR. J. C. AYER & CO., LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.,' showing that they contained medicines and whence they came. These with other goods were hoisted on the backs of the camels, for transportation to Antioch. Thus the skill of the West sends back its remedies to heal the maladies of populations that inhabit these eastern shores, whence our spiritual manna came."—Windsor (Vt.) Chronicle.

To the Supreme Court.

ROCKINGHAM, SS. Law Term, June, 1877. No. 12.

EDWIN T. RICE of New York respectfully represents that ARABELLA RICE, late of Portsmouth, deceased, in 1873, testate, having in her will nominated your petitioner together with two other cousins to be Executors of her will: that both of the other persons nominated declined to accept the trust, and have since deceased.

And your petitioner having nearly completed the distribution of the residuum of said estate, upon the petition of Samuel E. Sewall, administrator of one of the residuary legatees who lived and died in Russia, at the Probate Court, holden at Portsmouth, September, 1876, was removed from his position as Executor of said will.

He further represents that his counsel was in Court when said removal was announced, and then and there in open Court claimed an appeal to this Court which was then and there allowed, and further requested the Register of Probate to prepare the proper papers to render said appeal effectual to this Court, and to hand the papers to the Clerk for entry; but, owing to some misunderstanding between the counsel of your petitioner and the newly-appointed Register of Probate, and not through any neglect, the proper papers were not seasonably filed to effect said appeal.

Wherefore, he prays that this Court will give him leave to appeal, according to the provisions of the statute in such case made and provided.

EDWIN T. RICE, by
W. H. Y. HACKETT, his Att'y.

Upon the foregoing petition, it is ordered that the petitioner notify all persons interested in the subject matter thereof, to appear at an adjourned law term of our Supreme Court to be holden at Concord in our County of Merrimack, on the thirteenth day of August, 1877, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer thereof should not be granted, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order to be published once a week for three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in our County of Rockingham, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days before said thirteenth day of August next.

Attest, C. G. CONNER, Clerk.

A true copy.

LAP-TABLET.

It has become an almost universal custom for Ladies to write on their laps, using the nearest book or other flat object as a rest for the paper. The new "LAP-TABLET," is an article especially adapted to the purpose. It will be appreciated not only by the Ladies but by the Student and Tourist, in the boudoir or library, on voyage, at summer resorts, by the sea, on the lawn or in the woods, and by Amateur Artists as a sketch-board.

Charles Levi Woodbury and James T. Fields are at the Appledore House, Isles of Shoals.

The usual dividend of three per cent. on the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad shares will be paid to-day, at the Treasurer's office in this city.

Piscataqua Lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., will have a public installation of officers at Odd Fellows' Hall this evening.

Sagamore Lodge, No. 258, Knights of Honor, will install the officers for the ensuing year on Monday evening next.

Ex-Gov. Noyes, of Ohio, and United States Senators Wadleigh and Rollins of this State, are at the Boar's Head Hotel, Hampton Beach.

Ex-humid—the street crossings, under the direction of Commissioner Sides—for which every pedestrian on Saturday morning gave thanks.

Mr. John Sides brought into our office on Saturday potatoes, raised in his garden this year, one of which weighed eleven ounces and measured six inches in length.

At the hearing at Concord on Wednesday in relation to the bill asking for a charter for a new bank in this city, to be called Piscataqua Savings Bank, it was unanimously voted that it is not expedient to grant the charter.

Lieut. Comdr. Augustus G. Kellogg has been ordered to take command of the U. S. S. Speedwell at this navy yard. After the vessel is prepared she will proceed to Salem and take on board Prof. Baird and his party, who are there engaged in duties relating to the fish commission, and proceed with them to the meeting of the commission at Washington.

About two weeks ago Lucinda Hooper, an enterprising dairy and poultry market woman of York, barely escaped serious if not fatal injuries at Portsmouth bridge. Her horse became frightened at the moving train of cars and came near throwing her out. Some workmen near by helped the woman from the wagon, and attempted to hold the animal by the bit, but failing they were soon obliged to witness a general smash up of wagon, butter, eggs, etc. The bridge company, however, made all damages good.—Biddeford Journal.

When the voters of Ward Two sent Col. Sise to the Legislature they were not aware that they were sending forth a missionary; but it is so, for since he has been in Concord the clothing dealers there expose white vests in their shop windows, for sale. But the residents of that city do not seem inclined to treat him as the New Zealand heathen used to treat their teachers—roast them—for he is most kindly cared for. A few days ago the clerk of the hotel where he stops heard him complain that there was no bible in his room, and within a very short time he was presented with one suitably inscribed, by the New Hampshire Bible Society. Naturally enough the colonel values the gift highly; and we are satisfied that the remark we heard made Saturday evening by Lieut. "Bob." Rich, viz: "That bible is an elephant on his hands—he don't know what to do with it!" was instigated solely by envy.

We copy the following from the Times: "In looking over the neatly-printed pages of a little sheet called 'The Travellers' Record,' we came across an item which says: 'It takes but a slight mishap to put one on the shelf for a few weeks or months. A slip, a trip, a stub of a toe, a sprain, cut, bruise, burn, etc., has often done it as effectually as a railroad collision or a boiler explosion.' True as gospel; and as accident is liable to happen to anybody at any hour, we would advise those who have not already invested in a policy to call on Messrs. Morse & Ilsley, agents in Portsmouth for the Travellers' Life and Accident Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., and invest a small sum, which is sure to secure large benefits in case of accident. The 'Travelers' is a thoroughly reliable company, as very many people in this city are able to testify." Just so, neighbor; and you might have given a personal illustration of the value of accident insurance, had not your modesty prevented.

Concerning the Wilkinsons, who are to appear at Franklin Hall on the evening of the 4th, the Worcester (Mass.) Gazette spoke as follows after a recent entertainment given in that city: "Jolly old Charlie Wilkinson was more jolly than ever before as he stood at the gate at the foot of the Mechanics Hall stairs, last evening, and answered nods and took tickets from the hundreds who were gathering to see his company play 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.' The big hall was full, and it is not to be wondered at that the company have met with great success in suburban towns, for though small in numbers, it is above the average in dramatic ability. Lillie Wilkinson plays the difficult part of 'Topsy' finely, and Charlie is as funny as in 'the days of long ago.' Their 'Uncle Tom' was good, 'St. Clair' very good, 'Ophelia' fair, and 'Eva' one of the best, Portia Albee being more worthy the title 'child artist' than scores of the little girls who attempt to act. That the old story was effectively told was evidenced by the alternate tears and laughter of the audience, the most critical of whom found little to wish bettered. The Wilkinsons should come again."

On Friday night a new, unpainted dory, belonging to George T. Vaughan and lying on the beach in the rear of his store, was stolen, the thieves launching her, and no doubt towing her off, as she was without rowlocks or tholepins.

Morse & Ilsley will sell at auction at eleven o'clock this forenoon, at their office, bank stock, parlor organ, etc. See advertisement.

The graduating class of the Portsmouth High School, and others, to the number of about thirty, went to Dover Friday night, by invitation, to attend the reception of the graduating class of Dover High School. They report hospitable entertainment and a good time. The reception was from eight to nine o'clock, dancing following and continuing until one o'clock, Blaisdell's orchestra of Concord furnishing the music.

We learn from Rev. Charles A. Holbrook that the Children's Home has received a donation of fifty dollars from some charitable person in Egypt, and also the sum of nine dollars from the Bradford Female Academy at Bradford, Mass.

The Manchester and Fall River base ball clubs had a game at Fall River on Thursday, and played fourteen innings, the Fall Rivers scoring one run and Manchesters none. On Friday the Manchesters were beaten by the Live Oaks of Lynn, 3 to 2.

Mrs. Payson of Tilton, who was assaulted with an axe two weeks ago, is improving, with prospects of her recovering.

Two yokes of cattle, one belonging to George W. Otis and the other to Orin K. Otis, were stolen from their pasture at Farmington on Wednesday night, June 20th. They were traced to Lyman, Maine, where they were found on Saturday night.

The Turf Association of Nashua have postponed the races which were advertised to commence July 3d and continue four days, still later in the season, on account of the small number of entries in the different classes. The meeting of the Association will probably be held the last of August, and everything will be done to make it the best that has ever been held in the State.

A last spring's calf belonging to Joseph C. Langford, in some way got on the railroad at East Candia, just before train time. When the locomotive reached the little fellow he was caught up on the cow-catcher, and thrown into the air from six to ten feet, coming down "right side up," about twenty feet from the track. He gathered himself up, took a good look at the engine, then went quietly on about getting his supper.

Among the most distinguished of the necrology list of Dartmouth College for the past year may be mentioned Ether Shepley, class of 1811, ex-Senator of the United States and Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Maine; Hon. Daniel M. Christie, LL. D., 1815; Cyrus P. Smith, 1874, the Brooklyn millionaire; Rev. Wm. H. Lord, D. D., Montpelier, Vt., son of the late President Lord.

The annual report of the State Insurance Commissioner shows that there are in the State fifteen towns mutual companies and six State mutual, while sixty-six outside companies do business in the State. The risks written in 1876 were $39,149,711, and the gross premiums $544,548. The losses reported were $405,037, and $381,351 were paid. None of the State mutual companies have received enough during the year to pay expenses. There are twenty-three life and accident insurance companies doing business in the State, which is nine less than the previous year. The amount insured was $1,892,135, and losses paid $177,093.

News and Notes.

The Harvard-Yale boat race at Springfield, Saturday, was won by Harvard by a length.

The Baltimore Sun says of Fred Douglass' visit to his old owner's house the other day: "He evidently felt like one returning home and receiving a master's blessing after many wanderings," a sensation which few people can appreciate. It adds, "Both the master, now ripe for the tomb, and the former slave, now covered with honors, wept when they parted." This reads like the story of the probable son.

In the law organizing the Electoral Commission there was a singular oversight. There was no provision made for a depository of the records of the Commission, and they consequently remain in the custody of the Secretary, who is somewhat annoyed by their possession.

That is a very curious case of Mrs. Sarah M. Victor in Ohio. She was convicted some years ago of murder in the first degree for poisoning her husband, and sentenced to be hung, but the Governor commuted the sentence to imprisonment for life in the penitentiary. Mrs. Victor is tired of that kind of life, and a year and a half ago petitioned to the Courts in Columbus to have the original sentence carried out, on the ground that she never consented to the commutation. She prefers to be hung. The Judge, after holding the case under advisement all this time, renders a decision holding that in law Mrs. Victor is an escaped prisoner after conviction, and he has issued an order for her delivery to the authorities of the county in which she was tried, to await action by its Courts. It is thought that the Supreme Court will not sustain this decision, but will say that Mrs. Victor has no right to be hung. The case is said to be without a precedent.

—The big guns in the Brooklyn navy yard have been named "Moloch," "Lucifer," and "Satan," notwithstanding the protest of the chaplain.

SUMMER LAP-ROBES

— AT —

TILTON'S,

No. 18 Congress Street.

Daily Chronicle.

Much interest is being felt in the Eastern section of Maine in relation to certain mining interests, particularly the Eggemoggin Silver Mine, which is located on the very shore of the Eggemoggin Reach in Sedgwick, and comprises about 300 acres of land well wooded and favorably situated for transportation facilities. The ore was found at the very surface and has paid from the very first opening of the shaft, which has developed more and more richness as progress has been made. Since March last twenty-five men have been constantly employed, and over 400 tons of rich ore are now piled up on the grounds awaiting the erection of the Smelting Works, materials for which are already on the premises. This ore is worth $150 per ton. These Smelting Works are to be a very important feature of the enterprise. There are no other Smelting Works in Maine, and it is understood that the two copper mines now being actively and successfully worked at Blue Hill, ten miles distant, will have all their ore smelted there. It is worthy of note that ore from this mine has been assayed by no less than five distinguished Assayers, in and out of New England, who report a small percentage of gold, from 30 to 40 per cent. of lead, and over 50 per cent. of silver—the average value of silver found in each ton of ore, as analyzed by these five Assayers, is $155, which is certainly a most satisfactory yield.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public nearly forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these danger one diseases of their terrors, is daily disarming, and gives a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic."

HE WILL COME,

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, Jr., D. D.

This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 18mo., 216 pp., $1.25 in Cloth; $2.50 in Morocco. PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative we could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before we was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, greatly stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all Diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. These are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected by Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty-six, so I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in writing them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a sufferer from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried it do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines, with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and trying for different springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One doctor said I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anyone. I have given applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., JAN. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1869, my first patent. Since then, you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation o health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them, or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of m at at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or store over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury it or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any foul, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of the disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS, CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in the extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

LESS THAN THE MANUFACTURERS' PRICES.

THE BUCKEYE,

continues to be the Standard Mower of this country, even after twenty-one years of close competition. It is now so thoroughly perfected, and has so much wrought iron used in its construction as to place it among the very lightest. It is also the strongest and easiest of draft. (One man being able to draw the one-horse machine on level land when cutting a full swath of one foot and a quarter wide here.)

is a nice machine for those desiring a cheaper one.

SECOND-HAND MOWERS of different makes for $15.00 each.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SHART, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name. Such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may (or) disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

SAGAMORE CREEK.

Many years ago, Estwick Evans, Esq., a native of Portsmouth, whose early home had been in the picturesque region of Sagamore, after making himself noted in the law, in politics, in a "pedestrious" tour, (as he termed it in his book of which it was the subject) over some thousands of miles at mid-winter, and for a somewhat famous journey to Greece, when the people of that classic land of old were suffering from the barbarities of the Turks, (such as the sacking of Scio,) finally took up a residence at the National Capital. When he had been absent a score of years, and time had kindly healed the wounds from real or fancied injuries of the past, he sent the following lines to one who had known him well, the Hon. Abner Greenleaf, then present among us, who, after keeping them for a while, gave them to our late much esteemed citizen, Charles W. Brewster, Esq., for publication in his paper, the Journal, in which they soon were seen.

TO SAGAMORE CREEK, PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

BY ESTWICK EVANS.

Ye tides that flow from ocean's roar,
To wend your silent way
Along these flow'ring hills and dales
. That blest my early day;

If memory sleeps, she sleeps to weep
For all ye were to me,
Ere persecution blew her blasts
To tear my feet from thee.

But, oh! some hands that did the deed,
To time have ceased to be,
Whilst I remain to drink the cup
That they prepared for me—

When young ambition heard the voice
Of its own country's praise,
And leaped to grapple for the Right,
And win immortal bays.

But, God be thank'd! I loved them then,
Yes, and I love them still,
And, God be thanked a thousand times!
I never wished them ill.

And ye, my friends, that yet remain,
Whose lives are on the lees,
My heart, my hand, are all your own,—
I pray remember me!

Though sixty winters crown my top
With ever blanching snows,
The granite rock that was my stock
No faltering yet doth know.

Years more than twenty now have passed
Since last I left your shores,
But twenty years are nothing scarce
To what is ever more.

Nothing is lost, and all is gain,
To those who love the Truth—
Our age advancing brings us near To Everlasting Youth.

Washington City, Nov. 20, 1850.

In a little time the following also appeared in the Journal, from the graceful pen of a young lady* of Portsmouth, in behalf of such as survived of the early friends of the absent one, (her father being among them,) and such a kindly response must have been, indeed, as "balm to a wounded spirit."

TO ESTWICK EVANS, ESQ.

Cold mantles the ice o'er Sagamore's wave,
But the tide rolls calm below;
Unchanging the green of her spiral dire,
Though their tops are covered with snow.

The song of birds on Sagamore's trees
Disturbs the silence not;
The winter's blast has driven them hence,
But the birds are not forgot!

Friendship is like the Sagamore's tide,
No chill its depth can know,
And green as her firs his memory
Who left us long ago.

Though bitter the blast that drove his feet
From his loved and native spot,
His heart may linger in Sagamore's woods—
He will not be forgot!

For friends whose brows are blanching like his,
Remember their friend of old,
And still is the tale by Sagamore heard
Of her adventurer bold.

Soon will the spring, with promise and joy,
Hover these woods among;
The snows of winter shall vanish away,
And the birds bring back their song.

Thus, soon, in the warmth of a brighter spring,
Will strong be lost in truth,
And parted friendship meet again
And age be changed to youth!

Portsmouth, N. H., Feb. 3, 1851.

In the twenty-six years that have elapsed since the above lines appeared in print, Mr. Evans and the friends to whom he so touchingly referred, have all passed away.

A Russian Dare Devil.

Among the officers on the Grand Duke's staff is a tall, handsome man with a lithe, active figure, a clear, blue eye, a large, prominent, well-shaped nose, and a face young enough for a second lieutenant. It is Skobeleff, the youngest General in the Russian army, the conqueror of Khokand. He has the reputation, even among the Russians, of being a madman who would fling away his own life and those of his troops without the slightest regard for consequences. During the war which resulted in the conquest of Khokand, a Russian detachment of 800 men, with 400 Cossacks, was compelled to retreat before a superior force of the enemy. Gen. Trotsky decided upon a night attack, and confinded his plan to Col. Skobeleff, then his chief of staff. The latter entered into the idea with great enthusiasm, and proposed to lead the attacking column himself, and to take only 150 Cossacks. Skobeleff, having reconnoitered the ground, perceived that the Khokandians had encamped within a mile and a half of the Russians in an open plain which gave every facility for the manœuvering of cavalry. At midnight he took his 150 Cossacks, divided them into three parties, and cautiously surrounded the enemy's camp. The party, led by Skobeleff himself, managed to pass the enemy's outposts, who were sound asleep. Then he gave the signal for the attack by firing his pistol, and, followed by his 150 Cossacks, he rode headlong into the enemy's camp of 6000 or 7000 men, shouting and yelling like fiends, and cutting down everything in their passage. For a quarter of an hour the plain resounded with shrieks and yells, shots, the trampling of horses, shouts and groans, and all the uproar of battle. Then all was silence. Skobeleff assembled his Cossacks, and when morning came he found that the whole army of the enemy, 6000 or 7000 men, had disappeared, leaving on the field about forty dead, 2000 or 3000 muskets and sabres, all their camp material and baggage. But what was his astonishment on calling the roll to discover that he had not lost a man either killed or wounded.—N. Y. Tribune.

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JULY 3, 1877.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.

Resident and visiting democrats are unusually jubilant over the telegraphic announcements of the decidedly rebellious spirit manifested by the Iowa republicans assembled in State Convention at Des Moines, Wednesday. The gratification afforded is quite sufficient to make them oblivious, for the moment, to the wanton insults continually offered their party by the British nobility in their royal ovations to "Old Grant," which have so distressed them for the past month. The censure implied in the negative course adopted by the convention is regarded as quite conclusive of a smouldering volcano that will rend their opponents in the fulness of time, as though the President had been formally read out of the party in their resolutions, and all fellowship denied him. Anomalously enough an uncertain number of republicans are found enjoying the situation. These are the "implacables" of the Chicago Tribune. They are more quiet and discreet in external appearances, but their sense of triumph is none the less positive. The taunts, the gibes and jeers with which they have been gratuitously assailed during the past three months, both by democrats and those of their own household, have been treasured up, and they will now retaliate upon the latter, who mourn their recreant Iowa brethren.

The lines are apparently being so rigidly drawn as to exclude all chances of neutrals in the triangular contest to be inaugurated on Capital Hill, Oct. 15th next. The prophet's role is an exceedingly hazardous one, and I forbear, contenting myself with the remark that the "Hayesy" appearance of a few months ago has been succeeded by a most ominous condition of the political heavens, provocative of direst apprehensions on the part of the timid; and many a veteran mariner would be only too happy to get out his anchor to wind'ard, did he know just where to locate that point in the angry horizon.

Responses have been received from almost every important point, to the President's late order prohibiting officials from actively participating in political contests. It has had but little appreciable effect upon Departmental officials here. The majority of this class only ask to be "let alone," caring little, seemingly, which king they serve under so that their salary is promptly paid. To expect any considerable number of them to run a muck against an order that would render them liable to immediate dismissal and that relieves them of assessments only paid by many heretofore because a refusal was deemed hazardous, is to look for a rigidity of political conviction that would be altogether phenomenal. But away from the Capitol, where Federal officials come more immediently in contact with the voters as leaders of the party, or are under the surveillance of the leaders who make and unmake men politically, it appears to have excited a good deal of opposition. Protests are frequently heard against it as an assumption of power on the part of the Chief Executive never before ventured upon and nowhere warranted. By others it is claimed as a virtual prohibition against the duties of American citizenship. Still another and larger class hold that to submit to its mences would be degrading to an honorable man, and that its effect will be to exclude such from office. It presents a splendid opportunity for martyrdom, of which some will likely avail themselves.

It is conceded about the War Department that the suppression of the new Indian outbreak in Idaho looks like a formidable job; and there is no little anxiety manifested while awaiting intelligence from General Howard. I doubt whether a critical investigation as to its origin would prove very satisfactory to our conscientious Government; but the murder of a score of innocent settlers appears to leave the Government no alternative but to crush this incipient rebellion before it shall have spread to the tribes of surrounding territories. The tendency now appears in favor of Gen. Crook's method—pitilessly destroying until peace shall be established, then giving the survivors just such opportunities in the struggle for life as is granted other citizens.

Existence has rarely been more enjoyable here during the Spring and early Summer than during the present season up to date. We have had very few uncomfortably warm days, and none oppressively hot like those a year ago. Refreshing sleep has been possible every night, and our markets are filled to repletion with every desirable production of land and water. KNOX.

The War.

A Russian official despatch from Asia Minor says, after the Russians were driven from the foremost positions near Zewin, on the 25th ult., they retired at night to their previous line to escape the Turkish fire. The Russian troops fought with great heroism and suffered considerable losses because the enemy were numerically superior. Six officers were killed and twenty-four wounded; eighty-five of the privates were placed hors de combat.

A Turkish despatch from Trebizonde says the Russians have been repulsed with terrible loss in attempting to storm some outworks at Kars. Dervish Pasha telegraphs from Batoum that he has driven the Russians in several sharp fights.

Telegrams from Turkish sources assert that a great battle was fought about twenty miles south of Sistova, on the Danube, on Friday and Saturday, which resulted in the total defeat of the Russians. The same accounts say the Turkish gunboats have completely destroyed the Russian bridge between Simnitza and Sistova.

The Weather.

The reports from all around show that rain, wind and thunder storms were common and severe on Sunday.

At Pittsburg, Penn., the Liberty Oil Works were burned by lightning; loss $30,000. At Coatesville, Penn, twenty families were unhoused by a whirlwind, one woman instantly killed and two men fatally wounded.

In central New York the rainfall was the heaviest for years, much loss resulting. Lightning struck in many places, kindling a $10,000 fire at Boonsville.

A whirlwind swept over Missouri, Indiana and Ohio, doing immense damage to crops, fences and buildings. At O'Fallon, Mo., a railroad depot and grain elevator were destroyed and two churches damaged. One man was killed and another fatally hurt by a tree which was blown upon the buggy in which they were crossing a bridge at New Richmond, Ind.; the bridge was blown over.

At Waverly, Ind., a woman and three children were killed by the blowing down of one house, and two children in another. At St. Paul two men and a woman were killed.

There were sharp squalls and heavy thunder showers in Vermont and Massachusetts. On the line of the Ogdensburg Railroad, between St. Johnsbury and Swanton, there was a severe hailstorm of half an hour's duration. At Williamstown, Mass., the high wind blew down several barns and uprooted many trees.

Mr. James P. Burnap, of Dunstable, Mass., was killed by lightning while sitting at a table reading to his wife.

Heavy showers, accompanied by much thunder and vivid lightning, passed over Biddeford Me., on Sunday morning. Rain fell in torrents and the damage is estimated at over $2000 to the streets. Eight inches of water fell in two hours, and persons could go about many streets in a skiff. In Kennebunkport the house of Mr. Townsend was struck by lightning and two ladies were severely injured. The house of J. H. Mattey, of Deering, was struck by lightning and nearly every room in the house damaged, but no person injured; lost about $1500.

In this State the storm was very severe. At Manchester it is said the thunder storm was the heaviest ever known there, though no particular damage was done by the wind and rain, and none at all by lightning. Joseph Smith of Laconia was knocked senseless by lightning Sunday morning, lying unconscious for four hours. During a second thunder-storm in the afternoon lightning struck the Catholic church, burning it to the ground. Loss $6000, fully insured.

News and Notes.

A grand regatta was had at Nagasaki, Japan, May 10, between the crews of men-of-war of different nations. Entries were made of boats from the "Kearsarge," the Japanese "Lily," and the Russian "Haydamack." The Kearsarge's cutter won an easy victory, the Haydamack's being second. The Kearsarge gig "Starlight" also won a second race over the Russian, Japanese, and United States Depot gigs.

Dowling, postmaster at Toledo, Ohio, has been removed and Alexander Reed appointed to the position. Dowling was a soldier in the rebellion and has made an unexceptionable postmaster, but he was removed,—in accordance with civil service reform rules, probably.

Schooner Ann Maria, Capt. Robbins, from Gloucester for Georges, fishing, put into Newburyport for bait on Sunday and was totally wrecked on the north breaker. The crew were rescued by the Life Saving Station men.

Elijah Corliss, foreman in the granite quarry of Churchill & Hitchcock at West Quincy, Mass., was fatally injured by the explosion of an old charge he was attempting to drill out, on Friday.

Myra Phillips, nine years of age, one of the persons injured by the steamboat explosion on Silver Lake last week, died at her home in Harrison Square, Boston, on Friday. Her mother and a Miss Orne are not expected to recover.

The cost to the city of Boston of entertaining President Hayes will not exceed $4200.

Miss Phoebe Cozzens has been chosen First Vice-President of the Association of the Alumni of the St. Louis Law School.

A grumbler asserts that the officials in the New York Navy Yard are examining the laborers who apply for positions to dig mud or lift heavy pieces of timber and iron as to their knowledge of geometry, astronomy, navigation and the geography of the Russian Empire, in accordance with the new code of civil service reform rules.

A young man named Mills, who killed a companion named Smith, near Locust Grove, in Franklin county, Va., a few weeks ago, killed three out of five men who were trying to capture him, and was himself killed by the two survivors, on Saturday.

The blacksmith shop of James M. Andrews, at Biddeford, Me., with much valuable machinery used in quarries, was totally destroyed by fire Friday night. Loss about $5000; partially insured.

A mob of twenty men on horseback appeared before the jail at Hickman, Ky., Saturday night, with a man whom they claimed was a notorious character named Morgan, for whose apprehension a reward had been offered. The unsuspecting jailor led the way into the jail, when four of the party put revolvers to his head and demanded the delivery of the key to the cell of Jarvis and Tom Anderson. They took the prisoners out and both escaped. The officers subsequently captured Jarvis Anderson, who had the whole top of his head shot off. Tom Anderson hid under a house on the bank of the Mississippi, where he was found early Sunday morning and remanded to jail.

The grand total expended for cigars, liquors, refreshments and carriage hire for members of the city government of Boston during the past fiscal year, amounts to $25,119.99.

The noted stallion, Smuggler, defeated the New York horse Great Eastern at Beacon Park, Brighton, Mass., on Friday, Great Eastern winning the first heat in 2:22 1-2. Smuggler then took three heats, in 2:21, 2:19 1-4, 2:23 1-2. The purse was $1000. Great Eastern is the horse which beat Smuggler last Autumn.

Schooner A. H. Eaton, from Bilbao, has arrived at Philadelphia, Spain, bringing one of the crew, S. Barnett, in irons, he having during the voyage fatally stabbed the first mate, James B. Johnson. One of the witnesses describes the occurrence as follows: On June 3d Barnett quarrelled with the first mate, who went into the cabin and shortly after came on deck with a slung-shot in his hand. Some words passed; he threatened to hit Barnett, when Barnett said if the slung-shot was used he would use his knife. The mate then struck him and he attempted to run away, when the second mate, John Sullivan, went at him with a pump handle. A pistol shot was also fired, but did not hit any one. Barnett then drew his sheath-knife and stabbed Johnson in the left breast, killing him instantly. After a short struggle he was placed in irons, and on the arrival of the vessel at the port he was handed over to the police. Six of the crew were also locked up as witnesses.

Oakley S. Barker, a grandson of the late Commodore Vanderbilt, is in jail in New York for stealing $220 worth of jewelry from a woman of indifferent character. He acknowledges his guilt.

The following sentence is imposed in the case of Lieut. W. W. Fleming of the Twelfth Infantry, convicted of appropriating funds entrusted him by prisoners: "To be dismissed from the service of the United States and confined at hard labor for three years, and be further confined until he pays the United States a fine of $1000, provided the whole period of confinement does not exceed five years; also that his crime, his name and place of abode be published in the papers of the State from whence he came. The President approved the sentence, and the State Penitentiary of Iowa has been designated as the place of confinement." Thus, for stealing some small sums of money, Fleming is far more severely punished than Major Reno was for using his power as a commanding officer to debauch a brother officer's wife, and then grossly slandering her for remaining true to her husband. Reno was merely suspended from rank and pay for two years.

An attempt was made by a man early Saturday morning to enter the rooms of Harry Hough, assistant cashier of the Cocheco Bank, Dover. Upon being discovered the man fled. He would have met with a warm reception and failed in obtaining the keys, as all the banks in Dover have keys divided among several persons, no one having possession of all.

"Making Old Bones."

People who neglect their minor ailments rarely live to make old bones. The secret of hale and vigorous old age, lies not only in taking care of one's health in early life, by the observance of sanitary rules, but also by judicious medication when the premonitory symptoms of bodily disorder manifest themselves. Indigestion, bowel and liver complaints are fruitful causes of injury to the constitution. These diseases should be, therefore, checked without delay. The best medicine for the purpose is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This standard preparation disciplines the digestive organs, gives renewed impetus to the billious secretive function, and exerts a beneficial influence upon the organs of urination. It has no rival as a remedy for and preventive of chills and fevers and billous remittents, diseases rife into the debilitated frame, and is an excellent appetizer and nervine.

The Climax.

At last a perfect dentrifrice has been discovered. Never was tooth brush dipped into a preparation so unobjectionable and so effective as Sozodont.

All its ingredients are botanic. It whitens the teeth, keeps them undiscoloured, and free from blemish, and improves the condition of the gums.

Nothing but a broken bank is unmendable by Spalding's Glue.

The Smithsonian Institution records show that the capital city of Minnesota has a winter of 148 days, during which the temperature is 10° Fahr. below the freezing point. That such an arctic temperature is more favorable to the cure of consumption than a climate comparatively warm and uniform throughout the year, is a point that is not proved. Of the consumptives who go to Minnesota, even in the early stages of their complaint, but one in fifteen are cured. The Young Men's Christian Association of St. Paul has found it necessary to take in charge the burial of the friendless invalids that flock thither in the vain hope of the climate cure; and they have abundant duty as undertakers. In short there seems to be no sovereign balm for consumption in Minnesota. And this is not only the case there, but is also true of other supposed beneficial climates. Far better would it be for the patient to remain at home, and take some reliable remedy like Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup, which the inventor, a well-known practising physician of Claremont, N. H., has used with unparalleled success in his practice for over fifteen years.

AN Oriental traveller describes this busy scene, witnessed on historic shores: "Our steamer landed on a beach which was the port of Antioch, where the disciples were first called Christians. There was no town at the water's edge, no people, no wharf. The passengers and the merchandise were putashore in lighters, which ran up into the sand. A troop of camels, with their drivers, lay on the beach, ready to transfer the goods into the interior. Among the articles landed were boxes marked 'DR. J. C. AYER & CO., LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.,' showing that they contained medicines and whence they came. These with other goods were hoisted on the backs of the camels, for transportation to Antioch. Thus the skill of the West sends back its remedies to heal the maladies of populations that inhabit these eastern shores, whence our spiritual manna came."—Windsor (Vt.) Chronicle.

ROCKINGHAM, SS. Law Term, June, 1877. No. 13.

EDWIN T. RICE of New York respectfully represents that ARABELLA RICE, late of Portsmouth, deceased, in 1873, testate, having in her will nominated your petitioner together with two other cousins to be Executors of her will: that both of the other persons nominated declined to accept the trust, and have since deceased.

And your petitioner having nearly completed the distribution of the residuum of said estate, upon the petition of Samuel E. Sewall, administrator of one of the residuary legatees who lived and died in Russia, at the Probate Court, holden at Portsmouth, September, 1876, was removed from his position as Executor of said will.

He further represents that his counsel was in Court when said removal was announced, and then and there in open Court claimed an appeal to this Court which was then and there allowed, and further requested the Register of Probate to prepare the proper papers to render said appeal effectual to this Court, and to hand the papers to the Clerk for entry; but, owing to some misunderstanding between the counsel of your petitioner and the newly-appointed Register of Probate, and not through any neglect, the proper papers were not seasonably filed to effect said appeal.

Wherefore, he prays that this Court will give him leave to appeal, according to the provisions of the statute in such case made and provided.

EDWIN T. RICE, by
W. H. Y. HACKETT, his Att'y.

Upon the foregoing petition, it is ordered that the petitioner notify all persons interested in the subject matter thereof, to appear at an adjourned law term of our Supreme Court to be holden in Concord in our County of Merrimack, on the thirteenth day of August, 1877, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer thereof should not be granted, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order to be published once a week for three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in our County of Rockingham, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days before said thirteenth day of August next.

A true copy. Attest, C. G. CONNER, Clerk.

A BEAUTIFUL SERVICE.

The Court street Christian church was well filled on Sunday morning, despite the drenching rain and the flooded streets. The attraction was a floral service of a novel character. The interior of the church was profusely decorated with the luxurious and floral harvest that only the month of June can furnish, arranged in crosses, crowns, harps, chaplets and other shapes, giving a delightful odor for the sense of smell and a pleasing effect to the eye. To heighten the attractiveness of the scene, and typify a Paradise, some ten or twelve cages of singing birds were hung in different parts of the room, and by their incessant twittering, chirping and singing, made sweet music throughout the service. Add to such a scene a room full of radiant and happy children who bore their parts successfully and well, and it is not a matter of surprise that the exercises were repeated to a large house at six o'clock in the evening. Crowds went away at this hour, unable even to get a peep in at the door. There have been gotten up here in our midst in times gone by, what were called floral services, but we have witnessed none of so beautiful a nature as that above described. Children, birds and flowers well combined and managed, make a far more pleasant attraction on a hot Summer Sunday than the ablest thesis on the Trinity or the "five points." Mr. Goss, the pastor, and his assistants, are entitled to much credit for this public treat.

THE THUNDER STORM.

The lightning by which the heavy shower that passed over this city Sunday evening was accompanied did no damage here, so far as we have heard, but a number of bolts struck in neighboring towns.

In Newington, twenty-nine poles of the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph line between this city and Dover were thrown down, and a number of large trees shattered. Three fine trees near the eastern end of Mr. N. D. Miller's residence were struck and broken, and Mr. Furber, who was sitting on the piazza, was knocked senseless. No damage was done to the house. One of the trees struck was a cherry tree, and another an ash a foot or more in diameter. Mr. Furber (Mr. Miller's son-in-law) was enjoying the magnificence of the storm from what he considered a safe position, when the first thing he knew he knew nothing. The deafening crash which startled the inmates of the house he did not hear, and all he remembers is that while he was gazing at the storm a bluish light seemed to fill the inside of his head, and his next experience was finding himself trying to get up, which he soon did, and staggered into the house to find it full of a sulphurous smoke or gas. From the bases of the splintered trees, reaching a number of feet in the direction of the house, deep furrows were ploughed in the ground. On Monday Mr. Furber was in town, and reported himself as entirely deaf in one ear, and his hat as feeling to that side of his head like a section of extra heavy stove pipe. From the time the lightning struck until Mr. Furber entered the house several minutes elapsed, and he must have been insensible during that time.

In Kittery the lightning struck twice in some willows near the Foreside, and trees at the Point also suffered, but no buildings were struck that we have heard of.

At York, Me., the Summer cottage recently erected by Mr. French at "the Neck" was struck, the lightning knocking a hole in the roof and the floor immediately below it, and setting fire to the sleeve of Mrs. French's dress, the lady being in the parlor at the time. No serious effects resulted, the fire being at once extinguished by Mr. French.

During the morning shower, also, several rude jokes were played by the lightning in York. At "Concordville," a lady was rendered senseless and a man totally deaf; and a flash struck the stable at Norton & Co's brick yard, though it did but little damage. The telegraph wires and office at York suffered considerably from the elective fluid, both morning and evening.

POLICE COURT.

Monday, July 2d.

Henry Moulton, charged with an assault, was adjudged guilty and fined $5, costs taxed at $6.90. In another complaint against Moulton, for being a common drunkard, the hearing was postponed to ten o'clock Tuesday forenoon.

JOTTINGS.

Messrs. Morse & Ilsley on Monday sold at auction fifteen shares National Mechanics and Traders' Bank, at $109.75 per share; and five shares New Hampshire National Bank, at $109.50 per share. Hill & Carr's interest (one-half) in Sagamore Cemetery, and eight acres of pasture land adjoining, brought $960.

A correspondent at the West End entreats us to use our influence "to suppress, if possible, the ringing of the Cabot street bell on Wednesday next, the 4th. You can have no idea of the annoyance it is, to us at the West End. The harmony of our beautiful city bells is all lost to us by the clatter it makes, and we see no reason why it should not be suppressed altogether, except as an alarm bell." We are afraid our influence does not go very far, and we have never heard the bell referred to; and if it is as disagreeable as we have been told it is, we hope we never shall hear it, either. It was put there solely for a fire-alarm.

At the forty-sixth semi-annual examination of the State Normal School in Salem, Mass., last week, Miss Helen L. Chesley of this city was a graduate of the advanced class, and read an essay on "Cheerfulness."

The temperance address by the President of the Reform Club, Mr. James Janvrin, Sunday evening, was good in every respect. It was remarked by many of those who heard it that it was the best lecture that has been delivered here by any of our local talkers. Like the speaker of the previous Sabbath evening, Col. Kent, Mr. Janvrin speaks from a personal knowledge of his subject, and with a heart overflowing with sympathy for those who are yet in the "bonds of iniquity." It is stated that Mr. Janvrin has consented to serve a while longer as presiding officer of the Club, it being the unanimous wish that he remain its President.

Morse & Ilsley will sell to-day, at noon, on the premises, the two-story dwelling No. 4 Warren street; also, the blacksmith shop on same street. See advertisement.

There will be a meeting of the Portsmouth Temperance Mutual Relief Association this evening. The petition for a charter has been granted, and the prospects of the Association are good. A full attendance is desired, to transact business of importance.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

The Fantastics will start promptly at 8:30 A. M. marching over the following route:

Richards Avenue, Middle, Congress, Market, Deer, Vaughan, Congress, Islington, Union, Middle, Court, Pleasant, Water, State, Cabot and Islington Streets to Market square, where the procession will be reviewed and the prizes awarded.

The afternoon sports on Market square will be as follows:

1. Grand "Oration;" prize, $000.00.

2. Potato feat; prize, $5,—to be given the person who shall quickest pick up 25 potatoes, two feet apart—best two in three trials.

3. Running match; prize, $3; heats, best two in three; distance, from reservoir to Chestnut street.

4. Sack race; prize, $5; heats, best two in three; distance, 150 feet.

5 Jumping match; prize, $2; best two in three trials, each person to choose his own style of jumping.

6. Three-legged race; prize, $5; heats, best two in three; distance, 150 feet.

7. Climbing greased pole; prize, $5,—a $5 greenback will be placed on top of the pole, to belong to the one who can get it. Contestants to draw for chances, and take turns in regular order. The committee will reject any contestants from this feat who may have any sand or grit on their clothes, tacks or any contrivance to prevent their slipping, or who attempt any unfair means.

Prizes awarded at close of each feat. All entries must be made to-day, to W. I. Trafton.

In the evening, Charlie Wilkinson's Dramatic Company will give "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in Franklin Hall.

Political.

By the last statement of the Auditor of Virginia the State debt is about $32,000,000, and is increasing at the rate of $700,000 a year. No republican or carpet-bagger of the republican name has ever had anything to do with the financial policy of that State. That debt is a monument of democratic financial management.

In future elections, if Southern democrats are wise, they will consider the strength of the negro vote in nominating candidates. It is true the democrats can elect their candidates without the negro vote. They have redeemed the Southern States in spite of the opposition of the negro and the carpet-bagger, but there can be no perfect lasting concord between the blacks and whites so long as the blacks are excluded from office. If the negro vote is worth soliciting, it is worth conciliating.—Memphis Appeal (Dem.)

There are plenty of men, the most active workers in the republican party, who are Federal office-holders; and when the next Congressional election comes round, the President can no more stop their working on for the party than he can persuade them to resign their offices under Government. The millennium in politics has not dawned yet. A few pretty orders no more brings it about than a single swallow makes a Summer. Does anybody believe the President will forbid Collector Simmons repaying Gov. Rice at the risk of forfeiting his place in the customs?—Boston Post (Dem.)

—Freemasonry was first introduced into Scotland by the architects who built the Abbey of Kilwinning. This is manifest not only from authentic documents, by means of which Kilwinning Lodge has been traced back as far as the fifteenth century; but, also by other weighty collateral evidence. It is probable that about this time Masonry was introduced into England. But whether the English received it from the Scotch Masons at Kilwinning, or from their brethren who had arrived from the continent, there are no means of determining.

—The New York Graphic is excited over the banishment of the lady's boot and the reappearance of the slipper. And yet there is no convenience for a lady who is the mother of a large family like a pliant and well hung slipper.

—An idle roomer—The discharged hotel clerk.

—Mr. Blackbord has been arrested in North Carolina for debt. Why don't his creditors take some chalk and draw on him.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their chest for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.

HE WILL COME;

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, Jr., D. D.

This work is not political. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 16mo., 216 pp.; $1.25 in Cloth; $2.50 in Morocco. PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative we could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before we was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule oy Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trving climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Sleeplessnessnessnessnessnessnessnessnessnessnessness, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. have suffered all the pain I could endure and have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and know the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; for I found you another friend. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indulged him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten years, only occasionally feeling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all gave me up as past cure. I spent the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and it was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if you take the Pills you will cure anybody. I have live applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel. Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO. Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed into the sewers or by occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall carry them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vendor of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any hide meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 16. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds within city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter-house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his hand into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will Cure a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, writes as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

NURSING MOTHERS, GROWING CHILDREN AND AGED PERSONS

Will find Life, Vigor and Health by using

PEPSINATED NUTRIMENT,

With the VEGETABLE PHOSPHATES,

which is superior to all other foods, for it consists of PURE NUTRIMENT. Containing only the pure nutritive portion of various grains, extracted by a chemical process (all inert principles being carefully rejected) combined with the Vegetable Phosphates obtained from the germinal portion of grain, so as to form a most perfect brain, bone, and muscle-producing food, combined with Pepsin, forming a complete remedy for the worst cases of Cholera Infantum, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all affections arising from a disordered stomach.

For Infants, Invalids, Growing Children and Nursing Mothers. Nursing Mothers should take it as a regular diet, in order to furnish nutriment and vitalizing material to the growing infant.

The only Infants' Food prepared on strictly scientific principles. To be used in Cholera Infantum, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and all intestinal troubles. For Infants, Invalids, Aged Persons, Nursing Mothers and Weakly Children.

This preparation is endorsed by the Medical Faculty, it having been in constant use by them for a number of years with the best of success, it being the only food acting with certainty in those cases that require Pepsin and the Phosphates for complete success.

DYSPEPSIA, HEARTBURN, ACID STOMACH, HEADACHE, BILIOUS STOMACH, DIARRHŒA,

and any derangement of the Organs of Digestion are immediately relieved and speedily cured by

PEPSINATED CHARCOAL.

It is particularly adapted to Chronic Cases, and is prescribed and endorsed by our first physicians as the only preparation ever presented for the troubles for which it is recommended.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board, as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the Park.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

Cossack Law.

The Cossack cavalrymen are all comparatively young men and have young wives. Whenever they set out on a campaign, they buy a white scarf or handkerchief to take with them. At the close of their period of service, they return to their villages and are met by the whole population. Now a wife who has been unfaithful to her lord, kneels down before him in the road, puts her face in the dust, and places her husband's foot upon her neck. This is a confession of guilt, and at the same time a prayer for forgiveness. If the husband then covers his wife's head with the white scarf, it means that he forgives her and agrees to forget her fault. If the white handkerchief is not produced, the woman returns straight to her father's house without again entering her husband's dwelling, and a divorce is pronounced. Mr. MacGahan recounts a tragical story which a soldier told him on the Danube. A returning Cossack was informed by a malicious neighbor before he reached his home that his wife had been unfaithful. His comrades perceived that he had all of a sudden taken to drink and dissipation, although he was not a man given to these vices. When he reached his village his wife, as he feared, came forward, knelt down, and put her face in the dust at his feet. The spectators saw him look at her as she lay in the dust for a long time. Two or three times he put his hand in his breast for the white handkerchief as if he were going to cover the repentant woman's head—but each time the movement was restrained. Finally, as if driven by a sudden impulse, he drew his sword, and with one stroke severed her head from her body. The punishment for the crime was two months imprisonment, while the malicious neighbor who had taken the trouble to inform him beforehand of his wife's misconduct was sentenced to Siberia for three years.

A New Motor.

The use of steam as a motive power for canal navigation has always been objectionable by reason of the damage to the banks by the "wash" caused by propeller screws, or paddle wheels. A Baltimore inventor has obviated this, and has constructed a canal boat—the Alpha—of over seven tons burden, which is moved by means of the forcing of water from her stern. The Alpha has a boiler amidships, working a No. [illegible] minute. The water is drawn from the stream in which the craft is sailing and is forced out some four feet below the water line, through a nozzle five-eighths of an inch across. It is a familiar law of physics that reaction and action are equal, and as the water is forced backwards, the boat is driven forwards, or vice versa, for there are water exits at both stem and stern. The Alpha has but two nozzles opening at the stern, and has been sailed eight miles an hour. The water of the canal is scarcely disturbed, the great desideratum, and this new application of an old principle is claimed to have accomplished the solution of a long discussed problem. The Alpha is to be tried on the Erie canal.

So Near and Yet So Far.

John Offer, a colored gentleman thirty years of age, offered a short time since to share the joys and sorrows of this world with a fair damsel of the same complexion, and, being accepted, last evening was set apart for the purpose of making the twain one flesh. The happy event was to have taken place at the residence of the bride, on Cove street, but just as they were to be united one Robert Edwards obtained an interview with the bride, the result being that the twain suddenly disappeared. Offer at once followed and was soon upon the trail of his enemy, whom he followed to Brimmer place, where in his eagerness to overtake the despoiler of his affections he stumbled and fell, fracturing his right leg, necessitating his removal to the City Hospital, where he will be likely to remain for several weeks.—Boston Post.

—It is only last Sunday that a young lady was heard to say to an admirer "Hush! beware of the torpedo;" on his asking for an explanation she answered "Oh, it is only our new name for mamma, because she blows us up so."

—At certain Paris restaurants the custom is to pay ladies who attract custom a commission on the bill of themselves and companions. Recently a newly-married couple visited a restaurant, and the groom ordered a costly dinner for two in a private supper-room. In due course the bill is called for and settled, and the waiter adroitly slips a five-franc piece into the young bride's hand, and whispers to her: "From the boss. He says to bring him again—bring him often—bring lots of 'em."

—The following remarkable announcement has appeared in several of the Italian journals: "At the earliest favorable opportunity Pius IX. will leave Rome for Civita Vecchia and thence to Marseilles and Lyons in a French corvette which will be sent to convey him. His departure will be the signal of complications between Italy and France." In connection with this rumor it will be interesting to recall a discourse which the Pope delivered to a body of pilgrims from Lyons, and in which he alluded to the probability of his having to seek refuge in that city.

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 4, 1877.

Concord Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 3.

The House met at 4 P. M., yesterday and its session lasted only about half an hour, a hundred members being present. The business consisted of a communication from the City Council of Concord relative to the typographical and hydrographical survey, the disposition of three reports of committees, and the ordering of twelve House bills to a third reading. This forenoon the House met with a larger number present than were yesterday. After an hour's unimportant legislative work the House adjourned to met at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The business consisted of reports from a few committees and six bills were ordered to a third reading. The Speaker at 11 o'clock called Mr. Stevens of Nashua to the chair. An hour's session in the afternoon finished the work of the day and the House then adjourned until Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. House bills 40, 41, 43, 44, 47 and 51 were tabled so there might be a discussion when more members are present. House bills 42, 45, 48, 50, 51 and 52 were passed.

The farmers in the Legislature will hold their final meeting for discussion of Farm Topics, in Representatives' Hall, on Thursday evening, July 5, at half-past seven o'clock. The general subject will be "Plant Food." The Secretary of the Board of Agriculture has engaged Prof. Stockbridge, of the Massachusetts Agricultural College, to give a lecture on that subject. It is generally known that Prof. Stockbridge has recently attained a high reputation for his system of applying the chemical elements which exist in our farm crops. His practice has been successfully adopted by our best farmers, and is creating a new interest in our State. Other gentlemen will speak on the subject, and it is expected that the meeting will be of much importance to our farmers. All are invited to attend, and the Board of Agriculture have full confidence that if farmers from the neighboring towns are present they will be benefitted by the discussion.

Other than the House bills there were other acts, among them an act making the observance of the 30th of May, known as Decoration Day, a legal holiday, and an act to increase the efficiency and reduce the expenses of the militia; six petitions praying that equal rights be granted to all, irrespective of sex, looking to allowing women to vote, were referred to the Committee on Judiciary. Among the bills tabled this afternoon was the following: an act in relation to taxes paid by savings banks in the United States, as follows: "All taxes paid by the savings banks of the State to the United States shall be proportionally charged by said banks to those depositors [illegible]

Among those called to the chair last week to relieve the Speaker was Mr. Frank Hackett of Portsmouth. He filled his position with credit. Yours, A. B.

The War.

Turkish advices say that the Russians on Sunday abandoned the siege of Kars and are now in full retreat toward the river Karstchai on the frontier of Asia Minor. The Turks are greatly elated over their success and represent the Russians as being utterly demoralized.

The town of Tiernova, in Bulgaria, has been taken by the Russians. It is important from its position to a pass in the Balkans. The Roumanians have crossed the Danube from Kalafat, and Widdin will be at once invested.

The Wrecks of the Year.

The statistics of wrecks which have occurred within the range of the Life-saving Service during the past fiscal year have just been made up at the Treasury Department, from which it appears that the total number of vessels driven ashore by stress of weather during the year is 120, and that they had on board 1,253 persons. Of this number of lives there were 1,214 saved and 39 lost; the number lost being about three per cent. of those imperilled. The estimated value of the vessels wrecked is $1,746,464, and of their cargoes $1,348,876, making a total property valuation of $3,095,-331. The total amount of property saved, so far as reported, is $1,554,505, and of that totally lost $1,053,826, leaving $487,000 not yet ascertained whether saved or lost. Upon fifty of the occasions of disaster, the Life-saving Service apparatus was successfully used and 838 persons were rescued through its instrumentality, in addition to which assistance was rendered in nearly every instance in saving property by the crews of the Life-saving Stations.

The thirty-nine persons who were lost, perished under the following circumstances: Twenty-eight went down with the ill-fated ship "Circassian," which went to pieces near Bridgehampton, Long Island, on the night of the 29th of December, 1876, with the party of Shinnecock Indians who were endeavoring to save her. Seven lives were lost at the wreck of the schooner Margaret and Lucy, which went ashore near Tom's River, N. J., on the 2d of March, 1877. Three lives were lost upon the occasion of the stranding of the steamer L'Amerique near Long Branch, N. J., on the 7th of January, 1877. The remaining victim was one of a crew of four persons of the schooner Massachusetts, which went ashore on Peaked Hill Bar, Cape Cod, on the morning of the 2d of January, 1877.

Notwithstanding the high state of efficiency in which the Life-saving Service is shown to be by the foregoing record, great efforts are being constantly made to bring it to still greater perfection. Recently Mr. Kimball, who has charge of the service with Capt. Merriman, the inspector, have been devoting much attention to the subject of extending the range of the shot line, and after a series of experiments at Cold Spring, N. Y., with a new gun and projectile invented by Robert P. Parrott (the inventor of the Parrott gun,) the gratifying results are that with a gun which with its carriage weighs less by twenty pounds than the mortar now used at the stations, and some modification in the line, which is so coiled up or braided as to be very elastic, an additional range of more than one hundred yards has been attained for the shot line; this is considered the most important improvement in the service since its re-organization and the introduction of the patrol system. The Department has ordered 24 of the new guns, which will be supplied to those stations at points on the coast where a long range is required.

Additional signals are being prepared to be incorporated into the National Code for use of vessels and Life Saving stations, which will greatly facilitate communication between the vessel and the shore. The present high state of efficiency in this important service is due in a great measure to the earnest efforts of Mr. Kimball to make it what it is, the first in point of effective service and discipline in the world.

New Hampshire Items.

A Sunapee correspondent writes the Patriot that John B. Smith has just completed a telescope sixty inches long and four in diameter. The object glass is four inches clear. It also has four eye pieces—one terrestrial and three celestial—varying in power from 80 to 400 diameters. An object the size of a silver five-cent piece can be plainly seen at a distance of one mile and a half. A ben has been seen at a distance of 15 miles. A further description would fall far short of its real power.

The manufacturers on the Cocheco river are highly elated over the passage of the act of the Legislature authorizing the canalling of water from Merry Meeting pond to the river, thus making it one of the best manufacturing streams in New England. The power at Rochester will be trebled, and measures are being taken to perfect an organization under the charter so that work may be commenced at once.

On Sunday afternoon a tornado struck the woods in Surrey, passed through the south part of Gilsum, and spent itself in Sullivan. Twenty barns and sheds were blown down in Gilsum. Chimneys, timber and fruit trees were prostrated. Alanson Wilder had two barns blown down, one unroofed, and all the slate torn off his house. The school-house was taken up and turned round. In Sullivan, Charles Mason's barn was blown down and E. P. Kemp's house unroofed.

Mrs. George W. Caverno of Strafford, a lady 75 years old, on a visit to her brother, [illegible] lar stairs on the 26th ult., breaking her collar-bone and bruising her head badly.

A man named Carpenter, while walking a tight-rope at Littleton, Monday, fell, breaking an arm and ankle and receiving internal injuries which may prove fatal. The accident was caused by the rope giving way at one end.

The store of Alfred E. Jaques in Wilton was entered by thieves some time during Saturday night and about $200 worth of jewelry was stolen from one of the show cases. Entrance was effected by cutting through one of the rear doors. There is no clue to the raiders.

Alonzo Ballou, a farmer in the north part of Swanzey, 59 years old, went out on Sunday afternoon before the storm to salt his cattle and has not been seen since. A large party searched for him Monday, and the pond at Swanzey factory was partly drawn off and was searched with torches Monday night.

A "Graphic" Condensation.

A reporter of the New York Sun has had an interview with Charles Francis Adams, and Mr. Adams' utterances, as published at length in that paper, are condensed by the Graphic as follows:

"I am the son and grandson of two Presidents. I am politically the State of Massachusetts. I am the Hub of Boston. I shook hands with President Hayes only from a sense of duty. I know he felt what I have written about him. He looks worn. It is a terrible thing to have the Old Adam let loose on you. I told in my letter he was a fraud. I am the son of a President. That is his picture. I cannot help feeling that I ought to be President, but republics are ungrateful. My grandfather was a President. Mr. Hayes means well. I am sorry for him. My father's name was John Quincy Adams. I am glad that Mr. Dana is doing what he can in the Sun to serve the people. These are perilous times. Even my grandfather, John Adams, never saw such times. That was my grandfather. Civil service reform? New policies? Bosh! That isn't Government. Only the Adams family can rightly govern this unhappy republic. My father was a President. Civil service reform is a mere side issue. My name is the time-honored name of Adams. The Tammany Society invited me to be with them on the Fourth. But that could not be. My dignity and the dignity of the Adams family would only allow me to write Tammany on the danger the country is now in. That was a great honor to Tammany. For I am the son and grandson of two Presidents. I am the only original living son and grandson of two real Presidents. My name is Adams."

—They tell of a Kentucky schoolmaster who had his wife for a pupil, and found it necessary to chastise her one day. Next day a notice appeared on the door, saying: "School closed for one week; schoolmaster is ill."

News and Notes.

Gen. Grant visited the British House of Lords, Monday evening, and stood at the foot of the throne. The Earl of Carnarvon, immediately upon perceiving the General, quitted the Treasury Bench and had a chat with him. Gen. Grant subsequently proceeded to the House of Commons and remained a few minutes in the gallery for distinguished visitors.

While a carriage, containing Mrs. Falkenburg of Quebec, widow of the late Baron Falkenburg, and two friends, was crossing a bridge over the Montmorency river, near Quebec, Saturday, the bridge gave way, precipitating the party to the bed of the stream and killing Mrs. Falkenburg. Her companions escaped.

Three men, named Floy, Bellinger and Pierce, were boating in the Niagara above the falls Sunday evening when the boat got into the rapids, and Bellinger and Pierce jumped out and attempted to swim to the shore but were carried over the falls. Floy remained in the boat and was rescued.

A man giving the name of John Miller has been arrested at Newburyport as an impostor. He has represented himself as blind, and has been appealing to the charitable on that pretence. The sum of $2093 was found on his person. He has been travelling about the country.

The Montreal Gazette reports that Miss Susan Parker of Boston, said to be worth $60,000, was recently married to John Fields, a waiter in the Russell House at Ottawa, Canada, to whom she proposed marriage two years ago. The man is rather fine-looking, but is said to be lacking even an ordinary education.

The steamer Red Wing, while en route to St. Louis, from Keokuk, Ia., Saturday afternoon, burst her steam pipe at a small town named Dallas, Ill., killing four and wounding two men. Edward Henry, the steward, is missing.

The authorities of Marblehead, Mass., have held an inquest to try and discover the author of the disastrous fire which recently swept over the town. John Hartnett testified that he extinguished an incendiary fire in the barn of the Marblehead House (where the last fire started) a week before the big fire. The impression has been general in the community that the fire was purposely set, for revenge on some person. A verdict was expected Monday evening.

Frank Dodge, aged twenty-three years, a telegraph operator at the depot in Newburyport in the employ of the Eastern Railroad, committed suicide Tuesday morning by throwing himself under the rear car of a freight train. His body was terribly mangled and he lived but an hour. He had been threatened with softening of the brain, brought on by religious excitement.

Schooner Ann Elizabeth, Capt. Currier, bound from Boston for York with corn, flour, etc., sprang a leak and capsized on Monday. She was an old vessel of about fifty tons, and was owned in York. No lives lost.

A Complicated Case.

ARLINGTON, GA., Jan. 9, 1876.

DR. PIERCE:

Dear Sir—I was sick for six years, and for two years could scarcely walk about the house. My breath was short and I suffered from pain in my breast and stomach all the time; also from palpitation and an internal fever, or burning sensation, and experienced frequent smothering or choking sensations. I also suffered from pain low down across my bowels and in my back, and was much reduced in flesh. I now feel like a different person, my health is so good. I have used seven bottles of your Golden Medical Discovery and Favorite Prescription, and feel that I am well.

Very respectfully,
DELILAH B. MCMILLAN.

A Superb Blood Depurent.

Upon the action of the kidneys, bladder and bowels depends the depuration of the blood. It is by promoting the activity of these organs that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters ensures purity to the circulation. In its passage through the kidneys impurities which beget rheumatism, gout, and gravel are strained from the blood, but when those small but all important organs grow inactive, these impurities of course remain, and inevitably produce the diseases mentioned. Hostetter's Bitters rouse the kidneys to renewed activity, by which means the blood is depurated. It likewise purifies the blood when contaminated with bile by promoting a healthy but effectual action of the bowels, and has the further effect of reanimating the action of the liver, thus counteracting a tendency to biliousness. Dyspepsia, malarial fevers and urinary complaints are also conquered by it.

Plain Talk.

There is a preservative principle in Sozodont that effectually preserves the teeth from decay. Chemists pronounce it wholesome. Rich and poor endorse it. No lady ever tried it without approving its cleansing and purifying properties. It outsells all other dentifrices. Ask for it, and take no substitute.

The Smithsonian Institution records show that the capital city of Minnesota has a winter of 148 days, during which the temperature is 16° Fahr. below the freezing point. That such an arctic temperature is more favorable to the cure of consumption than a climate comparatively warm and uniform throughout the year, is a point that is not proved. Of the consumptives who go to Minnesota, even in the early stages of their complaint, but one in fifteen are cured. The Young Men's Christian Association of St. Paul has found it necessary to take in charge the burial of the friendless invalids that flock there in the vain hope of the climate cure; and they have abundant duty as undertakers. In short there seems to be no sovereign balm for consumption in Minnesota. And this is not only the case there, but is also true of other supposed beneficial climates. Far better would it be for the patient to remain at home, and take some reliable remedy like Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup, which the inventor, a well-known practising physician of Claremont, N. H., has used with unparalleled success in his practice for over fifteen years.

AN Oriental traveller describes this busy scene, witnessed on historic shores: "Our steamer landed on a beach which was the port of Antioch, where the disciples were first called Christians. There was no town at the water's edge, no people, no wharf. The passengers and the merchandise were put ashore in lighters, which ran up into the sand. A troop of camels, with their drivers, lay on the beach, ready to transfer the goods into the interior. Among the articles landed were boxes marked 'DR. J. C. AYER & CO., LOWELL, MASS., U. S. A.,' showing that they contained medicines and whence they came. These with other goods were hoisted on the backs of the camels, for transportation to Antioch. Thus the skill of the West sends back its remedies to heal the maladies of populations that inhabit these eastern shores, whence our spiritual manna came."—Windsor (Vt.) Chronicle.

ROCKINGHAM, SS. Law Term, June, 1877. No. 12.

EDWIN T. RICE of New York respectfully represents that ARABELLA RICE, late of Portsmouth, deceased, in 1872, testate, having in her will nominated your petitioner together with two other cousins to be Executors of her will; that both of the other persons nominated declined to accept the trust, and have since deceased.

And your petitioner having nearly completed the distribution of the residuum of said estate, upon the petition of Samuel S. Sewall, administrator of one of the residuary legatees who lived and died in Russia, at the Probate Court, holden at Portsmouth, September, 1876, was removed from his position as Executor of said will.

He further represents that his counsel was in Court when said removal was announced, and then and there in open Court claimed an appeal to this Court which was then and there allowed, and further requested the Register of Probate to prepare the proper papers to render said appeal effectual to this Court, and to hand the papers to the Clerk for entry; but, owing to some misunderstanding between the counsel of your petitioner and the newly-appointed Register of Probate, and not through any neglect, the proper papers were not seasonably filed to effect said appeal.

Wherefore, he prays that this Court will give him leave to appeal, according to the provisions of the statute in such case made and provided.

EDWIN T. RICE, by
W. H. Y. HACKETT, his Att'y.

Upon the foregoing petition, it is ordered that the petitioner notify all persons interested in the subject matter thereof, to appear at an adjourned law term of our Supreme Court to be holden at Concord in our County of Merrimack, on the thirteenth day of August, 1877, then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the prayer thereof should not be granted, by causing a true and attested copy of said petition and this order to be published once a week for three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in our County of Rockingham, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days before said thirteenth day of August next.

Attest, C. G. CONNER, Clerk.

The general delivery at the Post-office will be open to-day from 8 to 11 A. M., and 5 to 6 P. M. Box office open all day.

The city appropriation of $100 for the celebration of the "glorious Fourth" will be expended in the ringing of bells at sunrise, noon and sunset, and concerts by the Portsmouth Cornet Band on Market square from seven to eight in the morning, and from eight to half past nine in the evening.

The re-union committee of July Fourth, 1873, have their annual meeting this forenoon at eleven o'clock, at the Common Council room.

This evening, at Franklin Hall, Charlie Wilkinson's Dramatic Company will present "Uncle Tom's Cabin," with Lillie Wilkinson as "Topsy." The Company has drawn large audiences and won lavish praises from the press in other places, and Charlie and Lillie Wilkinson are well known here. Hard times prices—25 cents for adults, 15 cents for children under ten years of age, 35 cents for reserved seats.

CITY AFFAIRS.

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held Monday evening, when the following business was transacted:

The Mayor, to whom was referred the claim of Mr. F. Grant, reported, recommending that he be paid $150, the driver's bill $60, and the doctor's bill $25, making a total of $235. The report was accepted and the consideration of the subject will be made the special order for the next regular meeting.

The petition of Nathan W. Tarlton for leave to remove a building from the corner of Union street to Dover street, and a complaint of the grade of Warren street, were referred to the committee on streets with power.

The Mayor was authorized to expend the appropriation for the celebration of Independence Day.

The pay-rolls of the fire department were ordered to be paid.

The Portsmouth & Dover Railroad bill for interest on $44,000 capital stock of said road from Jan. 1 to Feb. 23, was ordered to be paid.

The committee on accounts presented bills of Street Department, amounting to $649.78, which were ordered to be paid.

The same committee reported bills of police and watch, amounting to $623.69; school houses, $98.42.

Voted, That the report of the committee on streets relative to paving on North and Vaughan streets, presented May 24, be adopted.

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, July 3d.

Henry Moulton (convicted on Monday of an assault) was brought up on a continued case, charged with being a common drunkard. The prisoner's counsel, Mr. Hodgdon, had claimed a discharge for his client on the ground that the warrant was defective, it having been drawn by the City Marshal, and an act of the Legislature passed in 1875 providing that "any writ, declaration, plea, complaint and warrant, or other process made by a sheriff, police officer, constable or city marshal for another person shall be void." The Court ruled that in this case the warrant was not "made for another person," the City Marshal being himself the complainant. Moulton was adjudged guilty, and sentenced to two months in Brentwood, and to pay $9.-25 costs. An appeal was taken, and Moulton was allowed twenty-four hours to procure bonds, but after an unsuccessful search for an hour to find some individual confiding enough to stand as his surety, he gave it up and elected to go to Brentwood right off.

Hannah Griffin was charged with being a common drunkard. Two witnesses swore she had been drunk as often as every other day since the 15th of May, and she was sentenced to thirty days at Brentwood,—costs $6.90. Appealed, and held in $50 bonds to prosecute the appeal.

FOURTH OF JULY MEMORIES.

Curiously interesting it is to listen to Fourth of July memories of the past, some of the very long gone past, from those who can recall them. One has to tell of "the good old times" when the Federalists had their celebration and dinner at the Assembly Room, (that now forms portions of the dwellings on Raitt's Court,) and the Republicans (or Democrats) had theirs at Jefferson Hall, and when each had very pronounced opinions of each other, quite equal to the politicians of the present day. Another remembers when the "Feds" and the "Pubs" ceased to call each other hard names during the peaceful administration of James Monroe, and the Liberty Pole was erected that still adorns Liberty Bridge, on which occasion Estwick Evans, Esq., delivered an oration. A rather cheap affair of the kind had been raised the year before on Middle street, about opposite the entrance to Lafayette road, at which a distinguished individual of the time named Cutts officiated as orator, and who in later years made a memorable speech on the Fourth at Jefferson Hall, by invitation of the young gentlemen of Portsmouth; a copy of which, it is deeply to be regretted, if those who were fortunate enough to hear it are to be believed, was not procured of the orator and printed. When the politicians waked up again, according to other relators, while John Quincy Adams was President, they waked up the Fourth of July also, which had been rather sleepy for several years previous, and having each a celebration, made lively times on the national holiday during the campaign; not forgetting to compliment each other in the toasts and speeches at their several dinner tables. One of the dearest and best of venerable ladies, retaining all her faculties still unimpaired, has to tell of the way she spent the Fourth of July in one of the earliest years of the present century. A party of her young friends of both sexes, of whom she has long been the last survivor, went on a sail up to Piscataqua Bridge, then a most popular resort, and where, besides enjoying themselves in other ways, gay parties were wont to dance upon a floor beneath the bridge, to which a stairway led from above. While they were on their way down the river, they were overtaken by the heaviest of rain-storms, and despairing of arriving home before morning, they succeeded in reaching a small dwelling upon the shore—the young gentlemen conveying their fair companions from the boat in their arms. The lady of the mansion being of a somewhat cross-grained temperament, was not disposed to admit them, but her better-natured half was more hospitable and made up a good fire upon the kitchen hearth that enabled them to dry their drenched garments. But one spare bed existed in the little dwelling, and that was occupied by the young ladies in lying crosswise, while their gallant admirers made themselves as comfortable as possible by the kitchen hearth. The party, after landing next morning in a retired spot at the South-end, made their way home, dilapidated as they were in costume, by all the obscure retreats they could find, and never forgetting their Fourth of July trip to Piscataqua Bridge. JOITINGS.

See advertisement "Girls Wanted" in another column.

House No. 4 Warren street was sold at auction, Tuesday, by Morse & Ilsley, for $820, Mr. C. H. Mendum being the purchaser.

Mr. John H. Cheever, for many years chief clerk at the Purchasing Paymaster's office in this city, has accepted a clerkship at the Eldredge Brewing Company's office.

Mr. Charles E. Walker is to remove the house from the lot of land at the corner of Islington and Union streets, and erect a large, two-story, double-tenement dwelling house thereon.

The new ship now being built at the Raynes shipyard by Mr. Wm. F. Fernald is too wide by two feet to go through the draw of Noble's Island bridge, and Mr. Fernald has served the bridge and railroad companies with notice that the ship must go through on the 15th of August next.

About nine o'clock, Tuesday forenoon, a horse belonging to Mr. Henry M. Clark took fright on Islington street, and ran away with the store wagon he was drawing, a little daughter of Mr. Wm. W. Cotton being seated in the bottom of the vehicle. When in front of Col. Sise's residence one hub of the wagon struck a tree hard enough to scrape off a piece of the bark, though fortunately not hard enough to overturn the wagon or throw out the little girl; and the animal kept on until he reached Mr. Clark's store, where he was stopped without difficulty, having done no farther harm than to frighten a number of people.

"NAT" APOLOGIZETH.

RYE, July 2d.

Mr. Editor: "A proper degree of contrition" is precisely the feeling experienced by the writer after reading "A Sympathiser's" criticism of that little item about a choir. It is very consoling to have the editor come to the rescue, and say that he detected no "hidden ill nature" in what was written. There was none; yet if any one chose to get mad about it there's no law to prevent them, but to any fair minded individual it would be apparent that, under the circumstances, the item was written simply as an occurrence that actually took place and was considered too good a thing to be buried under a bushel,—and that, without intending to be personal in any respect, it was written simply to fill out a correspondent's letter, and with no idea of hurting anyone's feeling, or giving a "parting shot" to anybody. If "A Sympathiser" or any one else, thinks that the writer of this has any but good feelings toward the members of any choir in Christendom, they are very much mistaken. Yours, very penitently and in haste, NAT.

P. S. I hear that the "old rattle trap organ" has been removed.

THE DRESS QUESTION.

Mr. Editor:—I was pleased to see a few days ago, a very sensible editorial on "dress reform" in relation to the annual High School graduating class. I will not trespass upon your limits to the extent of arguing the subject, but will merely remark that the time will come when our public school managers will see that these dress exhibitions are too thin to cover mental deficiencies, however dazzling and glossy they may appear to the superficial inspector. Without doubt the flounced and furbelowed muslin, the white kid slipper and white kid glove will be conspicuously present at the coming High School shows but I, in common with many other parents, shall hope for a more substantial brain exhibit, and less of the starch and gloss that does not stand the perspiration which is alluded to in the decree that "by the sweat of thy brow shalt thou eat thy bread."

A PARENT.

THE MANAGEMENT PUFFED.

"House Bill No. 36," which gives a generous puff to the management of the Eastern Railroad, is as follows:

An Act to protect the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire.

Whereas, The Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire is now leased to, managed and run by, the Eastern Railroad in Massachusetts, and whereas, it is so mismanaged as to preclude the possibility of the stockholders of said leased road ever receiving any income from their investments: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened:

SECTION 1. That the act approved June 26, 1863, entitled "An act authorizing the Eastern Railroad Company in Massachusetts to unite and form one corporation by the name of the Eastern Railroad Company" be and the same is hereby repealed.

Daily Chronicle.

—Garden hose is used a great deal now—by young ladies who play croquet.

—An old lady who took passage for Europe in one of the American steamship company's vessel in May, became so deathly sick all over when three days out that she was afraid she would die before reaching Liverpool; and sending for the captain she endeavored to persuade him to turn his ship around and take her back home, and she wouldn't ask him to refund a cent of her passage money. The ungallant captain refused to turn back.

—When a woman answered the door-bell she found a stranger on the step. He had a bundle in his hand, a smile on his face, and he said: "Madam, can I sell you some fly-paper?" "Does the paper fly?" she asked. "No, ma'am, but it makes the flies fly." "What do I want the flies to fly for?" she continued. "Every fly, madam—" he was explaining, when she called out: "I want you to fly! I can get along with flies better than with agents!" "But I am not on the fly," he softly protested. "Our dog is," she grimly replied, and so he was. He flew around the corner, the agent flew for the gate, the roll of fly-paper flew over the curb, and a newsboy climbed a treebox to be out of the muss, and shouted: "She flew, thou flyest, he flied, and I believe the dog got a piece of meat with that coat-tail!"

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about twenty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have woe for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors; it has given a good conscience, given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its ready use in sudden attacks.

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.

HE WILL COME;

BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, JR., D. D.

This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the new revealed facts in the next dispensation. There is no a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and it is a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 16mo, 216 pp. Price, Cloth, $2.50 in Morocco. PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nouring in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudoriferous and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

or the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent: There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show astonishing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 3 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine; I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 26, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried for one year to be many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I was then advised to try your pills, and all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had any hope to do a good cure. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The improvement here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hunt county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1876.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 10, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth. And all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this ordinance, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind above the stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall either bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is sick with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination, to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or so placed that offensive substances therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds, or into any creek, or cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughter house, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

INFANTS, INVALIDS,

NURSING MOTHERS, GROWING CHILDREN AND AGED PERSONS

Will find Life, Vigor and Health by using

PEPSINATED NUTRIMENT,

With the VEGETABLE PHOSPHATES,

which is superior to all other foods, for it consists of PURE NUTRIMENT. Containing only the purest nutritive portion of various grains, extracted by a chemical process (all inert principles being carefully rejected) combined with the Vegetable Phosphates obtained from the germinal portion of grain, so as to form a most perfect brain, bone, and muscle-producing food, combined with Pepsin, forming a complete remedy for the worst cases of Cholera Infantum, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all affections arising from a disordered stomach.

For Infants, Invalids, Growing Children and Nursing Mothers. Nursing Mothers should take it as a regular diet, in order to furnish nutriment and vitalizing material to the growing infant.

The only Infants' Food prepared on strictly scientific principles. To be used in Cholera Infantum, Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and all intestinal troubles. For Infants, Invalids, Aged Persons, Nursing Mothers and Weakly Children.

This preparation is endorsed by the Medical Faculty, it having been in constant use by them for a number of years with the best of success, it being the only food acting with certainty in those cases that require Pepsin and the Phosphates for complete success.

DYSPEPSIA, HEARTBURN, ACID STOMACH, HEADACHE, BILIOUS STOMACH, DIARRHŒA,

and any derangement of the Organs of Digestion are immediately relieved and speedily cured by

PEPSINATED CHARCOAL.

It is particularly adapted to Chronic Cases, and is prescribed and endorsed by our first physicians as the only preparation ever presented for the troubles for which it is recommended.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 2 Mt. Vernon St. Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name, of any variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

Rules for Bathing.

Whether in bath-tub, river or ocean, bathing should be accompanied only by pleasurable sensations. The whole body should be kept aglow. If any shiverings or chilly sensations are experienced, either you are not well, the water is not of the right temperature, or you are bathing too long. At all events, such feelings are nature's warning that you should at once leave the water and give yourself a thorough rubbing with a coarse towel. Bathing, especially swimming necessitates great muscular activity, therefore in order that digestion may not be interfered with, at least one hour, and better still, two or three, should elapse between a hearty meal and bathing. It is easily seen that eleven in the forenoon, four in the afternoon, and just before retiring at night, are the best times for bathing.

Some like a cold dash on rising in the morning. Very few, comparatively, can stand such a shock to their nervous systems. Let those who enjoy it, and experience a glow during the operation, continue the practice; but let them be careful how they urge its adoption upon those whose nerves possess a less degree of resistance.

Any one desiring to acquire the habit of a cold bath every morning should begin the custom in the warm weather, continuing it during the winter, and not commence it in the latter season.

If you are perspiring from walking, rowing or other exercise, as you reach the place of bathing, do not (as some advise) sit down on the bank to cool off before entering the water. Doff your clothes and dash in as soon as possible, only being careful to keep up the exercise without intermission after you are in the water. In this way you continue the glow which you experienced from the previous exercise.

Ten or at longest fifteen minutes in the water should suffice for the strongest aqueously inclined urchin. Strive always to leave the water before you feel chilly, or, certainly at the first approach of any such sensation, and continue or rekindle the glow by a vigorous rubbing with a coarse towel.

Turkish superstition says, wet your head thoroughly upon entering the bath; we say, do it to prevent rush of blood to the brain, which event may cause death.

Finally, as bathing, apparently a simple process, is not without its dangers, we would warn all boys not to begin the practice too early in the season, or to repeat it too often daily. Many have found an early grave by over indulgence, while others have endured long years of suffering from the obscure effects of excessive bathing. No physician should consider it below his calling to give specific direction to all seeking his advice as to when and how long they should bathe.—W. H. Vail, M. D.

—After a boy is tired out hoeing potatoes nothing seems to rest him more than to dig over a few square rods of greensward in search of bait.

—The largest tract of land held by one family in Massachusetts is said to be in possession of the heirs of Judge Tyng, of Tyngsboro. It is nine miles long.

—It is cruel for learned college freshmen to destroy at one fell sweep the reputation of a poet whom the world has revered for a century. Yet that is just what they have done with Burns at Middlebury, Vt., an article in the last Undergraduate deciding that "Burns' claim to genius is a myth."

—A young lady in Albany went up stairs to her room on Sunday night, and before locking the door looked under the bed to see if there was any one there. It was a man. With remarkable presence of mind she quietly walked down stairs to give the alarm and the intruder was arrested. Ever since the Garden was planted, gentle woman has made it a point to look every night for a man under her bed. Her discretion and prudence have at last been vindicated.

—A minister passing near some coalpits in Scotland heard a collier swearing most outrageously at having fallen into a pool of mud. "Young man," said the minister, "do you know where you are going to?" "Ay," said the collier, "a'm guan tae my wark up-by there." "No, my dear young man," said the minister, with a solemn shake of the head, and a warning wave of the hand, "you are going to the bottomless pit." "Man, you dinna ken muckle about pits, I see," replied the collier, "for I has wrocht in maistly every pit in the county, an' I never saw, far less heard 'o a pit without a bottom!"

—The anaconda in the Zoological Gardens, London, which has been considered quite a respectable snake, turns out to be a comparatively small creature of its kind. Henry J. Cooke of Caracas, Venezuela, in a letter to Frank Buckland, states that in the small rivers which flow into the Orinoco there are large numbers of anacondas much larger than the one the society has, and that in a large pond near a friend's house in Maturin lives in shy retirement one that is thirty-six feet long and a yard in diameter. The managers of the Garden have offered $2,500 for the capture and delivery in England of this serpent. It requires an expert fisherman to catch these creatures alive. In Africa a live dog is used as bait, and after the dog has been bolted the boa coils up and takes a nap; and then the fisherman stuffs him into a bag. A big pocket will be required for the gentleman in the Maturin pond.

The War.

The London Times' Bucharest correspondent says: "Of eighteen gunboats and monitors which were on the Danube at the commencement of the war, six are in a small bay near Sulina, two have been destroyed, three or four are aground at Matchin, two at Silistria, one at Turtukai, two at Rustchuk and one at Nikopolis. The latter is reported to be surrounded by torpedoes and is helpless. All on the Danube will fall into the hands of the Russians unless destroyed."

St. Petersberg despatches deny that the siege of Kars has been raised. The Government publishes a despatch from a Russian camp before Kars, bearing date July 4th, describing the succesful attack on a Turkish battery. Mukhtar, however, has sent a long series of despatches to Constantinople describing the victorious advance of his own and the right column. In the last despatch, dated Alisounje, July 3, he says: "We passed the day in making reconnoissances. This afternoon the Russians abandoned Banliamed, flying to the south of Kars across the Ardost heights. They were pursued by our cavalry. The Russian left wing is almost annihilated, and is fleeing before the Turkish right with such precipitancy that they buried or concealed their artillery and destroyed or abandoned immense qualities of baggage and provisions. The road from Hilintz to Kara Kilissa is covered with the dead. Intercepted Russian letters show that the garrison of Bayazid is regarded lost."

Concord Correspondence.

CONCORD, July 3.

The committee on Reform School has paid its annual visit to that institution. Quite a number of the members express themselves as very much dissatisfied with the management of the institution and especially with the Superintendent. They complain that there is a useless expenditure in the matter of groceries, saying that sugar, tea, flour, etc., have been purchased in small quantities, whereas it would have been much cheaper to have purchased them in large amounts. They said over $20 have been expended in buying base balls and bats. Some propose to cut down the salary of the Superintendent, which is now $1700 and board of his family (equivalent to $3000) to $1000 and board per year. They say on his examination before the committee he gave far from satisfactory answers to the questions put to him.

Though it might be somewhat old, yet it is just as good as though it was known before, that when one of the committee on selection of a Chaplain was performing his duties some one stole his hat!

The judiciary committee seems to have the most business, they having had no less than a hundred different bills referred to them this session thus far.

Hon. W. H. Kimball, State Librarian, has made his annual report to the Legislature. It appears from this document that the additions to the library the past year, by purchase and otherwise, have been unusually large. The opportunity to file sets of reports has been exceptionally favorable, and was made available to that end. Many volumes of New Hampshire laws, town and other histories, biographies, atlases and kindred publications have been secured at auction sales. During the last ten years the volumes in the library have increased from 7000 to 15,000.

The sixth volume of the "Agriculture of New Hampshire" is now ready for delivery. By law, members of the State government, town clerks, for the use of the towns, and State and county societies are entitled to copies. At the close of the book, is a sketch of New Hampshire at the Centennial.

Yours, A. B.

Battle Statistics.

In the Franco-Prussian war breech-loading cannon were for the first time arrayed against each other in Europe, but the deadly effect of these weapons was not so great as might have been expected. A pamphlet lately published in Berlin gives many interesting particulars, from which we glean the following:

During the war the number of German troops injured in action was 88,877; killed, 13,556; died of wounds, 4,685; total deaths from wounds received on the battle-field, 18,241. Considering the immense armies engaged and the desperate resistance of the French, many persons will no doubt be surprised that the actual loss of life was so small.

Concerning the weapons which caused the deaths, we are informed that but six men were killed by sabres and butt ends of guns, and only 212 wounded! As there were quite a number of cavalry charges made by the French during the war, this is very surprising. Almost as remarkable is the fact that but twenty-one men were killed by bayonets and lances, and 574 wounded, —though there was a good deal of hand-to-hand fighting reported.

The noisy artillery of the French, though it was of the most improved modern construction, killed only 635 men, and wounded 4589—an effect ridiculously disproportioned to the amount of ammunition expended.

Thus it appears that by the "gleaming sabres" and "deadly bayonets," the lances and butt ends of muskets, and the explosions of shells, but 879 men were killed on the German side during the war. More than ten times that number fell before the modest but insinuating rifle bullet.

From all which we infer that if the swords were to be beaten into ploughshares and the spears into pruning hooks it would not materially interfere with man's ability to kill his neighbor.

News and Notes.

A boat upset on Horn Pond, at Woburn, Mass., on the evening of the 4th, and two women and a child were drowned.

Miss Minnie Howard, of Boston, while at a picnic near Fort Dumplings, Newport (R. I.) harbor, on the 4th, was hit in the right side by a minie rifle ball which went out at her back, inflicting probably a fatal wound. The bullet was fired by some unknown person near Fort Adams.

One man was killed and three badly wounded by the premature discharge of a cannon at Kingston, R. I., on the fourth.

The Secretary of the Navy has issued a general order, promulgating the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of Arthur Martin in regard to the eight hour law, and has fixed the rate of labor for mechanics, foremen, leading men and laborers on the basis of ten hours a day. All workmen electing to labor only eight hours a day will receive a proportionate reduction of their wages.

A romantic suicide occurred at Faystown, Vermont, last week. Daniel Wheeler and a Miss Adams were to have been married soon, but a few days before the appointed time the faithless fair one, who had been induced by her family to break the engagement, returned Wheeler his letters, rings, etc., and told him to consider all marriage arrangements at an end. The wretched lover made no expostulations, but went directly home, took a double-barrelled shotgun, retired to the woods and discharged the contents of both barrels into his heart. Miss Adams is overwhelmed with grief at the consequences of her freak, and says she will kill herself.

The customs officers having discovered that the engineer, fireman, brakeman and conductor of a freight train on the Central Vermont Railroad have long been smuggling liquors from Canada for saloon keepers in St. Albans, Vt., arrested the whole. United States Commissioner Rand discharged the engineer, and bound over the freight conductor, brakeman and fireman in $300 each to answer to the charge of smuggling liquors into the United States. The counsel for the Government claim that the pass-books and other evidence which they have discovered show that an average of twelve gallons per week have been smuggled on the train from St. Johns, to supply St. Albans dealers. They and the Central Vermont Railroad authorities are determined to put an effectual quietus on such practices.

New Hampshire Items.

Moses Varney & Co's tannery of Wolfeboro' was burned on Wednesday morning, Loss $25,000; insured $13,700.

There is great confidence in the riches of the mineral belt, which cuts into the northwestern part of the State for nine miles, from Bath through Littleton to the Connecticut river. During the past year eight shafts have been sunk by various companies, with excellent results. The ore principally found is copper, with some silver and gold. From the Paddock mine 250 tons of ore have been shipped during the year, which assayed from 8 to 14 per cent.; and in all the mines the quality improves with the descent.

We notice that the Massachusetts Medical Society has expelled Dr. S. M. Gale of Newburyport, who is vouched for by the paper of that city as a gentleman of honor and success in his profession, for the awful crime of practicing homœopathy. But there are sins more dreadful even than his, and we suggest that, if our Medical Society has gone into the business of expelling unworthy members, it pay attention to some of its "nasty doctors." Recent lawsuits in Massachusetts will furnish a number of candidates. The action of the society in his case recalls a similar contest between Dr. Gale's grandfather, Dr. Josiah Bartlett of New Hampshire, the first signer of the Declaration of Independence, and the New Hampshire Medical Society. He was opposed to the existing practice of bleeding fever patients, and depriving them of food and water, and introduced a more rational and successful system of treatment, as he also did in connection with putrid sore throat. He was suspended for six months, but the Society were shamed into restoring him to membership, and afterward elected him their president.—Massachusetts paper.

"All the World and the Rest of Mankind."

Can anyone give information where the above silly phrase originated? It has become as stale in the newspapers as the slang expressions we hear and read so much, and that are interwoven in the language of so many. It has been quoted as coming from General Taylor's inaugural, or the only "annual" message he lived to send to Congress during his short period in the Presidency. I cannot find it in either. He did not write nonsense. His dispatches from the army during the Mexican war were models of good English, as well as possessing the merit of brevity. B.

Cossacks and Roumanian Ladies.

When the first troop of Cossacks rode through Bucharest the Roumanian ladies were very anxious to see them, and the long avenue was lined with carriages. A column of dust arose, thickening and drawing nearer. A cry of delight and impatience passed all along, ladies eagerly stood up, favored gentlemen climbed upon the coach box and the wheels. The column of dust approached, and presently the Cossack lances pierced it, glittering in the sun. Dark and colorless masses loomed through it, and strange but stirring music was in the air. Not a sound was heard even while they passed, except that martial war song of the bards who lead each sotinia and the shrill accompaniment of whistles modulated to weird harmony. No rattle of accoutrements betrays the Cossack; his very horse seems to move with silent activity. With that pæn in one's ears, and the whistles screaming through it, one beholds without astonishment those warriors glide past, stealthily and swift. One recognizes the surviving race of an earlier time. To the same war song perhaps marched the ancestors of these people when they overran Russia. The Bucharest ladies were not a little impressed and a little frightened. They looked at each other blankly, with shrugs of the shoulder to express distaste. One of them afterwards expressed to the Standard correspondent, who described the scene, that her Muscovite sympathies vanished at sight of the first Cossack, so ugly and dirty was he.

—A rollicking Hibernian of the Light Division in the Peninsula, was once trudging leisurely along the road with a pig in a string behind him, when, as bad luck would have it, he was overtaken by Gen. Crauford. The salutation was not the most cordial. "Where did you steal that pig, you plundering rascal?" "What pig, Gin'ral?" exclaimed the culprit, turning round to him with an air of the most innocent surprise. "Why, that pig you have behind you, you villain!" "Well, then, I vow and protest, Gin'ral," rejoined Paddy, nothing abashed, and turning round to his four-footed companion as it he had never seen him before, "it is scandalous to think what a wicked world we live in, and how ready folks are to take away an honest boy's character. Some blackguard, wanting to get me into trouble, has tied that beast to my cartouche box."

—Pigeon-English, a language peeping about on the Pacific coast, was invented in Canton, Hong Kong, and Shanghai, where it is to-day used as the medium of business transactions between the natives and foreign merchants. The name was derived from the fact that the natives pronounce business pigeon; and, as neither of the two contracting parties could spare the time to acquire thoroughly either Chinese or English, a happy adaptation of the one to the other by practical intermingling was hit upon. At the present day some very large transactions take place in Pigeon-English in the cities named, as well as at other points.

—Two gamblers were in Leavenworth, Kan., several years ago, with about $50 in their pockets. They desired to get money enough to go to California. They went to separate hotels. One registered as a physician, and advertised a remedy for cholera. The other put up a large quantity of yeast powers into sample packages, with a little croton oil in each, and hired a boy to distribute them. Soon family after family, affected by the croton oil, felt what they believed were symptoms of cholera. The sale of the cholera remedy was enormous, and the gamblers were enabled to go to California. They now tell the story through the Virginia City Enterprise.

—Mrs. Van Cott's abrupt manner and pointed questions often alarm the more timid among her congregations. One evening an old negro who had occupied a seat pretty far back, and whose feelings had been worked up to a pitch of excitement by the shouting, groaning, and singing, fairly jumped to his feet in terror when Mrs. Van Cott, who had unseen stolen behind him, suddenly asked: "Brother, are you fixed upon a rock." "No," he answered, trembling, "not as I knows on, I ain't."

—"West Points cadets have a new song, beginning "Maid of Vassar, 'ere we part, Give, oh! give me back my heart!"

A Superb Blood Depurent.

Upon the action of the kidneys, bladder and bowels depends the depuration of the blood. It is by promoting the activity of these organs that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters ensures purity to the circulation. In its passage through the kidneys, impurities which beget rheumatism, gout, and gravel are strained from the blood, but when these small but all important organs grow inactive, these impurities of course remain, and inevitably produce the disease mentioned. Hostetter's Bitters restore the energy to renewed activity, by which means the blood is depurated. It likewise purifies the blood when contaminated with bile by promoting a gentle but effectual action of the bowels, and has the further effect of regulating the action of the liver, thus counteracting a tendency to biliousness. Dyspepsia, malarial fevers and urinary complaints are also conquered by it.

Plain Talk.

There is a preservative principle in Sozodont that effectually preserves the teeth from decay. Chemists pronounce it wholesome. Rich and poor endorse it. No lady ever tried it without approving its cleansing and purifying properties. It outsells all other dentifrices. Ask for it, and take no substitute.

RELIEF FOR ST. JOHN.

John Sise, Esq., writes from St. John, N. B., under date of June 30th, to Mr. Charles H. Mendum, one of the citizens' committee, as follows:

"Dear Sir: I have just received your favor of 20th. Please put me down for twenty-five dollars. * * The present need of the people here seems to be more for clothing and bedding, than for food; but you can have no conception of the immense destruction of property. The fire burned over fourteen miles of streets, and the number of homeless people is by no means overstated. The greatest confusion still exists, and it will be a long time before any business can be properly carried on. The arrangements for distribution of donations are in excellent hands, and anything sent here from Portsmouth will be most acceptable."

Up to Monday evening, we are informed, the sub-committee (C. H. Mendum, Esq., and Postmaster Peirce,) appointed to wait upon the citizens to solicit subscriptions, had collected over $350; they were confident of bringing the total up to $400, and hoped to make it $500 or better.

INDEPENDENCE DAY.

The Fourth of July has been here and gone; the ubiquitous small boy and the aggressive fire-cracker showed themselves everywhere, but Portsmouth still stands. The week preceding the day especially devoted to noise was more quiet than it usually is in this city, and it was not until nightfall of the third that the racket really began; then crackers of all sizes and degrees of noisiness, guns, horse pistols, Roman candles, etc., came out in good force, though less than in years past. The "sacred ox, Rajah," which had been on exhibition in a tent pitched in the centre of Market square for two days, had his quarters shifted to the rear of the Police Station, as the manager considered it would be impossible for the boys to resist the temptation to throw bunches of lighted crackers on the invitingly-flat top of the tent, whereby the tent might be ruined and the golden calf's temper injured; but the man with the broad-brimmed hat, who had been selling from a big wagon some kind of quack mixture for curing rheumatism and cholera, eradicating corns, killing potato bugs and cleaning gun-barrels of rust, kept right on selling where he was, and made a mighty good thing of it.

Along in the evening the popular bonfire was kindled on the square, and as usual the back yards of dry goods and grocery stores were ravished of packing cases, for fuel. The fire was kept up well through the night, though there was a sudden check given to the supply of fire-wood and a total stop put to the firing of guns and crackers, and the songs of certain hilarious young men, at about one o'clock, by a sudden shower which came on at that time. Lots of young fellows and some old ones were almost—and some of them quite—"happy" enough to be called drunk; but they were about all good-naturedly boozy, and the police were not required to make their authority felt to any great extent.

Sometime after daylight there was another smart shower, which wet everything down nicely, but also prevented the appearance in the Fantastics' procession of teams from Greenland, Newington and Rye, which had made all ready to take part. At a later hour there was another shower, which clapped a stopper on the open air concert by the Portsmouth Cornet Band on Haymarket square, after a couple of tunes had been played. Many people supposed the procession of Antiques and Horribles would be given up; but though not so large as it would have been had the morning been clear, it started not far from the advertised time and went over the following route:

Richards Avenue, Middle, Congress, Market, Deer, Vaughan, Congress, Islington, Union, Middle, Court, Pleasant, Water, State, Cabot and Islington Streets to Market square, where the procession was reviewed and the prizes awarded as follows:

For the "best hit, local or otherwise," $10, to the "Light Artillery's trip to the 'hold' country," gotten up by Mr. John S. Treat and other members of the company. There were two teams employed to represent this, the forward one containing Mayor Kent, of Portsmouth, England, and the royal family, in the persons of Her Majesty the Queen and the Princess of Wales, anxiously gazing through huge telescopes to spy out the approaching visitors, Mayor Kent wearing the uniform (to a certain extent) of the Light Artillery. Following this team came one on which was mounted a fisherman's dory, labeled "Inman line" and arranged to represent a steamboat, a stove pipe being fitted up for a smoke stack, and whoever tended the furnace "firing up the middle door" with something abundantly provocative of smoke. If the dashing craft had no paddle wheels she had a marvellous wheel to steer with; and to more particularly show her errand she towed behind—after the manner of steamships in general—such a piece of field artillery as Herr Krupp himself never conceived an idea of. The picture was completed by her crew, which consisted of a half-dozen Light Artillerymen in various stages of sea-sickness. This turn-out was provocative of much mirth, the "point" being readily seen by everybody.

Four-wheeled teams, first prize, $10,—awarded to a turnout from Newington, the team being an ox and a horse driven tandem, with the ox for wheel-horse. Second prize, $5,—given to the "one-price boot and shoe store," Mr. Goodwin manager.

Two-wheeled teams, first prize, $5,—to a three-wheeled carriage built of a wheelbarrow (in which the driver sat) and a pair of carriage wheels, with long rustic shafts. [The man who entered this team, evidently not sure in which class his carriage would be put, had a spare wheel hanging up between the shafts, labelled "This is the fourth wheel."] Second prize, $3,—to an old chaise.

Equestrians, first prize, $5—to "the devil." Second prize, $3,—to a Yankee.

Pedestrians, first prize, $4,—to boy and girl. Second prize, 3—to two old women.

There was a well attended adjourned meeting of the Fourth of July Committee of 1873, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, in the Common Council room. After an interesting session the Committee adjourned to meet again on the same date next year, at the same time and place.

In the afternoon the sports on the square came off, commencing at about three o'clock. A large space was roped off and kept clear by the police, which was easily done, the large crowd of spectators being in the best of humor and determinedly good natured. The published programme of the sports was as follows:

1. Grand "Oration;" prize, $000.00.

2. Potato feat; prize, $5,—to be given the person who shall quickest pick up 25 potatoes, two feet apart—best two in three trials.

3. Running match; prize, $3; heats, best two in three; distance, from reservoir to Chestnut street.

4. Sack race; prize, $5; heats, best two in three; distance, 150 feet.

5 Jumping match; prize, $2; best two in three trials, each person to choose his own style of jumping.

6. Three-legged race; prize, $5; heats, best two in three; distance, 150 feet.

7. Climbing greased pole; prize, $5,—a $5 greenback will be placed on top of the pole, to belong to the one who can get it. Contestants to draw for chances, and take turns in regular order.

This programme was changed by the omission of the "grand oration." Mr. J. Knight Adams Hanson, the crier, who was to have delivered it, went around with his bell on the afternoon previous, proclaiming, "The oration to-morrow which was to be delivered by John K. A. Hanson, will not be delivered." That squelched the "oration." The rest of the programme was carried out to the great amusement of the spectators, the winners of the several events being as follows:

Potato feat, Samuel Wallace. There were four entries for this feat, and when the word was given in the first heat Wallace ran to the far end of his row to commence, while the others all commenced at the end nearest the tub. On the second heat all four commenced at the far end, but Wallace again won, two of the others being ruled out for a palpable "foul."

Running match, Charles E. Parks.

Sack race, Eugene S. Foote.

Jumping match, Charles E. Parks.

Three-legged race, William Quinn, 3d, and John Lolley.

Climbing greased pole, nobody. An alarm of fire just before this trial came off drew away several of the contestants, and the four who tried it being unable to accomplish it, the five-dollar greenback on top of the pole went (as previously agreed on) to the owner of the pole, for services rendered.

In addition to the regular programme there were several amusing "scratch" races around the roped-in space, between two built-up fat men, for twenty-five-cent stakes.

Considering the small amount of money at their disposal we regard the managers of sports—and particularly Mr. W. I. Trafton, who started the idea and worked hard to carry it out—as being entitled to much credit; they certainly provided a good deal of fun for a great many people, and at a small cost.

The bells of the city were rung, morning, noon and night, and a salute was fired from the Navy Yard at noon. Two band concerts had been arranged for, but the morning one at Haymarket square was stopped by the rain, as before stated; in the evening, from eight o'clock until ten, the band played on Market square, — and shortly after the streets were comparatively deserted and silent, though some of the boys kept up their songs until two hours later.

The consumption of whiskey was about the same as in years past, judging from the numbers of men half drunk; but there were no noteworthy disturbances. There was less powder burned than usual, but quite enough for the comfort of timid people; and we have heard of but one serious accident. Mr. Charles Palmer was handling an old navy pistol loaded with ball, preparing to shoot at a target with his brother Havilah, who was sitting near him, when the pistol was accidentally discharged, the ball entering the bowels of Mr. H. Palmer, inflicting a terrible wound. Drs. Hall and Whittier attended him.

The prisoners at the jail, ten in number, were treated by Sheriff Kent to a box of strawberries each, with sugar and cream ad lib., and all the lemonade they cared to drink. Some of them told him they should make it a point to be boarding at his hotel next 4th of July.

FIRES.

An alarm of fire was caused at about five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, by the slight burning of the house of Mr. Joseph Marden at Freeman's Point, which caught behind the stove. The department turned out and some of the engines went a long way—to Great Falls, one fireman asserts—to find the fire; but their services were not needed.

Shortly after midnight another alarm was given, caused by the firing of the old Ham house at the Creek, owned by the Eastern Railroad and partially burned by an incendiary fire some months ago, on which occasion also an alarm was given,—and the fire put out with a few buckets of water, as it was this time, too. There is enough left of the building to cause several more alarms before it is finally all used up, and it would be patriotic on the part of the railroad corporation to tear the old thing down. We are informed that this was the third attempt to burn the wreck, the fire having been put out once without raising an alarm.

POLICE COURT.

Wednesday, July 4th.

George W. Laskey, a young fellow of about twenty years, was brought up on complaint of his mother, for being idle and disorderly. Brentwood two months; costs, $9.18.

Thursday, July 5th.

In the continued case of Ellen Gray vs. Thomas Coyle, for slander in charging the woman with having stolen a sum of money, a decision was rendered for plaintiff; damages $30. Defendant appealed. Page for plaintiff, Hatch for defendant.

JOTTINGS.

Mr. John Williams and wife, of Kittery Lower Foreside, went lobstering along the "Eastern Shore" on Wednesday afternoon, and had not returned up to three o'clock Thursday afternoon. Mr. Williams is was sober, industrious man and respected citizen of Kittery, and chaplain of Riverside Lodge, I. O. O. F. He has been employed on the Navy Yard as a rigger, and not appearing at roll-call on Thursday morning a messenger was sent to his house at noon, and returned with the information that neither he nor Mrs. Williams had been heard of since they started out lobstering the day before. As soon as work was over on the yard Boatswain Mc Caffery mustered a crew of volunteers and went outside the harbor with a staunch, boat to try and find out what has become of the missing pair, for whose safety grave fears are entertained.

The New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals makes the following report for the six months ending June 30th, 1877: Number of horses killed, 1; number of horses exposed to the cold and blanketed, 19; number of men prosecuted for cruelty, 11; number of complaints corrected without recourse to law, 46.

Passed Assistant Surgeon Thomas S. Streets has been detached from duty at the Smithsonian Institute, and ordered to the Speedwell, now fitting out at this station.

Damon Lodge, Knights of Pythias, installed the following officers on Tuesday evening, July 2d: Past Chancellor, G. H. Tripp; Chancellor Commander, L. McRae; Vice Chancellor, L. A. Johnson; Prelate, Herman Manson; Master-at-Arms, J. C. Tilton; Inner Guard, M. Fairbone; Outer Guard, E. C. Badger; Finance Committee, A. T. Pickering, M. T. Betton, O. D. Bryant. The officers were installed by District Deputy Grand Chancellor A. T. Pickering of this city.

DONT KILL THEM.

A few days ago Mr. Peirce Parker, of Kittery, informed us that he had found on his potato vines quite a number of small striped bugs, similar in appearance to the common squash bug, but thinner and not so dark colored, which he was confident devoured the eggs of the potato beetle; that he was very careful not to kill them, and that no slugs would be found on the same vines with these little bugs, though the punctured and empty eggs would be found on the under sides of the leaves. He showed us several of the bugs referred to, and though they were very like the striped squash bug we could easily note the difference when it was once pointed out. Since then we find in the Pawtuxet Valley (R. I.) Gleaner the following, which we reprint in hope it may be of benefit to farmers in this vicinity, by lending them to spare this natural enemy of the potato pest, as it is not likely Mr. Parker's garden is the only place in this vicinity in which it has commenced work:

"Hon. Christopher R. Greene, who has recently returned from a visit to the South, reports that while there he was shown and became somewhat acquainted with the habits of a bug that has recently made its appearance, and which resembles in many ways the common squash bug, only the latter is not so flat or light-colored. This new comer is gladly welcomed wherever it has appeared, as it greedily feeds upon the larva of the destructive potato-bug, and seems to be the first and only natural enemy of the potato destroyer. Since Mr. Greene's return home he has spoken to a number of his friends about these enemies of the potato bug, and the result is that recently some of the bugs have been discovered in this vicinity. Those who find anything resembling a squash bug upon their potato vines should let it alone, as it will not harm the vines if it is a squash bug, and it is more than likely to be one of the new insects, and will do a vast amount of good. It is to be hoped that these little friends of mankind will increase, and that the trade in Paris green will diminish in consequence."

—"I say, Paddy! that is the worst-looking horse you drive I ever saw. Why don't you fatten him up?" "Fat him up, is it? Faix! the poor baste can hardly carry the little mate that's on him now, replied Paddy.

—London Mayfair has a most excellent story about the manager of an aquarium. His wife induced him to go to church, where he fell asleep. The minister was reading the first lesson of the day, which happened to be the first chapter of the Book of Ezekiel. As he proceeded in the description of the wonderful beast which the prophet saw in the land of Chaldeans, by the river Chebar, the aquarium manager moved uneasily in his seat. "Every one had four faces, and every one had four wings." The aquarium manager rubbed his eyes, and the preacher went on, "And they had the hands of a man under their wings on four sides, and they four had their faces and their wings." The aquarium manager was now wide awake, "As for the likeness of their faces, they four had the face of a man and the face of a lion on the right side, and they four had the face of an ox on the left side. They four also had the face of an eagle." The aquarium manager was now standing up, his wife vainly pulling at his coat tails. "Name your own price," he cried; "I will take the thing."

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of the members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

"A Fascinating Work on an Entrancing Topic.
HE WILL COME;
BY STEPHEN H. TYNG, JR., D. D.
This work is not prophetical. It discusses the topic as a Divine promise. Its plan is to follow the narrative of a Christian's experience of the revealed facts of the second advent. There is not a line of controversy in the volume. Yet it is full of bold and original thought, apt illustration, and forcible writing, and this a work which no one who is "watching and waiting" for the Lord can afford to miss. 16mo., 216 pp., $1.25 (cloth); $2.50 in Morocco. PULMOCINE.
BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thula of Medical Discovery.
Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.
CLEAR YOUR THROAT!
Relieve Your Lungs.
or the terrible diseases engendered by the inpr trying climate of New England
PULMOCINE CORDIAL
is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cause of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time, there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.
For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
USE
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.
The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:
Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.
WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years: Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Another Letter from May. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.
WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and three pounds, but I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.
Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.
WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardships on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.
Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."
EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE
Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Three Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.
DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partily relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting without getting well, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, which I did, but it was severely severe for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me care of Mrs. Martha Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON
Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.
LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1878.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

CITY HEALTH REGULATIONS.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH OF THE CITY OF PORTSMOUTH call the attention of the public to the following sections of Chapter 16, of the Revised Ordinances, and invite all interested in the preservation of health in our city to aid them in the execution of their duty:

SEC. 3. All waste water of houses, yards, cellars, sinks, pumps, etc., shall be conveyed by their owners or occupiers to the common sewers, or to such places as the Health Officers may direct.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed to throw any vegetable or dead animal substance, or any other matter capable of producing infection, into any street, lane, alley or dock, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river below low water mark.

SEC. 5. The contents of vaults and privies shall not be permitted to rise within one foot of the surface of the earth, and all owners and occupiers of buildings having such vaults or privies as may require it, shall cause them to be emptied within ten days from the promulgation of this notice, and in future on or before the first day of May in each year. And any such owner or occupier neglecting so to do, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect a sum not less than three nor more than twenty dollars, and a like sum for every week's neglect after the time above specified.

SEC. 6. No vender of meat at the stalls shall be permitted to leave any stale meat, heads, feet or offal of any kind about their stalls or stores over night, or suffer them to be thrown into any street, lane or alley of the city. Nor shall any sellers of fish be permitted to throw any offal of fish into any street, lane or alley of the city, or upon any wharf, but shall bury them or throw them into the river beyond low water mark.

SEC. 7. If any dead animal or decaying vegetable substance, or any other nuisance, shall be found in any part of the city, the owners or occupiers of the premises where such nuisance shall be found, shall cause the same to be removed within twenty-four hours after being notified so to do by one or more of the health officers.

SEC. 12. When any householder shall know that any person within his family is taken sick of the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 13. When any physician shall know that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with the small pox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, such physician shall immediately give notice thereof to the Health Officers.

SEC. 14. If any such householder or physician shall refuse or neglect to give the notice required in the preceding sections, he shall for each refusal or neglect, forfeit the sum of twenty dollars, to be recovered by either of the Health Officers in the name of the city.

SEC. 15. The Health Officers may give written notice to the owner or occupier of any building, vessel or enclosure, to remove or destroy any nuisance or other thing deemed by them on examination to be injurious to the public health, within a certain time limited therein; and in case such owner or occupier—the said notice having been given to him, or left at his usual place of abode—shall neglect to comply therewith, the said Health Officers may, by direction of the mayor and accompanied by the city marshal, forcibly enter such building, vessel or enclosure, and cause said nuisance or other thing aforesaid to be removed or destroyed.

SEC. 21. No person shall erect, keep or continue, or permit to be erected, kept or continued, upon any land occupied by him, any pen for the keeping of swine, or privy, over either of the mill ponds in this city, or placed that offensive substance therefrom shall be discharged or drained into either of said ponds or into any creek, cove, or drain leading thereto. And no person shall construct, keep or continue any drain leading from any pen for the keeping of any swine, slaughterhouse, privy vault, or other unwholesome or offensive place, into either of said ponds, or to any flat or marsh adjoining the same. And no person shall throw or suffer to be thrown from his land into either of said ponds, or upon any of said flats or marshes, any dead, decaying, unwholesome or offensive animal or vegetable substances.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

—o—

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

—o—

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the organs.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has astonished almost miracles, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

LANGDON PARK

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

THE citizens of Portsmouth are respectfully informed that any person can obtain permission to set out one or more Trees in the Park, on application either to a member of the Board, or to Mr. GEORGE E. SMART, Keeper, at No. 3 Mt. Vernon St.

Or any citizen, or Son of Portsmouth resident elsewhere, may have a Tree set in his name of such variety as he may indicate, by sending $5, or any larger sum he may feel disposed, to the Treasurer or any member of the Board—as has already been done by many, and their names and trees placed upon the roll.

☞ Trees which are dead may be replaced by others in the same positions, by the same parties who planted the first.

The funds which were placed in the hands of Trustees by citizens and others have been entirely expended in the improvements thus far made in the Park. They, therefore, would hereby inform all interested that they are ready to expend in further adornments and improvements of the grounds, such sums as may be donated for the purpose; and contributions of any amount are hereby solicited to be sent at any time to the Treasurer or either of the other Trustees.

Three Against One.

In 1834, while residing in Maine, I went to Wiscasset to attend the circuit court of the United States. Soon after entering the court house a stranger came to me and said he wished to engage me. We stepped into a lobby, and I asked him what the case was; in reply, he said that his name was Merriam, and he was postmaster at Camden, and that he had been bound over on a charge of abstracting money from the mail. I said, "If you are bound over, you have had a hearing before a magistrate,—what was the evidence in that hearing? Tell me as fully as you can."

He replied that there were three witnesses against him,—Mr. Mitchell, the postmaster at Portland, Mr. Pickard, the mail contractor, and the driver of the stage. Mr. Mitchell testified that letters containing money having been several times lost from the eastern mail, he was employed by the Postmaster-General to detect the offenders; that for that purpose he went to Belfast, and there he and Mr. Pickard, the mail contractor, prepared a letter addressed to General McLellan of Bath, purporting to contain a remittance from a debtor; that into this letter they put a sum of money, in bank bills, and made it up in such a manner as to appear to contain something and be easily distinguished from other letters; that they (Mitchell and Pickard) took a chaise and accompanied the stage leaving Belfast in the night; that they arrived at a post office between Belfast and Camden; that the bag was carried into the office, and in due time brought out, and then examined by all three, Mitchell, Packard and the driver, and the letter to McLellan was found in it; that they then proceeded on their way till they came to the post office in Camden; that the mail bag with the letter to McLellan in it was taken into the office and, after the usual time, was brought out and put into the stage; that they then drove some distance from the village, there stopped, took the bag from the stage and carried it to the chaise, and there they opened the bag, and took all the letters and papers and placed the letters on one end of the seat of the chaise and the papers on the other, and then they examined the bag; that they took each letter and each paper by itself and put them back into the bag, and the letter to General McLellan was not there. The bag was then taken by the driver to the stage, and he proceeded on his way.

Mitchell and Pickard returned to the village and had the postmaster arrested for abstracting money from the mails. Mr. Pickard testified to the same facts, confirming Mr. Mitchell in every particular. The driver also was a witness, and confirmed all that had been testified as to his participation in the business. In answer to questions, Merriam stated that all three of the witnesses swore that the letter to General McLellan was in the mail bag when it went into the office at Camden, and was not in the bag when it came out, and the driver testified that there was no one in the office but the postmaster. I asked my client what evidence he had. He replied that he had not any evidence. I then asked him what he had to say. He answered that all he could say was he was in his office that morning alone. The mail was brought to him; he opened it as usual, took out the letters for Camden, put in those that were to go forward, closed the bag, locked and delivered it to the driver, who carried it away, and that was all he knew about it.

Such was the case of my client as presented by himself. What was my duty? It is true he denied that he was guilty, but so can every criminal, and all do who employ counsel. He admitted that he had not the slightest evidence to offer against the testimony of three respectable witnesses, and that he had not a word to say in explanation. Ought I to have flared up with virtuous indignation and at once refused to aid a man to escape punishment who was so palpably guilty? That was not my course, but after reflecting a few minutes, I said: "Have you ever caused inquiry to be made of General McLellan whether he received that letter?" He replied, "No, I never thought of such a thing." I then advised him to send a person immediately to Bath and ask General McLellan if he had any knowledge of such a letter, and also to make the same inquiry of the postmaster at Bath. He sent a man accordingly, who in due time returned and reported that General McLellan said that he did receive such a letter on a day which he named, and which was a short timely only before. When he received the letter he had no recollection of the writer, but supposed it was all right. The messenger then went to the Postmaster who said that he recollected such a letter, that it came by the Eastern mail, on a day which he named, that he opened the mail-bag himself, and, seeing a letter directed to General McLellan which looked as if it might have money in it, he did not like to have it lying in his office, and sent it by his boy to the General. The time when the letter reached the Postmaster of Bath and General McLellan, as stated by them, was the afternoon of the day on which it passed through Camden. On receiving this intelligence I went to the District Attorney, Mr. Shepley, stated what information we had obtained, and requested him to subpœna General McLellan and the Postmaster at Bath to go before the grand jury. He did so, and the result was that no indictment was found and my client was discharged. He had been so anxious that, during the absence of his messenger to Bath, he retained General Fessenden, and we, after conferring together, advised our client to bring an action against Mr. Mitchell for malicious prosecution. He did so and recovered over sixteen hundred dollars. —Judge Peleg Sprague.

SATURDAY, JULY 7, 1877.

Great Cry and Little Wool.

The Harvard boat's crew which pulled the recent race with the Yale crew at Springfield, and beat them, before the race put up over their boat-house a sign on which was painted, "Reporters and Loafers not wanted here." This has drawn down upon the callow fledgelings of Harvard the wrath of the press generally. A local paper stigmatized the Harvard boatmen,—in whom is undoubtedly centred the hope of the world for a generation to come,—as "a set of d—d hogs!" And the press generally, without distinction of race, color, politics or previous condition of servitude, unite in calling the inexperienced youths who represented Harvard at the boat race snobs and fools, for thus gratuitously insulting the hardest working class in the community by classing them with "loafers." Even the New York Tribune takes the trouble to sneer at the "Harvard young men" as "obviously very young persons," and to intimate to them that but few college graduates possess the ability to win success as newspaper reporters at the present day. We do not remember so universal a storm of ridicule and contempt ever being visited on the heads of eight insignificant persons before; and we respectfully suggest to our brethren of the press that they are magnifying a mountain into a molehill. If the eight young gentlemen of Harvard who carry their brains in their biceps choose to advertise themselves as snobs, in mercy's name let them do it. Don't let's have any more growling about it. The "very young persons" will learn, one of these days (after they leave college and try to earn their own living), that there are men—and able men—in the world who never saw a college; and that it is possible a man may fill a useful position, and be a gentleman too, without ever pulling an oar in a University boat race.

The War.

A telegram from St. Petersburg says that official advices have been received from the Russian Headquarters on the Danube to the effect that all of the Dobrudscha is occupied by the Russian forces up to Trajan's wall, and that 120,000 Russians have crossed the river at Simnitzs, together with an immense train of artillery, and that the cavalry scout the country up to the foot of the Balkan Mountains.

A telegram from Cettinje (the Montenegrin capital) says that the Turks have occupied that town and that the Montenegrin campaign has been concluded. Suleiman Pasha will immediately leave Montenegro and march towards the Danube with forty-five battalions of his army. A despatch from Vienna states that Austria is meditating a peace between the Porte and Montenegro.

A Turkish despatch from Erzeroum says the Russians have retreated from before Kars. A St. Petersburg despatch of the 5th says General Melikoff is to be removed from the command of the army in Asia Minor.

Torpedoes Against Ships.

A correspondent at Sulina writes as follows to a New York paper: Hobart Pasha, before he left on a cruise to return the visit of the audacious Russian steam-yacht which lately ran into Sulina, had so organized a system of torpedo defences for our ships while lying at anchor that he was enabled to telegraph to the Minister of the Marine, "Ships safe here; don't be anxious about them." He had not been gone three days when the long-looked-for trial was made of torpedoes against ships—a trial, I may say, interesting to all the naval world. It came off in the following way: The Russian part of the programme we learn from a prisoner, who, I regret to say, is either an Englishman or an American. He gives a very clear account of the whole affair until the time that he came to grief, stating, by the way, that he was to have been paid £4000 for every Turkish ship blown up. His story is that the flotilla of torpedo boats, consisting of six of these nasty little wasps, set out from the Russian coast towed by a steamer, and that when they arrived within five miles of the place in which our ships were anchored they were cast off and started for their work. On coming close to us they charged the ships—if I may use his expression—and did their utmost to succeed; but they were received by a warm fire. The American knew no more till he found himself floating about in the water, from which unpleasant position he was rescued by his captors. Now for our part of the business. We were lying at anchor with a steamer ahead on the look-out, and surrounded by guard boats arranged by means of a chain in such a way by our gallant chief that approach undisturbed was next to an impossibility. The torpedo boats made a joint attack on the headmost ship, and were received by a heavy fire from mitrailleuses and other small guns placed on the upper deck. The Turkish men-of-war boats crowded in, and a general fight ensued, during which two or three torpedoes exploded, without, however, doing any damage. Very shortly after the beginning of the engagement one torpedo boat sank, and before it was over two more followed suit. The other three succeeded by the help of the darkness in making their escape to the steamer, which, at some distance off, was waiting for them. I fancy, however, they must have been more or less crippled. When the firing and confusion had ceased six men, among whom was the individual I mentioned, were picked up by the men-of-war boats, and so ended this interesting affair. The result shows that ships can be defended from torpedoes if a good lookout is kept and proper precautions taken.

Fourth of July Items.

Fewer fires and fewer accidents occurred on the 4th this year than for many years previous. The explanation is that less powder and fewer fireworks were burned.

The village of Chester, N. Y., was nearly destroyed by a fire occasioned by fireworks; loss $64,000; insurance $41,000.

Three women were badly wounded by stray bullets, and all will probably die. Cristiana Cohn was shot through the lungs while sitting on her doorstep in New Brunswick, N. J.: Minnie Howard was shot at Fort Dumplings, at Newport, R. I.; and Louisa Culin was shot in the head at Chester, Penn.

Two boys in Philadelphia lost their lives by a loaded pistol fired in fun and supposed not to be loaded.

A son of William Goss of Epsom, 14 years old, had his eyesight nearly destroyed on the 4th by an explosion of powder.

New Hampshire Legislature.

On Thursday the House ordered to a third reading the bill appropriating $5000 to the Bennington monument, and $2500 for the transportation of troops to the celebration. Bill for providing for placing statues of John Stark and Daniel Webster in National Gallery at Washington was read a second time.

On Friday the bill for new State Prison passed, at 5:30 P. M., by a vote of 214 to 105. Portsmouth delegation—yeas 6, nays 3, absent 1.

News and Notes.

In the firemen's muster at Biddeford, Maine, on Wednesday, seven hand-engines competed. Volunteer 4 of Peabody took the first prize for first-class machines, playing 194 feet and 2 inches; Triumph 1 of Berwick took the first prize for second-class engines, 181 feet and 11 inches. An alarm of fire, rung just as the steamers were preparing to play, prevented the trial of steam-engines.

An innocent Boston reporter, detailed to get facts about the dinner of the "Society of the Cincinnati," on the 4th, at the Parker House, inquired of a member whom he caught in the hall, whether they all came from Ohio. Evidently he thought that such a gathering must affect the price of pork. On being disabused of this notion, he inquired whether this was not the sixth dinner of the society. "Sir," said the member, with dignity, "this is the 96th." "Ah," pursued the interviewer, "and have you been to all of them?" Then that member put his eye-glasses on and tried to wither the young man with a look, but it had no more effect on him than a blue glass sunbeam.

Jacob Levin was charged a few weeks ago in the Cambridge (Mass.) Police Court with committing an assault with a loaded pistol upon his son Joseph. The alleged cause of the shooting was the desperation of Levin at his son having abandoned the Jewish Church and joined the Catholic. The father was held for an examination by the Grand Jury. Solomon Levin has confessed to his parents that the whole prosecution was a plot, and asked their forgiveness. He charges that his crime was owing to his youth and inexperience and to the influence exercised over him by Hugh Ross and Bernard Rafferty, Rafferty promising him his daughter and some property, and Ross all the money he wanted, to induce him to join the Catholic church. He charges that one of the parties fired the pistol near the house. The grand jury found no bill against the father.

The captain and two seamen of schooner Joe Carlton, of Rockport, Mass., harpooned a sword-fish in Penobscot bay on the 5th. The fish dived and carried down the boat, and the two sailors were drowned.

Gloucester, Mass., had a $25,000 fire on Thursday.

A Bethlehem, Pa., despatch says that William Conner, whose body was found on the railroad track, was murdered by Molly Maguires because he denounced them. It is also discovered that John Connolly, whose body was found on the Lackawanna track a few days since, was murdered by the Mollies, making five murders by the Mollies since the executions. Several coal breakers have been burned since Saturday night by Mollies, and several people have received the "coffin" warning from Mollies, including the Sheriff of Schuylkill county.

The steamers Elphinstone and Redewater came into collision at Point Au Tremble, just below Montreal, Wednesday afternoon, and both were sunk. The former was bound inward with iron and the latter outward bound with corn. Both are large steamers and will be a total loss. The crews were saved. Both are well insured. Divers, steam pumps and every appliance for unloading have been despatched from Montreal and Quebec, and in a very short time it is hoped the vessels will be raised. The Elphinstone now lies in Hochelaga Bay, where she was run directly after the accident occurred.

The shot that wounded Miss Howard at Fort Dumplings, 1200 yards across the bay from Fort Adams, Newport, R. I., proves to have been fired by one of two fort soldiers, who disagree as to which one fired the last time, when the young lady fell.

Americans in the Russian Service.

Although it has been generally suspected for some weeks past that American soldiers were entering the Russian service, nothing definite regarding the matter was learned until it became known that a number, probably twenty, of Burdan's corps of sharpshooters sailed for Russia four weeks ago, to take part in the European struggle. The Burdan sharpshooters were formed in June, 1861, of the best riflemen in the United States, and furnished with heavy muzzle loading rifles with telegraphic sights attached. As an instance of the ability of the men, Joe Ketch, the Texan rifleman, the leader of the party which has sailed for Russia, made fifteen consecutive bull's-eyes at 800 yards. Colonel Burdan is now in the Russian service, and the negotiations were carried on at first between him and Ketch. When the Russian fleet came here Ketch, with several others, saw the grand dukes on board the fleet and at their hotel. The arrangements were satisfactorily made, and the men left by the Cunard line and are now on the Danube. All the expenses of the men to Russia were handed Ketch on board the Russian flagship, and he held numerous interviews with the Grand Duke Alexis both on board the frigate and at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. The men all took their own rifles with them.

—Another woman has betrayed a man. An escaped convict in Georgia had one tattooed on his arm and was captured by means of that distinguishing mark.

—While a group of criminals who had been sentenced at Springfield, Ill., to the State Prison at Joliet were standing in the depot and waiting for the train, a young woman stepped forward and resting her head on a convict's shoulder said, "Kiss me, George." The officers smiled, for the woman's face was besmeared with paint. But "George" took the kiss, and more; for between her lips was a small key with which he could unlock the steel bracelets around his wrists. As the train bowled along the road, he shook off his bonds and shot out of the window like a rocket. The train was stopped, the officers gave chase, and before long the fugitive was recaptured. So the kiss was thrown away.

—A good story of Prince Paskievitch: During the war of Warsaw he had ordered a certain Polish battery to be silenced by his own artillery, and became perfectly wild with rage on observing that the artillery fire produced no appreciable effect. Galloping to the battery he asked: "What idiot is in charge here?" "I, sir," answered the officer. "Then down you go to the ranks this very day," said Paskievitch; "you don't begin to know your trade; your shells do not explode." "I know they don't," answered the captain; "for the best of all reasons, that they can't explode." "That's a lie," said the prince. "Is it? See for yourself, then," replied the officer, coolly picking up a shell from the pile and lighting the fuse, and holding it up between himself and the marshal. The marshal tranquilly crossed his arms and watched till the fuse sputtered and went out. "There, sir," said the artilleryman, triumphantly, as he threw the shell on the ground. "You were right, after all," growled the marshal, and rode away to another point of the line, but at night the captain received at his tent the cross of St. Vladimir for bravery in the field.

A Superb Blood Depurent.

Upon the action of the kidneys, bladder and bowels depends the depuration of the blood. It is by promoting the activity of these organs that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters ensures purity to the circulation. In its passage through the kidneys, impurities which beget rheumatism, gout, and gravel are strained from the blood, but when those small but all important organs grow inactive, these impurities of course remain, and inevitably produce the disease mentioned. Hostetter's Bitters rouse the kidneys to renewed activity, by which means the blood is depurated. It likewise purifies the blood when contaminated with bile by promoting a gentle but effectual action of the bowels, and has the further effect of regulating the action of the liver, thus counteracting a tendency to biliousness. Dyspepsia, malarial fevers and urinary complaints are also conquered by it.

Plain Talk.

There is a preservative principle in Sozodont that effectually preserves the teeth from decay. Chemists pronounce it wholesome. Rich and poor endorse it. No lady ever tried it without approving its cleansing and purifying properties. It outsells all other dentifrices. Ask for it, and take no substitute.

LAP-TABLET.

It has become an almost universal custom for Ladies to write on their laps, using the nearest book or other flat object as a rest for the paper. The new "LAP-TABLET," is an article especially adapted to the purpose. It will be appreciated not only by the Ladies but by the Student and Tourist, in the boudoir or library, en voyage, at summer resorts, by the sea, on the lawn or in the woods, and by Amateur Artists as a sketch-board.
